

Queen Kay Reigns Over Homecoming

1956 Homecoming activities for New Ulm High School got off with a bang Thursday night, October 11, with a bonfire at 10th South and Summit Avenue. The highlight of the bonfire was the announcement that Kay Suzanne Johnson was the Homecoming Queen for '56.

After the bonfire, students hurriedly set out for the Flandrau Park Beach House where refreshments were served by the Senior Boy's Home Economics Class. Later a program of skits and songs was presented. The queen and her attendants—Janice Walden, Patti Carlson, Patsy Glasmann, Joan Kretsch, Mary Lee Olstad, and Roberta Beecher—sang "Black Denim Trousers". Then the junior class put on a skit with Mary Gratz, Wayne Luepke, Brenda Schiller, LaVonne Roenstad, Betty Rolloff, Bill Stolte, and Orpha Sell participating. A mock hanging of the "James Boys" was acted out by John Fritsche, Jim Gislason, Vernon Wilson, Tom Radke, Bob Winslow, and Bob Sandeen. The Eaglettes, four sophomore girls, Karen Darlington, Sue Vogelpohl, Darlyn Barrett, and LaVonne Alfred sang "O Baby Mine."

Concluding the program NUHS' outstanding trio, Lee Beecher, Nolan Tobias and Clyde Long, sang with Clyde also doing some numbers on the guitar.

The Pep Band played a rousing number for the close of the evening's celebration, stirring up spirit for the game Friday night.

Junior Class Presents 'Cheaper by the Dozen'

"Cheaper by the Dozen," the junior class play, will be presented November 16 and 17 with a cast of eight boys and eight girls. The director is Mr. Armstead.

The play, a comedy by Frank Gilbreth and Ernestine Gilbreth Cqrey, tells what happens when Mr. Gilbreth, an efficiency expert, tries to run a large family with efficiency methods. His efforts are very seldom successful but always amusing.

The cast includes Bruce Lentz as Mr. Gilbreth, Mary Ellen Holm as Mrs. Gilbreth, Sandra Strate as Ernestine, Dave Young as Jackie, Dayle Besemer as Dan, Gary Schiller as Bill, Roger Schnurrer as Fred, Doris Barnell as Anne, Marie Gehrke as Lillian, Betty Rolloff as Martha. Lenore Schnobrich as Mrs. Fitzgerald, Wayne Luepke as Dr. Burton, Mike Carrier as Joe Scalas, Carol Cordes as Miss Brill, and Bill Stolte as Larry.

Student directors are Mary Lee Globes and LaVonne Roenstad, heading a production staff of 48.

Students will be admitted to the Friday performance with their activity tickets.

Senior High Elect Class Officers

Election of senior high class officers took place on Friday, October 19, with the boys getting seven offices, and the girls, five.

Officers for the senior class are Marlowe Ubl, president; Roberta Beecher, vice president; Maureen Smith, secretary; Bonnie Current, treasurer.

Along with the election of officers, classes discussed expenses for the coming year and decided upon dues.

Most Students Support Republicans

Giving him the lead by two and one-half to one, New Ulm High School students elected Eisenhower as the next President of the United States in their elections held in 12 senior high homerooms Friday, November 2. Also voted upon were state officers, with Republicans taking the lead all the way.

Students voting on the Republican ticket for Eisenhower and Nixon numbered 203; those for Stevenson and Kefauver, 85.

Polling for governor on the Democratic ticket was Orville Freeman with 113 votes; on the Republican ticket, Ancher Nelson with 200 votes.

Also taking the lead by a large margin for Secretary of State was Republican, C. Elmer Anderson with 217 votes; with 97 for his DFL opponent, Joseph L. Donovan.

Some of the other results were as follows: Lieutenant Governor; Dickinson—205 and Rolvaag—117; Attorney General: Kennedy—215 and Lord—100; for Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner, Lundquist—199; Rasmussen—114; for State Treasurer: Bjornson—212, Hansen—102.

