Miss Kittleson Extends Thanks

Miss Kittleson wishes to extend a hearty "thank you" to all juniors who did take the smallpox vaccination, which was given on Monday, December 2. But of 112 juniors only sixty-five percent of them took it in 1954, had had it in a doctor's office or at school last Monday. After the attempt to inform them properly, Miss Kittleson was rather disappointed with the response. Joleen Gag and Gary Schiller assisted Miss Kittleson with the book work at the smallpox vaccinations.

The following is a quote by Dr. Walter C. Alvarez. "I remember a woman who had so-called black smallpox when I was a boy. I wish all people could have seen that epidemic as I did. If they had, most anti-vaccinationists would have given up their fight. Many people now fight vaccination because they don't think it is necessary any more. Actually, some day, if enough unvaccinated people group in the community, we are likely to have an epidemic of smallpox so terrible that the people then living will never forget it. Today the disease is usually mild, but any day it could again become violent and highly fatal."

6 Dances to be Held

Since the big task of the year, Homecoming, is now over, the Senior Council is directing their attention toward the other services and activities it provides.

At the regular Monday meeting, it was planned to have a dance after every home game; but upon closer investigation it was discovered that many school nights were involved and in two instances there was a teen-age dance the following night. Therefore, dances will be held after the following games: December 20, January 7, 17, 28, 31, and February 14.

Future plans of the council include, perhaps, opening and operating a lost and found department in the north storeroom; but so far not enough articles have been lost to warrant its opening.

Symphony to Play Here December 14

The melodic sound of violins, the counter melodies of the violas, cellos, and bass viola, and the majestic music from the remainder of the instrumentation are the characteristics of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. Returning recently from a world tour, the symphony will perform for a student matinee concert in the auditorium Saturday, December 14, at 3:00 p.m.

Tickets for this performance, which is sponsored by the New Ulm Lions Club, are being sold by Mr. Ackermann and Mr. Strang at 75 cents. Although this is primarily a student concert, adults may also attend.

An evening concert will be presented for the Community Concert Association in the auditorium at 8 o'clock. The admission is by membership card.

Prince Carl Knopke, Princess Marni Gislason, Miss Mueller, Queen Doreen Davis, King John Holland and Mr. Herrmann are admiring the trophies awarded to the winners of the posture contest, after the coronation in assembly.

Posture Royalty Is Selected

NUHS students became aware of their posture during the recent posture week.

A climax program was held Friday November 22. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors participated in the four posture numbers, "Pretty Is as Pretty Does," "Good Looks are Bone Deep," "Posture For The White Collar Girl," and "Good Posture on Parade."

While this program was taking place, Marni Gislason, Grant Benson, Ruth Davis, Carl Knopke, Sandra Frahm, Carl Preuss, Marsha Haber, Ann Vogel, Bruce Keske, Doreen Davis, Sharon Jesse, John Holland, Mary Lee Clobes, Terry Rebmann, and Richard Ulrich were being judged for the possible position of prince, princess, king, and queen.

At the close of the program Mr. Herrmann crowned posture Princess Marni Gislason, Prince Carl Knopke, Queen Doreen Davis, and King John Holland.

Debate Squad Has Additions

Lacking in experience but full of enthusiasm and potential is this year's debate squad. Newest additions to the squad are freshmen—Myron Frisch, David "Eisenhower" Nicklasson, Karen Seifert, and Helen Larson; sophomore—Ellen Lippmann; juniors—Gary Kleinsmith, Howie Vogel, Fred Juni, and the humorist of the squad, "Alfalfa" Runck; and senior Boots Roenstad.

Teams have been sent to two tournaments so far, Spirit Lake and Esterville, Iowa. Although the losses slightly overshadow the wins at these two tournaments, the debaters have gained experience and the confidence which we hope will bring glory to reign over NUHS later in the season.

