'Night of January 16' Presented by Juniors

"Very fine casting," "wonderful job done by all," and "marvelous acting", were some of the comments made about the junior class play, "The Night of January 16."

The unusual part of the play was that a jury was selected from the audience, and that verdict was "not guilty," both nights.

A party was held for the complete play production crew at Mary Jane Tauscheck's home. Directors were also present.

Adios Amigos! Mexico is Destination

The plans for the third annual Holiday Tour to Mexico are nearly completed. Seventeen adventure seekers are scheduled to make the trip. Car owners, are Mr. Tom Pfaender, tour manager, F. H. These people will cover 5,200 miles during the Christmas vacation. They will leave early December 22 and return January 6 or 7. The destination is, of course, Acapulco, Mexico, where it is 90 degrees in the shade, with palm trees swaying, and the beautiful Pacific Ocean inviting all for a swim. If you watch the New Ulm Daily Journal during the time they are gone, you will see a daily account of their travels written by a few ambitious members of the tour. Happy Holiday!

Journalism Class Sponsors Toy Drive by Barb

"It is better to give than to receive."

Every student in N.U.H.S. will give, and by giving, make this Christmas a happy one for certain families right here in our own community.

From December 10 through 17 the journalism class is sponsoring a drive to collect toys and clothing.

You might wonder how you as students can help. Many of you have toys and clothes at home that you've outgrown which are just

Mr. Herrmann Has Favorite Christmas Message

"Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and desires of little children; to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; to stop asking how much your friends love you, and ask yourself whether you love them enough-to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and to carry it in front of you so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts, and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open-are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas."-Henry Van Dyke.

News in Brief

Doloras Scherer, last year's Graphos sport's editor, was married to Harvey Martens on Monday, November 26. Dorothy Campbell and Wally Eckstein, class of '51, were 'members of the bridal party.

lying around collecting dust. Think how happy these things with a little fixing up will make some child or adult. An old doll, a piece of doll's clothing, a broken sled, a pair of mittens, or even something brand new certainly will be appreciated. The articles can be placed in a box in the journalism class room on second floor anytime during the day.

The journalism class will repair the toys and clothing that need repairing and wrap them, and the Brown County Welfare Office will distribute them during Christmas.

The success of this drive depends on "all of you". Making Christmas happy for some unfortunate family will also make yours a happier one.

rection of Miss Charlotte West. Five different choral groups will be participating. Miss Nancy Cave, Phy. Ed. instructor, will accompany the chorus on the organ for two numbers: Stille Nacht and Sleep of the Child Jesus.

A feature this year will be the bells which will be used in the selection, The Night Before Christmas. These bells, belonging to Miss LeDuc, a special teacher at Emerson, have been used for the last 20 years. They were first used in 1875 on a sleigh, taking North Mankato children back and forth to school each day. They are still mounted on the original piece of leather.

Various Groups Perform

The concert will include: Sleep of the Child Jesus and The Night Before Christmas by the mixed chorus; The Twelve Days of Christmas, Christmas Roundelay, and The Sleigh by a mixed ensemble; That Holy Night and As Lately We Watched by the girls' Glee Club; Deliger Jordan and Santa Claus is Coming to Town by the girls' ensemble. These last two groups will combine singing Lullaby for Mary's Son, Carol of the Shepherds, and Deck the Halls with the 9th grade chorus.

Rotarians Selected

For the month of December the New Ulm Rotary Club has selected Billy Fenske to be Rotarian. Since his freshman year he has participated in many activities including basketball, football, and golf.

The January Rotarian chosen by the club is Ken Werner. His various activities are basketball, football, and F.F.A.

The question has arisen as to what is a Rotarian? He is a member of the senior class, who the Rotary Club thinks has been outstanding in these fields-agriculture, athletics, music, or speech. He is a guest of the Rotary Club at their weekly meetings for a month.

Bjornson Speaks At FFA Banquet

A Parent-Son Banquet and Crop Show will be given December 11, in the cafeteria, by the local FFA chapter. Val Bjornson, Minnesota treasurer, will be guest speaker at the banquet which begins at 7 p.m.

Corps will be judged in the afternoon. Each FFA member will exhibit two or more crop entries.

School Board members are invited to the banquet. Donald Klossner will play a concertina solo as part of the program.

