Miss Skeie Wins Fulbright Grant

Bon Voyage! Miss Skeie, junior high teacher, has been awarded a Fulbright grant to teach English in a National School in Greece for the 1962-63 school year.

An orientation period will be held July 16 to 19 in Washington, D.C. From there Miss Skeie will go to New York where she is tentatively scheduled to board the Queen Frederica. Landing in Piraeus, Greece, she will attend a seminar consisting of classes in Greek history and customs, modern Greek, and teaching English as a foreign language. This will last one month.

To Teach Greek Students

At the National School Miss Skeie will be teaching Greek, not American, children. School is held six days a week, but the number of hours is about the same as ours. School lasts until about June 10, when three weeks of examinations will begin. Miss Skeie plans to travel in Europe after the school term is over.

Under the Fulbright Act, 450 grants are awarded for the 1962-63 school year by the Department of State. Teachers are recommended by the U.S. Office of Education, after a thorough screening process. Teaching assignments are made available by executive agreements with foreign governments including Argentina, China, Turkey, Nepal, Greece, and the United Kingdom.

Miss Skeie has a special plea for the students of NUHS! "Please bring me any snapshots, articles, or scrapbooks which would help display the typically American things which are done in our school and New Ulm." These articles will be used in her teaching and can be returned.

Former Speech Teacher To Judge Contest Here

The local declamation contest will be held on March 9, at 7:00 P.M. in the Little Theater. Dr. D. Truman Wood, former speech instructor of NUHS, has been selected to judge this contest.

Two NUHS students will be chosen to attend the district declamation contest at Lamberton, on March 17. Then a total of eight students from this district will be selected to participate in the regional declamation contest at Tracy, on April 14. From this competition, eight students from this region will be selected to go to the state.

Faculty Selects Lee Sather As NUHS Rotarian

Lee Sather, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sather, Hanska, and a senior at New Ulm High school, was selected by the faculty to receive an all-expense paid trip to St. Paul Rotary on April 8, 9 and 10.

The first alternate selected was Robert Knopke; the second alternate, Craig Opel.

The trip, sponsored jointly by the New Ulm and St. Paul Rotary Clubs, will permit Lee to tour St. Paul industrial plants, have interviews with business or professional men in any field he chooses, visit the State Capitol, attend a dinner dance with daughters of St. Paul Rotarians, and attend the regular meeting of the St. Paul Rotary Club. While in St. Paul, he will live at the home of a St. Paul Rotarian.

Posture royalty crowned by Superintendent Luther Fjelstad are Queen Marni Gislason, King Gail Peterson, Princess Jeri Ahrens, and Prince Mike Leach.

Posture Royalty Receives Crowns

The 1961-62 posture royalty received crowns of honor from Superintendent Fjelstad at the posture program in the auditorium, Friday February 16. Marni Gislason and Gail Peterson, are queen and king, respectively, of the senior high; Mike Leach and Jeri Ahrens, prince and princess of the junior high.

Candidates representing the 7th and 8th grades were Mike Leach, Ann Novak, Steve Kramer, and Jeri Ahrens. Henry Frisch, and Kathy Ballard represented the freshmen. The senior high had three candidates from each class: Geanie Stone, Dan Loose, and Arlene Gag, sophomores; Cheryl Windhorn, Kenneth Fluegge, and Marni Gislason, juniors; and seniors, Gloria Fesenmaier, Gail Peterson, and Sandra Mathiowetz.

German Class Presents Plays

A burglar climbed through the window, stealthily crept around the room, and then returned to the window saying, "Komm schnell herein, Fritz. Es ist niemand da!"

Another burglar climbed through the window, looked around and whispered loudly, "Oh, hier is shon vielzu stehlen."

No, this was not a house break in Germany. It was a scene from one of the four one-act

Richard Thomas To Give Program

Richard Thomas, widely respected journalist, news analyst and lecturer, will present the program lecture "Report from Russia" to the student body Friday, March 23 at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

During World War II, Thomas was General Eisenhower's French-language radio announcer in the African D Day invasion. He has been around the world a dozen times, speaks half a dozen foreign languages and has reported in more than 100 countries.

