Four Schools Participate In Student Music Festival

Student musicians from four schools met at New Ulm High School on Saturday, April 26, for the annual Spring Music Festival. Schools particiatping in the festival were; Redwood Falls, Springfield, Sleepy Eye, and New Ulm.

As each school presented its concert, it was criticized by the visiting judges-Mr. Frederick Schmidt, choir manager of St. Olaf College, and Mr. Roger Barrett, director of St. Cloud Teacher's College Band. At these performances, outstanding soloists and ensembles were selected to appear in the evening program.

The New Ulm High Swing Band played at a social hour held between 6 and 7 p.m.

Climaxing the day's events, a public concert was held. The massed chorus of 250 members, under the direction of Mr. Schmidt, opened the program by singing three se-The outstanding lections. soloists from each school then performed. A clarinet solo by Loren Lentz and "Stardust" by the girls ensemble were the numbers, selected from NUHS.

Criticisms of the judges have been received and these are a few of the comments made. As far as the band was concerned the general comment was "much natural ability among the student performces". "For the age represented it was an excellent performance" was the general comment about the Arian Overture.

Loren Lentz's tone quality in all ranges was described as velvety.

Some of the comment about the choir were as follows: General appearance, good: Tone could be imand interpretation for proved: numbers, good;

Progress Seen in Home Ec

As everyone knows, there are two departments in Home Economics in NUHS, clothing and foods. Miss Hanson teaches the clothing. This very year the department received two new Domestic machines and three new Singers. In the department there are twelve machines, each having a box of attachments, and two buttonholers. The students have eight work tables and one demonstration table. In Miss Hanson's office there is a fitting room and a large mirror and two adjustable ironing boards and a sink. The seventh graders work on aprons and pajamas; the eighth, sundresses, skirts and bloouses; and as they go, they sew more tailored and difficult projects.

Other units such as buymanship, social family relations, etiquette, and care of clothes are studied by both the girls and boys. In the senior year, the boys are allowed to take Home Ec. which always proves interesting to both Home Ec. teachers.

Fenske Reports Events of Youth Convention

Billy Fenske's trip to the St. Paul Rotary Youth Convention, March 29 through April 1, proved to be a big event.

He and Pat Sweetman of Holy Trinity High School were guests at Senator Emer L. Anderson's home. "The home was quite modern. In the morning they'd wake us by a microphone connected to the room," said the much-impressed Billy. This inter-communication system covered almost every room.

The boys visited the state capitol and took two industrial tours; one to the Minnesota Mining Company and the other to the Ford Motor Company. Billy thought that watching people make cars was about the most interesting part of the tour. He also visited the Rasmussen School of Business.

"Our Town", the senior class play, is being presented May 9 and

"Every day Life", "Love and Marriage", and "Death" are the themes of the three acts of this play.

The every day life has it's setting in a small New England town about the turn of the century. The plot is woven around the growing-up of Emily Webb and George Gibbs. Most of the persons introduced in this first act are typical of small town characters.

In the second act, which is entitled "Love and Marriage", Emily and George realize they are as the saying goes, "meant for one another". A simple wedding takes place. It is because of this simplicity that a lasting impression is left with the audieece.

The third act, "Death", portrays man as a natural and supernatural creature, and describes the transposition from the natural to the supernatural state. Throughout the act the relationship between the sides in peoples in these two worlds is presented.

Perhaps the principal difference between this play and others is the fact that "Our Town" has no scenery and only a few properties. The lighting, including house lights and spotlight, is one of the most important features in the play and has much to do with putting ideas across to the audience.

The student performance will be Friday evening. Students will be admitted with activity tickets.

Mr. C. Peterson is director of "Our Town."

Bill Passes At Hi-Y

Robert Asleson and John Heymann were chosen to represent New Ulm High School at the annual Minnesota Hi-Y "Youth and Government" program held in St. Paul, April 25 and 26.

