

Ann Trautmiller Elected Queen Of Homecoming

Delores Johnson To Crown Queen At Game

Asked how she felt being elected queen of the 1943 New Ulm high school homecoming, Anna Trautmiller said, "I was surprised, excited and very happy." Anna was chosen queen by the student body on Oct. 12 after each home room had nominated one senior girl for the honor. Those girls who were nominated but not elected were asked to serve as attendants for the 1943 queen.

Anna says her favorite hobbies are dancing and skating; the blonde senior can be seen at most school dances. Here in school, she likes German class best and she emphatically dislikes Mr. Harman's surprise tests. The '43 queen works at the Silver Latch Cafe every evening, and has served many "cokes" and sodas to high school kids. She believes in building morale, too; so Ray Reed, former high school student now in the Navy, receives no end of attention from Anna.

Before the homecoming game with Glencoe, Anna will preside over the game and the festivities that follow. Delores Johnson, former homecoming queen, will be on hand to carry out the coronation ceremony; Anna in turn will be expected to return next year to crown the '44 homecoming queen. Tom Pfaender, together with the homecoming committee, has planned to make this an event to remember; therefore elaborate and impressive ceremonies will be conducted before the Eagle-Glencoe duel.

Those who will be attendants are Sue Heymann, Ann Krueger, Norma Faaborg, Janice Streissguth, Rosemary VonBank, Verda Roloff, and Bonnie and Betty Milliman.

Welcome Grads

With a chilly nip in the air and the trees dressed in their best fall style, another homecoming rolls around. Yes sir, the 1943 Homecoming Celebration of New Ulm High School is here again.

Every year New Ulm High School calls back its graduates to give them an evening of fun and entertainment, and this 1943 Homecoming is one which is probably more important than any other. For some alumni, it is impossible to be present at the annual festivities this year, because of conditions which warrant their presence elsewhere. But for those of you who are here, we want to extend a hearty invitation. You may be a sailor, soldier, store clerk, college student, nurse, or marine, but to us you are still the same old Jim, Hank, Dot, Bev, Dick and Sally that you were back when your class left these halls of learning. This is your celebration, graduates. Welcome home from wherever you may be.

Yes, grads, its the same old field, the same traditional purple and white colors, the same wonderful building, and many of the same teachers are around, so you should feel at home during the game and the festivities after the game. It's your celebration, alumni, so take it over. It's for YOU.

"Plane Crazy" Selected By Junior Play Committee

Plane Crazy has been selected as the Junior Class play for this year and the Class of '45 hopes to produce this three act comedy successfully. The play deals with a typical high school boy who is crazy about airplanes; and following this boy through a portion of his life should prove both interesting and entertaining to those who attend the performance.

The committee selected at the last Junior Class meeting who chose the play were Charles Doring, chairman; Mavis Schleuder, Lenore Johnson, Shirley Thordson, Jermayne Martinka, and Mildred Kuester. Copies of the play will be ordered and the copyright obtained.

Ralph J. Sutherland, high school speech and English instructor, will again direct the production. He will choose his cast and production staff as soon as the books arrive and those wishing to try out have done so.

'Crime Does Not Pay' Explains Dittmore In Talk To Students

At a special auditorium program last Tuesday, the students and faculty members had the occasion to hear Mr. A. W. Dittmore speak on the subject "Crime Does Not Pay!"

Mr. Dittmore warned the students against being taken in by high-powered salesmen. He demonstrated just how these salesmen work to gain their ends.

He warned against carnival racks, slot machines, and punch boards. He also exposed several tricks used by the carnival people to fool the public.

"Teachers should be paid far more than they are," said Mr. Dittmore, "for they are the ones who steer young people, minds into the right channels."

The speaker made a plea to the students, "Think, before you act."

The Army-Navy Qualifying Test will be administered at 9:00 on Tuesday, November 9th, in Room 207 of the New Ulm High School. The examination will begin promptly at nine o'clock in the morning. Candidates should arrive at the examination room between 8:45 and 8:55.