Miss Mueller Heads Posture Program

"Reflection, correction, and perfection"—that was the slogan for posture week, which started Monday, October 28, and ended the day of the program, November 5. The assembly program was in charge of Miss Mueller, and the students participated in it.

The program consisted of skits on different mannerisms in spoiling poise, impressions of good and bad posture, scenes showing how to do everyday jobs and save energy, and improving it.

A king and queen were picked from senior high, and a prince and princess from junior high. The royalty was crowned as a climax to the assembly.

Judges for posture candidates, for which every student was eligible, were Mr. Pfaender, chairman; Miss Kittleson, Mrs. Franklin, Miss Raverty, Mr. Zahn, and Miss Banovetz. The candidates were: Seniors, Fred Bianchi and Rosellen Schwermann; Juniors, Darwin Wieland and Doris Barnell; Sophomore, Gary Kleinsmith and Colleen Pugmire; Ninth, William Knopke and Marsha Haber; Eighth, Michael Shay and Mary Fluegge; Seventh, Carl and Robert Knopke and Sandra Mathiowetz.

Open House Climaxes American Ed. Week

The week of November 11 through November 16 has been designated as American Education Week throughout the entire United States. It is sponsored by the American Legion, and the Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mr. T. R. Olson, president of NUPSTA, and the executive committee appointed Mr. T. Pfaender and Mrs. Charlotte Anderson co-chairmen of the festivities which include an open house for parents and teachers on Tuesday evening November 13.

The plans for open house will include tours of the building, lunch and a chance for parents and teachers to become acquainted. The place is the NUHS cafeteria.

Two Student Teachers Here

If you have seen a couple of strange faces in the halls lately, they are probably those of the two student practice teachers, Miss Florine Rittenour and Mr. John Solensten.

Miss Rittenour, from the University of Minnesota, has been teaching in the home economics' food department. She left November 2 after four weeks of practice teaching.

leges" for their representative and outstanding work in various fields. Fifteen were selected altogether.

In Minneapolis, Jerry Hames is now assistant manager of the new Woolworth store at the Southdale shopping center.

Editorial

WHOM WOULD YOU ELECT?

Today is election day. Thousands of citizens, including your parents, will go to the polls and cast their ballots for president and others. This has no direct bearing on you today, but when you reach the age of 21, you should be expected to carry on with today's government.

If you could vote, whom would you vote for and why? Would you know something about the candidate as individuals and about the policies of the parties they belong to? Would you vote for a certain party because your parents voted for him or because he believes in the policy you want? These and many other factors should be considered before you would cast your vote as a United States citizen.

When the returns are in, all of us should accept the decision of the majority, forget any disappointment or bitterness we might feel, and give our wholehearted support to our elected officials.

THANKSGIVING RECESS

With pheasant hunting season drawing to a close and our beautiful Indian summer days turning to snow flurries, it comes time once again for Thanksgiving Day and vacation. This year the turkeys are bigger than ever, the experts say; so we can all look forward to a delicious turkey dinner with the usual trimmings: cranberries, dressing and pumpkin pie. While looking forward to the big Thanksgiving Day dinner let us not forget the true meaning of Thanksgiving and give thanks for everything we have.

Band

by Vernamae Merwin

The old adage "Early to bed, early to rise, makes a person healthy, wealthy, and wise," was quite questionable in the minds of most band members at 4:00 P. M. October 13 as they made ready for their trip to the Minnesota-Northwestern football game.

New Ulm High School was among the 6,000 bandsmen to take part in the half-time ceremonies held at Memorial Stadium. The bands marched on and off the field to the rhythmic beat of the famous Minnesota University Band. Selections played by the entire group were "Ah Marie," "Gypsy Love Song," and "Hail Minnesota."

During half-time ceremonies of the St. Peter-New Ulm football game, the band was presented a trophy for being the top band out of ten at the 1956 Minnesota State Fair Parade of Pep Bands.

Chorus

WANTED!! BOYS!! ALIVE ONLY!!

Reward; a million laughs, a thousand dollars' worth of good experience, and an immeasurable amount of fun!

