NEW ULM WINS FIRST GAME FROM WINTHROP

DEBATE TEAMS ARE ORGANIZED

Miss McGee has at last organized her debate squad into some presentable material. She has decided to have two teams, an affirmative and a negative team to uphold their respective sides. The first debate will be held at Sleepy Eye, Dec. 17, the negative side being upheld by the New Ulm negative team consisting of Mildred Gulden, Josephine Bianchi, and Marion Pfaender.

The affirmative team is composed of Anna Beardsley, Arline Arndt, and Loretta Glaser. In spite of a lot of new material to work with, Miss McGee has hopes of a fairly successful season.

LOCAL CHORUS BROADCASTS

The D. M. L. college here had the honor to broadcast over WCCO last Saturday night. Their large chorus, which has gained much recognition, was asked to be on the air between 8:30 and 9 o'clock.

The broadcasting was a complete success, and the college received many calls and telegrams complimenting it upon its remarkable advance in music. Mr. H. N. Somsen announced the program.

The local college is very fortunate in having gathered such an excellent representation from the school.

HISTORY CLASS RECITES FOR P.-T. A.

The P.-T. A. had a very clever and educational program at their third meeting Monday evening, December 9. The sixth period American History class gave evidence of their supremacy in American History. It was conducted like a regular class period. All recitation was of a socialized form. The lesson was on the Civil war.

- The program was:
1. Box of Dolls—Japanese Operetta by girls of the II, III and IV grades of the various buildings, directed by Miss Yaeger.
 2. Christmas Gifts for Children—Mrs. Clarence Gieseke.
 3. Hawaiian Guitar Duet—Chas. Laway and Wm. Heideman.
 4. Socialized Recitation in American History—A 3rd year high school history class, Miss McGee, teacher.
 5. Christmas Carols—The P.-T. A. led by Mr. Dirks.

INITIAL APPEARANCE OF BASKET BALL TEAM SHOWS PROMISE

WIN BY 9-14

Wednesday night the New Ulm cagers made their first appearance this season against Winthrop, winning over the out-of-town team by a score of 7-14. The game was not especially fast-moving, but it showed the ability of the new men Coach Harman has had to work in. The Winthrop men seemed much larger, but our men were able to slip through their defense repeatedly.

New Ulm scored twice in quick succession after the opening of the game, and the first quarter found the score 7-2 for New Ulm. During the second quarter Winthrop crept up to make a score of 7-7 at the half. During this quarter Schnobrich, Gag, and Becker were drafted into playing service.

The original line-up started the second half, scoring seven points again to Winthrop's two. The games ended with New Ulm 14, Winthrop 9.

Kretsch gets the honors for outstanding playing for New Ulm with very careful and thoughtful playing, also being high point man with 6 points to his credit. Preuss shows promise for a good standing guard, picking the ball off the back-board like an experienced player. Gaut, at center, scored a basket and two free throws, which added to New Ulm's percentage of 4 out of 7 free throws. Regelin, the only letterman from last year and captain of this year's team, scored 3 points. The cautious playing of our team may be noted by the fact that only one foul was registered against New Ulm while 6 were counted against Winthrop.

Malmstrom, center, for Winthrop starred for the opponents. Swanson, who substituted for Newbarth, scored 2 baskets while Malmstrom scored 2 baskets and a free throw as high point man for Winthrop.

The lineup:

New Ulm.	Winthrop.
RegelinRF.....	Quandt
KretschLF.....	Johnson

MISS YAEGER TO GIVE OPERETTA

You'll all be up in the air when you see "Up in the Air," a snappy musical comedy, full of gayety and ginger. Miss Yaeger and Miss Ritt are working hard with the mixed glee club to make the production the best ever put on.

The story is a breezy one and deals with aviation. George Burbank, a big business man, tolerates no one but a young fellow of brawn and daring as a candidate for the hand of his daughter, Betty, who is already wooed, much to his annoyance, by Harold Post, a young man of the opposite type. Burbank's friend, McCullon, a movie magnate, proposes to stage a spectacular flying stunt by a young aviator, Joe Bennet, who has applied for a job in the movies, and offers a prize to any amateur who will make a parachute jump. Jim Carter, Harold's busybody friend, seizes on this as the young man's opportunity to make good and devises various alibis which will prevent his actually going up, while gaining the credit for bravery. One by one these alibis fail, and Harold gets more deeply involved. Finally he is forced to go through with it in spite of himself, and by a comic fluke manages to maintain his reputation as a dare devil, to gain the enthusiastic approval of Burbank, and to win the girl of his choice.