24 Students Find Employment In Work Program

Under the coordination plan, students who are seniors may choose an occupation which they would like to learn and enter as their life's work. Students spend one hour each day in class, studying books and other reading materials which have a specific relationship to their occupation. Two hours or more each day are spent actually working in a downtown place of business as apprentices, gaining an actual trade experience. The coordinator, Mr. Fuller, arranges the schedule in cooperation with the employers who wish to participate in the training program.

Students receive pay for the time that is spent on the job. Twenty-seven students are participating in the training program this year. This program is intended to serve the employer by finding him workers and assisting him in their training. It also serves the students by helping them choose a suitable occupation and become competent in it.

The following students have been placed in jobs this year: Ralph Anderson, Journal; Ralph Werner, Journal reporter; Arthur Fenske, Fesenmaier's Hardware; Eldor Gronholz, Red Owl; Paul Kirgess, The Bee Hive; Robert Herzog, Red Owl; Nylah Huelskamp, The Bee Hive; Vivian Macho, Fesenmaier's Hardware; Grace Mielke, Sears, Roebuck & Company; Rudolph Marti, Olson's Drugs; Elaine Schaefer, Western Union.

Marie Steinberg, Salet's Department Store; Anna Trautmiller, Silver Latch; Marion Siemering, Silver Latch; Wallace Ebert, Woolworth's; Martha Fredrich, Woolworth's; Elaine Fisher, Muesing's Drugs; Marvin Grams, Dannheim's Dairy; Marjorie Lindberg, Dr. Lippmann; Emil Liebesch, Journal; James Niehoff, Gamble Store; Florence Roberts, The Bee Hive; Rosella Lake, Pink's; Kenneth Earl, Eagle Roller Mill.

How To End It All In Three Lessons

So you have a reference assignment for history. Well, well, isn't that interesting. Or is it? Then begins the bloody battle with your timid inner self. On the outside you appear to be a tough and hardened veteran, well-versed in the affairs of the world; but underneath that impenetrable exterior is a soft, timid soul, almost afraid of its own shadow. So you pick a very special and quiet moment to stick your head timidly thru the door of the library and cautiously look about for several minutes. Still no heads have popped up to stare at you, as you had imagined they would. You manage to pull the rest of your quaking body into the sanctuary of the library. After falling over the waste basket several times in trying to reach the magazine rack, you find yourself the center of attraction after all; and your poor face becomes a patch work of purple, red and blue blotches.

While supposedly looking at a magazine, you are mapping out a plan in your feverish mind, a plan to get to the shelf that holds the secret to your success. A few minutes which seem like hours creep by, and by moving inch by inch, you at

Leo Wilfahrt Elected Head Of Student Council

"If the student body wants something, and it's possible to get it, they'll have it", emphatically stated Leo Wilfahrt when told he had been chosen president of the Student Council. The stocky, dark haired senior was chosen to head the student's representative body on Monday, Oct. 18, and immediately took over his new duties.

Each home room sent its representatives to the council meeting with instructions to vote for the candidate they had chosen. It wasn't an all school election as in previous years, but just as democratic. The home rooms nominated the candidates and the Student Council did the rest.

Leo gained much popularity after coming to the Class of '44 when a sophomore and has since gained many friends. He plays a great game of football on the gridiron besides being a basketball and track star. It was a close election as Harold Fenske, tall, lanky senior, was chosen as vice president for the ensuing year.

Other nominees who were nominated by different home rooms included Harold Krieger and Tom O'Malley. Each year a senior is chosen to head the Student Council while each home room elects a representative on the council.

Pep Fest In Auditorium Thursday Night; Dance After Game On Friday

"Lay Low Glencoe" is the 1943 homecoming slogan as New Ulm high school students prepare for the traditional celebration. Despite the wartime atmosphere that will surround the festivities, the homecoming committee is trying to carry on tradition and establish something to which players and fans may look back on.