All boys between sophomore and senior years that can sing tenor are qualified. Please contact Mr. Ackermann if you feel you possess these qualities.

The chorus is continuing its work on the Christmas program. Some of the selections are "While Shepherds Watched Their Sheep," "Go Tell It On The Mountain," "Today There Is Ringing," and "O Sanctissima."

SIGN OF FALL

Oh, come watch the leaves,
As they slowly flutter down.
After four months hanging,
They finally reach the ground.
It seems like only yesterday,
We were watching them appear,
And now they are down again,
For another year.

To write a stuffy thesis
May have to give up love and joy
And be content with nieces."

One of the two boys in the senior class with red hair is Marlowe Ubl. President of the class and a good member of the FFA, Marlowe also plays tackle for the Eagles. He hails from the village of Hanska and plans to become a Navy man after graduation.

Lorraine Bethke's favorite pastime is writing to a certain "SNAPP", in the air force and talking about her home town, Madelia. Lorrie's pet expression is "Oh, I'm so embarrassed." She plans to attend Robinson Beauty School.

One of those "always ready for a riot" people is Gilbert Garske. At football games especially, he always gave his bass drum a bad time. Besides being in the band, "Gilly" seems to enjoy "rodding" around in his hot Plymouth. As for the future, either Mankato or St. Cloud T.C. is his destination, where he plans to study to be an elementary teacher. His pet peeve is tight shirts and high heels.

Blond hair, blue eyes, and a friendly smile are a few characteristics of Carol Osberg. She used to think senior boys were for the birds, but she has changed her mind. Reading and skiing are among her favorite hobbies, and her extra curricular activities include GAA, Graphos Staff, choir, and Glee Club. After graduation Carol plans on working in Denver, Colorado.

Confidential Advice

All of us wonder at some time or other whether we are doing things according to proper etiquette. Here are answers to two questions which we thought might "kind of make you wonder."

Q. What rules should be followed when cutting in on a dance.

A. The partner who was first dancing with the girl must not cut back on the man who took her from him. He can cut in on a third man, especially if he is giving her a rush. A girl may not without rudeness refuse to dance with a man who cuts in. A man who doesn't know how to dance is inexcusably inconsiderate if he cuts in on two good dancers.

NOTE TO SOPHOMORES: According to Emily Post, a girl of 15 may not stay out late in the evening with a boy alone. They must be in a group of others or in the care of someone who can be considered a chaperone!

Q. I have a very tactless friend. Please inform on tact etiquette.

A. Never say things like "How big your feet are!" or "Boy, you look old!", for when people are that tactless, they do nothing but cause distress. Remember: Of all the qualities that make us likeable, none is greater than tact.

no matter what situation prevails. He is a faithful member of the naval reserve; he can normally be found at the Youth Center.

Another senior that will be leaving us soon is Grace Hagemester. Her new home will be Dodge Center, Minnesota. Gracie is a good participant in all the sports that are her favorite pastime. She always has a pleasant smile for everyone and is sure to make plenty of friends at Dodge Center.

Another person who is very much interested in jazz is Don Mathiowetz. He is not only interested in this art, but also is a wonderful entertainer with his trumpet. Don is active in almost all sports and was the center on our football team. Doing home work is this honor roll student's chief gripe. His future plans include attending the University of Minnesota and studying to be an engineer.

Mary Schneider is one of the many lovers of progressive jazz in the senior class. She can usually be found playing records and dancing when things are seemingly dull. Besides being interested in a certain someone who drives a Mercury, Mary is an ardent art student. She plans to go to school, majoring in this subject.

When you hear the expression "No Really," you can bet Kayla Storm is around. Among her listed hobbies are bowling, dancing, and Bruce from Sleepy Eye. She originally hails from Essig, but has made New Ulm her home town since last summer, working in New Ulm after graduation will occupy her future.

Fred Schaefer, whose main goal in life seems to be keeping his "Ritzzy" car in running condition, is best known by either of these two classical nicknames—"Fritz" or "Beast". When he's not in school, you can bet your boots he's doing something to his little convertible, which he owns in partnership with his twin brother.

