Interested In Germany Trip?

A student exchange program will be conducted with Ulm or New Ulm, Germany, next year. Those students interested should notify Mr. Lynott, principal, who will then arrange for filing a formal application. Deadline for signifying interest is February 3.

Interested candidates should be able to meet these general qualifications: Males, 16 to 19 years of age; above average academic standing; some knowledge of German; good health and desirable personality and character. The expense involved would be approximately $500 and the time could be varied from three to four months, April to July, or a full school year.

The qualification requiring only male candidates is temporary. Boys and girls will probably alternate at the following exchange programs.

Peter Muehlen and Wolfgang Mueller are here in NUHS under this same program.

Howard Vogel Selected To Attend State Safety Conference

To gain enthusiasm, interest, and energy of our youth in a cooperative program for traffic safety was the purpose of the Youth Safety Conference for High School Students of Brown County held Monday, January 19, in the Little Theater.

From the discussion of the student panels several joint recommondations were drawn up.

We agree upon taking juvenile traffic offenders directly to municipal court, instead of to juvenile courts.

We would make Drivers Training courses better in schools and make them compulsory.

Wε subscribe to more and better law enforcement.

We favor re-examination of the aged on eyesight and reflexes.

We believe the driver's license age should not be raised because it would tend to increase illegal driving and would work undue hardships on farmers since we are an agricultural state.

We favor putting a restriction on the age of drivers of farm tractors.

We decided that pedestrians deserve traffic tickets just as well as drivers.

We approved establishing a state absolute speed limit.

We favor taking driver's license away on the first offense and publish names. All the delegates will take these back to their schools and the two delegates to the state will recommend them while at the convention.

John Holland, NUHS Student Body President, was chairman of a group consisting of six principals and 25 delegates representing the following high schools: Comfrey, New Ulm Trinity, New Ulm, Sleepy Eye St. Marys, Sleepy Eye, and Springfield. Hanska and New Ulm DMLC were not represented.

June Cunningham of Sleepy Eye and Howard Vogel, NUHS senior, were the delegates elected to attend the State Youth Safety Conference at St. Paul, February 23, under the sponsorship of the Brown County and New Ulm Safety Councils.

Also attending the meeting to address the students on the different phases of safety were Louis Adams, Brown County Sheriff; C. S. Kerr, Insurance; Mr. Oien, Drivers' Licerse Examiner; Mr. Rategard, State Motor Patrol; Mr. Hermann, Superintendent of Schools.

Debate Team Prepares for Regional Meet

Four debates in January and one debate in February is the schedule for the debate team; this will take them to the end of the season.

Karen Seifert, Lois Karl and Peter Smith, went to Hutchinson for the Little Ten People's Platform panel discussion, on January 21.

On January 24 the debate was held here, with twelve outside teams plus our own team participating. It was a three-round debate and gave our debaters at least one round of debate.

We will operate on schedule -2 with clubs or study for junior high and study periods in homerooms for senior high, to take care of those students not attending the meetings.

Grad of '59 Donates Book

Wallace Lueck has donated the book, Keel, United States Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois, to the Guidance Department; it gives the story of Company 414, Recruit Training Command, of which he was a member; he completed his training in November. Wally is now stationed in Sicily where he will be for two years.

Library Receives Marine Annual

A complimentary copy of the Your Book of his Marine Recruit Flatoon has been given to NUHS library by Gary Schiller, class of '58.

Mary Stoppelmann Added to Faculty

A new member on the faculty of NUHS is Miss Mary Stoppelmann, a December, 1958, graduate of the University of Minnesota. She majored in Home Economics. Miss Stoppelmann's home is at Belle Plaine where she graduated from high school. For two years she attended Macalester College, before transferring to the University.

Among her personal likes and dislikes are her favorite hobby, reading mostly novels; and music in general, excluding jazz.

Being of full German descent, she is destined to like New Ulm.

Happy Valentine's Day

"Mummy" Most Original At 'Choppers Ball

Because there were so many unusual costumes at the Woodchoppers Ball on January 17, five prizes were given instead of the usual two. The judges indicated that it was most difficult to make a selection.

A small doll was given to David

A small doll was given to David Nicklasson for having the best single costume. David came as a woman. He wore a black slinky dress, a black wig, long dangling earrings, and high heels.

