Seniors to Present 'January Thaw'

NU to Enter Science Test

As a participant in the Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science award program for recognition of high achievement in scientific subjects, N.U. high school is eligible to submit a candidate for one of the five Bausch & Lomb Science scholarships at the University of Rochester to be awarded in 1948. Each Scholarship has a value of $1,500.

The Award Medal is given each year in 4,800 schools throughout the United States to graduating high school students who win the highest standing in science studies. The winner in each school is eligible to compete for one of the Bausch & Lomb Science scholarships. At present, there are eighteen holders of these scholarships studying physics, chemistry, biology, or other of the sciences at the

Convention In New Ulm

Group Meets Next Year With Marshall Electing President

"Foundation for Citizenship" was the theme of the convention of student councils held October 29, 1947, at New Ulm high school. The schools participating were those belonging to the Southwest Division of the M.E.A.

Probably the most important thing to come from the convention was the plan to hold student council meetings every year from this year on. As yet the location or date of next year's convention is not known, but the officers will be elected from the following schools: President, Marshall, Vice-President, New Ulm, Secretary, Fairmont; and Adviser, Hutchinson.

"Kids must learn to take responsibility if they are ever going to take part in the government." These are words of L. Donald Bond, First Congregational church, Mankato, Minnesota, as he spoke before the members of the Student Council convention, Wednesday, October 29.

Mr. Bond's address was on the subject of democracy in school and in the world. He told the students that during his school days in his school the Student Council was "guided" by the faculty. He maintained that had their council been allowed to partake of school government he would have had a better conception of democracy.

Bible Illustrates Democracy

Explaining the value of democracy, Mr. Bond told a story from the Bible. "When the people, who had governed themselves for centuries, came to Samuel and asked for a king to lead them, Samuel refused. However, the people selected Saul, and from that time on corruption]Continued on Page 4]

Posture King, Queen Chosen In Assembly

Khalil Mansoor and Patricia Harman were chosen king and queen while Raymond Brey and Lucille Kosek were selected prince and princess as a climax to Fosture Week, in the assembly program Friday, October 24 at 3 o'clock.

The program began with a review of all the candidates for king and queen. The contestants from the 12th grade were Patricia Harman, Khalil Mansoor and Jeanine Naumann; from the 11th grade, Patricia Hartl, Jean Gasner and Fred Nystrom were competing in the 10th grade were Loretta Herrick, Jeannine Anderson and Richard Wagner; the 9th grade group was composed of Raymond Brey and Lucille Kosek; in the 8th grade Joanne Herrick and James Gasner were represented and Joy Herrmann and Luverne Arndt were sponsored by the 7th grade.

Demonstrations on the art of walking and on the importance of good posture were presented by the 8th and 12th grade groups.

Advertising For Class Play Has Started

An extensive advertising campaign is under way for the senior class play, "January Thaw". The advertising this year is being handled by the salesmanship class as a class project.

Throw Sheets Distributed

The boys in the class are working on printing two different throw sheets. These sheets are also being distributed by the members of the salesmanship section. Another card advertising the play will be printed and placed in local store windows.

Plans are also under way to put a large display in a local place of business.

Extensive Campaign Planned

The members of the section have corresponded with disc-jockeys and commentators on important radio stations. Cedric Adams has agreed to give "January Thaw" mention on his program.

The following boys under Mr. Theodore Olson are putting on this campaign; R. Grunert, F. Ubl, J. Mielke, J. Heiser, L. Kornmann, N. Sauer, D. Lonien, M. Rempfer, R. Kraus, L. Oren, H. Neisen, K. Mansoor, L. Seifert, T. Sellner, D. Tomaschko, M. Zangel, and J. Dietl.

Something New Is Already Old

by Kenneth Herzog

Work has really begun in earnest in the guidance department of New Ulm high school and what important work it is.

The contents of this article pertain mostly to seniors; but as all of you will be seniors at some time or another, you read it, too!

One very important thing to remember, the guidance department is there and therefore we should use it. If you wish to think of it as merely an educational facility, well and good. We must learn to use it for we undoubtedly will be coming in contact with such a service sometime in our lives—in college, in industry, in community, in church. Material Available

Under the direction of Miss Alida Nieboer, the guidance department will try to arrange group conferences for the seniors with parallel interests. Among the material to choose from are books, pamphlets, and catalogs for nearly all the [Continued on Page 4]

Woebke, Groebner Head Production As Student Co-Director

Rehearsals are now in full swing for the senior class play "January Thaw" to be presented on November 21 and 22. The play is being 'very ably directed by "Mr. Virgil" Halligan, and it promises to be one of the best plays that has been presented for several years.