The Critical Carpenter

by Boots

When a good carpenter completes construction on a house, he analyzes, criticizes, and examines his house to know what, where and how to improve on the next one he builds. Just as the carpenter is continually finding fault for the purpose of improvement, our annual Homecoming should not be allowed to slide by from one year to the other without revealing its faults. Surely there were phases of the 1956 Homecoming that could have been improved. Constructive criticisms have been voiced but the trouble lies in the fact that we have no organized group, formed especially for Homecoming, to hear and investigate these complaints and to offer criticisms and suggestion of its own. This council or committee, consisting of two members from each homeroom in grades 7-12, need not be in session for more than two or three weeks and would play an important part in the success of future Homecomings.

Perhaps many of you believe this would be a waste of time and perhaps you were perfectly happy with the Homecoming results. Let me cite a few complaints I have overheard through my keyhole. 1—At the program out at yonder beach, that huge floodlight directly behind the truck blinded everyone in the main body of the audience. With the numerous trees everywhere, isn't it possible to suspend the light from the side? 2—As few of you know even yet, the bonfire program was less than half over when the band played the school song and everyone literally flew. The performers on the stage were shocked to discover their talents were being absorbed by a lone James boy, who was too singed to appreciate it. 3—Only eight people, working six hours on Friday, decorated the gym for the dance that night. Had there been someone to inform the student body of this lack of help, more would have come to their aid—had they only known.

But how are they to know if no one tells them? Had we a council to hear these criticisms and suggestions and to weld them into one strong powerful voice, everyone would hear and we could all work for improvement.

As the critical carpenter never ceases to improve his product, we need and must have some body that will never cease to improve the product of our labors—our Homecoming.

Advice to the Fashion Lorn

Kay—Karen—Sharon

Did you take a look around at the football games? If you did, you saw quite a few girls wearing car coats, a popular style for this winter.

Look at some of these busy feet walking around. It seems girls would rather wear white tennis shoes than regular shoes. (Have mercy on the poor guy who steps on them.)

Whoosh! There goes someone in one of those pretty quilted skirts; they really make a hit with the girls.

We can't forget about the boys. They are still sporting some snappy striped shirts, and those long-sleeved, v-necked sweaters are really keen.

Hoods are supposed to be the coming thing, but the only hoods you find around here are the ones in white shirts and black pants.

Take note everyone! It's time to salt your summer clothes away and take the winter ones out of moth balls.

'A Little Bit of Nonsense'

by Lori Merwin

The sophomore English class was working on a unit about the library. In the final test the bold face words appeared written as follows; (good luck in reading it; you'll need it!)

In the school library you can find almost any kind of booke you want.

Possibly the most widely used section is the reference section. The encolophias are the books used to look up facts on a certain subject. The most advanced inclopidis is the Bestanica.

Another reference booke that gets a lot of us is the Atticalis, which contains maps, geographical information, etc.

If you're stuck on a word, go to the dictionary; I'd advise Wedsebster's (if you can find it).

One of the most interesting reference books is Whoes Who. The names in Who Who are arranged in alphebely order.

Then, of course, there's the World Al-anabac, "the facts, nothing but the facts."

Of course, some people aren't at all interested in reference books, so for them there are books for enjoyment. If you don't know where to look for a book, go to the card calolog. Books are arranged according to the Dewy Desmal System. Fiction books are shelved alphebely according to the author's last mane.

If you like reading stories about people, try indivijule bifigory or collective bifigory.

HOW TRUE

They find fault with the editors;
The stuff we print is rot.
The paper is about as peppy
As a cemetery lot.
The paper shows poor management;
The jokes they say are stale.
But when the paper's printed,
And the issue is on file,
If someone didn't get one—
You can hear 'em yell a mile!

