GRAPHOS CONDUCTS TOURNAMENT CONTEST

The Graphos is sponsoring a contest in which it is expected all subscribers to the school paper will participate. It is now news to you that the district ten basketball tournament will be held in two weeks in which nine schools will enter teams. It is news, however, when we hear of the outcome of such an event before it has ever taken place. To develop a sense of accurate forecasting or crystal gazing is the ardent desire of most humans. The Graphos is giving you the opportunity of testing your development in the art of prophesying in this contest.

The person who chooses most closely the winning teams and the scores of each game in the district tournament will receive, with the compliments of The Graphos, a season ticket to the Regional Tournament a week alter.

A complete set of contest rules are published herewith. They are:

1. The person who guesses most closely the winner in all brackets and final scoris of all games of the tournament will be declared the winner. A season ticket to all games of the Regional Tournament on March 14-15 will be the reward.

2. Only regular subscribers to The Graphos, both teachers and pupils, are eligible to participate.

3. Each subscriber may vote once. If two or more contest forms are signed by the same person, that contestant becomes ineligible, and his forms will be thrown out.

4. All forms must be in ink and placed in Graphos boxes in the assembly not

GRANT OSWALD, EMILY REED, AND MARY ELLEN BOOMER WIN AT SUB-DISTRICT LAST NITE

Last night at Sleepy Eye our high school representatives in the sub-district declamatory contest won three first places. The towns represented in the contest were Sleepy Eye, Springfield, Morgan, and New Ulm. In the oratorical division second place went to Harold Geuenemann of Morgan. Grant Oswald, our high school representative gave a very creditable account of himself in capturing first place. In the dramatic group second place went to Arlene Meyer of Sleepy Eye, who gave "The Murder of King Duncan". Emily Reed, our representative, obtained votes for first place from all three judges. The audience was exceptionally responsive to her interpretation of the "Valiant". Mary Ellen Boomer had her audience in an uproar while she was winning three first place votes from the judges. Second place in the humorous division went to Betty Breigenger of Sleepy Eye. She is an eighth grade pupil. The Sleepy Eye High School Orchestra provided music before the contest and between each of three divisions. The judges were Mrs. A.C. Selby, Miss O'Connell, and Rev. Hardin of Mankato. The district declamatory contest will be held next week at Springfield. The contestants and friends hope there will be as large a delegation of New Ulm people at Springfield as was at Sleepy Eye last night. The Graphos joins with the student body in extending congratulations to Grant, Emily and Mary Ellen for their fine showing last night. Best wishes are extended to these people that they may do as well at Springfield.

NEW ULM CONFRONTS GLENCOE AND GAYLORD TOMMOROW NITE

Tomorrow Freshmen in Tournament

Tomorrow nite, Feb. 22, two quints of Lavendar and white warriors will journey to Glencoe, where the seconds in the preliminary and the other team will play the Glencoe first team. The main game is booked to be an even scrap, as Glencoe lost to Sleepy Eye by a few points and New Ulm beat Sleepy Eye by a margin of 17 to 15.

The other first team of the New Ulm cagers will remain here and exchange baskets with Gaylord, who beat the New Ulm club 15 to 20 earlier in the season. Gaylord defeated Lamberton 27 to 23. Two intra-mural teams will play the preliminary for this game.

During this time, our Junior High team, consisting of five freshmen, will be battling their way through the Tri-County Junior High Tournament that is being held at Mankato. Their first game is to be with St. Peter Central at 8 P.M. Thursday night.

N. U. H. S. DEBATE TEAM DEFEATS CLARA CITY

Monday night, February 18, the New Ulm debate team defeated the Clara City team by a three to nothing decision. From the beginning the home team had the advantage in that they were more familiar with their speeches than was the opposing team. The affirmative was upheld by New Ulm and the negative by Clara City. In constructive speeches and in rebuttal New Ulm had the edge. The judge, Professor A. B. Morris of Mankato, gave his decision unanimously to the affirmative and later gave constructive (cont. Page 6; cl. 1)

COURTESY SKIT

On Friday morning, the eighth, the first program under the auspices of the student council was presented in the assembly. The theme of the program was to impress upon the students the value of courtesy in the classroom as well as in the assembly. A scene was first presented showing pupils in a classroom acting very discourteously, and later the same class was shown being conducted in a very courteous manner. The same idea was carried out in an assembly program, at which Ruth Stoltenburg rendered a few musical selections. The entire student council participated, under Howard Alwin's able supervision.

best work, famous murder stories, his exciting accounts of his adventures in far places, anecdotes of his war days, notes on books and plays, and some legendary tales.