Raggedy Ann and Andy—alias Joyce Borchert and Sharon Bethke each won a tiny doll for being the best dressed couple. Sharon was Andy and Joyce was Raggedy Ann.

The prize for the most original costume was given to Connie Stone who was dressed as a mummy. She was wrapped from head to toe in yards and yards of white bandages, so that it was difficult to move.

Valene Wieland and Dave Silcox received prizes for having the most beautiful costume. Valene wore a black and orange floor length dress such as was popular in the colonial time. Dave dressed in a swallow tail suit which was formal dress wear in the 1880 era.

A prize was also given to Al Runck and Claire Rolloff for the most humorous. They came dressed as a hillbilly couple.

The dance, sponsored by the journalism class, was held in the small gym from 8:30-11:30, January 17.

The gym was decorated with green and brown crepe paper and also with Otto Pfeiffer's mural cartoon of Little Abner.

The swing band played. Lois Karl in one number led everyone in singing the Mickey Mouse theme song.

Other characters seen at the ball included Fidel Castro (Jerry Lueck); Japanese and Chinese girls, a ballerina, cowboys, Indians, soldiers, and sailors.

Book by Alumnus Given to School

St. Paul Is My Beat was presented to NUHS by Dr. G. J. Hiebert, father of the author, Gareth Hiebert, who writes a column in the St. Paul Dispatch under the pen name, "Oliver Towne."

The book is a collection of columns that have appeared in the newspaper since 1954. Stories of the people, history, and things found in St. Paul make up the publication.

Abraham Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln has been the inspiration of countless people, his determination and faith was tremendous. He was an advocate of "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again"—and succeed he did. His desire for knowledge and his struggle to acquire it should help us appreciate our opportunities for education.

Mr Lincoln also had a ready wit and his understanding of people was unusual. We could learn a lesson from him; he did not tolerate injustice or bigotry. As a lawyer, he several times defended people when he felt they were innocemt, regardless of the cost.

He firmly believed that all men regardless of color, creed, or race, should have equal opportunities.

New Semester

A new semester is before all of us. We each have equal opportunity to study and to try and achieve the goals we didn't reach last semester.

This not only applies to education for there is no time like the present to better ourselves as far as our attitude and character are con-

It's time each one of us takes a good look at himself. Are we, as individuals, really putting forth all the effort we can to better ourselves in every respect?

Look To The Future!

by Margaret Palmer-10th grade

I am a teenager. Well, relax! I have never robbed a gas station or killed a poor, defenseless old man. Every year a million American teenagers just like me get in trouble with the police. Teenagers who ten years ago would have smashed street lights now smash skulls.

Police claim it is easy to say, "Let's lock them up and have no part of them in our society." They also claim that it is not easy to forget the look on their faces once they have spoken to the delinquents as individuals.

In more ways than one it is indirectly everybodys' fault that there is delinquency in our country today. It has always been hard for the teenager to stay on the right track. It was hard ten years ago, it is hard today, but it is hardest of all when newspapers print and radios constantly blare the statement that young America is going to

I wish somebody would think of the ninety-five percent of us who aren't delinquents. We are here, too. We are the ones who will be pushing most of the nation's baby carriages ten or fifteen years from now. We are the ones who will be filling our churches, and if necessary, fighting its Police say there are many solutions to delinquency. What are they? More schools and more teachers might solve the problem, but not likely. Would better recreation centers solve the problem of juvenile delinquency?

I am a teenager. I know what our nation needs before we need more schools and teachers and better recreation centers. We need somebody to believe in us. Once the people of America lose faith in their teenagers of today, they lose faith in their America of tomorrow.

LeRoy Hall is a member of that mighty wrestling team of NUHS to which he has been a great contributor. He was also seen last fall running up and down the field with the rest of our football team. Although Lee likes to read books in study hall (and classes, too), he manages to find time to collect slips second hour. His greatest interest is giving pep-talks. Right now Lee is undecided about the future.

Blond, and blue-eyed La Vonne Alfred blushes the easiest of any senior girl. She proved this with her race-driving speech in college prep. She is better known, however, for her quiet and very likeable personality. La Vonne, whose main interest is another senior, will be working at the Citizens State Bank after graduation.

Dave Gulden is a senior whom the well known description of "tall, dark, and handsome" really fits. He is a person who is always dependable and willing to help when he can, as he showed us at homecoming. Dave will be remembered as the one who was on every Homecoming committee last year.