Saturday, December 7, a team of four traveled to Concordia College; and the Saturday following will bring a trip to La Crosse, Wisconsin; and a frenzied scramble to get back in time for the Minneapolis Symphony Concert. Other tournaments include those at St. Olaf; Gustavus Adolphus; Mason City, Iowa; Mankato; Iowa Great Lakes; a New Ulm Invitation; the regional, and the state—we hope.

Chorus, Glee Club Prepare Concert

The NUHS Chorus, Glee Club, and Carolers, under the direction of Mr. Ackerman, will present its Annual Christmas Program in the high school auditorium at 2:30 on Sunday, December 15.

"Carol of the Bells," "Beautiful Savior", "Love", "To Us Is Born an Infant", "Christ Whose Glory Fills the Sky", and "Christians Awake" are among the numbers the Chorus will sing. Signe Lervaag and Dave Edwards will have solo parts in "Christians Awake". Signe Lervaag will sing "Jesu, Sweet" as a solo. The Chorus, Glee Club, and ninth grade Choir will join together in singing "Silent Night".

Also appearing on the program will be the Glee Club. A few of the songs they will be singing are "No Candle Was There", "Gesu Bambino"; and "Sleep, Holy Babe".

The carolers selection of numbers includes "Good Christian Men", "What Child is This", "Joy to the World", and "Here We Come A Caroling."

Happy New Year

News In Brief

Christmas Party

The Cat and Fiddle Club was the site of the faculty Christmas party on December 9. Guests at the party were the School Board members and their wives. There was an exchange of white elephant gifts.

Vacation Coming

Christmas vacation will begin December 20 at 3 o'clock. Classes will resume at 8:45, January 6.

Teachers at Convention

Miss Kayser and Miss Steen attended the National Convention for English teachers in Minneapolis over the Thanksgiving vacation.

Memorial Books

A group from the faculty donated the following memorial books for Mr. Sherburn Beecher:—The Gallant Mrs. Stonewall by Kane and Profiles in Courage by Kennedy.

Christmas Concert

Selections from the New Ulm High School's Christmas Concert will be given in an assembly program on December 13.

Tumbling Begins

About twenty-five junior and senior high girls turned out for tumbling this year. This activity meets on Tuesday and Thursday in the Little Theater, with girls from both junior and senior high participating. Miss Mueller is in charge.

J. Schroeck is Third

Jerry Schroeck, a junior, placed third out of eight entries in the Voice of Democracy contest held on November 21, over KNUJ. Other participants were: Colleen Pugmire, Howard Vogel, and Bertha Larson. Bertha Larson was unable to compete because of illness. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a banquet later on this year for all the winners.

Style, Show, Tea Last Wednesday

"Styles Around the Clock," is the theme of the style show and tea presented by the clothing and food departments of N.U.H.S.. It was held in the Little Theater on Wednesday, December 11, from 3:00 to 5 P.M.

The script was written by Pennell Somsen, Mary Kay Schmid, Karen Rockvam, Sandra Mathiowetz, and Ronda Loose. The musical background was provided by Sue Vogelpohl. The narrator was Colleen Pugmire.

Modeling were 11 juniors, with their new styles in dresses; 26 sophomores in party dresses and jumpers; 22 eighth graders with their blouses, pajamas, and housecoats; and 23 seventh graders with their aprons and corduroy skirts.

The seventh graders had made the invitations; the eighth grade the stage properties; and the sophomore, the printed programs.

The students in the food department busy baking cookies for the occasion.

As the huge clock turn in the background, mothers and faculty members witnessed the different "Styles Around the Clock."

Miss Westling and Miss Lovell had charge of the style show and tea.

Movie to be Shown

"Voice of the Deep" by the Moody Science Institute in California is a 30-minute film to be presented in an assembly on January 10. It shows the wonders beneath the sea and establishes the fact that there is a Superior Being responsible for all these marvels.

Two Meetings Planned

Following plans of previous years, the faculty will again have two in-service meetings, January 15 and March 5, with speakers from the University of Minnesota. Sessions will be held in the library from 4:00 to 5:30 and from 7:00 to closing, with dinner in the cafeteria.