Little 10 To Meet Here

Discussing the question, "What should be the role of student government in our high schools?" the Little 10 discussion will be held January 23 at New Ulm.

Each school in the Little 10 will send three representatives. The chairmen are to be from New Ulm, and also the three students representing New Ulm will be picked from the discussion club which meets Monday, during homeroom period. The discussion participants will have dinner at Eibner's Pioneer Room.

For the purpose of planning the District 10 Speech contest which will be held March 8, faculty members representing this district will meet December 11 at Eibners.

There will be three senior high dances before Lent begins February 29, with the swing band playing at each one.

Smile Pretty!

Work on the 1952 Yearbook has begun. Seniors have had their pictures taken at Meyer's Studio.

Strictly senior high

A dance will be held in the small gym after the Springfield-New Ulm game on December 15. All senior high students are invited. Music will be by records.

Junior Whirl by Betty and Shirl

Before Orlue Schmidt knew her lines for the play, she had a little trouble reading the words. Her line was, "It was a dirty trick, Judge!" But she made the mistake of saying, "It was a dirty judge!" Poor Teddy Ranheim, [he's the judge.]

The students from Lafayette always have a good excuse if they're late for first hour class. They say that the bus was late. *

The new play books for the speech department have arrived, so now the boys and girls will have a fight over who decides what play we read next. * * *

We want to congratulate all the members of the junior class play for the wonderful job they did in presenting it.

Evelyn Lippmann perfected her limp for the class play, by breaking her toe just before curtain time Friday night.

Third hour speech class tamed down quite a bit lately. Maybe because Mr. Olson [practice teacher] changed Charles Scharf's and Jerry Hames' seats around.

If you're walking through the halls and you hear voices from Amos and Andy's radio program, don't be mistaken. It's only Jim Kagermeier imitating the "Kingfish."

Joan Schrimpf didn't eat the other noon, and Lolly Jutz couldn't work or sleep the other night. My, my, Darwin Jones and Wayne Broderson are hard characters.

Your Christmas In 1951

Gaily decorated streets and store windows, scurrying crowds of lastminute shoppers, Christmas carols in the air, and well-behaved children-all mark the beginning of the Yule Season. In this atmosphere few stop to realize the true meaning of Christmas.

Christmas as it means to us is the Birthday of our King and the exchanging of gifts with our family and friends. Seemingly, the latter has become the more important of the two. American Christmas is now too commercialized to stress the spiritual meaning.

"Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men," was the message of the angels on the first Christmas. Yet since then, there have been very few Christmas seasons when universal peace has prevailed. The prayer for peace in 1951 is for a Korean Truce. This problem is increasingly important to us; for if the truce is not fulfilled within the coming year, a great share of the NUHS grade may have to serve in the armed forces in Korea.

All religious denominations now agree that universal prayer is the answer to world peace. So why not stop to think about the true meaning of Christmas and maybe, sooner than you think, the message "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" will again be echoed throughout the world.

Gustavian Gives Views Of School and City

Have you ever wondered what a student teacher thinks of our school, of the students, of the teaching profession? To get the answers to these questions we have interviewed Milton Olson, a teacher in speech and American history. Mr. Olson is attending Gustavus Adolphus college. He has taken over ninth and eleventh grade speech and American history classes. He has two majors, speech and history.

"Not only a beautiful building inside and out, but well organized and immaculately clean", was Mr. Olson's first impression of New Ulm High School.

Since Mr. Olson has not worked with many high school students he

Has discovered his work is difficult

Teaching has been discovered as hard work by Mr. Olson. He feels that practice teaching is perhaps even harder, since he has to keep a written record of what he does, which will be examined by the Dean of Education at Gustavus when he returns.

"My first impression of New Ulm and it's citizens was that they were both very nice. I think the city itself is beautiful and as George Grim said, it is historic." I have one minor gripe, and that concerns a personal encounter with a local business man which didn't materialize into anything serious."

Compliments teachers, also

"The faculty of New Ulm," he feels, "particularly my critic teachers Chauncey Peterson and Roger Leak have helped make my work here enjoyable, intellectual an interesting."

Fasston, "state basketball champs of 1913" is the home town of Mr. Olson. He participated in debate and dramatics at Gustavus. He also is a member of Nu Upsilon Gamma Fraternity.

