OUR SCHOOL PAPER

A school paper inevitably reflects, to a certain extent, the spirit of the school which it represents. In view of this fact, the staff of the Graphos has been endeavoring to improve—through adjustment, elimination, or compromise—the caliber of our paper. It is an indisputable fact that it is an impossibility to satisfy all of the people all of the time, but it is not an impossibility to satisfy a majority of the people all of the time. Therefore, compromise is necessary.

The expressed desire of some readers for more jokes and gossip in the paper has been duly considered, as has a like request for more news. Advocates of both ideas should be willing to make concessions in favor of those who believe otherwise because the tastes and desires of many people are to be considered in the formation of the policy of a paper. Progress is hindered by apathy on the part of the readers, while it is stimulated through helpful criticism.

Help your school paper to reflect your school spirit!

Winston, Webster, Funk and Wagnall, the New Oxford-just what are all these? Makes of cars, brands of chewing gum, or excerpts from the current "Who's Who?" Guess again. Right! They're dictionaries—you know the books with all the words listed alphabetically and defined (by even more difficult words).

Now, how many of you have used these books—for purposes other than to press flowers or to put on little cousin Algernan's chair so he'd be able to see over the edge of the dinner table? Uhuh, just as I suspected! Those excursions to the front of the room were for purposes other than education—exercise, exhibition, or just plain restlessness. But while there why not take the chance and absorb a word or two?

NEW ULM WINS OVER REDVOOD 25-21; AIM AT CLENCOE HERE TONIGHT

Only two field tallies somewhere in a neck and neck cage battle, with Dick Eichten's ability to capitalize on three gift shots in the opening minutes of play, gave New Ulm High School floor men a 25-21 Little Ten win over Redwood Falls at Redwood Falls Friday night.

Wild and fast play characterized the Eagles in the first half as they fought to build a quick, lead.

Redwood Falls had enough of this third period non-sense and with big promotion ideas in mind took a crack at the Eagles forward line that nearly lost the cause.

New Ulm High School cage sharpshooters are back, home tonight.

Tired from a gruelling out of town schedule that called for three weeds of slinging net play, the

TRINITY YEARLINGS DEFEAT-NULFROSH 18-17

The freshman cagers, fighting a neck and neck battle with Trinity's freshman squad dropped another game here in thehigh school gymnasium last Tuesday by an 18 to 17 score, A close fought game throughout, no team at any time held a lead of more than three points Koreis at center took the scoring honors, dropping five counters for a total of ten points with Christiansen also slipping in under the basket for two buckets and a gift shot.

Although Wolf and Arndt at guards displayed plenty of drive the scoring ability was completely lacking Improvement, however, was evident in the defensive work done by the local frosh squad. (Cont. Col. 3)

New Ulm High School cage men occupied second place in the Little Ten loop, after putting the finishing touch on a smart coneback drive Tuesday night.

N.U. BACK IN 2ND

The Eagles took their seventh loop win off the griddle at Hutchinson 26-18, closing their 1938 out of town cage series and incidentally their last Tuesday night battle of the year.

Things were left pretty much in a defensive way with the Eagles out in front during the entire minutes of combat until an opening in the fourth period, when both squads put on the heat and went to town in the way of nine points each. Driving in with speed and absolute sureness, the New Ulm scorers connected with the net when chances appeared.