Quoting the New Ulm Teachers' Bulletin; "Presentations by both speakers will be broadly informative. The first session will deal with Possible Peacetime Uses of Nuclear Energy, presented by Dr. J. W. Buchta, Associate Dean of the University College of S. L. and A. The March meeting will consider Current Trends in College Programs of Teacher Education with emphasis on facts related to instruction, development, and learning, presented by Dr. Don Davis, Director of Student Teaching in the College of Education."

Christmas Concert Numbers Chosen

Four solos, a trumpet trio, marches, overtures, and even a song taken from Cinerama Holiday will be among the many numbers played by the Senior High Band at the annual Winter Concert. This year the program will be held January 19, 1958, at 2:00 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

So far, the Senior Band includes the following on its program: The Dam Busters, march by Coates; Prelude To Faust, by Gounod; Hoopla, a piccolo solo by Morrissey and featuring Betty Rolloff on the piccolo; Ballet Egyptian by Bennett; Uncle Henry, march by Akers; Concerto No. 3, by Mozart, with Leslie Lueck playing the horn solo and Sandra Strate accompanying; Aire from Suite No. 3, by Bach; Carnival Variations, a trumpet trio with hand accompaniment and featuring John Holland on the baritone and Leslie Lueck as his accompanist; Connecticut Halftime, snare drum solo by Moore, with Tom Diedenhofen on the drums; and Billboard a march by Klohr.

Editorial

"Good Will"

Almost two thousand years ago in a little city called Bethlehem a woman named Mary and her husband Joseph were turned away as they sought refuge from the night. Mary, being heavy with child, could travel no longer, and the couple was forced to spend the night in a humble stable. That night Mary gave birth to a Child, Who, even as a youngster was to change the lives of millions of men and women.

The Christians say that Jesus, as the Child was named, was the Son of God, while others argue that He was a mere man who spread kindness through out the land. No matter what theory you accept as an individual, it cannot be denied that Jesus led a model life, lived by the Golden Rule, and never showed hate for his fellow man.

Is it so hard for us to "do likewise?" Is it so difficult to praise rather than to condemn, to help rather than to hinder? Is it so painful to lend a helping hand? It seems to take no effort to dance, to take part in sports, etc. But how many of us raise a helping hand — willingly — at home or school?

On that night so long ago, when the angels appeared on the night of Jesus' birth, the very first words spoken were, "Peace on earth, good will to men!" Our lives today are such a contradiction to the plea from the angels, because there is no peace, and so little good will among men.

Can we not remember those words of the angels all the year—not just at Christmas time?

An Alphabet For Christmas

Announcement (Misleading)

Several weeks ago an announcement was made over the loud speaker that anyone interested in an electronics demonstration should come to B2 immediately after school. Being very intent to see the demonstration, Miss Raverty hurried all the students out of her room and made haste to B2, only to find that there was no demonstration—yet; and that it was just Mr. Pfaender's way of getting people down there to help set up an electronic panorama of marvelous Minnesota for open house.

Daffynitions—

- Highbrows: someone who enjoys something until it becomes popular.
 - Loafer: someone who tries to make both week-ends meet.
 - Safety pin: a pair of homely legs.

Per Senior alities

by the Snoopers

One of Mr. Goertzen's Mighty Five, Darwin Wieland, better known as "Nooker" keeps in shape by working at Flandrau State Park. By the way "Nooker," Flandrau closes at 10 o'clock. Nooker's future ambition seems to be centered around the sea. Happy sailing to an ambitious lad.

* * * *

Don't try to argue with LaVonne "Boots", "Overshoes", Roenstad, because you'll never win, as all her debate and speech work has proven. In the summer you'll always find Bootsie on the tennis courts, where she has won about as many trophies, ribbons, and pins as she has in debate. Always ready for a good time, Boots' black Plymouth can be found buzzing around with a carload of kids. P.S. If you hear a squeak coming from the Swing Band, you know that Boots is there.