When Do You Work?

The year has 363 days. If you sleep eight hours a day, you sleep 122 days. That leaves you 243 days in which to work, but......

If you rest 8 hours a day, that takes another 122 days and leaves you, for the balance of the year, 122 days.

As a good Christian you must deduct 52 Sundays, leaving only 69 days.

Then comes 52 Saturday halfholidays equalling 26 days and leaving only 43 days for working purposes.

An hour and a half for lunch each day totals 20 days. Two weeks vacation, which you are entitled to, leaves a balance of 6 days. But remember that you will need everyone of them in order to celebrate New Years Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas. When do we work? Mazasha Messenger

Debate Tourney Held at Tri-Mont

With five wins and three losses the NUHS debate team competed in its first tournament of the year. The tourney was held at Tri-Mont High School in Triumph, Minnesota. There were 15 to 20 schools from southern Minnesota and northern Iowa. The New Ulm team members are Jean Keckeisen, JoAnn Herrick on the affirmative, and LaDonna Heck, and Noel Iverson on the negative.

The next tournament the team will attend will be at Macalester, December 7 and 8. At this time,

Music Officers and Artists Named

Behind the scenes in preparing for the Christmas concert are groups that most people never hear of—the officers of the music groups and the artists who made the posters.

The officers that were elected for different groups are these: student directors—Faith Fischer, Loren Lentz, and Duane Neubauer; presidents—Evelyn Sauer, Larrys Krueger and LaVonne Ring. The posters were made by Shirley Wallner, Janet Schmidt, Shirley Sandau, Edith Kottke, Paul Radke, Betsy Oswald, Duane Neubauer, Warren Locker, and Rance Purleburg.

Views On Home Ec and and Shop by Carla Fritsche

"A stitch in time saves nine" certainly seems to be true of the home economics clothing classes now. They're all working hard on dresses, skirts, weskits, jumpers, etc. We'll certainly be looking forward to the days when the girls wear them to school; we'll have a regular style show. Who knows, they might even attract some new Home Ec students.

"Umm, good." That's what you'll be hearing in a few days when the senior boys home ec class bakes their fruit cakes. After the fruit cakes, they'll begin to make Christmas candies and cookies. Next on their calendar will be meal preparations. They have covered a unit on food for health during the first two six weeks.

Baking is the unit that the 9th grade girls are taking. They'll also bake Christmas goodies.

Cookies, cakes and quick mixes are being baked by the 8th grade girls.

The boys in shop are making the sound effects for the song, "Open the door Richard!" In other words, they're making door knockers. The knockers are steel and each is designed individually. There is quite a bit of work in designing them, cutting out the design, from the steel, polishing, filing, etc.

Awards and Trophies Explained In Assembly

An assembly was held on November 31 to acquaint the students with different trophys awarded by various departments. Miss Westling explained the bread baking award; Mr. Pfaender told about the system employed by NUHS for giving out letters, chevrons, etc. Mr. Lynott showed the assembly the wrestling awards and told us about the American Legion Award. Mr. Harman explained the Tante Meyer and Harry Dirks awards. Speech awards were explained by Mr. Peterson. Mr. Olson spoke of the commercial awards and Miss Treadwell spoke of the Latin Trophy. Mr. Strang told about the Music award. Orville Broste told us about the Agriculture awards. Miss Steen gave us the points about the National Honor Society.

Every sophomore and junior should remember these awards because they are really something to work for. Dick Veeck will be on the negative, taking Noel Iverson's place.

The debaters will also attend the Carleton tournament December 21, and 22.

"Out with the old in with the new!" Everybody's talking about the new, more elaborate decorations our library will be getting during Christmas vacation.

The 10, 11, and 12 grade art students are contributing to the planning by working out their ideas of a color design. Stanley Wold, art instructor, will supervise.

Elizabeth Reinhart and Bob Nichold made perspective drawings of the library while Rudy Weissmann constructed a model of the room. The resulting project will be a combination of everyone's ideas, students and teachers alike. The art classes should be congratulated on their fine work in adding to the beauty of N.U.H.S.