This program was sponsored by the Young Mens' Christian Association. Each school had to submit a bill to the legislature; and out of 68 bills, only ten were selected. Robert and John's bill on "Employment and Securities" was one of the ten bills accepted.

This program is presented each year in order to have the students understand the way our state government works. The boys spent five hours a day listening to sessions of the legislature.

Governor C. Elmer Anderson was the guest speaker at the governor's banquet held at the Coffman Memorial Union.

News in Brief

CONGRATULATIONS!

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Hofmann of Albany announced the engagement of their daughter Eileen to Ervin Achmann of Avon and New Ulm. The wedding will take place in August at Albany.

INDUSTRIAL ART MEETING

Mr. Tyrrell attended a shop meeting in Redwood Falls on Thursday, April 17. About 35 industrial arts instructors were present and they discussed the State Fair plan of entering student's work at the fair this summer. An itinerant sheet metal instructor gave a talk at the meeting.

Who Will Be The New Student President:

On May 21 the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors will have not only the privilege, but also the duty, of voting for student body president. In making their decision, students are asked to keep these qualifications in mind.

Candidates should have maintained at least a "C" average during their school careers, be interested in extra-curricular activities, be cooperative with faculty and fellow-students, and have the ability to organize and direct others. Courage, friendliness, honesty, sincerity, and a genuine consideration for others is also important.

Perhaps the most important thing to remember is that the student council president represents the entire student body, when he meets performers and attends conventions. In order to give others a good impression of NUHS the student should be a qualified person. We know that three are many capable juniors—next year's seniors—to take this honored position. Vote wisely.

Junior Whirl by Betty and Shirl

The other day while I was talking to Jo-Ann Bierbaum she told me her dad plans on getting a new car. A little later I talked to Barb Keckeisen and she told me about the day before when JoAnn had stripped the gears in her dad's car. Maybe the two things have a connection????

Lois Ulrich is two pair of shorts richer since a bunch of girls went investigating the Turner Hall ruins. It all started when the girls gym class was playing ball and the ball fell into a deep hole next to the Turner Hall. Some workmen helped the girls get the ball and then gave his permission to go and look around the building. Lois looked and so if you see her in red corduroy shorts you know where she got them.

While making the wishing well for the prom, Bob Asleson told Al Buggert if anyone threw money in, he'd get it all, and if no one did. Al could have it all. Poor Al, and he did so much work to make it.

Your Mother and Mine

Every day should be Mother's Day but special recognition of Mother's on May 11 is one way of reminding us that she deserves a little extra attention.

Although it is thoughtful to lavish gifts and compliments on this day, what Mother really wants is love and affection and maybe a lift with the burdens which are a little too heavy for her shoulders.

Not all of us are as fortunate as others to have their mothers still with them. But those of us who have should remember that it is the little things that we do all year around that she appreciates and not just the things which we do to honor her on this day.

Here is a famous poem written in honor of Mother.

They say that man is mighty, He governs land and sea, He wields a mighty scepter O'er lesser powers that be: But a mightier power and stronger Man from his throne has hurled, For the hand that rocks the cradle Is the hand that rules the world.

HAVE THIS TO SAY:

Girls turn nursemaid

When Lawrence Hippert found two small rabbits on his farm and brought them to Miss Raverty, LaDonna Heck and Jean Keckeisen immediately fell in love with them. They took them home and fed them with an eyedropper until they were strong enough to be on their own.

How Do They Do It!

There was a sudden realization at play practice the other night that the type of person each individual portrays is really quite different from the person himself. For instance there is Marianne Martinka who throughout the play is pantomining household chores. We hope the audience knows what she is doing, for she doesn't. There is Larry Krueger who is Dr. Gibbs; well, we guess he has performed several dissections in biology class, but believe us, that's all. The choir master is played by Noel Iverson-we think enough is said. But of course there is the edd one, LaDonna Heck; she looks right at home in her kitchen.

Wake Up, Cal!

