Sewing Classes Receive Thanks

Our home economics teacher, Miss Audrey Olsen, received a 'thank you' letter for the packages sent to Germany by the clothing classes, just before Christmas. These boxes containing remnants of material and other necessary supplies for sewing, were sent to a teacher for her pupils. The letter was received February 11, and reads as follows:

Sulzbach, 19th of Jan. '48 Dear Miss Olsen and

7th-8th Grade Girls,

In the 16th of January I received your nice parcel to my greatest surprise. My 51 pupils were glad when I brought it this morning to school. I had made 51 lots in order that every girl might win something. Can you imagine their joy and admiration to receive [continued on page 4]

From out of the Deep South the Southern Serenaders bring the haunting melodies characteristic of the Negro race. There is no more fascinating music than the spirituals, work songs and plantation songs which bring a bit of Dixie to us all.

The Serenaders will appear on an assembly program in N.U.H.S. auditorium on Friday morning, March 12, at 8:30 a.m.

This program of the Serenaders abounds in unusual arrangements of old time favorites which never fail to strike a responsive chord in the hearts of audiences throughout the land.

The Serenaders make no attempt to enter into the field of cultural music, rather they stay entirely within their own particular field using songs which have been handed down through the generations, and only modernized by the immortal compositions of Stephen Foster, selections from "Show Boat" and close harmonies. These are woven into their program for the sake of comedy and variety.

The purpose of the meeting was to give to farmers better understanding of good flax growing practices.

Three Senior Girls Contest Candidates

Mary Green, Patty Harman and Myrtle Halverson are being considered as candidates for the D.A.R. contest.

The N.U.H.S. winner will be certified to the state D.A.R. After the final eliminations, one senior girl will be selected from Minnesota to visit Washington D. C.

The girls were judged on the basis of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. The members of the senior class submitted a list of possible candidates, and then voted Big Feets

On the Seniors

by Hey Hey and Jean

This guy was born on January 26; His food-just give him any tasty mix. Sports indoor and outdoor get his spare time;

And "September Song"-his song-I knew that didn't rhyme.

Long dresses to him are strictly out.

And Claudette Colbert's the Gal-there is no doubt;

Guy Lombardo is his band of fame; James Lathrop is this swell senior's name.

This next fellow isn't one bit choosy-And because of this left me slightly woozy. For actresses-he likes them all;

He has no peeves, either large or small. As for a song and a band,

He thinks all are the best what am.

Just a minute !! he's fuzzy about something-That's T-bone, french fries, and going hunting.

He was born on the 10 of Jan.

He's senior Chuck Malby-quite the man. * * *

This gal's favorite actor is that man, Guy Madison.

For pastime-nothing definite, but bowling for one.

"I'm Looking Over A Four Leaf Clover" is her favorite song.

And giving her chicken, you can't go wrong. The music for her is played by Fezz Fritsche and his Goose Town band.

While high heels with slacks or anklets she cannot stand. She was born on the 30 of May,

She's Aurelia Rieger-a gal with plenty to say.

Delphine Rolstad was born the 18 of August; To be with Jimmy she considers a must. Her favorite star is handsome Greg Peck. If you holler "Maid Rites", she'll be on deck. Tex Beneke's the best by far, she believes;

And raw carrots, she likes just as a rabbit. No this character isn't Bugs Bunny-It's editor Aud Woebke-really a honey.

A whole group of interesting books just arrived in the library. I won't list all of them, though, 'cause I have to have something to write about next time. Before long, though, the reviews will be on the stand especially made for that purpose. Here are a few that caught my eye:

1. Trusty-Bechdolt-the story of a police horse.

2. Where I Stand-Harold Stassen-A good book for anybody to read in this election year.

3. Best Sports Stories-1947-Marsh and Ehre-Another good book for you sports fans with the years best sports photographs. 4. Dusty for Speed-Neilson-A dog story. 5. The Spanish Galleon-Toatkins-A novel on treasure hunting. Right here I would like to put in a word about the book I finished this week. It's called "Jamaica Inn". It's by the same woman who wrote, "Rebecca". You may remember the movie of that name. Jamaica Inn is a wonderful book depicting life on the moors in England. It gets rather "gory" at times, but all in all, its' good reading.