Large Percent of Students Fri-Le-Ta To Have Christmas Party Take Mantoux Test

The annual tuberculin testing program was given November 13 at N.U.H.S. when Dr. Kathleen Jordan gave the tests. Of the 47 seventh graders who took the tests, only one was questionable. Questionable means that the individual is advised to take the test next year. Those who react positively should not take the test next year, but should be X-rayed instead. One hundred and nine students from the ninth grade participated in the Mantoux test. Of these, 102 were negative and seven positive. The senior class had 77 people take the test. Four proved positive; 3 questionable. Miss Bruess stated that the percentage of students taking the test this year is better than any other year since the test began.

Marionettes Perform Jan. 8

The Cole Marionettes will present "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" in the school auditorium on January 8. The play revolves around Ichabod Crane, the eccentric school teacher, including his escapade with the Headless Horseman. It is said to be an entertaining, pleasing play given with life-like marionettes, appropriate background music, and suitable settings.

Talent was emphasized during the Fri-Le-Ta meeting held Thursday, December 6. Mary Lou Schmitz did a tapdance and Faith Fischer sang "Can't Help Lovin' That Man" and "If I Loved You."

The next meeting will be a Christmas Party. White elephant gifts will be exchanged. Barbara Fesenmaier is in charge of entertainment. The annual boy-girl party will be held sometime in February.

Christmas Always

There's always be a Christmas-The bells, the candle glow, And babies' stockings by the fire

Because we will it so. There'll always be glad greetings

To ring through every land,

And carollers will sing to hearts, And hearts will understand.

We'll always watch the heaven, Watch one star's Christmas glow-We'll always have a Christmas,

God help us keep this so! -Cynthia Hurst

Bob Nichols Given Credit for Cuts

The Graphos staff of N.U.H.S. would like to give credit to Bob Nichols, who is doing a wonderful job of making the linoleum block cuts for the columns on the editorial page.

"Perfect design" is the first step Bob undertakes to complete a cut; next he traces the pattern on a sheet of linoleum which is mounted on a plywood block. To make the work a little more difficult all printing must be done backwards and in reverse, so as to look right on the printed page. He carves away all areas which are not to print, thus leaving raised surfaces which are the printing surfaces. "Proofs" are taken and the block is corrected. Bob sends it to the printer and hopes-

N.U.H.S. Debate Squad Travels to Macalester

The New Ulm debaters went to the Macalester debate tournament December 7 and 8. The students that entered the tournament were La Donna Heck, Richard Veeck, Jo Ann Herrick and Jean Keckeisen. Ruth Bakken also went on the trip to observe.

The affirmative team, Jo Ann Herrick and Jean Keckeisen, won two out of five rounds. The negative team, La Donna Heck and Richard Veeck, also won two out of five rounds.

About 30 teams from all over the state were present. Friday night Macalester College gave a banquet for all the debaters and their coach-

Six Attend American Vocational Convention

Six of the N.U.H.S. teachers attended the forty-fifth American Vocational Convention in Minneapolis November 26-30. It was a great opportunity for them because these national meetings are usually held in cities like New York or Atlantic City.

Tuesday evening Miss Hanson and Miss Westling heard lectures by Mr. Evelyn Millis Duvall and Mr. Fernando Romero. Mr. Romero is from Peru. The next afternoon they heard panel discussions on "What New Families Want from an Educational Program" and "Home Life with World Horizons."

Mr. Olson attended two meetings, one on "Coordinating Activities and Public Relations" and one on "How Television Can Be Used in the School." He saw a half-hour class televised. Then he went through the studio and saw a show and a movie broadcasted.

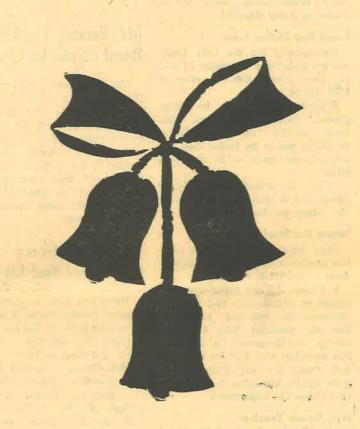

Mr. Fier heard agriculture reports and panel discussions. There were 121 different exhibitors there showing text books and other up-to-date vocational equipment. Thursday evening he attended a banquet where he heard Senator Chauvez from New Mexico speak. Delegates from Various Countries

Television was also discussed at a meeting Mrs. Franklin attended. She saw an advanced Stenography Class televised. She also heard two panel discussions; one on "What Business Expects of High School Graduates" and the other "What We [educators[Expect from Business." Mrs. Franklin commented on the number of people and where they were from. A person next to her in one meeting was from Germany and she heard there were a several there from Thailand.