Football Season Closes

Fairmont—New Ulm

September 28 marked the day for the 4th game of the season at Fairmont. The Eagles got off to a fast start when "Dally" Herrick completed a pass to Nolan Tobias to set up the first touch down. Then a recovered fumble on the Fairmont 35 set up the second. The score stood 13-0 at the end of the first quarter in favor of New Ulm. Two long runs by Dave Bennett gave Fairmont a tie at the half, 13-13. The third quarter went by in a grueling contest. Then in the fourth quarter Fairmont broke away for their third and the game. Final score was 20-13.

Redwood Falls—New Ulm

October 5, 1956 the New Ulm Eagles played Redwood Falls at Redwood. It was a long hard battle, with Redwood scoring the only touchdown of the game in the first half. Dally Herrick played an option play perfectly and made a 17-yard touchdown run back. It was called back because of a penalty, the Eagles third of the year.

St. James—New Ulm

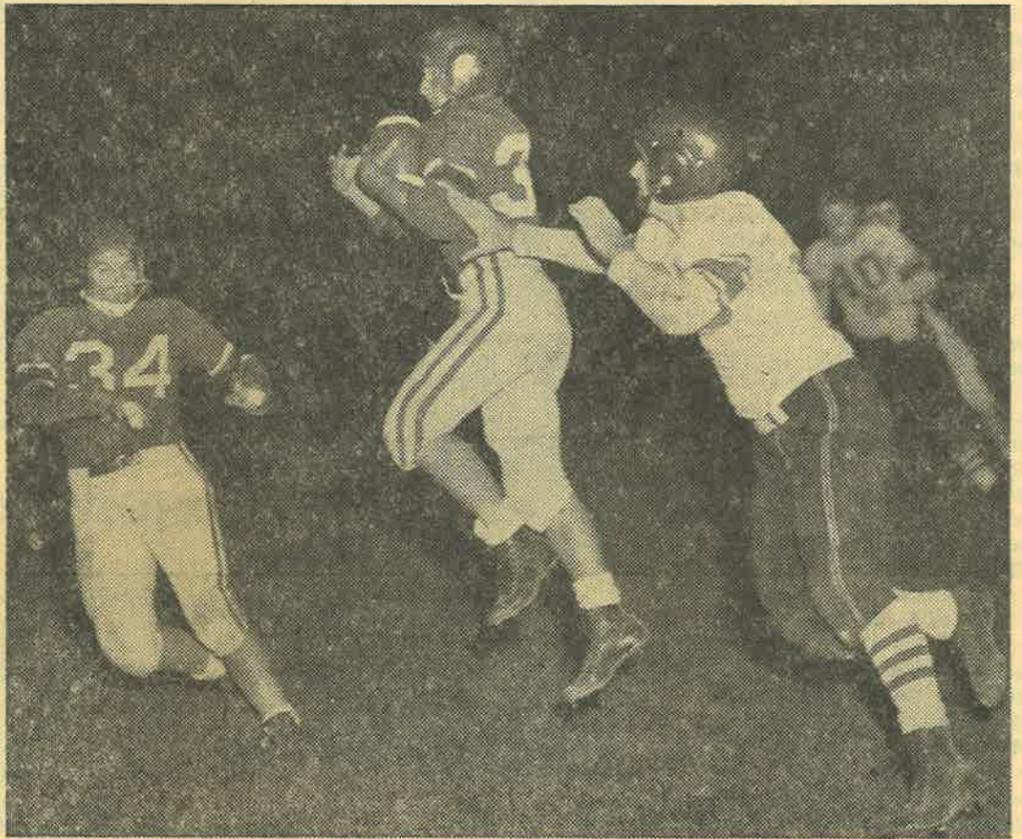

The Eagles played a long, hard fought game but the ST. JAMES Saints put a damper on Homecoming Festivities by defeating the Eagles 14-0. The Saints got their first two points on a blocked quick kick which became a safety. Then St. James scored a touchdown in the third quarter to put them in front 8-0. The point was no good. Late in the fourth quarter the Saints scored again, making it 14-0 on a series of runs by John Bohm.