Anna Trautmiller, blonde senior girl, has been elected by the student body as Homecoming Queen of 1943 and will reign over all festivities of the two day celebration. Delores Johnson, former homecoming queen, will return to preside at the coronation ceremonies as school officials hope to make this an additional tradition at each homecoming.

Pep Fest Thursday

No bonfire and parade will precede the game on Thursday as in former years for students are constantly reminded of the rationing and the part it is playing in the war effort. But a big pep fest will be held in the auditorium Thursday evening, and school officials as well as former graduates and team members will be asked to speak.

The New Ulm High School band under the direction of Paul Heltne will be on hand Thursday for community singing and various pep tunes. The three high school yell masters—Helen Pivonka, Delores Stein, and Shirley Loose—will lead the students in several cheers. All students are urged to attend the pep fest to start the team off with the right sort of backing.

Coronation ceremonies will take place at the field Friday just before game time. A score and a half of junior high school boys will march onto the field carrying flags donated by downtown merchants and form a V for Victory. The eight attendants will take their places before the throne. Incidentally these attendants were also chosen by the students. They are Bonnie and Betty Milliman, Sue Heymann, Norma Faaborg, Janice Streissguth, Ann Krueger, Rosemary VonBank, and Verda Roloff.

Delores Johnson, former homecoming queen, will be escorted to her place beside the throne by Vic.

WITS Organized By Normal Students

WITS or Women in Teaching Service is the club recently organized by the teacher training department under the direction of Miss Ada Larson. An election was held with the results as follows: Lois Cunningham, president and Marion Wolf, vice-president, Virginia Wentzlaff was chosen secretary; and Ardis Olsen, treasurer.

During observation week, October 25-30, the club members will visit various country schools to observe classes and methods. The club recently visited the Emerson kindergarten, first, and second grades.

Homecoming Excitement Prevails At NUHS

Once again the homecoming festivities are here.

Although our activities are somewhat restricted, the football team is in the best of condition and is ready to "Lay Low Glencoe" Friday evening. The band is preparing to give their most colorful demonstration of the year, and the cheer leaders will be on hand with the usual pep and enthusiasm to cheer the squad to victory.

A homecoming queen has been selected by the students to reign over festivities. Eight attendants have also been chosen as an elaborate pageant has been planned by the committee. A pep fest will be held on Thursday evening, prior to the game on Friday; but it is doubtful if a big parade will feature the event for gas and tire rationing being a reminder that we are at war.

All alumni of NUHS are urged to attend the big gathering, for it has been a long time since a real homecoming celebration has been made to welcome them. Many graduates, however, will be unable to be present for they are in the armed forces, doing a job elsewhere. But it's for all the alumni who are on the home front to keep up the morale until these alumni will come home again.

Many old friends will be missing from the front ranks at this homecoming, but many will be able to return and renew old acquaintances. A special tribute will be paid to the boys in service on the evening of the game at Johnson field; and all can be assured that wherever former friends are, they will be here in spirit, awaiting the time when they can return and be with us at a truly victorious homecoming.

Let's Write

Is California as wonderful as they say? Did you see New York City? No, this isn't a geography quiz, it's just some of the questions that are asked of the service men that visit our high school.

Almost every week a young man from Uncle Sam's Armed Forces makes his appearance in the halls of N.U.H.S., and what excitement he creates! All the students are vitally interested in where he has been and what he has seen.

Most of these boys enjoy conversing with the students and faculty members; they enjoy walking through the school, and visiting their former classrooms; they are a cheerful, confident group of American youth, full of laughter and enthusiasm.

Quite a number of these boys would have been attending school this year; but because they were needed in the armed forces, they forgot their education, temporarily, and are now concentrating on a more serious objective.

We students can do a great deal in order to make it more pleasant for those in the Army, the Navy, and the Marines. Probably the thing these boys enjoy most is to get a letter from a friend at home.

Let's write to someone today! He'll thank you for it.