"January Thaw" is the story of the difficulties that 'arise when two families are forced to share the same house.

The production staff includes Audre Woebke and Charles Groebner as Co-directors, Fred Olson and Fred Schneider as co-stage managers with their crew, Frank Ubel and Norman Sauer. John Mielke is in charge of lighting and Vernal Schultz is the man who knocks on doors and rings telephones. The business manager is Jeannine Naumann, while the salesmanship class is in charge of advertising.

Physical Exams Given to Frosh

Ninety-three ninth grade students were examined Monday, November 3, between eight and one by local doctors during the third physical fitness checkup at our school.

Tom Pfaender selected this class because two-thirds of the students are new to the school.

Drs. O. J. Seifert, D. H. Saffert, T. R. Fritsche, Carl J. Fritsche, and L. H. Domeier conducted the examinations with Cora Bruess, Amelia Dummer, Ruth Green and Esther Wilbrecht as assistants.

A preliminary test had been given to the students on Tuesday, October 23. The findings of the test were

At Fri-Le-Ta Party

Initiation day for new members of Fri-Le-Ta came on November 5, at 7:30 p. m., when they visited the fun house under the supervision of Pat Hartl.

The most exciting moment of the evening came when after hearing a ghost story, the initiates had the opportunity of actually feeling the blood, eyes, brains, etc. of the departed spook—not to mention real worms.

Everyone took part in being initiated individually. After sandwiches, chocolate milk, pickles and cookies had been served, eight new members volunteered to do the dishes.

The initiation committee was Ruth Groebner, Julie Paro, Pat Hartl, Iris Wagner, and Germaine Backer.

Mary Green, Jean Huevelmann, Pat Harman, Mary Herrmann, and Harriet Heymann were on the food committee.

Hugh Sweetman Heads Junior High Council

Not only has New Ulm high school a Senior high student council, but a Junior high student council as well. We have this because the high school has two divisions. The president of Junior high council is Hugh Sweetman, and the secretary is Virginia Iverson.

The other members are Shirley Saumann, James Hoffmann, Donna Nelson, Connie Schmid, Pat Kosek, Carol Niemann, Janet Schmidt, and Robert Asleen.

They have not met often this year and therefore they have just completed their organization. Thus far they have sponsored the Twilight dances. Their next project is to develop a constitution which will be modeled after the Senior high's. The posture assembly was under the supervision of Miss Ellen Mueller, girls physical education teacher. tabulated on the students medical examination cards. If any defects were found, a visit to the family doctor was advised.

This horrid killer slays a person every ten minutes. He is of the most vicious type. In most cases he is at work for weeks, months, and even years before he gets a death grip.

This killer is tuberculosis or better known as T. B.

Mon. Oct. 20-Play tryouts. Lots of kids tried out, me included. Hope I get in.

Tues. Oct. 21-Yipee-I'm in. We start rehearsals tonite already. The whole cast is excited. Ellis really does very well as the part of the lawyer.

Wed. Oct. 22-Play practice again. Almost everyone knew their lines. We had to know the first scene of the first act. So soon!!!

Tues. Oct. 28-We made our appointments for graduation pictures today. Wish they would have given us more warning. Ellis gave Mary Ann, Patty and me a ride home from play practice tonite. Mary Ann was sitting in the front seat with Ellis, and the poor boy got so flustered, he forgot to shift into high!!! Hmmmmm

Thurs. Oct. 30-Real good Lyceum program this morning. To think that people actually played some of those instruments.

Fri. Oct. 31-Might know-it rained and our game with Hutch was postponed. There was a Halloween dance at the Armory and everyone was there.

Sat. Nov. 1 - What a way to start a month! Am I tired, and there is another dance tonite.

Tues. Nov. 4-Lost football game. We played Hutch-lost 7-6. Chuck Malby is captain of the year.

Wed. Nov. 5-Initiation in Fri-Le-Ta tonite. Gosh, I can remember how scared I was when I was initiated. Oh, by the way, Dorothy Kraus has had an appendectomy. That makes three out of our class since school started. Must be catching.

The Schools Are Yours Securing the Peace Meeting the Emergency in Education Building America's Future Strengthening the Teaching Profession Supporting Adequate Education Enriching Home and Community Life OPromoting Health and Safety

The Schools Are Yours

Our American educational system needs improvement. That's an established fact in most communities. And the complaints are many. Critics say some school facilities are inadequate, teachers are underpaid and misdirected, techniques are inefficient, students should be taught more in less time. These complaints are not restricted to any single area of the United States-they are universal-and in many cases they are justified.