Want to know anything about Indian silversmithing and carving plastics? Then ask Mr. Tyrrell because those were the subjects of two of the meetings he attended. Another meeting which interested him was one on how blind people re taught to run machinery.

This linoleum block was made by Lavonne Ring as a project in art class.

es. Later in the evening Macalester presented a play, "The Christmas Nightingale" for all the visiting students.

Certificates were given to the outstanding debaters in the tournament but unfortunately, no one from New Ulm received one.

The next tournament the team will travel to is Carleton December 21-22. The team is really out to win this tournament.

Final Spelldown in Assembly

New Members Are Welcome on Gym Squad

Many students don't realize what the gym team is. It is definitely not a "glory sport" such as football and basketball. This fact accounts for the relatively small turnout in previous years. The forms or phases of gymnastics in general are divided into four classes, A,B,C,D, from complex to fundamental, respectively.

The Eagles work in two of these classes at present. These are C and D. The meets are not scheduled for a year ahead, as in the other sports, but are planned as the season progresses. There are eight men on a regulation gym team, along with beginners, which complete the squad.

Each man on the team must work on three apparatus and may work on more. Some of these apparatus are the mats, side horse, horizontal bar, parallel bar, and trampoline. There are others also.

In regular meets the contestants are judged on individual ability, form, and fluency of their exercise. The judging is based on a percentage foundation. That is, 100 for perfect, 75 for failure. The team with the largest total score is the winner.

Gym meets are not limited to two teams contending; as many teams as practical may enter. In the State Meet, medals and trophies are awarded to the winning teams and high scoring individuals.

The Eagles have a completely veteran team this year since no members were lost through graduation. There practice time is 4 to 6 every Wednesday. If you are interested, don't be afraid to try out. New members are always welcome.

G.A.A. by JoanneBierbaum

Six teams have been formed of the many volleyball enthusiasts of NUHS. Tournaments are going in full swing with captains being Barb Fesenmaier, Joanne Bierbaum, Dorothy Lee, Shirley Stolt, Sharon Oswald, and Marianne Martinka.

Each Monday, Miss Cave makes out a new schedule and the teams battle it out until the winner is acclaimed. At the end of the season the team winning the most games will be pronounced grand winner. After Christmas we will play our class tournaments which also promise to be exciting clashes.

Eagles Win Final Game

The New Ulm Eagles won their final football game of the season 18 to 6 over Springfield on November 6. The game was scoreless until late in the first quarter when Vern Walden passed to Ken Werner for the Eagles first touchdown. The try for the point failed.

In the first few seconds of the second quarter, Tom Ubl sprinted 28 yards to make the score 12 to 0, New Ulm over Springfield. It was a tough, scoreless third quarter, but both teams let loose in the final period. Frank Stiemach passed 10 yards to John Heymann in the end zone. Springfield retailiated with a 10 yard fullback plunge for a score. The final tally of this cold, late season game was New Ulm 18, Springfield 6.

Seven Eagles Gain Positions on Elite

John Heymann was the only New Ulm Eagle to cop a spot on the South Central All-Conference team. This is Heymann's second straight year on the South Central elite.

The team was picked by the coaches of the various schools in the conference. The grid coaches wound up with a fourteen-man team in order to give all concerned a fair representation.

The teams overall average weight is 176 pounds; the line average is 180 pounds for eight men, and the backfield average is 1671/2 pounds for six men.

Those who made honorable mention are fullback Frank Steinbach; tackle Jim Gasner; tackle Harry Christian; guard Larry Krueger; center Bill Fenske; and halfback Vern Walden.

This year three Eagles made the All-Star Team. Two boys made the first team; and one, the second. These teams are selected by the sports writers of this area. Two seniors, Jim Gasner and Frank Steinbach, copped a spot on the first team and John Heymann, a junior, was selected by the sports writers for the second team.

When the All-State, All-Conference, and All-Star teams are chosen we know that the end of the season has come. The New Ulm Eagles are well represented on these teams and we know that their selection to these teams is due to only one thing: hard work. Congratulations, boys.