Taylor, Deems—Of Men and Music.
Of men and music stresses chiefly modern music and musicians, but also includes the classicists.

Gouge, Elizabeth—The Blue Hills
Here we meet the Fordyce family who live in the beautiful cathedral town of Torminster. The celebration of Hugh Anthony's birthday and the results when Henrietta takes it upon herself to see that his wishes are carried out are vividly told.

Floherly, John—Inside the F.B.I.
Mr. Floherly takes you behind scenes in the F.B.I. to see for yourself what is happening. You will be right with the G Men from the beginning of their training period at Quantico until they are given important assignments which are often full of danger.

Hatch, Alden—Heroes of Annapolis
Fred Glaister, a diving bomber pilot, is just one of the heroes of this book. The heroic achievements and brilliant Annapolis careers of such men as Isaacs and Farragut are vividly told. Here, too, is the story of our great Naval Academy from its beginning to the present time.

Did you hear that screaming and yelling last Saturday evening at eight o'clock on WCCO? No, it was no panic!—just swooning 'teens listening to Frank Sinatra give out with "Pistol Packin' Mama". While we're on the Sinatra subject, his fan mail now averages some 3,000 letters a week from admiring 'teens who sign their name with a "Sinatrally yours". Newspapers write about "Frank Swoonatra", and refer to his effect on audiences as "Sinatrance"!

As we wander down this beautiful New Ulm High School corridor, we will see short fat, tall, thin, plain, and good-looking kids all hummin' and whistling "Pistol Packin' Mama". The boys all agree that Al Dexter, the author, is some solid to whip up a song to climb the ladder on the hit parade; but the gals give all the credit to "Frankie"!!

I thought you'd like to know Gene Krupa is back in circulation beating the skins for none other than Benny Goodman, top reedman, with his top Swing Band.

I still think Harry James hit the jackpot when he discovered Buddy Mareno. You gals who swoon over Sinatra, Haymes, and Wayne just haven't heard Mareno give his all with "She's From Missouri"!!!!

The new hit parade features songs at least 20 years old. This gives the small fry a chance to learn what today's hits were swiped from!!

Hi Seniors

I wonder if all artists are worried about the threat of their insides someday sticking together? At least this is bothering Helen Anderson, our artist for the Graphos—but then she is probably the only one that swallows her wad [usually a package] of gum at one time. [How about letting us all in on how you get that valuable item?] She is hoping to continue on in the field of art and be a dress designer. We hope the fad will some day be H. A.'s clothes, as it now is F. S.'s songs. Speaking of Frank Sinatra, he has swayed her likes to "Paper Doll".

"Gosh, how does she do it?", that's a familiar saying after Arvilla Bergstrom finishes playing all our piano requests. Talk about a whiz that plays by ear—she's the one. Right now you might be hearing a queer laugh—well, undoubtedly it's Arvilla. Her favorite food is fish. "People Will Say We're In Love" heads her list of favorites.

Did you say Spike Jones is korny? Don't let Bob Dahl hear you because he just idolizes him and his [ko—] band. He wants to be a radio engineer—Is it because he wants to open new air ways for the "City Slickers"? By the way, don't think Bob walks through alleys just to be mischievous; my guess is that he has his eye on a certain house that has a better view from the back. His favorite food is chop suey, but he hasn't mastered the chop stick technique, yet.

"Why Don't You Do Right" is Norma Faaborg's song of the hour. [hint-hint] She must be doing something right, cuz the way she puts away food [her favorite pastime] she certainly looks slim enough. [How do you do it?] Norma's ambition is to have an exclusive line of stores that carry only the finest in ladies' apparel. Her familiar saying is usually saying the wrong thing at the wrong time. [Does that happen in school, too?]

A Minneapolis journalist suggested that we only "Talk About Things We Know." I wonder if he wants us to stay dumb all our lives?

A poll was recently taken on, "Who is your favorite crooner?" Bing Crosby had 1905, and Frank Sinatra had 1072. Most of Sinatra's votes were from mothers and grandmothers, while Bing's were from high school and university students.