The other day in Ag class Mr. Fier caught Cal Rolloff asleep on the job. So for the rest of the class period he was set to work plucking sprouts from potatoes. Sounds very exciting!! How 'bout it Cal? Diction, Please

It seems one senior boy needs a lesson in diction. When Bobby Martens explained that Henry Brandel was working on his project, he mumbled it so that three senior girls thought he had said the following: "hot house", "hog house", and "out house". Which is it?

When looking through Famous First Facts by Joseph Kone, we came across the first wedding in an airplane. It took place November 26, 1929. The married couple, Marjorie Klinger and Donald Babcock, jumped to earth in parachutes after the ceremony was performed by the justice of the peace. Eugene Kraus, the best man, accompanied them in their descent.

When Jim Gasner found out in social class the extent that a house depreciates each year, he came to the conclusion that it would take 120 years before it would go to "heck". LaDonna Heck, sitting across from him, indignantly sat up. Jim quickly changed his statement. We are sure that he meant no offense to you, LaDonna!

I HEAR MUSIC by Faith

The 'Licensed Practical Nurse's Banquet was held on April 15 in the Cafeteria of NUHS. Entertainment was provided by the Sophomore Girls' Ensemble who sang "Lena and Hans", "Where or When" and "Teddy Bear's Picnic," by a new group of 13 girl. who sang "Star Dust"; and by the boy's Clarinet Quartet playing "Fuguerest". The accompanists were Mary Huhn and Marjie Mielke.

Well, festival time is over and a good time was enjoyed by all. The full hour general assembly on the 18th of April was presented in the same way as the NUHS part of the program at the festival. A newly organized group of 13 girls sang "Star Dust", besides the chorus, glee club, band and special solos doing various numbers.

The instrumental judge was Roger Barrett, Instrumental and Band Director from St. Cloud State College; and the vocal judge was Frederick Schmidt, Manager of St. Olaf Choir at Northfield. The seniors were certainly happy to have the festival at New Ulm this year. The swing band played for the social hour in the evening and then the evening program started.

The Swing Band has two more engagements-The prom at Springfield and the Spring Dance.

And now I'd like to make a dedication to the senior class-"Pomp and Circumstance." I'll Be Seeing You-

Sophomore Scribbles by Mary Lou and Betsy

by Mary L. Schmitz and Betsy Oswald One day Gib decided to go riding with Ruthie. As he was BAKKEN the KAISER out of the garage, his PAA exclaimed "OL-SON, you take this HAMMER and NEILS down to Robert Fredericks. He needs this DRILL also."

"Okay," said Gib and away they drove.
"HECK!" exclaime Ruthie as she made a

HESSING sound.

It was a cool BRISKE day and the CUR-RENT was fast. Ruthie said, "Close your window, Gib." Do you want me to FREESE?"

Gib said, "You're not LIEBLE to FREESE with just this window open."

They finally arrived at Frederick's and Gib hollered to a man standing there, "Take these tools into the garage."

The man said, "MEY-ER sassy-do it yourself."

Gib said, "You're a NEUMANN around here aren't you? I won't take that from you no MOE." The man finally took the tools.

They drove on and met George Jones who suggested getting a can of SCHMITZ, but Gib said he preferred HAUENSTEINS. The subject was immediately changed by Ruth who said, "Look at that pretty ROSE."

George said, "I can take HINTZ", so they continued driving. They drove down to the river to see how

George said, "Policeman high it was. LOKENS-GUARDS the bridge today. Just as they were passing by him the car stalled and BRUST into flames. The motor was PIPPING hot. Gib, the only WEISS-MANN, got out and looked at the motor. Something flew out of the motor and hit Ruthie in the TEPL-IN George in the arm, but it was not serious.

They got out of the car and had a RUECKERT come and pull the car to STEINBERG'S filling station, where it was fixed. George STOLL away so he wouldn't have to pay any expenses.

Gib exclaimed, "I SCHROER if it's the last thing I do, I'll find out what happened to that motor."