Kay Parsons is Claremont's gift to our senior class. Her cheery disposition keeps things lively, especially in band where as student director she shows her ability in music and for some reason favors the trumpet section. Kay likes the modern dance unit in gym, but she doesn't appreciate an audience. Why not,

Gerald Schriefer, one of the quieter members of the senior class, manages to keep things moving in German class. Jerry's interests lie in baseball and basketball. He will be studying to be an accountant at Mankato commercial college upon graduation.

Smile Pretty!

The last two weeks in school we have been hearing "Keep your eyes right about here and smile." Then we saw the photographer hit his head in dismay. Sound familiar? Pictures have been taken for the NU high year-

Then there was the day when Glee Club and choir were to have their pictures taken. Just one minor thing prevented them from being taken—a burned-out battery. By this time the photographer was very much pertrubed; he forgot to put the flash bulb in. So when you page through your '59 annual and you come across the girls glee club and they appear very giggly, you'll know why!

A Man Who Would Woo A Fair Maid

It is purely a matter of skill, Which all may attain if they will: But every Jack He must study the knack

Kenny Malmberg, another senior who hails from Lafayette, has proven his ability to square dance and he really lives it up. He also likes to hunt in his spare time. Kenny works parttime in his dad's grocery store in Lafayette and will probably join the Navy after he graduates.

Sharon Jesse, one of the shortest girls of the class, is known by all for her friendly smile and her pretty, long hair. She works part-time at Woolworth's; and in her sparetime she enjoys sports. Sharon's future is undecided at the present.

Jeffrey Radke, the pride and joy of the physics class, is known for the right remarks at the wrong time. And whose ring did you get mercury on in physics, Jeff? When he isn't keeping things lively, he finds time to collect stamps and coins. Next year Jeff will be studying science at the University of Minnesota.

Shirley Steinke, a girl who's always ready with a smile, is one of the twirlers that leads the band. Shirl spends her time after school working at the Palace and on Sunday evenings, she usually can be found at the roller rink. After graduation Shirley will attend a business school in Minneapolis.

Gene Rosenau, a hot rod fan, enjoys driving his car and working on it. One of his main interests seems to be driving to Fairfax. Gene's future is undecided, but he might go into the armed forces. Gene's spare time is taken up by working at Jenkins.

Orv Ulrich, hailing from Courtland, has a good sense of humor and can usually come up with something clever. He enjoys bowling and bowls in a league; besides this, he is out for intrammural basketball. Orv will probably join the Navy when he is through school.

TAKE IT LEAVE IT

Everyone is awaiting the time when Mr. Zahn will attempt to stand up on that ball at the games. Who's got a camera?

Quite a "wild" party that Sue Vogelpohl and the girls had. After the usual gossip and looking at Bob's picture, they opened the crazy, but useful gifts. To give you an example: Audrey was presented with a phony door knob, which she immediately modeled; Phyllis got a back scratcher, and Karen received a play mouse; Judie now plays the ukulele, and Val sets her mouse-trap; Virginia has a toy to play with in the bath tub; and the funniest gift seemed to be Kathie's Ladies Restroom sign.

Anybody want to change their pennies into dimes? Nancy Bottenfield has the perfect little machine to do this. Of course, she asks for a small interest charge: * * *

Even though it happened a while ago, I still think it's funny. During 4th hour social (naturally!) Mr. Harman was discussing the value of our American dollar. To show an example, he asked if anyone in the class had a $5 bill. Charles Mitchell then pulled out a $20 bill and handed it to him! "Well," said Mr. Harman, "you can sure tell who took the collection last Sunday!"

It's too bad we don't have a boxing team at school. Dave Silcox would be a likely candidate. Not that anyone needs lessons, but it would be a good excuse for anyone sporting a "shiner." It wouldn't work too well to say you'd gotten hit by a basketball.

What's with this "Acker, Backer, Charlie's Dog Fouled Again! Itty Smitty, ha ha, eraser traveled again!" No, I'm not nuts. Just go to an intramural basketball game and every once in a while you can hear someone yell it. (I don't get it, either!!)

The Woodchoppers' Ball was really a ball all right. Most of the costumes were really original and different—especially the "mummy". We had trouble with our bucket, though. It isn't easy to dance with a bucket in your hand.