* * * *

The only Logophobe in the senior class, Richard Ring doesn't think college prep is worthwhile sitting through (Author note: Sometimes we wonder, too.) His past, present, and future seems to be Junior high band, senior high band, municipal band, and small ensembles. Physics and trig don't seem to baffle him, so we vote him to be one of the few to graduate in June.

* * * *

"Zombie!" "Mau-Mau" "Mogambi!" are just a few nicknames of Charles Bruce Lentz. Being leader of the Swing Band, he's succeeded in making little out of nothing. He is a fellow who always seems to say the wrong thing at the right time. His future ambition is trying to outgrow his habit of leaving notes in his books (mostly trig). Bruce has brown hair, 6'2", eyes of blue, and weighs 175 pounds. For further information call 1415.

* * * *

Tracy's contribution to our energetic senior class was Signe Lervaag. Playing cornet in the band, cheering for a certain basketball player, and falling out of the bleachers keeps her busy in her spare time. If you don't know what she looks like, at the next Teen-age dance look for the girl dressed in red and white and hugging the microphone.

If I Were Santa I Would Give-

1. Roger Altmann—two toothpicks to keep his eyes open during social class.
2. Mr. Goertzen—one of his own tests.
3. Wally Lueck—a box of pencils with his name on them.
4. Merle Frank—framed motto of "Speech is silver but silence is golden.
5. Wayne Luepke—a larger English workbook
6. Study hall teachers—a lounge chair
7. Mr. Pfaender—a doll—for artificial respiration.
8. Stan Lloyd—his own personal list of titles for college prep book reports.
9. Jeffrey Radke—an album for his pink, blue, and white slips.
10. Sandra Leske—something to do in her "spare" time.
11. Dianne Albrecht—a spud.
12. Mr. Tyrrell—a ball and chain for the kids who check out of study hall.
13. Special group of senior boys—a pair of ballet slippers (instead of Miss Mueller's).
14. Mr. Lynott—striped tardy slips.
15. Miss Westling—tranquilizers for the boys' home ec. class.
16. Mike Raftis—a couple of "new" steadies.
17. Mr. Armstead—a sound-proof room.
18. Tricia Lindemann, Rita Thill, and Judy Donahue, a waltz record.
19. Nancy Naumann—a place in the tenor section.
20. Lori Merwin—a pink motorcycle.
21. Sandra Strate—a ready-made biology workbook.
2. Ralph Menk—an alarm clock to wake him from his daydreams.
23. Mary Ellen Holm and Ralph Maidel—a pink cloud for them to float around on.
24. Mr. Zahn—speedy test corrector.

Cambria seems to be adding a lot to NUHS this year, in the form of David Edwards. Dave is the only guitar player who can make 27 different arrangements out of one chord. He practices by playing in the Swing Band. Someday Dave will probably be in the movies, for he certainly sees a lot of them. Dave will long be remembered for his stalling,—I mean long interesting little talks.

* * * *

Since when have you been helping Mr. Fier with the F.F.A., Norma? Monday night you'll find Norma Wellmann in G.A.A. where she is good at anything she tries. In fact, she's counting the days till bowling comes around so she can try for a perfect score. When you want to find her in a hurry, just look for Rog, but don't ask her about him, because all you'll get for an answer is a big, beautiful blush.

* * * *

Another one of last fall's football team was Co-captain Stanley Lloyd. Stan hails from the big town of Cambria; spends most of his leisure time practicing as one of Mr. Schroeder's "Pretty Boys". We wonder if Stan's future will be centered around farming, as we sometimes hear him being called "Donkey".

* * * *

Sandra Mueffelmans' interests all seem to be the same, "Punky", "Punky", and "Punky." With her beautiful long blond hair, Miffie would stand out in any crowd, and with her secretarial courses she should make a good private secretary. Hats off to our future Mrs. Minnesota.

* * * *

U! Rah! Rah! Come on Eagles! Yes, she is a cheerleader for NUHS. Charlene Martinka will be enjoying her Christmas vacation this year in Mexico. Charlene seems to enjoy traveling on her vacations. Right! Coming from a farm near St. George, Charlene's future plan is to attend Beauty School.