Gym Team Finishes Season With Spring Demonstration

The New Ulm Eagles' Gym Squad officially wound up their '51-'52 season with a spectacular exhibition of mat, trampoline, and paralled bars work at the annual gym show in the high school auditorium on Friday, March 21. Their competitive season ended with the State Meet March 8, in which they placed ninth out of teams. Alan Iverson of New Ulm places fourteenth in class D to make the allstate team. The rest of the Eagles' competitive season was poorer than usual. They lost at Madison, Minnesota, on February 9 by a score of 2,972 to 2,850. On February second, the class D team placed third out of seven teams in the Southern Minnesota Meet. Alan Iverson tied for fourth place in class D in individual competition. The class C team placed fifth out of the seven teams at this meet. In the Northwest Meet at Minneapolis on February 16, the Eagles placed eighth out of 17 teams in class D. Since the Eagles don't have a complete 8 man, class C team, they were working at a disadvantage in the larger meets.

New Ulm was host to the first annual New Ulm Invitational Meet on March 1 in which 7 teams competed. The class D team placed third with two individual honors: Jim Wolf second and Alan Iverson third. The class C squad placed fourth with Dick Veeck taking place individually. In class B, Junior Ahrndt placed first and John Wolf second in trampoline work. Dick Veeck placed fourth in all around class B competition. Six out of fourteen medals were won by the Eagles in this meet. Noel Iverson is the only team member graduating this year so the Eagles will be looking forward to a prosperous season next year.

The result was a cracked nose and two black eyes. Doyle Schneider replaced him at third base and advanced to score. Bob Kornmann and his intramural basketball team came out on top over Bill Metzen's team in the championship tilt, 41 to 32. Palmer Nelson was high score with 15 points for Metzen's team. Kornmann's quint took an early lead and held it throughout the game. The first half was fairly one-sided as scoring was well spread throughout Kornmann's team. The score at half time was 13 to 6. John Breu and Palmer Nelson staged a terrific comeback for Metzen's five, but Vern Walden's fine work kept Kornmann's team in the game the second half. The Kornmann quint emerged the winner in the NUHS intramural tournament.

Each kitchen consists of a double compartment sink, a stove, a kitchenette, table and four chairs, silver service and dish sets for four students. Advancements in the dept.

The students start cooking simple breakfasts and advance according to their grade in school. Cooking, table decorating, menu planning, buymanship of foods and meat units are studied.

Each department consists of a recitation and work room.

Any student will enjoy this course and will obtain knowledge which can be used always in later life.

G. A. A.

By Shirley Sandau

The G.A.A. girls have had many plans for enjoying the beautiful Spring weather. A trip to Gustavus Adolphus College to go swimming was held yesterday. Several hikes have been planned and softball teams are being organized. The class basketball tournaments were held a few weeks ago, with the seniors taking top honors for the third straight year. The seniors have proven to be outstanding in the athletic field, for they won the uolleyball tournament for the third consecutive year. The senior high ping-pong tournaments was one won by a sophomore, Doris Johns. Plans for the badminton and handball touraments are underway. We want to take this opportunity to thank the referees for the fine job they did on refereeing the games.

Pfaender Guest in Mexico

"Another wonderful trip to Mexi. co," was the comment by Mr-Pfaender after his Easter vacation in Taxco, Mexico.

Leaving Minneapolis Airport on Saturday, April 5, he arrived in Mexico City six hours later. Met at the airport by a Dodge limousine, he was driven to Taxco, where he spent the rest of his vacation

He was guest of the management of the Pasada de la Missions, a hotel which recently built a new heartshaped swimming pool. Mr. Pfaender acted as a guest instructor teaching the management and guests something about precautions in swimming. He also renewed an acquaintance with a young Mexican gentleman who entertained him at his home, which Mr. Pfaender said, was more like a palace.

During his stay in Mexico he took many "Koda-Chrome slides" which were shown in the projection room last Tuesday after school.