The cast is as follows:
Shirley Kingston—Myrtle Grussendorf.

- Joe Bennet—Melvin Schleif.
- Jim Carter—Richard Lindemann.
- Annie McCullon—Grace Schleuder.
- Fannie McCullon—Catherine Stuebe.
- Henry McCullon—John Mills.
- Mrs. McCullon—Grace Koehler.
- George S. Burbank—Lloyd Marti.
- Mrs. Burbank—Josephine Bianchi.
- Harold Post—Francis Ahrens.
- Juniper Johnson—Lloyd Werner.

Here are a few tips. Be sure to hear Joe and Shirley sing "It's Tough to Be Broke," and Juniper Johnson sing his solo. They really are entertaining. Some of the other snappy theme songs are, "Yours Sincerely," "Hero of the Air," etc.

SANTA CLAUS ARRIVES

Oh! Gee! Are we ever thrilled! For Santa Claus arrived in town yesterday! The New Ulm Business Men's Association invited him to come, for the benefit of the children, (including High School children). At any rate, he was here with all his reindeer, sled, and helpers!

Mr. Dirks asked us if we believed in Santa. Foolish question! Of course we do! who wouldn't?

WANT A TRIP TO EUROPE? MASTER MODEL AIRPLANES

If you know your airplane models—and the opportunity to learn all about them is open to every high school student—you have a chance to do just what Joe Culver, of Oakland, California, did last June, when he won for himself the William B. Stout trophy, a gold medal, a silver cup, and a trip to Europe, offered by the American Boy magazine.

Culver won the indoor event of the Second National Airplane Model League of America contests at Detroit with a model that was, to say the least, unconventional. Experts said it was aerodynamically all wrong. They're still talking about it, for they haven't been able to explain its world's record-breaking flight of eight minutes and thirty-three seconds, and Culver hasn't talked. Soon, however, the mystery will be solved, for Culver tells the whole story in the coming December issue of the American Boy.

Culver tells why his ship was different. He counted on the curving wing and the curving tail surface for stability and steadiness; the long tail boom provided fore and aft balance; the 14-inch high pitch propeller used the power slowly, evenly, and very efficiently. There was a purpose behind every freakish feature.

Anyone may join the Airplane Model League of America at no cost, except for two cents to cover the cost of mailing the membership card and button, and members may buy a kit of parts for the Culver plane at 85 cents. Write the A. M. L. A., American Boy Building, Second and Lafayette Blvds., Detroit, Mich., giving your name, age, and address.

EDITORIAL EFFORTS

The Dr. Martin Luther College, as announced in the program Saturday night, has an enrollment of 260 students. Two-thirds of this total is in the chorus! Now isn't that school spirit for you? And only about one-fourth of our enrollment takes part in any school activities, including athletics, glee club, etc.

Two-thirds! What a majority to strive for! If statistics would help any, we could quote thousands of schools with equally as good records. But Mr. Dirks' frequent and repeated urges to take part in extra-curricular activities must fall on deaf ears, (or perhaps they're just dumb!)

We are very glad to see Miss Pittz back in school after her long illness. How true the proverb seems, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder," and we surely welcome Miss Pittz back to the "fold" again. Her classes seem to be making a special effort to work hard—perhaps the greatest sign of appreciation any teacher can get from her class.

The Booster club is well under way and seems to be quite a success. If well supported, it may become an important factor in the Athletic Association.

SECOND TEAM PLAYS COLLEGE SECOND TEAM.

The N. U. H. S. second team beat the Dr. Martin Luther Second team in a practice game Monday night, 16-10. "Mushy" Emmerich, in spite of his slowly recovering ankle, played and tied with Schnobrich for high point man, both making 5 points. A lot of new material was put in to be tried out, and, judging from the score they surely held the college back.

EXCHANGES

"Mankato High News," Mankato, Minn.—Mankato's reputation is not of the best in the surrounding country and acts such as those committed by about fifteen per cent of a large group at the New Ulm game just exaggerate and increase its unfavorable reputation.

Certain students not only disgraced themselves but gave Mankao and senior high a shameful black eye. During the game, they pulled up yard markers, pulled down the enclosing yard ropes, let the air out of nearby automobile tires, and otherwise disported themselves according to their infantile dispositions.

It's too bad senior high can't keep these undesirable citizens home when it plays out-of-town games.

This is an editorial taken from the "Mankato High News." We'll admit that we noticed a few carrying on these childish pranks, but we realize these pranks were done by a few of the students not the majority.