A deep dark mystery—the assembly program by the teachers. I hope it will soon be in shape to be given.

"He must love me and me alone." "She must be able to cook." These were written in themes by the senior students in Social. The topic was "Questions to be considered when choosing a mate for marriage." At least, Mr. Harman had a few hours of enjoyment.

The Army has its pin-up girls but they haven't anything on New Ulm High School. Some boy found a library book with pictures of Joyce Ott in it, so they were distributed among the few lucky ones.

So far I haven't heard of many dates for the Homecoming. What's the matter with the boys? Here are some of the excuses I have heard:

I can't have the car. What of it! Walking can be made interesting.
"Bashful?????????????" I doubt that.
It isn't any fun to take a girl. My! My! what an attitude.

I wonder what happened to all the moron jokes? PLEASE, I didn't mean for everyone to go and hunt for them! Let the past be!

Here I sit listening to those ringing bells,
If I can't stop those bells
I'll throw them out the window.

Those who thought three afternoons last week were to be vacations evidently weren't thinking of storm windows, leaves, and fall housecleaning. Personally, there would have been fewer backaches and broken fingernails if we'd have had to stay in school.

Pep fests and movies surely don't mix. There wasn't a more sleepy bunch of people a week ago Thursday. Come on, students, give those three swell cheerleaders better support in the future! They deserve it.

The boys are just knocking each other over to get the girls dated for the homecoming dance. Such chivalry!

Marjorie Lindberg has gone for one of our husky football players in a big way. Didn't you know? It's Cam. S.

We hear there were a few reunions at the St. Peter game. Anyone who isn't up on agriculture might have thought there was a new crop of hybrid corn to be detasseled.

Patsy Yost has taken a definite interest in horse back riding.

Billy H., Take it easy down those stairs. We don't want any compound fractures for tomorrow night's game.

It was mighty nice seeing that handsome bunch of soldiers and sailors roaming our halls. Seems as though they just can't resist returning to their old haunts—which all goes to prove that N.U.H.S. isn't such a bad place after all.

What did the front brake say to the back brake? "Hy-draulic!"

Advice:
Do you feel worn out or irritable?
Do you have circles beneath your eyes?
Do you have headaches frequently?
Do your muscles ache? Hm-m-m-They do?
Well, then, why the heck don't you go to bed nights?

Those Cambria girls sure put Franklin Schlottman in a daze.

N.U.H.S. surely was represented in Mankato last Friday, and the teachers' convention wasn't the only reason.

Next time Miss Raverty needs a microscope, we doubt if she will send Rosemary and Janice after it.

It's too bad we couldn't publish a few of those very interesting social themes.

Eagles Plays Glencoe In Homecoming Battle Friday

Glencoe Eagles Have Poor Season; No Wins This Year

This coming Friday, the New Ulm Eagles will contest the strength of the Glencoe Eagles in a grid battle which takes place at the Johnson Field at 8:00 P. M.

The blue and white Eagles of Glencoe have had a poor season thus far, with two defeats by a strong Hutchinson team, and some very close games with Litchfield, and Norwood Young America. All in all, the Glencoe team this year is smaller than average, many of the mainstays of the team being underclassmen. Putting the punch into the line and backfield will be such men as James Martin, Bob Nevin, and Fred Perschau. In summary, Coach Zosel's Glencoe Eagles are small, but they may prove to be fast and tricky. Although they have had a poor season thus far, let's not be too confident of victory, and slack our vigil.

The New Ulm High School Eagles, after being defeated last Friday by a strong, hard-hitting St. Peter team, will show a lot of spark on the field tonight, determined that history shall not repeat itself as far as New Ulm High School's grid squad is concerned. As a whole, the New Ulm Eagles are probably a slightly heavier team than the Glencoe pigskin club. Undoubtedly our plunging Eagle backfield will soar through the holes opened by our sturdy linemen and cross that all important last stripe many times tonight.