"Dusk in the Grove" is the Atlantic $10,000 Prize Novel of 1934. The story centers at "The Grove", the Waring's summer place on the Rhode Island coast. Here the Waring's live through the most eventful days of their lives. It traces the lives of the Waring's three children, Brad, Linda, and Dicky from the time of their early teens until they have faced the trials and decisions of maturity.

"The Ebony Box" is a new murder mystery. It concerns the disappearance of an ebony box containing valuables shortly after John Allerdale dies of poisoning. Ronald Camberwell, shrewdest of detectives, uncovers the gruesome murder of Allerdale's butler and the mysterious

AMONG OUR ALUMNI

The Class of 1934 has purchased for the Assembly, out of the class funds, a bulletin board and letters. The board is 48" by 48" overall, with glass door, locks, and keys. It is equipped with hangers and changeable letters.

With the remaining money they bought the following novels for the library.

"Anthony Adverse" by H. Allen;

"Miss Barrett's Elopement" by C. Lenanton (Carola Oman);

"Lamb in His Bosom" by C. Miller;

"Mary Peters" by Mary Ellen Chase;

"Heaven's My Destination" by Thornton Wilder;

"So Red the Rose" by S. Young;

"While Rome Burns" by A. Wollcott;

"Dusk at the Grove" by Samuel Rogers;

"The Ebony Box" by J.S. Fletcher;

"The Trail of Fu Manchu" by Sax Rohmer.

"Anthony Adverse" is a full adventurous romance, rich in action, and heightened by poetic glamour. The tale moves swiftly through the latter years of the Eighteenth, and the early decades of the Nineteenth Centuries. It is filled with memorable events with affairs of the heart, of many interesting lands, cities, and hundreds of colorful people. It has gusto, wise humor, beauty, and pathos.

The motion picture "Anthony Adverse" is now in production at the studios of Warner Brothers.

"Miss Barrett's Elopement" is the love story of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning. It is the same as the cinema production "The Barretts of Wimpole Street".

"Lamb in his Bosom" is the winner of Pulitzer Prize awarded in 1934. The author of this book gathered most of her material for "Lamb in his Bosom" in Georgia, where she lives. Most of the incidents in this story really occurred.

"Mary Peters" has for its theme the abiding influence of the seafaring heritage of New England upon the natures of those intimately connected with it. Mary Peters comes from a long line of deep water captains, is herself born on a merchant ship off Singapore, and for fifteen years is brought up and educated on her father's vessel. This is the story of her experiences as a child on the "Elizabeth", her entrance at fifteen into village life of the eighties, and her later somewhat tragic life of the influence of her girlhood at sea. Within her experience one sees the changes in the life of the Maine Coast during the last fifty years with the decay of its shipping and the influx of summer visitors.

"Heaven's My Destination" is the new novel by the author of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey". This story is the portrait of a mind and a spirit that grips with the ultimate problems of life. George Brush is a commercial traveler. On his journey he tries to convert everyone to believe in God. The story of his struggles is told with uproarious comedy, but also with profound understanding and compassion.

"So Red the Rose" is a splendid novel of Mississippi plantation life and spirit during the Civil War.

"While Rome Burns" ---Mr. Wollcott, the author, has become widely known for his magazine portraits and gossip articles in magazines such as Cosmopolitan, Colliers, and others. This book "While Rome Burns," contains a generous selection of his

FORMING OF CODE WORTHWHILE TASK

For Sportsmanship And Courtesy

As a means of increasing student morale and school spirit, many schools have formulated sportsmanship and courtesy codes. Students have reported that these have been found worthwhile as standards for governing conduct in school activities.

It is especially appropriate that this code be read just before the district B. B. tournament.