Members of the football team were guests of Nancy Carrol, well known film actress, last Monday evening, which was Central night at the Lyceum theatre, where they witnessed her newest film production, "Sweetie." Previous to the performance an invitation was received via air mail direct from Miss Carrol. Besides the football boys there were many Central students in attendance.—"Spectator," Duluth, Minnesota.

We are always glad to receive new exchanges. This week we have the "Jewell Rural H. S. Spotlight," Jewell, Kansas, a very neat little paper.

Most high schools are all taken up with the giving of class plays, carnivals, auctions or what have you—and the formation of new basket ball squads. We wish them all good luck.

"The Vermillionaire," published by the high school at Vermillion, S. D., won first prize in class A in the contest for high school papers of South Dakota, conducted in connection with the convention of South Dakota high school journalists recently. High school writers from all parts of the state attended the meeting. Among the principal speakers was Dr. C. W. Pugsley, president of South Dakota State College, who welcomed the journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

MORE ABOUT ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS.

"Why don't we have better assembly programs? We want more pep at the programs. We don't like speakers and all that dry stuff. We want better assembly programs!" Complaints like these are many and continuous. If some of these dissatisfied people would try to put on a program or at least take part in one, when they are asked to, the results would be a great deal better. But the trouble is that they won't. All they can do is complain. Let's have a little cooperation with these assembly programs. Put on a peppy as-

KLASS KRIMES

SENIOR SINS.

Our class rings are here. Get yours early, and avoid the rush. Remember to bring your $6.25 along.

Charles Hintz has left us for a short time. A certain Sophomore girl is very blue.

Miss Sogn is collecting letters. Soon she'll be able to start a post-office of her own.

The seniors are all patronizing the new Purity White Castle hamburger shop. The lower classmen are following suit.

Santa Claus is coming soon—and the little high school children are all behaving—

Here's to bigger and better Christmas vacations!

JUNIOR JOTS.

The Junior class is proud of two facts:

Our ability as public-speaking students.

Our belief in Santa Claus.

Various members of our English III class were fortunate to be presented with gifts by some of their fellow-students. Marion Pfaender and Hilary Oppliger were presented with ten bars of P. and G. soap, by Lloyd Larson. Mr. Oppliger, the trans-Atlantic swimmer too, was presented with a gold-plated grease can for his future undertakings.

The Junior class was rewarded for their belief by being allowed to meet Santa. He shook hands with us and we were so thrilled! He also promised to present each member of our class with a lolly-pop for Xmas—if we're good!

SOPHOMORE SNICKERS.

Teacher: "In what part of the Bible is it taught that a man should have only one wife?"

Richard: "I guess it's the part that says that no man can serve more than one master."

Miss McGee: "What book did Jethro Tull write?"

(Referring to "Horseshoeing Husbandry.")

Doyle S.: "Horseshoeing Husbandry."

Carl: "Hey, Billy, your mother's calling you."

Billy M.: "What's she calling me, Billy or William?"

Carl: "William."

Billy: "Then I'm not going home."

Miss Kearns: "What is an alibi?"

Lloyd: "Being somewhere where you aren't."

Waitress in Blue L.: "Are you Hungary?"

Helen E.: "Yes, Siam."

Waitress: "Well then I'll Russia."

FRESHMAN NOTES.

Every one of the Freshies are looking forward to Santa Claus' annual visit. Elmer K. is going to get a new rattle. Theo is so worried. She can't decide what to give Dennis this year.

We surely enjoyed the first B. B. game. Can you imagine what a wonderful team we'll have when our boys get on the "A" squad?

Why don't we have another school dance? A Christmas "hop" would be nice. Grace S. would like one. Eldred and she enjoy them so.

Well, the Freshies haven't any more to say this time.

LOOKING ABOUT THE ASSEMBLY. OR WHAT THE ASSEMBLY TEACHER MISSES.

Busily scribbling away, Jeanne writing notes and then sending them off. How many does she write a day? We wonder!... Inez, while passing to classes, all excited, "Did you have a test in English? What did you do in chemistry? Does she collect papers?"... The Two Seniors, getting passes to first floor and in lightning speed, over the Little Store on the Corner and back. And all in five minutes, too!... Irma, passing a note to Gene... Schnubby, shyly glancing to the back of the room, watching Marion... Edwin complaining to all those around him because he got a B when he deserved an A... Johnnie Mills trying to explain to everybody what the Einstein theory is all about or asking you about Perpetual Motion... Swede and Mushie playing "Piccolo Pete" on their pencils... Mae Jule dreaming about the D. M. L. C. boys over her Latin... Alice O. going into Mr. Dirk's office for an extended visit... Herbert explaining to everyone how it was that he missed all the long shots the other night... Marvin telling about his trip to Minneapolis. Nuff said! Gretchen whizzing around the assembly in some dizzy manner chewing blow gum... Babe and Bill in an open conference, scolding about the girls "who ain't done right" about them... Bill Oswald ignoring the female sex who are always bothering him... Hilary fondly admiring his necktie. "Not so bad, eh? Got any gum on you?" from Harriet to anyone who passes her desk... Moo Bossy Serenaders from Certain Seniors in the back of the room. Virginia Hintz displaying or eating (we don't know which) the baked stuff she made in Home Ec... Ruth W. and Jeanne carrying on a perpetual conversation endurance test.

sembly program instead of asking for one and watch the outcome!