* * * *

A future "Pat Boone", Harry Stone practices in consumers by serenading Jeanie. Unfortunately for the senior girls at NUHS, Skip's only interest seems to be a certain girl at Mankato State. We wonder where the name Skip came from Was it skipping school, classes, or rope?

Snooping Around NUHS

What's Your Opinion?

In college prep class during a discussion of Bacon's essay "Of Marriage and the Single Life", Lavonne Roenstad and Dave Edwards were disagreeing as to whether a clergyman should be married or single. Lavonne made the remark "Do you feel it's necessary for a doctor to have had the mumps before he can treat them?"

Dave's answer was stated this way: "I fail to see what connection mumps has with marriage."

At this point Tom Diedenhofen jumped up and said, "That's easy. They're both contagious."

O-O-Ops, Pardon Me?

On the last day that Mr. Long, a student teacher in art, was here, he demonstrated to the class some ju jitsu holds, using Billy Weller as a partner. Mr. Long reached for the back of Bill's pants in an effort to throw him over his shoulder. With one flip of his hand he not only threw Bill down, but also put a sharp little tear in Bill's pants. Several minutes later a red-faced Bill was seen leaving the art room, holding his hand over the back of his pants.

Disturbing the Peace

The room was overcome with silence, the students were studying vigorously, and the clock was beating off the remaining minutes of the 3rd period study hall. Suddenly a loud snore was heard from the front of the room. Mr. Harman immediately went into action, writing out a traffic ticket which he thrust into the "eagerly?" awaiting hands of Dick Plaschaert, whose shoulder he had almost shaken off trying to awaken him.

Don't Overstock those Lockers!

I have come to the conclusion that the school should furnish a lounge for the poor overworked seniors and those students who come early. It appears there is no place for them to sit except in their lockers. Isn't that right, Marie Gehrke? Don't put on any weight!

Tops In Pops

By Lori Merwin

I purposely didn't write this column on Sunday afternoon so I could give the readers an account of the events which took place at the Kato Ballroom in Mankato on Sunday evening. Jerry Lee Lewis, singer who put out the records "Whole Lot of Shakin' Goin' On" and "Great Balls if Fire," was featured there.

Well, we went to Mankato, but we couldn't get in because my date was over nineteen.

We decided to return to New Ulm and go to the show, "The Helen Morgan Story," which I'm sure gave us more enjoyment than Mr. J. L. L. ever could have!

In the past month probably the biggest contributions to pop music were the two songs that rate as numbers one and two. Number two is "Ronchi", a fast moving instrumental which features a definite drum and guitar beat. The number one tune, "Peggy Sue," is really nothing new, but it took this area a while to "catch on" to it.

About for months ago I was watching Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts and saw a tall, dark-haired man sitting on a stool strumming away on his guitar, singing a ballad which he had written. He won the contest and appeared on Arthur's week-day show for the next week. This boy, with his smooth, sweet voice, and a dark lock of hair curving neatly on his forehead, sang his way into the hearts of thousands. His name, Jimmy Rogers; his tune, "Honey Comb." But Jimmy didn't stop with one hit. Evidence of this is seen in his present hit "Kisses Sweeter Than Wine" is a song rising in the platter polls before his last hit has even started to cool down. Jimmy's inspiration in all of his songs is his wife, who introduced him to Arthur and later took him to Godfrey's show.

Another change in the music field is Mr. Presley's album of Christmas Carols. Radio station, WCCO, has refused to play them, and the only one I've heard on WDGY is "I'll Be Home For Christmas." As far as religious Christmas songs go, I'd just as soon listen to Perry Como or Bing Crosby and leave "All Shook Up" and "Jailhouse Rock" for singers like Elvis. Speaking of "Jailhouse Rock," did you know that in the movie Elvis gets a crew-cut?