Judie walked into class looking very glum. "What's the matter, Judie?" asked Myrtle. "It's Jerry," Judie explained. "He's lost all his money." "Oh," Myrtle was sympathetic. "And I'll bet you're sorry for him." "Yes," said Judie. "He'll miss me."

It's a race between the measles and crutches. Wayne Zehnder had joined the crutches club. How did he acquire these? While playing basketball in intramural and going for a jump shot, he landed on a fellow-player's foot. He now has a badly sprained ankle. But don't worry, he'll be out wrestling very shortly. Incidentally, Wayne scored 20 points in that game. I think they need him back.

Anybody need a floor-show for their parties? Karen does a real cool act with her guitar, which always gets in the way! If that doesn't staisfy you, contact the girl at the Pizza-Kats.

Lots of kids did interesting things during Christmas vacation, from parties, skating, etc. to getting kicked out of the Radisson Hotel. Right, Chris?

There's nothing like the clanging of an alarm clock to remind you that the best part of the day has come to an end.

If you saw a group of strange students roaming the halls on Monday, January 19, think nothing of it. Colleen and Darlyne were just taking through some of those who attended the safety conference on a guided tour around the

Conference Hope Fades With Blue Earth Loss

New Ulm's hopes for a conference championship grew dimmer as they fell to Blue Earth, 67-62, on January

The Eagles hit 38% from the floor to outscore Blue Earth by 4 field goals. However, New Ulm had trouble with fouls. Blue Earth made 21 of 35 free throws.

New Ulm led briefly at the start of the game but could never catch up after Blue Earth led at the quarter 20-15. By the end of the first half, this lead had been increased to 10

Early in the third quarter New Ulm pulled up to within three points and trailed only by 2, 45-43, near the end of the third period. Again the Bucaneers bounced back to an eight-point lead before the start of the fourth quarter. The Bucaneers led by 10 points through the last of the fourth period. New Ulm again came close by coming within four points of Blue Earth, before a futile attempt to tie

Lose To Windom

Getting off to their worst start in their six games played, the New Ulm Eagles dropped a holiday game at Windom 53 to 46. The game was played on December 31.

The Eagles never had the lead in the game; the closest they were was at 16-15, midway through the second quarter. Windom then scored 9 traight points to take a commanding lead, which they never gave away.

In the final period the Eagles made a final bid to pull the game out when they pulled within seven points 48-41, only to have Windom keep that seven point lead for the outcome.

Sophomore Doug Wiesner swished the nets for 16 points while brother Wenz grabbed 11 rebounds.

Eagles Bomb Fairmont

The Eagles walloped Fairmont 57-45 for their first conference victory at home, December 12.

The Eagles bounced back several times during the game to gain the victory. They were behind 27-23 at the half and later by 35-25. New Ulm switched to a zone and stole several passes. Dave Silcox starred with 28 points mostly from fast breaks. Silcox started the drive late in the third quarter and the Eagles led 39-37. In the fourth quarter New Ulm had an 18-point spurt to give them the 57-45 victory.

Eagles Top Waseca

The Eagles Cage team turned in some fine defensive play to down Waseca 43-42 in an upset victory at Waseca, December 19.

Wenz Wiesner kept Waseca's ace Archie Johnson shooting from way out and did a tremendous job on the boards. Dave Silcox also figured prominently in the win with 14 points, but it was Doug Wiesner that came through late in the fourth quarter to steal the ball, allowing Silcox to score with 19 seconds left in the game.

Five points was the largest edge Waseca held over the Eagles, but this was erased when Doug and Wenz Wiesner each made a field goal and Ken Cordes added a free throw to knot it up at the half 19-19.

After a bucket by Wenz Wiesner in the third period, Waseca again burst into a five point lead at the end of the quarter 34-29.

Three straight buckets put the Eagles in the lead 35-34 early in the fourth quarter. Doug Wiesner raised the lead to 3 points before Waseca scored. Doug again fattened New Ulm's lead with another field goal. Waseca then moved into the lead 42-39 and this started New Ulm's game-winning rally.

Knopkes Shine At Mankato

Karl and Robert Knopke paced the Eagle class D gymnasts to victory in a 4-team gymnastics meet at Man-

Karl collected 360 points to win the all-around title and placed first in all the individual events. Robert was second all-around with 354 points. Robert placed second on the high bar and parallel bars, third in tumbling, and fourth on the horse.