In his "Report from Russia," Thomas who can speak with great authority on the Soviet Union its people and its culture, will give a factual account of life in the Soviet Union based on his many trips to that part of the world.

plays presented by the German I class on February 20, in the auditorium, in observance of Foreign Language Week.

With the help of Mr. Russel, Mr. Guertin, Miss Meeg-Anderson, Miss Stoppleman, Mr. Jenson, Mr. Werner, and the permanent stage crew, the German class members were able to present the four plays depicting various times and places in Germany.

Jane Vogelpohl, as humorous Verve Gleckel, introduced the acts and entertained the audience with her family tales.

The evening was climaxed with a play depicting a thirteenth century inn with everything from colorful costumes to brandy barrels and sausages.

About 200 people, including students and townspeople attended the evening performance.

Editors Choose Theme

"Cheers and Challenges" is the theme of the 1962 Eagle.

Work on the Eagle is now in full swing. Oswald Studio and Mr. Marti are busy taking pictures. The sales staff has started their sales campaign. Anyone who has not yet ordered a yearbook may do so during any of the homeroom periods in Lent. Actual printing of the Eagle has not yet started, although some cuts are expected back from the engravers soon.

EDITORIAL

Student Council

Several weeks ago the student council made the announcement that members of the student body could attend council meetings. We approved the step but now would like them to go one step farther.

Although students may attend meetings, they cannot participate when discussion is called for and usually are not aware of the issue being debated.

The council, it seems, is not ruled by the students but the students by the council.

To remedy this we propose three things: that the proposals to be presented to the council be posted a few days before each meeting so the students can "talk it up" and council members can get a consensus of opinion; that the time and place of each meeting be announced on the day before and the day of each meeting so that interested students can plan to attend; and that the students be allowed to voice their opinions at the meetings.

Student government is government by the majority but it begins with the student.

Attention Seniors

Has your day been like all the other days of certainly not more than the past two weeks? Have you too been victims of that terrible term, PROCRASINATOR? Do you lose sleep nights constantly worrying about that problem? Have you suddenly had not enough time for even your best guy or girl? Do you look undernourished because of a diet of a half glass of water and a toothpick?!

Cheer up! Today is TUESDAY and you have only three hectic days left. Think of all you can get done in those 72 hours. But, looking at the "brighter" side of things, think of all you have to get done!!

Hearing all the wails, groans, and just haggard voices, you begin to wonder if the SENIOR Class has any normal kids, especially the College-Prep students.

The problem, dear puzzled readers is this: in exactly 3 days, some 50-odd students will be required to hand in a 3,000 word theme complete with notes, outline, and bibliography.

This is a plea to the student body—Please don't judge the college-prep seniors by their looks, actions or "words". They've got a deadline to meet! Good Luck!

Teenagers Like Work

Many adults believe that today's teenagers just don't like to work hard. But, contrary to this assumption, is the fact that many students of NUHS would like more time for study. If the library were opened earlier during the noon hour, students could do a little more cramming.

At present, seniors usually have to wait at least 15 minutes after eating in the cafeteria before they can hit the books. Those seemingly few minutes could be very valuable.

We realize that it's a little too much to ask that a teacher be on duty all noon hour, but couldn't a capable student monitor the study hall until a teacher finished eating?

We propose that the library be opened at 11:55 A.M. and be student-supervised until 12:10 P.M. This plan would be of great value to juniors and seniors, especially.

Senior Carol Schmidt hails from the "suburb" of Searles. There she is the president of the Marian Youth Society of her church. Enjoying any kind of music very much, she is active in choir and glee club. Next year Carol will enter Mankato State to prepare for a career in the teaching of mathematics. She has been a consistent member of the honor roll.

Being active in Boys' Chorus and Select Choir is Mike Mather's chief interest. Mike spends most of his summers travelling about the country. People who say everything is wrong aggravate Mike. Future plans are indefinite, but enlisting in the Navy is a possibility.

Cathie Tietel H-A-T-E-S snow! During Christmas vacation Cathie took the trip to Mexico with Mr. Pfaender's tour and "loved every minute of it." Bowling takes up most of her extra time, which accounts for her high scores. Cathie also participates in Girls Glee Club and G.A.A. Next fall Cathie will be in Menominee, Wisconsin, attending Stout Institute.