Sportsmanship Code

A Good Sportsman---

Is Courteous

On the field he does not jeer at errors; he does not cheer at the opponent's penalty; he treats them as guests, not enemies.

In school he is considerate of the faculty, of fellow students, and of visitors.

Is Modest

On the field he works for the good of the team rather than for individual honor; he will even sacrifice his own prestige for his team; he is a gracious winner.

In school he does not become conceited over his successes, neither does he feel himself superior to his classmates.

In life he does not "blow" about what he is going to do; he does not boast about what he has done.

Is Generous

On the fields he applauds a good play of his opponent; he gives the other fellow the benefit of the doubt.

In school he does not "knock" other schools or individuals; he appreciates another's merit.

In life he does not ridicule the man who is "down", but encourages him. He is not afraid to think for himself and to voice his opinions straightforwardly and clearly.

Is Game

On the field he plays hard; he fights tho he may be already defeated; he accepts adverse decisions; he is a good loser.

In school he does his work, he keeps on working in the face of almost certain failure. He has "the vim to think straight, the pluck to act straight".

In life he does his part however hard it may be; he accepts reverses with a smile and tries again.

Is Obedient

On the field he observes the rules of the game.

In school he observes all of the regulations.

In life he respects the civic laws and the demands of the community.

Is Fair

On the field he competes in a clean, hard-fought but friendly way; he helps an injured opponent; he has no alibis.

In school he does not waste his time nor that of the faculty; he does not copy his classmates' work; he does not receive aid from any source on his examinations.

In life he sees impartially both sides of a question; he uses no underhand methods; he is not influenced by money; he is not partial in administering justice.

DEBATE TEAM LOSES TO CANBY

In an interesting debate with Canby the debate team of N.U.H.S. was defeated by a team composed of two girls and one boy. The question of federal aid was debated and both sides presented convincing arguments. Betty Becker, Verma Spaeth, and Janet Landrum composed the N.U. team. Lack of speaking practice was the cause of their downfall. The debate at Canby was held on February 1 in the Canby High School.

PRACTICE DEBATE HELD WITH MANKATO

Both debate teams had the opportunity to debate with the Mankato teams which were composed of boys. Every one had a lot of fun as well as good experience. Our negative team is composed of Carol Veeck, Constance Ewy, and Marcella Groebner. We were glad that many of the students were interested enough to remain after Mr. Dirks announced that those who wished to could leave.

INTERESTING COMMERCIAL CLUB PROGRAM HELD

The Commercial Club was very fortunate in having the District Sales Manager of the New Ulm Eagle Roller Mill, Mr. A.P. Boock, as speaker at its monthly program last Wednesday, February 13th. He told us, first of all, how the mill got its start, with just a few buildings where many tall structures now stand. Then he went into detail as to how the mill is run, describing the different departments and giving special attention to the stenographic work. He pointed out that in order to be a good stenographer, one must have, first of all, a desire to work, but one must also possess a pleasing personality and a courteous disposition. All in all, it was a splendid program.

LYCEUM PROGRAM

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, New Ulm High School students had the privilege of attending and enjoying the third of a series of lyceum programs. The entertainment came about in musical form, and just about every instrument except the percussion instruments were demonstrated and talked about. Among the instruments played were the four kinds of saxophones, a clarinet, a cornet, an accordion, a guitar, and many other kinds of instruments. There were also several vocal selections by Miss Ferrara, and, as a whole, the program was enjoyed by all those who attended, which was enough to fill the entire assembly.

MOTHER'S TEA GREAT SUCCESS

The Mother's Tea given by the Girls' Club was considered a great success by Miss Fisher and the members of the club. The gymnasium was decorated in red and white crepe paper and the card tables were covered with red and white luncheon cloths. Red and white candles in red glass candlesticks also decorated the tables. Two corners of the gym were screened off by red and white crepe paper extending from floor to ceiling.

CIVIC PRIDE DEMANDS A LIBRARY

Despite the many attempts on the part of New Ulm to establish a public library, she is still without one. Civic pride demands that New Ulm, a city of nearly eight thousand inhabitants, have a public library. For almost ten years our smaller neighbor, Sleepy Eye, has had such an institution. Surely the people of New Ulm and the students of New Ulm High School have cultivated their literary tastes to as great a degree as have those of Sleepy Eye. The natural solution to further cultivation of our literary taste lies in a public library.