As a result, special committees are making extensive studies of educational systems in every state in the Union-and something is going to be done. But no improvements can make our schools top-notch without the help of you, the student, and for you it's easy. You have only one big thing to do-cooperate. It doesn't take research; it doesn't take extra time. All it takes is application, and you've got plenty of time for that.

Why do you go to school anyway? I know-you'll say because you have to. But why do you have to? Because in the long run it's going to make a better person out of you, and therefore a happier person. If you're out for a job, the things you've learned in school will help. And if you've going to be a housewife, you can turn lots of that "dry information" into very practical information.

Your teachers have the opportunity to give you a good start in life. They are able to help you in the ways you want to be helped. Give them a break by doing your best. After all, these steps are being taken for you!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

There has been a lot of complaining about the community singing on Thursdays. The cooperation on the part of the students has been pretty poor. Some students complain about the selections, others about the tempo, and still others say that the printing isn't clear enough to read. Occasionally, one of last two complaints may be true but these are few and far between. If, however, you don't like the selections and would prefer more modern songs, don't complain to every one else about it. This creates discontent among all students. Instead, why not get together with the gang some nite at "Eibs" and copy the words to the new tunes on paper. Hand them in to the music instructors either in the band room or postal box in the office and we'll sing the songs you like in assembly.

When you have complaints is any department, why don't you take them to the instructor of that particular department and talk them over. It will make you and your faculty happier.

November 16-22 is National Book Week. This year it is being observed for the 28th time. The theme this year is "Books for the World of Tomorrow" and posters picture the many generations of American children who have had the privilege of using an ever increasing wealth of books.

Our own library is well-stocked with the standard books, and there are new ones coming in all the time. Let's take advantage of this fact.

The library seems to be quite a popular place for the college prep students these days. Seems Miss Kayser has been assigning book reports. Some of these books are a real challenge to any student.

Nine seniors played their last football game for N. U. H. S., losing to the Hutchinson Tigers 7-6. A blocked point, and a complete extra point pass were the downfalls. The accurate punting of sophomore Joel Tierney kept the Tigers in the hole during the first quarter. Twice his kicks went out of bounds on the 6 yard line.

Sandmann Scores

New Ulm had the ball on the 30yard line and after several exchanges of punts, a first on the 1, but a penalty set the Eagles back to the 6 where Sandy Sandmann ploughed his way over with the help of good blocking.

Mansoor's kick from placement was wide.

With the line opening big holes and Marv Rempher's nice running, the Eagles were on a second quarter march before a pass was intercepted on the 6.

And The Rains Came

The pigskin teams played in a driving rain the second half. Both failed to gain consistently. Joel Tierney went in to punt for New Ulm, the kick bounced off the chest of a Hutchinson lineman and slithered to the 12 where Hutch recovered. The Eagle line threw up a stone wall for these plays till a double lateral set up the score. A fake try from placement fooled the Eagles. A pass was thrown into the coffin corner for the winning point.

Both Sides Punt

While the first quarter was played on the Hutch side of the field, the final period was in New Ulm territory. The quarter was a stalemate as both sides were forced to punt.

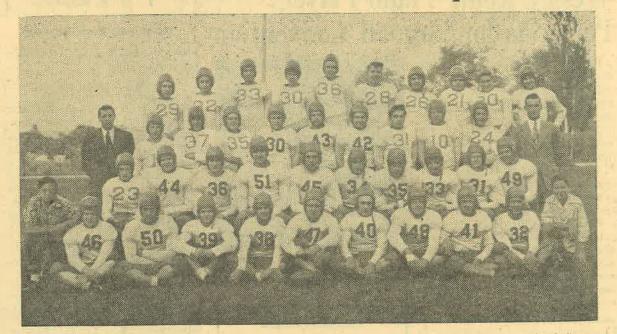

The loss was the sixth for Nicklasson's crew against two victories for the year. It was the sixth loss to Hutchinson since 1937.

There's some talk of who's the valuable player. teams most Naturally opinions differ, so we'd like you as a fan to pick a player in your estimation the team couldn't have done without. Just drop a slip of paper into one of the Graphos boxes scattered about the school, in the English rooms, and in the speech room, the name of the player you thought was most valuable.

Basketball

As football fades out of the picture, basketball workouts begin. Several weeks after school started some cagers had been working out. With football players strengthening the squad, practice begins in earnest.

"Guess 'em right Hayes"

Before the football season started, we conducted a poll to see what the team thought of the coming season. Dwayne Hayes predicted the season with just one wrong, otherwise he picked the wins and losses correct. Nobody else came that close to predicting correctly.

Team Showing Against Hutchinson--Outstanding

Blue Earth

This was one of those games where we had a little difficulty picking our star. Traurig and Ganske held up the line with some nice tacking. Malby played an outstanding game at end as he caught five passes but our choice in the game was Nystrom. Fred's line backing was great as he made many fine taclkes.