Journalism Class Visits Journal; Trips Planned by JoAnn

"All work and no play makes Jane a dull girl," is the slogan of the Journalism Class. After working since last September on the Graphos, they decided that now that spring is here that they would have

The first "fun excursion" was a conducted tour of the New Ulm Journal Office on April 16. The girls were impressed with the news coming off the teletype. They were able to see the paper go through the presss. Each girl was then presented with a paper; so they were the first to get the New Ulm news that day. Incidentally the Journalism Class is very proud that they are all so small and thin. The ten of them fit very nicely into Oswald's Rambler.

As soon as road conditions permit, the class plans to visit the Massopust Store. The store is kept by Miss Massopust, great aunt of Janet Schmidt. You won't find glass counters, fluorescent lights or any of the modern conveniences, for this store has been kept as it was in the days the steamboat went up and down the Minnesota River. Miss Massopust also has many antiques in her home which the class hopes to see. The store and home is located about ten miles out on the Fort Ridgely Road.

The class has also been invited to spend an evening at "Mary-Mac Heights". This is not, however, a place open for tours by the public, for it is Miss Mary Kayser and Miss McLaughlin's apartment. The "heights" comes from the fact that it is on the third floor of a house. Miss Kayser is the adviser of the

The class includes Faith Fischer, Shirley Wallner, Mary Schuck, Shirley Sandau, Sharon Oswald, Delores Dittrich, Barbara Fesenmaier, Mary Kay Backer, and JoAnn Herrick.

Gayfa is Pride and Joy! by Faith

Lost: One heart to a five-yearold Arabian horse named Gayfa. Whose heart? Germaine Heck's, our equestrian of the sophomore Gayfa is a chestnut Arabian, born in South Dakota. He comes from a long line of champions. Galimer, his brother, won last year's championship of the Waterloo National Station Show. Gayfa's name was taken from Gayspar [father's name] and Mefa [mother's name].

Germaine keeps Gayfa in Searles and rides him at least three times a week. If she succeeds in training him well enough this summer, she plans to enter him in the County Fair this fall.

Two years ago Germaine belonged to the Saddle Club, which went on many trail rides, but she didn't get Gayfa until the beginning of the school term, when she also got a complete new riding outfit. Plans have been made for Germaine and the Johns' twins to take a few saddle rides during the summer.

So you see, one heart was lost when Gayfa found his new mistress, Germaine!

FFA Notes by Cal Rolloff

The F.F.A. chapter of New Ulm will be well represented at the State F.F.A. Convention, May 12-14, by the crops team composed of John Erickson, Harold Ulrich, and David Olstad and by the dairy team composed of Jim Albrecht, Lawrence Hippert, and Cal Rolloff. They will participate in the crop and dairy judging at the State Convention. This is the first time in the history of the chapter that it has taken two major contests, dairy and Roger Ulrich and John Lloyd will sing in the State F.F.A. chorus and Donald Klossner will participate in the State F.F.A. talent show.

Ken Werner, Orville Broste, and Roger Ulrich made the State Farmer Degree.

The F.F.A. chapter sponsored a fertilizer trial plot on the Ken Werner farm. There are 27 different kinds of fertilizers.

Seven Reach Onehundred Word Goal

Seven senior students of Mrs. Franklin's shorthand class reached their goal of 100 words per minute. Included are Lorene Wallner, Elaine Pechtel, Dorothy Lee, Renelda Hirchert, Patricia Herrian, Geraldine Kramer, and Kathleen Holm.

Representing the junior class is Joan Schrimpf who already has reached 80 words per minute.

The stenography girls will be taking Civil Service and U.S. Employment examinations this month.

Where Were Seniors?

For the first time Skip Day came as a complete surprise to everyone except the seniors.

At a previous class meeting, the seniors planned to play hookey on Monday, May 5. In the event of rain the day would have been postponed to a later date.

The class of '52 chose to spend their day in many ways. Some played golf, tennis, and went swimming, while others preferred to go on picnics. In the evening many of the seniors met for a picnic at the beach. A few plans were interrupted by baseball, play practice, and G.A.A.

All in all, the plans were "sucessfully engineered."