Connie Besemer is one of the brave souls who ventures into the cold every morning merely to attend early bird psychology class. Conceited people and being called "Constance" irk her. "Constance's" favorite pastime is doing algebra with Trinity students, and playing the piano. Connie is active in G.A.A., the Graphos, and the class play cast. Mankato State is on schedule for next year.

One of the NUHS twirlers is Kathy Fussenner. Kathy enjoys twirling, swimming and horseback riding. People who think they are more than the next person bother Kathy. After graduation she plans to spend June in Topeka, Kansas, and in fall begin beauty school.

Courtlandite Dave Zimmerman spends most of his time in New Ulm. Dave enjoys band and all sports, especially bowling. After school and Saturdays he works in Courtland. Dave plans to join the National Guard this summer and then possibly work for the 3-M company or attend a trade school.

One of the quiet ticket takers in the cafeteria is Janice Wieland. Her favorite pastimes include dancing, bowling, and playing records. Janice has a definite aversion to conceited people. Future plans include attending business school or working as a secretary.

A CORRECTION

Our apologies to Sue Meyer. In the last issue of the Graphos, it was stated that "people who tease Sue about belching food—beware." The expression should have been "leeching food." We all know that Sue knows Emily Post backwards and forward.

NUHS Students Hungry

Much attention is given to the hungry people of the world through CARE and other agencies, but what about the hungry ones of NUHS?

Cries of "Hun-n-gger!" can be heard throughout the corridors of NUHS every night after school. Emaciated faces display the severe state of starvation of students. What is the cause of this sad scene?

Students in activities such as basketball, wrestling, tumbling, and Bel Canto put in many after-school hours, but are forced to go on without "refortification." We feel that candy should again be sold after school.

This idea has been tried before, but unsuccessfully. The reason it was discontinued was that some students were litter-bugs.

One way to solve this problem would be to use a hallway which is less busy than State Street entrance. This location would discourage students who leave the building immediately from going out of their way for refreshments; while those really in need of extra energy would be able to get their candy. Using another hallway would also mean less congestion at a busy time and place, making it easier for eaters to find trash cans.

Help feed the hungry!

Anver Larson, who came to N.U.H.S. last year from Luverne, is a member of the newly organized Ski Club. An avid fan of skin-diving, Andy hopes to get a rescue job with the state this summer. Andy's biggest pet peeve is homework; but he's still going on to school at the Morris branch of the University, where he plans to be a "playboy"! (We think he already is one!)

An active participant in G.A.A., Joyce Schroepfer also enjoys swimming and horseback riding. Her very favorite pastime is riding in a '55 Pontiac. People who talk behind other people's backs aren't at all popular with Joyce. Next year she hopes to take nursing in Chicago.

F.F.A. member Ron Gruber is an outdoor enthusiast, especially enjoying hunting and fishing. "Grub's" specialty is working on cars, but he dislikes Buicks because certain people drive them. People who don't mind their own business are his pet peeve. (Hope he doesn't mean "Graphos" reporters! After graduation Grub plans to enter the Army Reserve and later hopes to attend Mankato Vocational School.

Gymnast Carl "Bud" Knopke is on the school gym team and also teaches that skill at Turner Hall. In addition, he is an avid swimmer and diver and a member of the track team. Besides sports, Bud is active in choir, Boys Chorus, band, and the Twilighters. Outside of school, church choir and other activities take up much of his time. Bud plans to enroll at the "U" of Minnesota.

With her black natural curly hair and fair skin, Mary Ellen Raftis is a typical Irishman. Although most teachers address her by her real name, "Mary", it often doesn't register, for everyone else calls her "Ellen." A sax player, Ellen has been active in dance band since ninth grade. Ellen also takes part in G.A.A. and enjoys such spectator sports as basketball, wrestling, and baseball. In the fall she will be entering Marquette University in Milwaukee.

Prom Policy Explanation

"Why can't we have an open prom?" is a question asked year after year by students who are dating someone outside NUHS, and perhaps will have no date for the dance.

Asking this question of the proper authority has revealed a logical explanation why open prom is not the policy at NUHS.

Open prom means stricter supervision, which the majority of the students would resent. Also, NUHS does not want the responsibility of students from other schools.

Besides, open prom means there would be some people attending two or three proms a year. Prom would no longer be special as it is meant to be.