What either of the teams will do in regard to aerial attack upon each other will have to wait until game tonight, because so far this year, most ground-gaining has been done by straight running.

There are only two more questions to be considered. Who's going to win? What will the score be? You will know the answers to these questions as soon as anyone else after game time tomorrow night. Let's hope that New Ulm High School owns the top figure on the scoreboard Friday night. Don't forget, students!!! You have a date with the sidelines of the Johnson Athletic Field at eight o'clock!! Let's help our team win by giving them a lot of support and vitamin V for Victory over Glencoe.

St. Peter Still Undefeated As Eagles Lose 20-0

A strong St. Peter grid aggregation overpowered the New Ulm high school Eagles on St. Peter's home ground last Friday afternoon in a wild and woolly contest that saw the Saints having all the advantages. The final score showed the Eagles on the losing end of a 20-0 score, and left the Saints undefeated and unscored on in four games.

The Saint line opened big gaps in the Eagle forward wall, and Saint backfield men twisted through for the yardage. Verner Langsjoen, Saint halfback, was the leading Saint attacker for the Apostles. He could pass, punt, and run and had Eagle men guessing all the way through.

The first touchdown came in the first period when a pass from V. Langsjoen to Bob Overson, flashy, lanky Saint end, took the ball from their own 30 yard line across the Eagle goal. But an aroused Eagle front wall blocked the placement for an extra point when Schneider and Zieske broke through to muffle the play.

During the second stanza the Saints were held scoreless but the Eagles lacked the morale to bring victory. Slowly the Eagles were being pushed back and in the third period the Saints scored a safety on some good punting by Verner Langsjoen.

The ball went to the Eagle 5 yard line and then Wilfahrt went back to boot it out of danger. But the pass was bad and before Leo could cross his own goal line into safe territory, the strong Saint front wall broke through and nailed him.

Strange as it may seem, the remaining two Saint touchdowns came on pass plays. Soon after the last stanza opened, V. Langsjoen shot another pass into the arms of Overson who again scampered across the Eagle goal line. The attempted pass for extra point was stopped.

After some hard battle the Saints again started a march to the Eagle goal line. On about the Eagle 5 yard stripe, V. Langsjoen shot another short spiral into the arms of Olson, substitute end, who easily stepped across for the final touchdown. The drop kick for extra point failed.

Donald Gollnast, Eagle left guard, was captain of the team for that

From The Sidelines

By Harold Krieger

Remember the rain we had last Wednesday? Well, so do the football players, I guess. After it had been announced that there would be a field practice after the extremely damp weather on Wednesday, one of the second stringers was evidently quite depressed. When I asked him about the football practice, he curtly replied, "What do you mean 'football practice'? We're going down to try Nick's new life preservers." But let's remember, fellows, that practice makes perfect, and that we have a tough Glencoe team to "lay low."

Dick Pengilly, wrestling coach for New Ulm High School, is getting his bunch of Charles Atlases into fighting trim; and he promises a few fellows in the squad a trip to the State Wrestling Tournament if they get busy and pin down any opponent they run up against. The first meeting of the squad was last Thursday night, and a bunch of old timers responded. Among them were the Nonenmacher brothers, Red Haack, Charlie Johnson, George Schuler, Kenny Engel, and Stan Dietrich. A number of new boys answered the call to the canvas, but Mr. Pengilly would like to see some of you fellows who tip the scales at over 175 pounds enter the heavyweight class of competition.

The wrestling team of last year placed a good many men in the regional tournament; but because of the stiff Robinsdale team which they met in the inter-regional, showings in the State were almost impossible. This year Robinsdale is not included in the New Ulm region, so our team does have very good chances of being in that State meet. May we also mention that last year Robinsdale placed almost its whole team in the State Tourney, so this year its our turn. How about it you fellows??

Mr. Pfaender's gym team is getting organized, and heading the superb New Ulm squad this year will be none other than "Blackie" Glaser—that mighty mite with the black tights. Good luck, gang, and don't forget to trim Rochester good and proper this year.

game. But the whole Eagle defense was weak and the Saints piled up the points.