St. Peter—New Ulm

The New Ulm Eagles, playing one of their best games, pounded St. Peter for a 19-0 victory, the second of the season. New Ulm got a T. D. in the first quarter on a pass to Nolan Tobias to lead 6-0. The conversion was blocked. In the second quarter Jim Scheible made a beautiful run from his own 15 to a T. D., 85 yards. So, at the half the Eagles led 13-0. St. Peter couldn't seem to penetrate the Eagles' defense although they made a few threats. Then in the fourth quarter, "Punky" Krueger ran 70 yards for the second breakaway T. D. of the night.

Blue Earth—New Ulm

Wednesday, October 24, seniors like Tom Zupfer, Vic Reim, Dally Herrick, Jim Scheibel, Marlowe Ubl, Mike Traurig, Paul Krueger and others donned the New Ulm High School football suits for the last time. Those boys especially wanted to win the game, but as time progressed it didn't look so good. Two scores early in the game made it 7-6 where it stayed for the rest of the game. Blue Earth took advantage of a New Ulm fumble on the Eagle 8 and easily made a T. D. About 5 minutes later Vic Reim caught a pass from "Dally" Herrick and went all the way for a T. D. The conversion was blocked. That's the way it stayed. Both teams threatened but neither could score again. An oddity—Last year the Eagles beat Blue Earth 7-6.

A St. James player has just intercepted a pass which was intended for Vic Reim in the above picture. This action took place during the fourth quarter of the New Ulm-St. James game October 12.

ATTENTION, JUNIOR AND SOPHOMORE BOYS

Basketball is just around the corner. In order to keep the basketball season running smoothly, a good manager staff is required. There are still two openings left. If anyone is interested in becoming a skilled student in the art of managing, contact Mr. Goertzen in room 301 before November 9.

Goertzen Coaches Basketball Team

Basketball also has a new coach this year. Mr. Virgil Goertzen is the head coach, with Mr. Zahn assisting and taking the "B" squad. Mr. Goertzen feels that with new equipment we should be able to roll. Practice starts November 12, so all the boys interested should come out.

The Schedule:

Mr. Jack Strang, NUHS band director, receives the trophy presented to the high pep band. The band won it when they were judged the number one pep band in the State of Minnesota.

Teacher Travels Miss Mueller Tours Abroad

Not too many people in the United States are fortunate enough to have an opportunity to travel abroad. Several of the faculty members here at NUHS have had this unique privilege, among them our gym teacher, Miss Mueller.

Miss Mueller and her party arrived in New York July 15. They boarded a Pan American Airlines plane and thus, said good bye to the United States. Most of their traveling was done by night.

Their first stop was London. "The thing I remember most," said Miss Mueller, "was the London Tower built by William the Conqueror in 1066."

From London, the party went to Brussels, capital of Belgium.

The next stop was Wiesbaden, Germany. In Wiesbaden, Miss Mueller noticed a sharp difference in the classes of people. Farmers built all of their buildings as one, and women worked in the fields; but all in all, the land was very well taken care of.

Visit in Switzerland

Lucerne, Switzerland was the next point of interest in the trip. It would seem that in Lucerne, no home is complete without a window box. The party took a cable car 10,000 feet into the Alps. Here they witnessed ski racing and were presented with flowers which were picked from the snow. The land in Switzerland was also very well taken care of. "The bells of the cattle on the hillside was like a serenade," replied Miss Mueller. In Switzerland, when a man is between the ages of 20-45, he must go into the army for three weeks every year. Within two hours' notice, the army can be ready to go to war.

The next stop was Lichtenstein where the party had the honor of meeting the Baron. They were taken through his castle, which was built in the 13th century; here the Baron has the largest private art gallery in the world. The chief occupation of the country is farming, but the making of comptometers also supplies jobs for thousands of citizens.

Stops in Italy were Interesting

The next stop was Rome. The main thing Miss Mueller noticed here was poverty. She also visited Vatican City. The next scene of interest was the Fountain of Trevi, center of the movie "Three Coins in the Fountain." They also visited the Coliseum and the Catacombs. Miss Mueller's one comment about Rome was, "You have to be careful or you'll get run over." She also commented on women who were in mourning; they wear plain black clothes for one year.