Prom is a party for the juniors and seniors; therefore the administration thinks the presence of outsiders would embarrass some students and make them feel uneasy.

However, to include everybody and to avoid possible embarrassment, couples are not seated together at the banquet. This is done so nobody will know whether a boy or girl has a date or not. Besides that, the students have a choice of going to the dance or attending a movie at the expense of the school.

These are the reasons for keeping the Junior-Senior Prom a strictly NUHS affair.

Flag Etiquette

It has been noticed that during the last home games some students from NUHS and surrounding schools haven't conducted themselves properly while the "Star Spangled Banner" was being played.

These students were running around when the flag was brought on to the floor. Instead of standing still and erect during the playing of our national anthem, some forgot to remove their hats or to place their right hand over their hearts. They also seemed to have forgotten to stand in place while the flag was being removed from the stage.

Everyone has been taught proper respect to the flag—but too many forget to practice it.

Snooping Around NUHS

What is a mosquito bite on top of a bee sting? Give up??? Sting Along With Itch.

Paul Marquart was collecting slips 6th hour when he came upon a heel some student had lost. He quipped, "poor soul."

Wanted—A book on how to raise fish. Miss Meeg-Anderson has lost four in the last two weeks. Could there be a hex on them? Do her students feed them too much? Or don't they like junior speech classes?

Some students know how to make a movie last the whole hour. After Mr. Harman had finished showing the movie on Stock Exchange to his 4th hour Social class, no one could answer any questions he asked. What did he do?? Why re-ran it, of course.

If you ever go to the horse acres, don't make any "mental bets." You might lose your mind!

First hour typing class surprised Mr. Hopfenspinger on his birthday (Feb. 15) by presenting him with a "midget" basketball and a purple and white lollipop—appropriate?

—Policewoman?—

When Miss Kayser returned to a somewhat noisy first hour English class, Ron Dalueg offered to buy her a whistle, but she already had one. Therefore, she made good use of it by "scaring 4th hour out of their wits!" Thanks, Ron!

We all have our troubles, including David Zahn. He was trying to play his instrument and mark his band music at the same time. The result: one pencil firmly stuck in one trombone.

Miss Steen asked her sophomore English class for a sentence about fishing that contained an appositive.

Richard Breu came up with, "Mermaid fishing, a rare sport, is very exciting!"

Fifth hour college prep class was trying to picture life in 1666 by analyzing a diary written in that year. Morrie Peterson volunteered, "They had telephones." He then proceeded to prove his statement by quoting a sentence from the diary, "Jame called us up about three in the morning—"

"What is the definition of a locus?" asked the geometry teacher. One confused student was heard to mutter, "Quiet swearing?"

"Of course you're the first girl I've ever kissed," said the sailor as he shifted gears with his foot.

Remarks heard in our halls (let's hope not) Two's company, three's a crowd, so start counting.

I live by a cliff, drop over sometime.

Nice play, Shakespeare. Not everyone can fall so gracefully!

Sophomore Loopholes

Jo, Jeanie and Gretch

Hurry down to your Fordias Chariot Dealer! He's slashing prices on all 45 B.C. models, now with enough room for two people!

Get your Vanhuessen toga now, before they're all sold out!

And now, the news! Julius Caesar was neatly assassinated in the Senate building in Rome, a few weeks ago (late-breaking news, you see). Asked if he had any last words, Caesar took time out from an excellent job of groaning, long enough to reply—, "It smarts."

Ah, yes, that's just a sample of "Icky" Lohman and "Sick" Chambard. They'll do it every time! Murdering Julius Caesar, via the P.A. system.

By the way, we have another little murder to report. Steve Koeckeritz allegedly murdered Richard Breu with a pitchfork. My, my, all that pretty red blood!

He's at it again: that crack (notice we didn't say quack) Latin teacher, Mr. Voves. Yes, in a moment of dire prophecy, he declared, "There are some people who ought to graduate, 'magna cum difficultate!'" (Hmmm—I wonder—?)

Almost ready to close—for goodness sakes, stop cheering!) but this meaningless column must give credit where credit is due. Therefore we dedicate this final gem to Colonel John Glenn: An astronaut's home is his capsule.

The Eagles lost all eight regular season road games while winning eight of ten at home.

