Eddie has always liked hats. When he used to sit in church, as a youngster, women's hats always caught his fancy. After his sister took a night school course on hatmaking in Minneapolis and displayed what she had learened at home, Eddie's interest increased and he decided to try his luck.

Continues Hobby

Bib hats, little hats, silly hats and even some sensible ones came out at first, and Eddie continued to indulge in the hobby. Last spring marked a new phase in his career however, for Eddie was about to step into the professional world. He completed hats for a large department store in Waseca and the buyers were pleased as "Punch". This year Eddie has made many hats for local people including teachers and students.

One Graduate First NU School Opened In 1857

The first school or institute of learning in New Ulm was opened on December 17, 1857, with an enrollment of twenty four pupils, and Prof. August Westphal as the first teacher. The expenses of this school were paid by the German Land Co., an organization which took great interest in the welfare of education.

In the year 1872 the German Land Co. created a fund to establish and maintain an institution of higher learning which was known as the New Ulm Academy. This academy was situated in the east wing of Turner Hall. It was operated under the supervision of a board of directors, composed of three members.

Education Board Takes Over In the year 1874 the board of directors of the New Ulm academy entered into an agreement with the Board of Education, namely the board of the independent district which has been created two years previous to this date, to turn over to the Board of Education the income of the New Ulm Academy. After this transaction had taken place the same institute was carried on under the name of the New Illm High School. Therefore December 1, 1874 marks the birth of the New Ulm High School. The board of directors of the academy agreed to maintain an interest in this high school until the same was firmly established, which agreetment they faithfully carried out.

The alumni of New Ulm high school certainly do get around. In the January 20 issue of the Minneapolis Star Journal is a picture or rather a group of pictures, of Lavonne Slaybaugh, a graduate of New Ulm high school, class of 1945. The pictures show Lavonne being made up as an ape for a part in a production the University of Minnesota is putting on. The whole process of making up takes a couple of hours.

While Lavonne was attending New Ulm high school, she was active in speech work and memorized readings, which has helped her in her work at the University.

Lately, the supply of new books coming into the library has been rather slim, but here are a few of the latest additions:

1. Last Stras for Harriet-Sade. This book contains the same kind characters as found in You Can't take it With You.

2. The Bishop's Mantle-Twinbull-The story of a young preacher and his first parish.

3. Home Port-Prouty-A book presenting a psychological problem.

4. Adventure North-Emery-A story of Alaska.

5. Rocket Ship Galileo-Heinlein-A thrilling story of three boys who go with a scientist on the first flight to the moon.

. Clementine-Goodin-An excellent story of the typically American tomboy-red hair, freckles, and all.

7. The Miracle of the Bells-Janney-The transformation of a mining town from spiritual poverty to gladness and brotherhood and the devotion of a press agent to the memory of a young actress.

Thats it! I hope you can find something here that appeals to you.

It seems some of the girls in the third hour typing class think the library should have á new dictionary. This addition would be very practical for looking up the words you can't read at the end of a one-minute writing. Any other class have that problem?

Student Interest Not Up To Par

Are you reading this editorial? If you are, you are one of the very few in New Ulm high school that does.

Seriously, if any one of us would be asked to participate in a discussion of United States-Russian relations, or American affairs in Germany, or any other problem in our world, very few of us would be able to do so.

There is not one out of ten students in NUHS or any other high school in the country that looks further than the funnies and sports page in the daily newspaper. When we choose magazines, practically every one of us picks the magazines with jokes, not glancing at all the reports or present-day problems.

Yes, that's the American youth of today. We, the future voters of our great country, can read no more but jokes and sports.

It is about time we wake up! Now that the atomic bomb has been developed, quick thinking in political affairs will re required.

In three, four, five years we will be the ones that are going to have to solve the problems with Russia; we are the ones who will determine the future of our country and of our children; and all we read is the sports page trying to find out how many points Jim McIntyre scored the other

Eagles End Losing Jinx With Blue Earth Victory

Game is First Win For N.U.; Altmann Scores Decisive Tally

Del Altmann's field goal in the final minute upset a favored Blue Earth team to give New Ulm its first South Central Conference victory and snapped a eight-game losing streak for the Eagles. The B's took the prelim 20-15.

Altmann's shot, a one hand push from the far sidelines sent New Ulm into the lead 22-21 to stay, after trailing 21-20, to give Harman's crew their first season victory.

The Eagles had to score their lowest offensive output to win, but also they put on their best defensive performance in holding a vaunted Blue Earth club to 21 points. Reportably, Center Don Wendt of Blue Earth was their big scorer and he also was held to a season low.

The third period, previous jinx to the Eagles, was reversed as the team closed a 11-6 halftime gap to a third quarter score of 17-15. Chuck Malby shone in the rally as he pumped home two quick goals.