After seeing "The Helen Morgan Story," I wonder what older people think of when they talk about the "good old days." Well, maybe they were at that! The movie was a lot like, "I'll Cry Tomorrow," with Susan Hayward. By the way, the voice used in "The Helen Morgan Story" belongs to Gogi Grant, whose record of "The Wayward Wind" was a big smash last year.

Another success-and-failure movie is "The Joker is Wild", in which Frank Sinatra sings his latest, "All the Way." It's really a terrific movie; so realistic, that on the night we saw it, a girl fainted in a scene where Joe E. Lewis (played by Frank) was in the hospital after having his throat slashed.

The fifteenth of December, "The Rays" are appearing at the Kato. In case the name means nothing to you, they have a recording called, "Silhouettes."

"Elvis Presidenty"

Have you ever had the feeling that people are laughing at you? Ralph Menk has. In 6th period study hall one Friday Ralph was standing at the book shelves looking for a book when a roar of laughter was heard. After several minutes of laughter, Ralph noticed that someone was pointing to his back. He reached and pulled off a slip of paper which had a picture of a hound dog on it, and the inscription, "Elvis Presidenty".

Newsy Notes

Miss Treadwell spent Thanksgiving vacation in Chicago where she saw the musical "My Fair Lady".

Did you know that Mr. Baril has a twin brother, Jack? He is now in the army and is stationed in Germany. I wonder if he is able to speak the language as well as his brother.

Miss Kayser and Miss Steen spent Friday and Saturday of last week attending The National Council of Teachers of English which took place in Minneapolis.

The Name's the Same

During an important social test, Wally Lueck asked Mr. Gray how to spell Monroe Doctrine. Before he had a chance to answer, Glen Tanley called out "Just put down Marilyn".

Destination—junk yard

Richard Ring used his scientific mind and constructed a flying saucer. When asked about his project, his only remark was, "It flopped."

Eagles Beat Glencoe

The Eagle wrestlers edged Glencoe 26-25 at Glencoe Tuesday, November 26. Eagle captain, Pat Eckstein, clinched the match on a pin. Eckstein wrestled in the 175-pound weight class. Jerry Steinkopf, a transfer from Lake Crystal, won his match on a pin to make a successful debut. Rodney Nelson also showed talent as he pinned his man in 36 seconds. The "B" team lost 31-25 because it had to forfeit 3 weight classes.

Springfield Downs NU

After a hard-fought first quarter, Springfield came up with a 4-point margin over New Ulm, 13-9. Springfield never lost the lead and went on to win, 65-51, on November 29.

Midway in the second quarter the Eagles bounced back to within one point. However, Springfield came back and led 36-26.

Springfield rolled up a 9-point lead in the early part of the third quarter. New Ulm again came back and tied the game at 40-all. Springfield scored 6 points and went on to win, dominating New Ulm in the fourth quarter.

Gee Double A

For the past eight weeks a round robin of volley ball tournaments has been played. The captains of the two high teams are Dianne Dalweg and Valene Wieland.

A roller skating party was held December 3, at the Hillcrest Roller Rink. Each GAA member was allowed to bring a guest.

Two skating contests were held. One prize went to the best individual skater; a second was awarded to the outstanding waltz couple, Carol Maha and Betty Helseth.

Individual tournaments will be played for the coming three weeks. Each division will have a winner. After these have been chosen, they will compete against each other to determine the school champion.

Last year's winners of badminton were Jolene Gag, Kathy Herrick, and Judy Donahue. The winners of ping pong were La Vonne Roenstad, Audrey Mueller, and Lois Karl.

These tournaments will end before Christmas. After Christmas the girls will begin bowling.

Eagles Taken 34-20

The Tracy Scrappers took the New Ulm Eagle Wrestlers, 34-20, piling up six pins for thirty points and two ties for four points, on December 5.

New Ulm had two pins, one by co-captain Pat Eckstein, the other by Wayne Zehnder. The rest of the points were received by two decisions and two ties for the other 10 points.

The fastest pin was turned in by Schoer of Tracy, pinning Wallner in 43 seconds.