The loss gave New Ulm a 5-5 South Central Conference record and an 8-10 record for the season. Glencoe, winning its third straight, finished with a conference record of 2-8 and a season mark of 5-11.

The game actually was decided on the free throw line. Both teams had 21 field goals but Glencoe sank 18 of 23 free throw attempts while New Ulm made only 7 of 14.

Glencoe led 19-15 at the end of the first quarter and led by three at halftime. In the last half Glencoe outscored New Ulm by four points in each period to win the ball game 60-49.

Dave Wiesner led the Eagles with 18 points, 13 of these coming in the first half. Wiesner finished as South Central Conference scoring champion with 194 points.

New Ulm Upsets Hutchinson

The New Ulm Eagles avenged an earlier two-point loss as they upset Hutchinson 58-55 here Friday, Feb. 2.

The Eagles handed Hutchinson its first South Central Conference loss. The game was a nip and tuck battle until late in the first half when Hutch gained an 11-point lead: New Ulm came back, however, to cut the lead to 34-29 by halftime.

The Eagles continued their rally in the third period to take a two-point lead into the fourth quarter. Dave Wiesner led the Eagle attack, with able assistance from Dave Stelljes at center and Dick Cordes. The Eagles retained their slim lead to win 58-55.

According to Coach Cliff Anderson, the five "A" squad victors—Eldon Jones at 127, Lester Keute at 133, Morrie Peterson at 138, Duane Sperl at 154 and Butch Burnett at 165—all had the best matches of this season.

The "B" squad's only victory came with Gary Wallner taking a decision.

Cardinals Nose Out Eagles 63-61

A spirited comeback by the New Ulm Eagles failed to catch Redwood Falls as the Cardinals hung on for a 63-61 victory here Saturday, February 10.

New Ulm fell behind quickly and trailed 35-21 at halftime and 37-21 early in the second half. The Eagles then staged their comeback with Doug Oman and Dan Loose leading the way.

New Ulm finally went ahead 54-53 midway in the fourth quarter but was unable to hold on to the lead. Redwood went ahead again and led 63-61 with only seconds remaining. Oman took a hurried shot that rolled off the rim as the game ended.

Monson led the winning Cardinals with 18 points. Vierling had 17. For the Eagles, Dave Wiesner hit 15 points, Oman 14, Al Schmucker 12, Loose and Dave Stelljes each 10.

New Ulm Eagles Rally To Avenge Earlier Loss

The New Ulm Eagles rallied in the home stretch for a 54-45 victory over the Sleepy Eye Indians here Tuesday, February 7.

By winning, New Ulm avenged an earlier 55-29 loss at Sleepy Eye and extended its winning streak to three games.

New Ulm led only once in the first half, 14-13, while the Indians were up 21-19 at halftime. Late in the third quarter Sleepy Eye enlarged its lead to eight points. But the Eagles came back and quickly trimmed the lead to one point, 33-32, going into the final period.

The fourth quarter was a tight battle until three Indians, Dean and Donn Moll and Leifermann, fouled out. With three regulars out, Sleepy Eye fell apart and New Ulm pulled away to win 54-45.

Dave Wiesner led the Eagles' scoring attack with 14 points, 10 of those coming in the fourth quarter. Doug Oman followed with 13. Dick Cordes snared 13 rebounds to lead the Eagles in that department. Donn Moll was high scorer for Sleepy Eye with 16 points.

Sleepy Eye won the "B" game, edging New Ulm 37-36. Tim Silcox had 15 points for the losers.

Springfield Trounces Eagles

The New Ulm Eagles fell apart in the fourth quarter and were promptly trounced 64-49 by the Springfield Tigers Tuesday, February 13, at Springfield.

New Ulm trailed most of the game except for a third-quarter rally which gave the Eagles a brief lead. The lead faltered, however, when Dave Wiesner got into foul trouble and was given a rest on the bench. The Tigers took the lead and led 50-46 going into the final quarter. Even with Wiesner's return to the lineup, New Ulm couldn't hold the Tigers as Wiesner scored the team's only three points in the fourth quarter. Springfield continued to apply the pressure and won going away 64-49.

Dave Wiesner with 18 points and Doug Oman with 16 led the Eagles' scoring effort. Dale Rucker had 18, Mike Davison 17, and Kersten 16 for the winning Tigers.