Hutch

This is the game that can be picked as the outstanding game of the year. Playing the second half in a heavy rain and muddy from top to bottom, the team fought hard till the final play was completed. Tierney's punting, Sandy's plowing through the line and scoring our touchdown, Monte and Robie's nice runs, Lee and Fred's blocking and tackling all helped is making this such a fine game. Unable to pick a star we honor the whole team and especially the nine seniors who played their last game.

Wesley Kohl, 'Piano Player', Performs for Council Convention

Recently, at the Student Council Convention, a man who called himself a "piano player" not a "pianist" entertained a group of high school boys and girls with his renditions of "Twelfth Street Rag" and "Stardust". This man was Wesley Kohl from St. Peter, Minn.

Perhaps many of you will recognize Mr. Kohl. He appeared in an assembly program two years ago at New Ulm high school.

Mr. Kohl played his selections after the banquet in the high school cafeteria on Oct. 29. Among his many talents, he can play with only one hand, and he did this to the tune of "Always".

At 4:00 P. M. the convention appraisal by Merrill Olson, Principal, Marshall, Minn., and a short business meeting ended the serious activities of the day.

Dance, Banquet Given

A banquet, followed by entertainment and a dance, was held in the high school cafeteria. At 8:30, the convention was adjourned.

Judging from the comments and letters received by the New Ulm Student Council, the Convention was a definite success. Letters have come from the different schools attending the meeting, thanking New Ulm for holding the convention.

and despair came to the people of Israel." He went on to point out that too much power invested in one man tended to bring about this failure.

The Easy Way-Dictatorship

The speaker stated that it is easy to put dictator a into power because it lessens individual responsibility. "It is easier to listen to a communist who will say, "I will do this in three days"—and does it at a price—liberty—than to hear an honest man say, "I will go out and try to fulfill these duties to the best of my ability." It is more democratic to listen to the latter."

Mr. Bond concluded his address with this statement, "You don't have to be a Christian, but if you want the finer things in life you should. The same is true in your school—If you want a dictatorship you can have it, but the other way takes more responsibility and brains."

him and some day this killer himself will be killed.

Many Have TB

It has been estimated that over 500,000 people in our country have tuberculosis. Of these, only onehalf have been to the doctor and know they have it. These have a good chance of recovering. But the other half is not so lucky. The killer is working on them now. Many thousands of these unlucky ones will die.

As time goes on many more thousands will contract this dreadful disease.

X-ray Test Checks TB

One way to decrease the number killed is by chest X-rays. Another is by having the Mantoux test. Our school is one that is cooperating in this way.

Two weeks ago this test was given to the eighth, ninth, and twelfth grades. Of these it was found that 18 were positive, or that they had the tuberculosis germ in their body. These should have an X-ray taken, and if they have T.B. the treatment should be started at once.

Keep Checking

If no TB is found, fine. That is good news, but it does not mean that you will be free from TB the rest of your life.

A tuberculosis control program designed to run down this killer is being conducted by people connected with the National Tuberculosis Association.

It takes a lot of money. That's where the annual Christmas seal sale comes in. These funds will be used to help combat this disease.

Yes, our school is helping to "Track down a Killer."

In the last issue we went on a shopping tour in one of N.U.'s department stores and picked up lots of little hints and "suggests", remember? In the last two weeks my tours for tips didn't lead me into the town shopping district at all. Nope—I got every one within these four walls. The Student Council Convention brought some "foreign" color into the picture, also.

The age of long, straight, hair giving a few that sultry look is definitely on the rocks—Short, curly bobs are now the latest. Two cute Glencoe gals illustrated this at the convention and they looked really sharp, too.

Fellas, here's an exchange idea for "you all." A certain St. Feter lad was all dolled up in a tan corduroy sports coat which was becoming. I'll bet lots of you hunks of man could really do one of those up right.

Not all new fads and fashions come from outside N.U.H.S. however. Joel T.'s bright green and white lumberjack was "accessorated" [That didn't come from Webster] by a matching striped stocking cap. Seeing as how Halloween was the festive occasion Joel has originally cut two holes in it as "peekholes".

Junior high offered some. "valuable" fads last week when they observed their annual clash day. In May, 1948, about twenty winners of the Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science award who will have completed their applications for the Bausch & Lomb Science scholarships will be guests of the University and of Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. for two days of tests and interviews. From this group of finalists, the Scholarship Committee of the University of Rochester will select the five winners of the 1948 Bausch & Lomb Science scholarships.

Upon request, Miss Raverty will give interested students further details on the Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science Award.