Final score was New Ulm, 43; Mankato, 26; Glencoe, 5; and Sleepy Eye,

Cagers Edge Hutch

The victorious Eagles pulled out a 54-53 victory over an old rival, Hutchinson. The win was the climax to a great second half rally, January 9.

The ending was undoubtedly the most spectacular of the game when Gary Krueger of Hutchinson picked up a loose ball and scored on a long jump shot. But the buzzer had already seounded a split second before he shot.

Doug Wiesner, a sophomore, was the hero of the game when he drove in for the winning basket with 35 seconds remaining. Both teams had the ball, but neither could score after Wiesner's winning shot.

The Eagle Hutchinson game was typical of all of its games. Last year Hutchinson won on the same basis as the Eagles did, but this year Lady Luck favored New Ulm.

The Eagles were cold in their New Ulm won its fifth straight mat shooting and defense sagged in the first half, as they trailed by 11 points. Over 3 minutes elapsed before John Holland broke the ice for New Ulm.

Sophomore, Karl Preuss, kept the Fagles within striking distance by pumping in 8 points in the second quarter.

After the half it was Hutchinsons' turn to have problems putting the ball through the hoop. The Tigers managed only 2 field goals in the 3rd quarter and 3 in the 4th quarter. Karl Bunk had 16 of the Tiger's 20 points in the last half.

David Silcox found the range and chipped in 4 buckets; then he followed with a layup and a long set shot to push the Eagles ahead

Brink kept Hutch's hope alive. He had 9 points in the 4th quarter. New Ulm led 52-49 when Brink dropped in two free throws.

Karl Brink was the outstanding player of the game scoring 31 points, 2 points short of the record held by John Ramseth set here in 1954. The Eagle Bees also won, 42-30.

To Whom It May Concern

You are most cordially invited to attend any or all of the remaining intramural basketball games FREE! (No ID CARDS NEEDED). Nowhere in the world will you find yourself so fascinated by any other form of entertainment. So join the crowd, bring your noisemakers and go to the next intramural basketball game. The games are usually held on Thursday nights, in both gyms.

Eagles Place Second At Holiday Tourney

New Ulm's wrestling team was nosed out of first place at a four-team holiday tourney at Waterville. Amery, Wisconsin, won the meet with 101 points, while New Ulm collected 95.

An interesting side light was the fact that all the coaches, with the exception of Jerry Schroeder, and the referee are brothers. Schroeder was a classmate of theirs at Owatanna High School.

This tournament marked the first loss of the year for Captain Lyle Hames who lost the 145-lb. title by a 2-1 decision. Winners of their classes for New Ulm were Wayne Zehnder (120), Jerry Steinkopf (133), Terry Wellner (138), Dwane Steinkoph (165), and Lee Hall (HVY).

Eagles Down Madelia

New Ulm wrestlers added to their laurels by defeating Madelia 34-12, December'16. In winning, New Ulm lost only the 103 and 112 weight

With the season only two weeks old, there has already been one serious injury. Wayne Zehnder sprained his ankle while going "off tackle" on a quick opener.

Careful observation of the boys walking around the halls has shown a black eye here and there and many minor cuts, scratches and bruises.

Many strange and unheard of plays have popped up this year with the prize going to Rolloff's Rogues. The play consists of 3 Rogues locking arms and knocking down anything or anyone in their path, while the person with the ball dribbles behind the so called "Flying Wedge" to make a basket. Legality of this play is still in question. Not only are Rolloff's Rogues in the lead for the most original play trophy, but they are also on the way to capture the Golden Goof trophy. Their prize good occurred in the second when Tony Rolloff dribbled down the court and scored two points for the other team!!!

St. Peter Drops Eagles

The Eagle quint started its 1959 season by losing to St. Peter, 58-44, on January 7.

New Ulm never held the lead in the contest. At halftime it looked like St. Peter was turning the game into a rout as they led 28-15. But New Ulm held its own in the second half by scoring 29 points to St. Peter's 30.

Wenz Wiesner seemed to be the only one who could drop the ball through the basket. He hit 8 of 16 and had 20 points for that game.

The highest individual score up to date is that of Kathy Herrick who has thus far bowled 136 and 156. The highest team average is 119, which was obtained by Bonnie Harmening's

All the girls are working toward making higher scores, and there should be some very good bowlers at the end of this bowling unit.