The next stop was Venice where the party fed the pigeons at St. Mark's Square. Gondolas take the place of automobiles, trucks and even fire engines in Venice. The gondoliers wear white suits and sailor hats. All along the canal, the singing of the gondoliers can be heard. While there, she visited a glass factory. Miss Mueller also swam in the Mediterranean on the French Riviera.

Paris and Berlin Next

Beautiful, exotic Paris was the next stop. The Louvre Gallery where they saw "The Mona Lisa" and the "Winged Victory of Samothrace" was about the most interesting thing in Paris. The Eiffel Tower, which was built for a world fair, was a stop no one who goes to Paris dare miss. Paris, as you know, is well-noted for being the fashion center, but Miss Mueller said she saw only one beautifully dressed woman.

In Versailles there was a scene that may interest the boys. The ponds and fountains in Versailles were filled with carp, which had gold rings placed in their mouths with the date they were placed in the pond. When Hitler took Versailles, he killed the fish that were there and took the gold rings. Next came Berlin. Here they visited the Olympic stadiums. Most of the buildings in Berlin were completely wiped out. The western zone is almost all rebuilt, but there is still much to be done. The airport in Berlin was the most beautiful Miss Mueller had seen.

The last stop was Amsterdam. Miss Mueller was amazed by the large number of black and white cows, which were all milked in the fields.

The group then prepared to return home. They landed in New York and Miss Mueller's only comment was, "It was truly good to be back!"

The local American Legion Post sponsors a program each year, presented alternately in the two local high schools. Last year the program was given at Holy Trinity High School.

Twirp Week Ends

The annual Twirp dance of 1956 was held for the senior high on November 3 at 8:30 p.m. in the small gym.

The gym was decorated in the fall colors of brown and yellow by the Journalism class members. Admissions of 50c and 30c were charged. The New Ulm High Swing Band provided music and entertainment.

Twirp Week was the entire week before the dance. During the week, the girls treated the boys and took over the chivalrous duties.

Each person wore colored bows when they were already "dated." The senior boys wore red, the juniors wore blue, and the sophomores had green.

Most of the girls lived up to the slogans of "Don't be shy—get a guy!" and "Be sly—get that guy!"

Former Teachers Occupy New Posts

Several of the teachers who have taught at N.U.H.S. for the past years have left to teach or live some place else. New teachers are filling their places, but those who have left will always be remembered by both the students and the faculty.

Miss Englerth is now teaching Phy. Ed. in a private girls' school in Carmel, California.

After spending two years in Japan, Miss Hylden is teaching 10th grade English in Mankato.

Miss Hanson, who is now Mrs. Laverne Crosser, is living in Brookings, South Dakota.

Miss Wuopio, now Mrs. Charles Taminen, is living in Nashuak, Minnesota; and Mr. O. Olson is teaching speech in Hibbing High School.

Four Members To Attend Year Book Conference

Fairmont High School will be the scene of the Little 10 Year Book Conference November 14. Miss Steen, year book advisor, will take four staff members with her, Lorna Gehrke, Dianne Havemeier, Joan Kretsch, and Bill McCleary.

Helpful criticism will be made on year books from 10 schools by Mr. Carl Towley, critic and judge from the National Scholastic Press Association. Mr. Otto Quale, an authority in year book work, particularly planning a year book, will also be present.

Cheerleaders Attend Convention at Windom

Mr. Laurence R. Herkimer, a demonstrator of cheerleading techniques, was the main speaker at the Cheerleading Convention held at Windom High School, October 23.

The executive secretary of the Minnesota State High School League, Mr. H. R. Peterson, spoke on the importance, needs, and functions of cheerleading.

Mr. Herkimer demonstrated several yells and some of the schools did one or two of their cheers.

After lunch was served at the school cafeteria, Mr. Herkimer gave new ideas for cheering and pep-fests. He also had a mass teaching of several cheers.

Miss Mueller and the four senior high cheerleaders, Roberta Beecher, Mary Lee Clobes, Coral Johnson, and Kathie Herrick attended the convention from New Ulm.