Snow-shoveling seems to have become somewhat of a sport around this neck of the woods. In fact, every day we see people using the back lift, the double overhand pick up grip, and the broad sweeping follow-through that indicates long hours of practice. . . . We found a verse by Cedric Adams that seems to fit the winter situation like a glove: "Oh what a dread uncertain thing this winter is—It blew it snow and then it thew and now, by jing, it friz!" * * *

We would like to thank Mr. Robert Schutte of Schutte-Barnett Company for the design of engraving which now heads this column and will, we hope, head this column from this time on. It's rather clever, don't you think? * * *

Globetrotters Stage Exhibition

"Never say die!" cried Leroy Klotz, as the Shirts missed another basket.

Intramural basketball has been keeping the gyms busy on Thursday nights this winter, but it's strange that there are too few spectators. No other sport has such great audience appeal.

Dave Zahn, star on the winnings Skins team, is averaging 24 points a game. How does that sound, Fox?

Craig-o seemed to be on the floor more often than not. Once he even tackled Roger Gronholz!

Once, during an extraordinary defensive attempt by the Skins, ref Bill Anderson charged them with "backfield in motion!"

It seems that the ref was trying to get into the act. On a throw-in by the Skins, Mr. Anderson stood on the playing floor with outstretched arms until the ball was finally passed to him. But alas, he was a turncoat and threw the ball to the Skins!

Even during half-time the boys didn't take time to rest. Dave Zahn was showing off his shot from the free throw line. The difficult part was that he had his back to the basket! Leroy kept in practice by bouncing shots off his head into the basket.

During the last minutes, most attempts by the Shirts were rather futile, but they kept plugging. To save time after a Skins' basket, Leroy didn't wait for someone to throw to; he bounced the ball to himself off the wall and dribbled down the floor.

What an exhibition! This activity could really revolutionize basketball. And the purpose is certainly evident: to play for fun, not to win.

Debaters Learn To Think Quick

by Ginger Knopke

Debate is an extra-curricular activity in which a person learns to analyze and think quickly. A debate team consists of four members: two on the affirmative and two on the negative. In a debate each member of both teams gives a ten-minute constructive speech and then each member gives a five minute rebuttal speech. In a tournament there are usually three rounds of debate. This year the "A" team participated in about five tournaments.

Most of the work in debate is done at the beginning of the season, which is in November. There is a specific question that is debated each year. This year the question was Resolved: That The Federal Government Should Provide Additional Aid for Public School Facilities.

New Nosey Newts

One month and two weeks ago, our teachers levelled upon us a new semester, conceived in utter frustration, but dedicated to the proposition that students must be made, 'cause they sure aren't born—

Now we are engaged in the Practice Teacher Stage, testing whether these students, or any students, so earnest but so frustrated can long endure. We are met on a battlefield of that struggle; I'm afraid the students are going to lose . . .

Other than that, Mrs. Lincoln, what did you think of the play?

Stenography Class Launches Program

In an effort to acquire a short-hand speed ranging from 90—120 words a minute, the seniors in Stenography Class are launching out on a skill-building program.

Several of the girls will be receiving special certificates from the National Office Managers Association for having attained perfect scores in the NOMA Spelling and Arithmetic tests.

Those receiving Spelling Certificates are Diane Arndt, Karen Carstenson, Mavis Drexler, Karen Gluth, JoAnn Hegler and Jeanette Kraus.

Receiving Arithmetic Certificates are Diane Arndt, Karen Carstenson, Patricia Green, JoAnn Hegler and Janice Wieland.

Diane Arndt distinguished herself by receiving a perfect score on all four of the tests that were given.

The Notehand Class is finding a practical use for their notetaking and typing skills as they plan and prepare research papers for College Prep class.

Work Explained

The affirmative must find reasons to prove that the question is right and provide a plan to change the present system so that their reasons for a change are solved. The negative must gather information that proves that the present system is adequately meeting all its purposes.

As the year progresses and the evidence of the other teams is heard, more work is done on gathering evidence for or against these new ideas. As in most activities one of the most enjoyable parts of debate is the people that are met.