New Ulm Dumps Sleepy Eye 35-32

New Ulm's final rally in the last two minutes of the game, gave the Eagles their first victory of the '57-'58 season on November 26. It was the opening game for the Eagles, and marked what could be a successful season. It was an upset as far as predictions were concerned because of the veteran Sleepy Eye Team.

The score was never far apart as far as points were concerned. Sleepy Eye led most of the first half, but the Eagles jumped up to within 1 point at halftime.

Sleepy Eye's biggest lead came when Hauser, Anderson, and Drush sunk one without a return from the Eagles. The Eagles then closed the gap with 2 gifters by Kuester and a long one by John Hillmer and Wenzel Wiesner.

With two and one half minutes gone in the final period, Wieland got 2 baskets to put the Eagles into the lead. Then Hillmer added a gifter and Wiesner a long to give New Ulm a 30-28 lead. Hauser and Auren each got 1 to put Sleepy Eye ahead 32-30. Stolte, Eagle forward, added a rebound tip in and Green a free throw, to put New Ulm in the lead to stay. Wieland added a basket to end the scoring and give New Ulm a 35-32 victory.

Bombers Win

The junior Eagles also won their first game with a burst of scoring in the final half, 19-18. The Bombers led all the way with a 24-5 halftime lead. Ken Cordes and Lynn Thomas led the scoring with 8 and 7 respectively.

Ted Fritsche is explaining the structure of sentence to several members of the German I Class, including Gary Kleinsmith, Valene Wieland, Charles Wech and Lori Merwin.

NUHS Has German Class

For the first time in twelve years NUHS has a course in German. Mr. Baril, the instructor, has twelve members in his class. Miss Irene Fisher, the previous instructor, taught only a German II class in 1945.

Various activities are added to the class to make it more interesting. All work is not taken from the text books. The students have been working on interviews, memorizing poems, and songs, and listening to conversational records.

For the interviews the class was divided into groups of three. Two in each group were asked questions in German by the third member, such as their name, their age, their opinion of German class, and of NUHS. All answers were in German.

Songs and Records Add Interest
"Stille Nacht" (Silent Night) and "Tannenbaum" (Christmas tree) are two of the Christmas carols they have learned, in addition to the poem "Erkoenig", and "Die Lorelei" and "Du, du Liegst Mir Im Herzen," two other songs.

The conversational records they have been listening to are modern conversation in German. The purpose is to teach the students to be able to converse in German, not fluently, but enough to be understood.

FFA

Although adverse weather conditions have hampered the finishing of the chapter's corn plots, individual members have been busy in other fields of work.

Dayle Besemer won the district IV cow clipping contest held near Sleepy Eye on the George Weilage farm. He was chosen out of eight contestants for excellence of work and quick completion. Come January 16, he will compete in the state contest at the Minnesota University Farm.

The new watch on Fred Juni's arm is an award from the Pfister Corn Company for being the Minnesota Champion corn judge. There were almost 100 participants in the contest. Other members of the judging team were James Sievert and Wayne Luepke.

James Sievert, Fred Juni, and Allen Altman showed corn samples at the show. Sievert won a blue on his sample.

NUHS Has Pride In New Art Dept.

Potter's wheels, a dark room and a kiln are just a few of the things to be found in Mr. Marti's new art department.

NUHS is very proud of its new art department in the new wing. We have the honor of having one of the best equipped departments in the state of Minnesota.

Ceramics is perhaps the most popular phase of art work which is done in the department. The equipment in this field includes an ample supply of several kinds of clay, a great number of glazes, many tools and three potter's wheels.

A spray booth and sprayer are also included in the art room. The sprayer includes a blower to take care of any gases which may accumulate when spraying.

The high school art class has done a number of things this year. September found them working with ceramics. Paste work and opaque painting were the center of activity in October. November was spent working with spraying equipment and water color paints under the supervision of Mr. Lang, a student teacher.

Mr. Marti has complimented the art class by saying, "I am very pleased with the work done so far by the class, and I am looking forward to even better work in the future."