Twirlers to Perform At Game Dec. 20

The N.U.H.S. "A" twirlers will perform between the half of the Waseca-New Ulm basketball game, December 20. The band will play "Grandfather's Clock" and the twirlers will use it as their theme. The "A" twirlers performing are Jean Keckeisen, Joanne Bierbaum, Geraldine Kramer, and Barbara Fesenmaier, head Majorette. New twirling outfits will be featured during this performance.

Later on in the basketball season a combination of the "A" and "B" twirlers will high-light a game. The "B" twirlers include Margie Moe, Ruth Bakken, Barbara Keckeisen and Mary Lou Schmitz.

Wrestlers Lose First Match to Albert Lea

The N.U.H.S. grapplers bowed to the polished team of Albert Lea 46-5. The contest at Albert Lea December 7, proved fatal for the green Eagles who with the exception of one, lost every match. George Walden, 133 pound senior, pinned Donald Whitcomb for the team's only win. Actually Walden pinned his man only after he had been knocked out by a hard fall to the mat. This was not known until after the decision, Mr. Tyrrell, coach, said.

Members of the wrestling squad include; Gordon Gerhke, 112 Jerome Feldsein, pounds; 120 pounds; Lowell Gieseke, 138 pounds; Richard Wollin, 145 pounds; Jim Albright, 154; Vern Walden, 165 pounds; and Charles Anderson, in the heavyweight class, which includes anyone over 165 pounds.

New Ulm Falls to Sleepy Eye in Opener

The New Ulm Eagles traveled to Sleepy Eye November 27 only to lose the opening basketball game 35 to 43.

John Heymann who scored 17 points sparkplugged the Eagles in the fast game at Sleepy Eye. It was an off-night for Cal Rolloff, who left the game on personal fouls early in the fourth quarter without a score. The Eagles chief weakness was their defense which hasn't been stressed too much in practice due to their late season start, and the need for offensive work. New Ulm's chief lay-up artist, Tom Ubl, led the team in percentage of baskets made, with Feb. 21 Sleepy Eye [Here]..... 50%.

I have a lengthy list of names, but moderately dear to me,

Of people who dispatch their misadventures once a year to me;

When all the world is mistletoe and myrrh and Tom and Jerry, Their Christmas cards arrive to wish my Yuletide season merry. The postman bears December's weight appropriately cheerfully-But me, I have to read the stuff; a prospect looked to fearfully. "Warm Tidings" say the billets, and the Yule motifs are jolly,

But look what's scrawled inside the cards-oh, fan my brow with holly!

I have a lengthy list of names, both relatives and friends to me

Who annually, though they may not know it, make amends to me;

write: "Joe broke his ankle and he has to use a crutch,"

Et cetera. At Christmas it's so nice to keep in touch!

How to Stay in School

1. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievingly and shake it.

2. Bring the teacher newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. Demonstrates fiery interest and gives him timely items to mention to the class. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in any clipping at random. We thinks everything deals with his subject.

3. Nod frequently and murmur, "How true!" To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.

4. Sit in front, near him. [Applies only if you intend to stay awake.] If you're going to all the trouble of making a good impression, you might as well let him know who you are, especially in a large class.

5. Laugh at his jokes. You can tell. If he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.

6. Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask.

7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.

8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do math in English class and English is math class, watch the books for size and color.

9. Ask any questions you think the teacher can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he couldn't answer, and in your younger brother's second grade reader at that.

January 20 Concert to Feature 'Guess Conductor'

The junior and senior high bands will present a public band concert on January 20 under the direction of John Strang.

The 48 piece junior high band start the program by playing Semper Fideles by Sousa. This will be followed by the next selections: Metropoles Overture by Holmes, a clarinet solo by Duane Neubauer, the familiar Syncopated Clock arranged by Anderson, and a cornet solo by George Peterson. Cracker Jacks, a novelty number with a cornet trio, will be presented. Those included in the trio are George Peterson, Don Mathiowetz, and Warren Sonday. Continuing on the program will be Don Mathiowetz with a cornet solo. Concluding the program, the band will play Sharpshooter March by Metallo.