Today, many families spend a considerable sum of money for buying books. A large number pay money to the circulating libraries. If this same amount of money were spent on books for a public library, a still greater number of people would have the books at their disposal.

To the pupils of the New Ulm High School a public library is an absolute necessity. In order to meet the standards of the state, each pupil is required to read a certain amount of literature. There is but one place from which they can hope to get their material--the school library. Our school library is not a large one, and for the large number of students enrolled in the high school, there is not nearly enough material to give every student a fair chance. Often he must wait for almost a week to get the particular reference he needs. At such a rate, how long would it take to fulfill the requirements of the state course? And besides the school body itself, the school library is open to the public at large. A school library has little chance to enlarge itself since it has no great fund with which to purchase new books. With such a situation existing, how can we expect to keep up with the world's literature?

Surely there is a solution to such a problem. New Ulm can remedy the situation by building herself a public library. The whole school body is wholeheartedly behind the project.

SKIP IT (WHAT NOT TO READ)

"Extra! Extra! All about the big massacre! Read about the latest murder! Paper, mister? Extra! Extra!"

The cry of the newsboy may be heard in any city, but in the large one, the path of the unwary pedestrian is constantly beset by the voice of the "newsy" exploiting his wares: the latest murder, the latest scandal, the latest vica.

The pinkest of pink and the yellowest of yellow splashed with the blackest of black assail our eyes. How wearisome it all is. It makes one wonder if, after all, there can really be any good in this once-upon-a-time good old world. However, we purchase one of the pink and yellow sheets--of course--merely out of curiosity. The murdered or the murderer may be someone of our acquaintances. One never knows. So we read the tabloid.

Some more black type catches our eye and we discover that another love-triangle divorce ended in a murder-suicide. (Where, O where would the modern newspaper be without these famous hyphenated couplets?) And so, in spite of our secret aversion to crime, we continue to read.

Coming to the vast inner recesses of the newspaper, small headlines barely stop the progress of our now sated eyes--"Work Begun on Tennessee Valley Project"--"Ten Thousand Go Back to Work"--"Admiral Byrd Spends Winter at South Pole"--There is what we should read.

At last we come to the funnies. Ah! Pop-eye is still doling out one thousand dollar bills to widows and befriending orphans. Tim Tyler's luck is still holding good and Jiggs has finally succeeded in smuggling in a can of corn-beef and cabbage despite Maggie's vigilant eye.

With a sigh, we skip the editorials, for even they are fast becoming too political in their trend, and so we realize that all we have left to read are the cartoons... S.V.A. Sunbeam, Saint Vincent Academy, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

A KING OF MEN

Hand in hand with--rare soundness of judgment there went a completeness of moral self-control which was all the more impressive inasmuch as Washington's was all the means a tame or commonplace nature such as ordinary power of will would suffice to guide.

He was a man of intense and fiery passions. His anger when once aroused had in it something so terrible, that strong men were cowed by it like frightened children. This prodigious animal nature was habitually curbed by a will of iron and held in the service of a sweet and tender soul, into which no mean or unworthy thought had ever entered.

Whole-souled devotion to public duty, an incorruptible integrity, which no appeal to ambition or vanity could for a moment solicit--these were attributes of Washington, as well marked as his clearness of mind and his strength of purpose.

NEW ULM H. S. WINS AND LOSES

Friday, January 25, New Ulm's conference team edged out a victory over the speedy St. James quint in the overtime period of an exciting game. The Harmanite district team found themselves helpless against the fast Mankato T. C. High and were completely outclassed from start to finish.

In the preliminary, the College Seconds trounced the New Ulm Seconds, 18 to 4.

INTRA*MURALS BEING PLAYED

The boys have shown great enthusiasm in the basketball games on Thursday and Friday afternoons in the high school gymnasium at 4 P.M. Quite a few boys have come to watch the games, but very few girls have been present. The girls are welcome to come down to watch the games.