New Ulm Eagle Overpower Saints By Score 6-0

Playing one of the best games of the current season, the New Ulm high school Eagles rolled to a 6-0 victory over a powerful St. James eleven at Johnson field Thursday, Oct. 14. It was a good tough ball game and the Eagles had to outfight their opponents at every turn of the ball game.

The only tally came in the second quarter when Johnny Esser, hard playing Eagle end, scooted down the field and Leo Wilfahrt dropped a long spiral into his arms that took the ball to the enemy 18 yard mark. Krueger drove through to the 9 but an offside penalty put it back to the 14. Wilfahrt picked up yardage to the 9 and then came the prize play of the ball game.

On a fake reverse that had the whole Saint secondary pulled out of position, Krueger went off right tackle for the touchdown. Denny played a bang up ball game and Leo Wilfahrt's generalship was partly responsible for the victory.

But no credit must be taken from the hard playing Eagle forward wall that played a top game of the season. Lloyd Zieske was exceptional in the line as the team seemed to click as one great machine that outplayed the touted St. James squad.

Always the Saints tried to rally for a touchdown but the Eagle front wall counter attacked and held. Plenty of power was displayed on both sides and fans and players alike agree that it was a very successful game for the Eagles.

Students, Are Your Halloween Stunts Already Planned?

Sunday is Hallowe'en, and, believe me, this year it will be a modernized affair! This year you won't see goblins riding on broomsticks, or an old witch hurrying high above the housetops.

This year things will be different. Oh, there may be weird noises, but don't be afraid, girls, it will just be some of those high school wolves howling down the streets.

Students won't waste their time writing foolishness on store windows. Instead, they will write "Buy More War Stamps" or better still will spend their time writing letters to the boys in service.

You won't be able to let the air out of tires, 'cause there aren't any tires.

Oh, well, don't be too disappointed, students. This year you'll gain a much better reputation for yourself with the police force. And isn't that something to look forward to?

You can help bomb Berlin too. Buy Stamps and Bonds.

tor P. Reim who will give a short talk honoring the boys in service and paying tribute to the men who were killed in the service of their nation.

Then amid the blaring of the trumpet, Queen Anna Trautmiller will be escorted to the throne by a noted school head and be officially crowned Homecoming Queen of 1943. A square dance and numbers by the New Ulm high school band will complete the pre-game festivities.

Glencoe—powerful, age old rival of Eagle gridders—will then furnish the opposition on the gridiron. Coach Henry Nicklasson's crippled squad will put the best combination possible on the field to face the invaders. Hopes are high that Vernon "Ader" Wieland will be able to play that game and the veteran, speedy halfback would spark the team considerably.

After the game is over and the Eagles have soared to victory [we hope], a big dance will be held in the high school auditorium. Glencoe players and fans are invited to attend with a special invitation urging former alumni to attend the festivities.

During the past few years, the practice of inviting alumni to a good celebration each year has been neglected, and Tom Pfaender, homecoming director, hopes to see old and new alumni attending the celebration and renewing old acquaintances.

Several hundred high school graduates are in the service and many will not be here to celebrate, doing a job elsewhere in the world. But many servicemen graduates who are home on furlough are expected to make this homecoming a joyous one and all are cordially invited to attend.

Game time at Johnson field will be 8 o'clock and homecoming festivities will start about 7:45 while the band will march to the field at 7:30.

Rationed Fashions

Rush! Rush! Everyone was headed for the center counter of the dime store, over the weekend, for just one simple reason. After waiting for several months, a shipment of bobby pins finally arrived. There's just one package to a customer though.

Of all the new fashions seen around the halls, there has been only one pair of ankle strap sandals, worn by Delores Pischke. Although their popularity is greatest in some of the larger cities, it won't take New Ulm long to catch on to something as smart looking as those shoes.