The second portion of the afternoon concert will feature the 56 piece senior high concert band. Glory of the Trumpets will get their program under way. This will be followed by Hymn of Freedom taken from a Brahms selection. Elaine Gluth will proceed with a clarinet solo. The band will then continue by playing Gavotta by Prokofieff. Carol Niemann will then play a flute solo accompanied by Mary Huhn. Mary will also accompany Loren Lentz as he plays his clarinet solo. An added attraction featured is going to be Guess Conductor. An air of mystery is rising as to the nature of this novelty number and to who the guess conductor is. The band members seemingly are having a lot of fun in preparing this special rendition of the Poet and the Peasant Overture. The famous Sousa march, Stars and Stripes, containing a piccolo solo concludes the Sunday's concert.

Mr. Strang also announced that the 50 piece pep band has been rehearsing and they are going to play at all the home basketball games.

Friday, January 18, the senior high band will play for the assembly.

How Big is Christmas?

I cannot give you the exact measurements of Christmas, so elusive it is. Christmas is very little, and it is a spacious abiding place; so big, that a mansion can become its cozy home.

Christmas is to be found in a number of places, but its favorite haunt is home. Wise people will search for Christmas there, although fooliih ones are wont to wrap their children in their winter clothes, draw their savings from the band, and go hunting Christmas in stores!

Sometimes I have thought that Christmas likes the kitchen of a home above all other rooms, especially when kitchens are filled with the spicy odor of Christmas cookies, made by mothers and children together. I have known Christmas to vanish entirely however, when mothers tried to confine it to the cooky jar. When mothers' vlces become high and tense, and children are rudely chased from the kitchen, Christmas flees.

Christmas is very small; but it is too big for the cooky jar!

It is strange how Christmas both loves and despises money. How Christmas loves money when it is used to buy warmth and comfort, cheer and health and happiness! When Miss Money begins spending herself on vain display and in "keeping up with the Joneses," she becomes the scorn of Christmas.

It is as if Christmas had said, "Nice girl, Money, when she doesn't lose her head and get too possessive. She tried to tuck me into her purse one year, but she had me size all wrong!

Christmas is very tiny, indeed; but it is thech too large for my purse!

Christmas cannot be tucked away in a Christmas stocking either; although some deluded parents have tried to do it.

Although Christmas is often to be found in kitchens, certain kinds of living rooms are a favorite haunt also, especially those where "homey" gifts and tree trimmings are being made or little creches set up by chubby fingers. It is found where parents and children are enjoying together the old, old story of the first Christmas, or newer stories of the transformation wrought by the magic of the Christmas spirit; or where families are gathered about the piano singing carols of shepherds, and boats sailing in on Christmas Day in the morning.

Yes, Christmas is small, but it can be made large when its spirit encompasses beauty and joyousness.

Each year, Christmas comes to us-a wonderful gift wrapped in tissue and tied with red and silver

New Year Around the World

Long before history was recorded the Persians discovered sugar cane and made sweetmeats an important part of their New Year celebration. These pagan Persians also made human sacrifices on the eve of the New Year in the belief that their barren fields would be fertilized by the Gods.

In ancient China it was a custom to make visits shortly after the New Year had begun. Hilarity reigned supreme in old India and Babylon, where celebration of the first day of a New Year was a very wild affair.

The superstitious people believed that during their frolicsome celebrations the pagan gods were asleep, else conveniently away from home.

The Japanese always used holly for decorations at New Year's. It is an old belief that "the prick of the thorns on the leaves would scare away devils." The emperor's first bath, Hatsumizy, taken early New Year morning, was called a "religious rite of cleansing and

'Helpful Hints' fer Student Shoppers

Know what to get that "special" friend of yours for Christmas? With Christmas about two weeks away this problem concerns many N.U.H.S. students. Instead of having to ask the friend of your special friend, a list of gift suggestions might help the perplexed boy or girl. After asking the girls what they would like, it seems identification bracelets are high on the list. Cologne, silk scarfs, scatter pins, books, records, candy, and sweaters all rate with the teen age female.

Boys, on the other hand, go for gloyes, scarfs, ties, billfolds, tie clips, cuff-links, socks, and key chains.

Girls, don't expect a Buick convertible or a mink coat and boys forget about the cashmere sweater and diamond studded cuff-links. Remember it isn't how much the gift costs, but the spirit in which it is given!