Twice in the final seconds Blue Earth could have won the game or tied the score but New Ulm got the breaks and came through with victory number one.

Del Altmann and Jim Clay each scored six points while Chuck Malby, Robert Cox, and Wayne Hayes, each scored five, three, and two, respectively.

This coming Friday night Redwood Falls will invade New Ulm to give battle to the Eagles. With Clyde Slocum, all-state football end, out with a sprained ankle, it could be quite a game.

Curt Larson Is Youngest Eagle

The youngster of the first ten, 16 year old Curtis Alfred Larson, by name, made his first appearance on January 25, at 2 P. M. in the year 1932. Curt spent his youth, the first seven years, that is, on his father's farm just outside of Windom.

The Eagle guard moved to New Ulm when he was 11 and attended Lutheran school. It was in New Ulm that he heard about and was taught the fundamentals of the game by some fellows down in the basement of St. Mary school.

This year Curt played first string left end on the football team and is now putting in his third year on the basketball team. Comes spring, he will participate in his third year of track activities.

In commenting on the school spirit this year, Curt claims that as long as they have team spirit and want to win, there will be school spirit!

NU's Losses Total Eight Straight

New Ulm's Eagles are still seeking victory number one after losing their eighth straight game of the basketball season, and ninth straight in two years, when they lost a thriller to the Hutchinson Tigers at Hutchinson 53 to 45.

Previous Loses

Previously the Eagle five had fallen to Fairmont 48-31, Waseca 63-32, Gibbon 31-28, St. Peter 36-34, and nearly pulling one out at Hutch, but losing 53-45.

Del Altmann's 21 at Hutchinson and 17 at Waseca topped individual scoring. Walt Krause, towering Waseca center dropped in 22 to lead the opponents.

Change During 2nd Half

A new and different team greeted loyal fans after the intermission at the St. Peter game as they rallied but couldn't hold a two point lead. The same team played Hutchinson to the hilt, but their old jinx, the third quarter, lost the game for the fighting Eagles.

Seniors Take Victory In Volleyball Duel

It looks like the juniors will have to try their luck again—this time against the sophs. Last G.A.A. night they played the seniors and lost 21-6. The team captains were Ethel Klossner for the juniors and Bev Nelson for the seniors.

There will be two games played Monday January 19—two soph teams against each other and the junior team against the sophs. You juniors better polish up on your volleyball cause the sophs are out to beat you and I'm pretty sure they can do it. We'll see the results of it January 19. The championship game will be played January 26.

Well, whether you like statistics or not, you're going to get them. First off, leading the team in the scoring department is Del Altmann with 53 points on 24 field goals and five free throws. Runnerup is Harlan "George" Sauer with 17 field goals and nine gift tosses for a total of 43 counters. In the way of team scoring, field goals total 95, free throws attempted-144, free throws made-57, personal fouls-110, and total points-249.

As for the opponents—they have scored 146 buckets, tried 136 free throws-made 69, have fouled 127 times and have rung up a total of 361 points.

The interview was published in the Minneapolis Morning Tribune on Thursday, December 4, in George Grim's column, "I Like It Here".

In the way of shots and shot averages, the team has let the ball fly 387 times and connected for bull-eyes on 95 of those shots. De-Wayne Hayes's seven completions in 19 attempts for 36 percent tops the squad. Sauer's 32 percent comes on 53 attempts and 17 buckets [all statistics include Hutch game]. Enough of this!

Noticed where we have only five of our varsity basketball squad born in New Ulm. The remaining six are from various cities scattered over three states.

Red Sox Take Lead In Intramural Play

Floyd Alwin's Red Sox and Leo Traurig's Mudhens remain as the only unbeaten teams in intramural basketball.

The Red Sox had little trouble in winning two of the games but in the third had to go into an overtime to beat the Flying Dutchmen 51-43. Traurig's Mudhens won both games, but had to fight hard all the way to win. The Flying Dutchmen with Marv Rempfer as captain are in second place and will be a threat to every team.

How's Math For One Grand?

$1,000, if you can get it.-And Norbert Schwartz hopes grand, cash money—all One yours—if you can [a] square a circle, [b] double a cube, [c] trisect an angle of a triangle; you're allowed to use a straight edge and compass only-nothing else.

Mathematicians have tried since antiquity to solve these three problems with only the tools mentioned and they regretfully say it just can't be done.

This has been posted for some time on the Geometry class bulletin board. Norbert Schwartz took up the challenge. He's still trying. Remember the old proverb: If at first you don't succeed try-tryagain. Good Luck Nubbs.

In the clothing department the seventh grade is working on bathroom and bedroom planning and construction. The freshmen are knitting, while the juniors are working on a traveling unit.

ated at Turner Hall until Oct. 4, 1884, which marks the date when they took possession of their new quarters known as the Union building. This building was situated where the new high school now stands and was town down in the year 1914 when the present high school building was erected. The high school was conducted here in the Union building for sixteen years in connection with the grades.