Almost every girl has an identification bracelet, of either yellow or white gold. Plenty of them have a name on both sides too.

Did you notice Nylah Huelskamp's attractive kerchief? It's white rayon, with the Navy insignia embroidered in one corner in gold, red, and white.

Everyone's talking about the new clothes they're going to wear to the homecoming dance. New dresses will be seen on almost all the girls, and high heels will definitely be in!

Service Slants

Pvt. Maynard Wiese of Keesler Field, Miss., is spending a 15 day furlough at the home of his parents at Northfield.

Seaman 2-c Bob Graves who was stationed at Farragut, Idaho, spent a short furlough at his home on State St. He is now going to New London, Conn., for submarine duty.

Second Lieut. Huntley Prah spent a 10 day furlough at the home of his parents on So. Washington St. He is being transferred from Camp Davies, N. C., to Camp Stewart, Ga.

1st Sgt. Stuart Groebner spent a furlough at his home on Washington Street. He is stationed at Camp Shelly, Miss.

One would think the whole fleet was in last Tuesday. Among the sailors visiting our school were Ralph Teynor, Richard Engel, Ray Kimler, Jack Gruenfelder, Eugene "Red" Martinka, John Eckstein, and Dick Graves.

Students Assist

Students of the Commercial and Normal Training Department did their part for the war effort by assisting with the rationing Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday October 18, 19, and 20. The students aided the people who did not have their No. 3 ration books and application blank correctly filled out. The Commercial Students were stationed at the Washington and Lincoln schools; while the Normal Training students helped at the high school.

Sharps-Flats

American Education Week will be opened on November 7 by a Sunday matinee concert given by the New Ulm High School Band and Chorus at 4:00 p.m. The boys' quartet and the brass quartet will be featured. This will be the first in a series of Sunday Matinee Concerts.

The orchestra will make its first appearance of the year in an auditorium program November 11.

The girls' choir, at the present time, is working on several numbers for a future concert. These numbers are "The Green Cathedral"; and "The Little Dustman."

The band was fortunate in being given a trip to St. Peter, October 22, because of the generosity of the parents of band members, who provided the transportation. [The band appreciates the fine gesture on the part of the parents. The band didn't plan to travel for the duration.]

There will be a Pep Meeting for Homecoming on Thursday, October 28. The band will play from 7:45 to 8:15.

Homecoming will begin with a parade on Friday, October 29, at 7 p. m. Between halves the band will put on the "Homecoming" show, which will feature such well known songs as "Auld Lang Syne", "Hail! Hail!", "Alma Mater", "Our Boys Will Shine Tonight", "Turkey In The Straw".

The Band will go into a number of formations including "H I" to the alumni. The Band will be assisted by a group of students from the physical education department.

John Esser wanted the chorus to present the ever popular number, "Pistol Packin' Mama", but Mr. Johnson disagreed. John is finally convinced that the better type of music is used by the high school chorus for a program of this nature.

Stanley Dittrich Is New F F A President

On Tuesday, Oct. 12, the New Ulm FFA was host to the Sleepy Eye FFA chapter for a joint green-hand initiation. The program was opened with an informal ceremony at which seventeen prospective greenhands were at the mercy of the FFA members. After an informal, humorous initiation, the greenhands were officially welcomed into the chapter. A very impressive, formal ceremony climaxed the program and made the boys new members in their respective chapters.

The following New Ulm boys were initiated: Henry Eckstein, Eugene Edwards, Harold Roth, Elton Roloff, Dennis Schaefer, Eldor Ubl, and Otto Hartmann.

After the initiation a delicious lunch was served so that the Sleepy Eye boys could leave. The New Ulm chapter then held its business meeting at which the following officers were elected for the coming year: Stanley Dittrich, president; Edwin Lentz, vice president; Linus Grathwohl, secretary; and Edward Eckstein, treasurer. The duties of the FFA reporter were given to Jerome Franta; and Ralph Rosenau was appointed watch dog; his duties are to keep the meetings quiet and orderly.