Summation of Year's Work

When the debate year ends depends on the success of the team at the Regional Tournament. In our region the top three teams go to state. New Ulm took third place in the region this year and went to the State Tournament on February 16 and 17. Each side debated five rounds and they each won one round. The negative side beat St. Paul Central and the affirmative side beat Alexander Ramsey. The State Debate Tournament took place on the University of Minnesota campus.

Activities Vary In Home Ec.

by Diane Stelter

In the foods department of Home Economics many things are happening. The twelfth graders are studying on a unit on how to cook for two.

The eleventh grade is developing the unit on meat cooking, and how to prepare meals of tough and tender cuts of meats, leftovers, and meatless meals.

In the eighth grade the girls are learning how to prepare luncheons and suppers while in the seventh grade the unit is based on how to prepare a breakfast. Miss Luella Phipps, student teacher, in the foods department, has finished her work at NUHS.

The students in the clothing department are doing such things as studying the buying of clothing. They will soon be sewing with synthetic material.

The ninth graders are at the end of a unit on color line and are now choosing their patterns for future sewing.

In the eighth grade class the girls are reading a seam finish booklet and later are going to make either sports or night wear. Seventh graders are making bedroom slippers, and are very anxious to start making their skirts later.

Miss Karen Day, student teacher, has been helping Miss Stoppleman with her ninth and tenth grade classes, and left on March 2. She is getting married this month and we wish her the best of luck.

Students To Receive Diphtheria-Tet. Shots

Diphtheria-tetanus shots will be offered to certain students of NUHS on the 12th of March. The shots have been recommended by the State Medical Association.

They will be offered to the first, fifth, ninth, and twelfth grades only. The shots provide immunity for a period of 3 to 5 years and the school gives them every 4 years. The cost is 50 cents.

There have been several cases of diphtheria in Minnesota in the last few years. These individuals had not been inoculated for the disease.

After the students have filled out the inoculation slips, Miss Kittleson will appreciate it if they are returned to her office by March 8.

NUHS Ski Club Makes Progress

by James Hogg

No injuries, no broken equipment, all skiers are in good shape! The NUHS Ski Club is making good progress.

In the past weeks, the club has gone to Moon Valley at Shakopee and to Mankato. The club is planning future trips, which might include Trollhogen, Wisconsin, about 35 miles northeast of St. Paul.

The club goes to these places to learn about different slopes and terrains. These sites have tow ropes which enable skiers to ski much more. Without tow ropes, a skier has to climb a slope and this takes more time getting back to the top.

Mr. Howell reports that the club is making fine progress and that they are open for more members. Besides making other trips to ski areas, the club is due to have movies on skiing.

The club practices in town at the Westside Park. The purpose of the club is not only to learn how to ski, but also to teach its members how to enjoy the out-of-doors in the winter while most other people are waiting for spring.

The members of the club are Marni Gislason, Tom Dyre, Jane Fritsche, Sylvia Dethmers, Anver Larson, Glen Peterson, Janet Kretsch, Joe Erickson, and Cynthia Cordes.

New Ulm Whips Echo

by Randall Kroening

The New Ulm Eagles, hitting 51 per cent of their shot attempts, easily whipped Echo 65-44 in District 10 play Thursday, March 1, at Redwood Falls.

The loss eliminated Echo while New Ulm advances to the quarter-final round and meets Sleepy Eye Tuesday, March 6, at Springfield. The winner earns a trip to the semi-finals at Gustavus.

Echo gave the Eagles a good battle for one quarter and led once at 8-7. New Ulm, however, went in front 13-8 after the first period and led by 12 points at halftime.

New Ulm turned the game into a rout early in the final quarter as the Eagles went on to win 65-44.

Dave Wiesner led the Eagles with 19 points and 15 rebounds while Al Schmucker, having by far his best game of the season, followed with 18 points. Ten other Eagles scored as reserves played the last few minutes of the game.

Doud Hunter and Duane Weiss each had 9 points to pace the Rockets.

Students Take Tests To Prepare For College

In order to prepare students for college entrance, an American College Testing Program Test (Act) was taken on Saturday, February 24. This test was also taken on November 4, and was given a second time for all absent seniors.

In order to screen students for college purposes, a merit test was taken March 6 by 75 juniors. This merit test was advantageous for any junior who was planning to go to college because it would enable him to find out his academic strength and weakness in relation to college bound people.