A THINKER.

ANOTHER PARTY.

It seems that the only way to get a party put across is to ask for one. So come, Sophs and Freshies, lets see you give the upper classmen a big Christmas dance. We're just asking for one!—Sociable Sal and Dancing Dora.

The Belgian medical authority, in the 18th century, advised that if bathing was too difficult an undertaking, people ought to put on clean linen once every six weeks.

"So Marion has two cars now!"
 "Yes. She couldn't get all her accessories on one car."

Miss Kearns: "What do you know about the 'Barber of Seville'?"

Rollins: "I don't know. I usually shave myself."

"I left my money at home," said a lady to the conductor. "But you will have to trust me, for I am one of the director's wives."

"Lady," said the conductor, "I couldn't trust you if you was the director's only wife."

The Lady remarketh: "Hobo, did you notice that pile of wood in the yard?"

"Yes'm, I seen it."

"You should mind your grammar. You mean you saw it."

"No'm. You saw me see it, but you ain't seen me saw it."

Most of us get what is coming to us, but often what we get isn't just what we expect.

"Why do you weep over the sorrows of people in whom you have no interest when you go to the theatre?" asked the man.

"I don't know," replied the woman. "Maybe it's for the same reason that you cheer wildly when a man with whom you are not even acquainted slides into second base."

We know a Frosh girl who's so dumb she thinks a postage stamp is a dance. Well letter.

"That will be enough out of you," said the doctor as he stitched the patient together."

From Babe Wagner: "When you are trying to make up your mind to kiss your girl and surprise her; don't kiss her, and surprise her!"

Inez S.: "I want to exchange my English text book."

Miss Kearns: "Too late, you've had it a whole term."

Inez: "But I just found out that every other page is missing."

At all events the correspondence school does leave its stamps.

It takes only two alumni to make a reunion.

Gene: "They tell me you're good at coquetry."

Jean: "You've been misinformed. I never play those lawn games."

Mrs. Dirks: "Does your husband still walk in his sleep?"

Mrs. Harman: "Not any more. He drives a car now."

Geraldine: "This would be a good dance if there were more fellows here."

Jane: "Yes, what a whale of a difference a few gents make."

Judge O'Flaherty: "Haven't you been before me before?"

Prisoner: "No, y'r honor. Oi niver saw but wan face that looked loike yours an' that was a photograph of an Irish king."

Judge O'Flaherty: "Discharged! Call the next case."

Why Pedestrians Go Cockeyed.

How can you possibly cross the street when the cars keep coming along like this.

"Are the fish biting?"

"I don't know. If they are, they're biting each other."

Herbert R.: "Would you marry an idiot for his money?"

Katharine S.: "Oh, this is so sudden."

Why Girls Stay Home.

"Alice could have married anybody she pleased."

"Then why is she still single?"

"She never pleased anybody."

"I hate those impromptu complexions, don't you?"

"What do you mean?"

"Those they make up as they go along."

Current Events.

Miss McGee: "Don't sit there like a stupid person. Say something."

Lloyd Larson: "I see Mr. Hoover had his picture taken."

LESSONS IN ETIQUETTE.

Question: "May lettuce be eaten with the fingers?"

Answer: "No, the mouth is generally used."

Question: "How do you tell which is your side dish of spinach?"

Answer: "Don't be silly. Who wants to?"

Question: "What would be the proper thing to say, if in carving the duck, it should skid off the platter and into your neighbor's lap?"

Answer: "Be very courteous. Say, 'May I trouble you for that duck.'"

HARMAN AND MACHULA BEGIN BASKETBALL GRILLING.

A call for volunteers for basketball went out last week from the two coaches, and a fairly large turn-out resulted. Coach Harman is very enthusiastic, but believes that they will all have to work very hard throughout the season.

Herb. Regelin is the only letter man back, and Charlie Poynter turns out as another veteran, as does "Mushy" Emmerich, who, unfortunately, will be out for some of the season.