Brother, Wake Up! My name doesn't happen to be Pollyanna, but I do think we should be "glad" that we have so many chances to "turn over a new leaf." Each morning you start out with a "clean slate" and each new semester you at least have a chance to make some good resolutions even though, whether or not you keep them, is an entirely different matter!! This week is properly known as American Brotherhood Week. Since we don't happen to have any Negroes, Chinese, or Japanese in N.U.H.S. you probably have been under the impression that this week was no concern of yours, but this year it's going to be different.

You don't need persons of a different color in your school to practice brotherhood. Wake up, look around you; standing, alone, near his or her locker is some boy or girl whom you hardly knew existed. Surely it wouldn't kill you to say, "Hi!", would it? Maybe they won't answer the first time, but you must give them a chance to recover from the shock! Ferhaps they won't become your bosom pals but their lives will be just a little pleasanter and you yourself will gain by adding to your own popularity. How about waking up and "turning over a new leaf" for brotherhood, righ t now'.

Thursday, February 12-We certainly had a pip of a test in social this morning. How some of those kids get the grades they do is beyond me. Had a piece of the cake Lyle Fredrick baked. I don't think I'll ever get well. Seems he got the recipe mixed up.

Friday, February 13-It certainly turned out to be a regular Friday the 13. We had a game at Glencoe, but we lost. Oh well, wait till the tournament, we'll show them !!

Saturday, February 14-All I have to say is that we had better beat Springfield next time, and I think we can do it too. The score tonight was 41-39.

Sunday, February 15-Spring really is coming. Is it ever nice out today! Benny Siefert and Patty have a war on, [I don't get it either] and Dennie Nelson hit me so hard that my nose bled. Oh well, I'll get even!

Monday, February 16-Am I tired!! Ellis was sleeping in Social this morning so I musn't be the only one. We were measured for our caps and gowns in homeroom this morning; that certainly makes graduation seem so near. We played Fairmont at Gustavus tonight. We lost by 3 points. It was so cold that almost everyone froze.

Honor Society Pin Real Prize

C.S.L.S. are the letters engraved around the bottom of a small torch, which is the banner-shaped symbol of the National Honor society. It's only a little gold pin but it means so very much to all those who are forunate enough to be awarded one. It is an emblem of distinction and you can be assured that the wearer has earned it through his outstanding high school record.

Come award night, as many as 16 from the class, for that is their maximum number for this year, can be chosen to join the National Honor society. The students chosen are judged on scholarship, leadership, service and character by all of the members of the faculty, and final selection of the winners is made by a certain authorized board. The teachers select the students who they feel have a desirable personality and character, who have given service to the school and community, who have the ability to lead a group or club in the right direction and who have attained a certain scholastic standing.

Every student has a chance to belong to the National Honor society, not only a class president, club president or an "A" student. Any one who ranks in the upper third of his class, who has had an interest in his school, who has displayed an honorable character and a pleasing personality can win the award. Perhaps it is a little late for the seniors to start working for this award, for by now the faculty has all of them pretty well "sized up"; but take a tip from us, underclassmen, and strive to achieve these requirements. It would be accomplishng something that you will never regret.

Why is it that everyone has to groan immediately after a picture is taken?

It seems that about six of the junior girls have formed a new club, B.T.M.R. which meets during study hall!!

More secrecy! The junior class has been meeting behind closed doors lately. Evidently plans for "the event" are beginning in earnest.

Marianne: Who, Fred? Ethei: No yours, ha ha!

Marianne: Drop dead!!

Did you know the library has a seating capacity of 112? It certainly doesn't seem that big. To think it was once used as the auditorium. What would we do if the whole student body tried to assemble there now? The average study hall contains about 85 people.

Once a week the younger generation from the grade schools pay us a visit. They select books from the small shelves on the far end. Maybe that would be a good place for some senior high students to get their books. It's a thought, anyway.

I asked "Mac" who she thought the most adventuresome souls in her study halls were. "That's a good question", she said. The race seems to be between Connie Muesing, Pete Lindemann, Monte Mansoor, and Fritz Schneider.

As for the talkers, I guess we all do our share. However, Mary Green, Ethel Klossner, Joan Knutson, Delbie Altmann, and Benny Seifert make excessive use of their vocal cords. What a blow!

This is the conversation that took place in College Prep when Miss Kayser asked the class to sing "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes".