No Graduates in 1890 In the year 1890 there were no graduates while in the following year the class consisted of one member. Mr. Albert Pfaender, being the only graduate, received all the class honors. The year 1892 saw the high school with four graduates; and in 1894 the class went over to Turner Hall to finish their course, according to the old high school rules, under the supervision of Prof.

Robert P. A. Nix. Prof. E. T. Critchett had been secured to succeed Prof. Nix and he stated that he could not graduate the class with the grades and standings they had under the new high school rules.

New Building Erected

In 1900 a new building was erected on the same square with the Union building. The high school took possession of this place in the fall of the same year. It is the building which is now known as the Emerson school and is at present occupied by the grades.

There were four pupils in the first class to graduate from this building; and ten years later, in 1910, twenty-five graduates received their diplomas.

Another Addition in 1914

During the year 1914 the present high school was erected and on Jan. 4, 1915, the pupils took possession of these quarters. After twelve years, a new addition was started in 1937. The addition consisted of the Junior High School and the auditorium wings. Dedication exercises were held in 1939. New Ulm now now one of the most modern and well equipped buildings in the state.

Swing Band On The Beam; Two Girls 'Sing'

I am sure all who were at the dance last Saturday night will agree that the Swing band was strictly on the beam. Patty Harman and Mary Ann Heirmann did some harmonizing on the tune called "Louise" with the band. Some of our alumni, such as Adolph Kahle, Kenny Schroeder, Bob Schroedl and Don Fenske were back and played in the band for awhile.

What's happened to Richie?

I'm sorry but Richie and Bill were concentrating on their choir music for a change and didn't have time for any korny jokes!!!

Swing and Sway

The Swing Band did a fine job in our auditorium program last Friday. Some of the swing tunes were: "Blues on Parade", and "Louise"; and some of the wonderful sway pieces were "noon Glow," "That's My Desire" and "Stardust".

The March of Dimes, a formal American institution, began its annual campaign on January 22, in New Ulm and Brown County.

Thirty coin collectors will be beckoning to you to come to give to this worthy cause. Besides the numerous collections in the theaters, the residents of New Ulm will be notified by mail and asked to contribute their donations.

Help check polio by giving to the March of Dimes.

Twas' the Month After Christmas

Christmas seems like years ago now but we can't let the big occasion go by without a mention. Everyone was dolled-up in some way or the other after vacation. Lots of gals displayed new scarfs and jewelry, and among the main interests were Gibson Girl blouses, and gored skirts. The fellas look real swell in their new shirts and sweaters, also.

Woodchoppers Brawl Breezes

What a blow! Everyone was really bedecked at the big costume dance on the 17, which, incidentally, was sponsored by the Graphos Staff. Bud and Liz, as usual, looked a scream in their Indian outfits. All of us were a wee bit worried for Bud tho'-Scant, you know. Rene Reim made a charming Spanish Senorita, and Elaine Seimering looked just like "Grandma" in her night gown and cap. Lots of fellas as well as gals wore service

Mary Niehoff wore a "huba" skirt and Shirley Frank and Mary Oppelt wore bathing suits - it was 5 degrees below that night. People are the "cwaziest" things. Nuff said.

Of All People! Are You One Of These Game Pests?

Have you ever witnessed the spectacular and peculiar antics that are performed by individuals while at a basketball game?

In describing them, the first type that enters my mind is the male villain who will hiss and boo the referee and the players. He couldn't exchange places with the ref because the only kind of fouls he understands clearly are those of the feathered class.

Jumpy Type

Another problem is offered by those students who insist on getting jumpy at every movement of the players. They leap with glee and sadness so high into the air that I often wonder when they will again subside into their seats. Everyone should get thoroughly aroused, but leave vaulting to its respective field. For an effective cure, it would be wise to carry a small mallet in your back pocket to all games.

students who try to create a scene by breaking out into some ditty directed against the opponents but sing way down in low "C". In reality they make no greater impression on surrounding neighbors than if they tried to sing "Danny Boy" to friend Jack.

The Last Pest

No basketball game is complete without those venturesome characters who seem to be as dry as the Sahara Desert or those creatures that see their friends only 16 hours of the day thereby making it a necessity to tramp over everyone's feet to tell the latest gossip which they've heard only seven times during the school hours. This species will traipse in and out and out and in along the rows continually, always finding your injured toe just as if they had a rod or detector. In all respects, forever ambling people like this have all the prerequisites of a ballet dancer.

Don't follow my suggestions seriously or it will make the game as exciting as a boy throwing snowballs at the North Pole. But I still consider it a practice to take along some weapon of defense.