On Jan. 25th the results were: a victory for Team 1 over Team 5; next Team 2 downed Team 4; and in the last game Team 3 ran away with the game from Team 6.

On Feb. 1, Team 4 defeated Team 6, Team 3 took a game from Team 1, and Team 2 won from Team 5.

On Feb. 7, Team 2 scored a victory over Team 1. ON Feb. 8, Team 3 downed Team 6 and Team 4 beat Team 5.

On Feb. 14, Team 2 defeated Team 3 and Team 6 nosed out a victory over Team 5, eliminating Team 5 from the tournament. The tournament is a double elimination tournament, that is, a team must have two defeats before it is eliminated from the tournament. On Feb. 15, Team 2 received its first defeat of the season by Team 4 by a score of 23 to 15.

Last Monday Team 1 defeated Team 5 by a score of 34-11, eliminating Team 6 from the tournament.

White arches formed doorways thru which people getting tea and coffee could pass. Four girls at a time poured the tea and coffee--two at each table. Cathryn R., Betty B., Arloine M., Evelyn S., Dorothy V., and Leo O., poured. An orchestra consisting of Jane D., Wiebke G., Gretchen B., Dolores K., Ruth S., Hazel Mae P. and Betsy Larson, with Irene Jones as director, played. The excellent program put on by the girls was as follows: Tap dances by Beverly H., and Anita Grussendorf, a play by the freshman girls entitled Mother's Valentine; a table representing famous women of history, solo by Evelyn Arndt, piano solos by Alice S., and Doris V., The tea lasted from four to six. Everyone who attended enjoyed himself very much, and many complimented the girls on their successful venture.

The names of the players on these teams were in the last issue of the Graphos, and a copy may also be observed in the rear of the assembly.

On Friday evening, Team 2 will play Team 3 in the preliminary game in the Armory. On Monday afternoon Team 1 will play Team 4.

NEW ULM WHIPS LAMBERTON but Downed by Springfield

Last Friday night, Feb. 15, the New Uln district quint took the Lambertton five to the cleaners, thus avenging their defeat earlier in the season, but the conference team was defeated by the powerful Springfield quint for the second time this season.

In the preliminary at Springfield, the New Uln frosh made the bank boards stean by running up a 34 to 4 score on the Springfield frosh.

In the main game Springfield merely swept New Uln off their feet and speedily ran up a 12 to 2 score in the first period. The half found New Uln trailing 7 to 15. In the third period the Harmanites made a powerful attack to make the score 18 to 19. at the end of the period. In the final quarter, Springfield advanced their score ten points to New Uln's two to win the game.

In the preliminary at the Armory here, the New Uln seconds outpointed the Lafayette quint 22 to 15.

In the main game, the New Uln district quint, inspired by the defeat they dealt Winthrop the week previous, won again, this time over Lambertton by a score of 27 to 23. Vorwerk was fouled as he took the first shot for the game and he made both gift shots. Loose and Precht made one-handed shots from the side respectively and Vorwerk made two gift shots after Lambertton scored a field goal. Lambertton made a free shot to end the quarter. MU 8; L 3.

In the second period Precht made two one-handed shots and Vorwerk followed with a drive in shot that was good. Lambertton made a gift shot and followed with a long shot. Loose made a free shot and Lambertton made a free shot and followed with another long shot to end the half, MU 15; L 9.

In the third quarter, Vorwerk popped a one-handed shot and Lambertton followed with a field goal. Lambertton scored another field goal and followed with a free shot. Loose made a one handed shot and Vorwerk made a free shot. Lambertton made a free shot and followed with a field goal. Johnson popped one from the side but it didn't count because the gun would not go off when the time was up and the quarter was over-run. MU 20; L 17.

In the final period, Reitter scored from under the basket and Lambertton duplicated. Precht made a free shot and followed with a one-handed shot. Lambertton sank one from the side and followed with a one-handed shot. Loose scored from under the basket to end the game.

GYM NEWS

There are 23 quint tennis teams organized in the various Girls' gym classes. Every Friday one team plays another team of their class. They are playing a Round Robin and a tournament will be held among the highest scoring teams.

There are four volley ball teams in each of the boys' gym classes.