Miss K: "All right. Let's everyone sing."

Fred Schneider: "We can't."

Miss K: "Why not?"

Fred: "It's banned!"

Miss K: "What?"

Fred: "Yeah! We're not allowed to drink." * *

Don't know why some of the senior boys were eating carrots during the College Aptitute tests. It couldn't be because their eyes are weak 'cause I know they don't miss a thing. Then again, maybe it could.

Debaters to Vie In Tourney

The junior and freshman speech classes are now doing radio work. Last week they worked on news programs and this week they are working on radio plays. Some of the freshman radio plays will be presented to the junior high assembly.

Debate Squad Places We can be very proud of the debate team which represented New Ulm high school at the Sioux Falls tournament February 13. They did very well, winning fourth and eighteenth, respectively out of a field of thirty-six. The debaters were William Dempsey, Virgil Herrick, Joan Bauermeister, and Richard Wagner. Our debate team automatically becomes the winner of the district and regional tournament due to the fact there were not any other teams represented. The team will go to the state tournament on March fifth.

Local Tourneys Coming

Welcome New Choir Members

Jean Sahly, Dianne Anglemyer, and Jeannine Anderson are the new choir members. All three girls are sopranos and appreciate it very much to be in the senior high choir. Let's make them feel as though they've been in it for years.

Professional Music

"The Piano Concerto No. 1" is going to be played at the next concert by the orchestra, and the piano part will be played by Patricia Harman. It sounds as if the N.U. H.S. orchestra is going into great professional symphonies.

Strictly for Record Fans

Arthur Godfrey sings the unusual song of "Slap Her Down Again Pa". Have any of you heard it! It really puts you in stitches.

"Beg Your Pardon" is another tune that's very popular around school. I imagine you all listen to the Hit Parade Program; but have you heard "Golden Earrings"? It's been the first on hit parade the last couple of weeks.

Tournaments

The drum majorettes will perform during the half of the first tournament game. By the way, how did you like their last performance? Weren't the Valentine's Day outfits

Kampus • The New Look Hats! Hats! Then Shoes Klothes

Strictly Seventeen!!!

I'm not as young as I used to be; so instead of walking miles to see what I could see in latest spring styles, I just sat in my easy chair, put on my specks, and paged thru that favorite magazine of all gals, Seventeen.

The cover displays a gorgeous hunter-green suit in the "New Look". It is styled with generously gored skirt and double breasted fitted jacket just hitting the waist line. A new spring suit like this one will make any lucky lassie "Miss 1948".

Oh here on page 28 is something really diff and darling. It appears that this Miss is not going to take changes on pick-pockets or lapse of memory. She has her purse, of light weight felt, attached to a linked belt. What an idea for us country cousins to adopt when we travel to the big city.

Oh what I see!! On almost every page, too. Look at the darling hats they are displaying! The most outstanding feature about them is their simplicity. Berets, tams, and little toppers without much trim will top the list this season.

Here I go from head to toe, and what I see!! This summer will find many slick chicks matching their pastel dresses with shoes of pink, blue and yellow. What next?

Well, gotta be getten, but just a word to the guys first. Next issue will be entirely "sportie" for I'm going to take my little notebook and make a note of all players, cheerleaders, bands and fans at the tourneys. Adios, for they always say "A word to the "guys" is sufficient".

Good luck team!!

NUHS Host to Teachers-to-be

"I certainly enjoyed my first day here" was the answer Miss Bonnie Milliman gave when asked her impression of New Ulm high.

Miss Milliman, a native of New Ulm, will be a practice teacher here for three weeks. The first week beginning February 2, was spent in observation while the next two will be spent teaching girls' physical education and general science. She plans to teach Phy. Ed. next year and we all agree with her that Bonnie is a senior at Hamline University and a New Ulm graduate of 1944. She has a twin sister, Betty, who is practice teaching at St. James.

Miss Lorraine Hoffmann from St. James another practice teacher, is teaching home economics in both the sewing and foods departments. Miss Hoffmann, who is a senior at St. Olaf, has a twin sister too, Florraine, who is doing her practice teaching in St. James, also in home economics.

As for making home ec. a profession she replied, "Home economics is always a career, whether you're teaching or not; but I intend to teach for awhile."

Miss Hoffmann, practicing here for three weeks, is beginning immediately the first week to help in