Varied Interests In Commercial Dept.

In the four divisions of the commercial department activities are varied and interesting.

The typing classes are working on centering letters, menus, and outlines. The Stenography II class is working on a filing unit of 4 kinds—geographical alphabetical, numerical and subjective. They have made colorful bulletin board displays.

The Stenography I class is working on shorthand theory and accuracy of writing. Mrs. Franklin has been giving timed writings along with reading practice to develop skill.

The Accounting class is at present concentrating on buying and selling of merchandise on account, which requires a detailed study of the five main types of journals used for business transactions.

Carolers Selected

The Carolers group has been selected; it includes Bruce Lentz, Dave Young, John Holland, and Leslie Lueck singing bass; and Dave Edwards, Mike Carrier, and Lynn Thomas singing tenor. The altos are Nancy Newton, Darlyne Barrett, Leah Moller, and Karen Bockus. The soprano section is made up of Karen Darlington, Sue Vogel-pohl, Signe Lervaag, Lori Merwin, Phyllis Larson, and Valene Wieland.

Under the direction of Mr. Ackermann and Bruce Lentz, the group will carol at the hospitals and at local business establishments during the holidays.

Two Girls Top Honor Roll

As the students of NUHS looked at the second six-weeks' period Senior High Honor Roll, two girls found their names at the top of the list in the straight "A" bracket. Those girls were Elizabeth Rolloff, senior and Darlyne Barrett, junior.

Other students on the honor roll were "A" average, Seniors: Marilyn Heller. Juniors: Phyllis Larson, Audrey Miller, Kay Parsons, Antony Rolloff. Sophomores: Janice Buggert, Ann Vogel. "B" Seniors: Carol Cordes, Diane Dalweg, Corrine Diedrick, Elaine Dourleyn, Janet Hedine, John Hillmer, Sandra Leske, Sharon Lindemann, Ralph Menk, Nancy Naumann, Karen Radloff, LaVonne Roenstad, and Lenore Schnobrich.

Juniors: Nancy Bottenfield, John Brandel, Judie Hoffmann, Gerald Schriefer, David Silcox.

Sophomores: Avis Borchert, Sharon Fiemeyer, Marsha Haber, Jean Hintz.

Where Quality Comes First

Shop

The smell of wood, the sound of saws, the scraping of sand paper, and the general working noises are the characteristics of the wood shop department. The senior boys are continuing their furniture projects, working on coffee tables, book cases, and the other items. The junior boys are also following along this line.

When a visitor enters the metal shop department, his attention is attracted to the many T.V. tables being made. These tables have in-laid tile tops which form a mosaic pattern of many colors. Later on, the metal department will do some metal painting, making ash trays, flower pot holders, and many other items.

Away We Go

"It won't be long now! In less than three weeks, December 20 at 3 o'clock to be exact, we'll be on our way."

These are just a few of the exclamations heard at the final meeting, December 8, to prepare the Holiday Tour to Mexico for their adventure south of the border.

Christmas evening dinner under the stars at Valles, a New Year's Eve party in Taxco, complete with dancing and fireworks, the sunset hour at the Pie de la Questa in Acapulco are just a few of the things the members are looking forward to in the land of song, sunshine and flowers. There are thirty-seven members in the tour under the leadership of Mr. Pfaender. They will travel in ten cars. Nancy Naumann is going in place of Jerry Schroeck.

University Program Scheduled Jan. 14

Modern magic with a musical background will be the basis of a University of Minnesota program on January 14 presented by Neil and Jeanne Foster.

Demonstrating sleight of hand artistry, expressing skill and mystery in pantomiming plus humor, these two will entertain.

Appearing in Paris, London, New York, Boston, Chicago and many different places, Neil and Jeanne have won international fame. They have appeared in nearly 2500 acts.

Grades 1-6 will see the performance at 11:00 and grades 7-12 at 12:38.

Miss Raverty: Will you discuss the paramecium?

Susan Reim: I don't know anything about it.

Miss Raverty: "Wake Up Little Susie."
