Five Select Groups to Sing At Annual Spring Concert

The annual spring vocal concert will be given to the public on Thursday, April 20, at 8 P.M., according to Mrs. Wiechert, NUHS choir director.

Tentative plans indicate that the various groups will perform a variety of numbers, ranging from a fugue, "Honor and Glory," by Bach, sung by the Select Chorus to "Row, Row, Row Your Boat," arranged by Wilson, and sung by the Girls' Glee Club.

The Bel Canto group will perform three selections: "Praise He the Lord in Heaven," "Let All My Life Be Music," and "Waltz of the Flowers," from the Nutcracker Suite by Tchaikowsky.

The Boys' Chorus will also sing three numbers: "Blessing, Glory and Wisdom," "Cool Water," and "Ol' Man River."

"To Thee We Sing," "Honor and Glory," "Jesus, Priceless Treasure," "My Hearts Desire," "Lollytoodum," with solos by Judy Lervaag and Karen Stevens, and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" will be sung by the Select Choir.

The Mixed Chorus will sing "Praise the Name of the Lord," "Climbing Up the Mountain," and "So's I Can Write My Name."

"Psalm 150," "All the Things You Are," and "Row, Row, Row Your Boat" will be sung by the Girls' Glee Club.

Plans for lighting, setting and other essentials have not yet been completed.

Twenty-two biology teachers from Minnesota were chosen to study under these science grants. The course will take five-weeks consisting of eight quarter hour's work in biology and zoology.

Diphtheria Shots Given To 9th, 12th

Of 149 eligible freshmen, 137 were immunized against diphtheria several weeks ago. Several more freshmen are expected to receive their shots at the nurse's office in the near future.

Of 134 seniors, 84 took advantage of the immunization.

Karen Seifert to be Exchange Student

School in Germany next year will be the experience of Karen Seifert, senior, who received official notification yesterday. This is part of the exchange plan with Ulm and Neu Ulm, Germany.

Karen will sail from New York August 25 and will be gone for the next school year. She undoubtedly will attend the same school as Claudia Konrad and Suzanne Zoller, exchange students now attending NUHS.

Karen also expects to live at Claudia's home, among others. The other exchange student is Connie Oldfield from DMLC.

Karl Preuss Selected To Attend Conference

Karl Preuss, chosen by the faculty, from a list of senior boys, will represent the local Rotary Club at the fifteenth Annual Young Men's Conference sponsored by the Rotary Club of St. Paul. Its purpose is to assist selected high school seniors in choosing their vocation and in planning the course of their future education. This year the conference will be held on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, April 23, 24, and 25.

The conference program will include a vocational interview with an expert in a field of the participant's choice, conducted tours through St. Paul industrial plants, a visit to the State Capitol, and other government buildings. The social highlight will be a dinner and dance on Monday evening with daughters of Rotarians.

Three NUHS Students On To Regional Meet

Three students will represent New Ulm in the regional declamation meet Oliva, April 11—Mike Good, original oratory; Myron Frisch, extemporaneous speaking; and Marni Gislason, manuscript reading. They were chosen at the District 10 Speech Contest here March 18.

Approximately 175 students competed in the district meet, with 16 winning the right to go to the region. New Ulm and Redwood Falls tied for first place, with three winners and three alternates each; Morgan took third place with three winners and one alternate.

The alternates from New Ulm are Randall Kroening, manuscript reading; Bill Macklin, humorous reading; and Roselyn Kahle, serious reading.

Forty people went out for declamation this year at NUHS. Coaching them were Mrs. Zahn, Miss Skeie, Mr. Jenson, and Mr. Oien.

Lt. Pike To Present "Safety Magic" Show

Lt. Pike, presently on leave from the Kent County Sheriff's Department, Grand Rapids, Michigan, will appear at NUHS, on April 18, to present his "Safety Magic" show. His program consists of a brief, fact-packed talk followed by a magic show in which each fact illustrates a point of good safety behavior.

The program will be sponsored by the Minnesota Peace Officers Association.

Year Book for 1961 Finishing Final Jobs

The designing of the cover by Karen Seifert, senior, is one of the last jobs to be done on the yearbook, the Eagle, before its scheduled printing on April 13.

After the printing, such tasks as proof reading and binding will follow. All this will take until sometime in May.

Some 500 Eagles will be distributed to students on the last day of school before examinations.

Annual Music Festival To Be Held At Sleepy Eye

Some 116 NUHS students will travel to Sleepy Eye High School April 15 to participate in the annual District Music Festival where both band and chorus will receive ratings.

NUHS One Act Play Advanced to State

New Ulm's one-act play received a rating of very good at the play festival Saturday at the University of Minnesota. There was no winner, but each school was rated from superior to poor. Three athletes were unable to attend the athletic banquet here Saturday. They were seniors Myron Frisch and Gerald Dannheim and junior Paul Marquardt.

"Hello Out There", the one act play under the direction of Miss Meeg-Anderson, advanced to the state and was presented on April 8 at 9:30 A.M. in Scott Hall at the University of Minnesota. Seven other schools besides New Ulm participated.

The cast, which included Myron Frisch, Zana Lundeen, Jerry Dannheim, Christine Oswald, Paul Marquardt and Mike Shay, presented the play in the District Ten One Act Play Festival on March 14 at Wabasso. Five schools participated in the district. The play advanced to the region and on March 21 won the region, in which four schools entered, and gained the right to go to state.

Mary Hillmer; and the mixed octet consisting of Steve Auferheide, Mike Young, LeRoy Schapekham, Tod Tillman, Judy Lervaag, Patty Peterson, Janette Maidl, and Carol Schmid.

EDITORIAL

The big word around NUHS now is PROM. A successful prom requires hard work, organization, time, and money. This then includes the complete co-operation of everyone involved. With all the money, time and effort spent, every one would think more people would want to enjoy prom night itself. For this many couples are needed.

So now the plea goes to the boys, juniors and seniors alike. Ask that girl you've been wanting to before it's too late. In this way you'll be assured of a good time with someone you know, someone who will help make the night more enjoyable and the prom a success. To make it more fun, why not double date?

Girls, too, must co-operate in this matter. Refusing several boys in the hope a certain boy will ask them means many times the lack of a date because that certain someone never will ask. Not only is it heartbreaking, but it's also improper etiquette.

Having a date for the prom should not mean necessarily that a couple will be going steady afterwards. There should be no such thought or obligation. A date for the prom merely means an invitation to an important event.

The more students that attend the prom, the more fun it will be.

Do You Have Organization?

Throughout the world there are many people who say, "I've worked on this thing for three hours. How come I don't understand it?" One of the main answers to this problem may be organization, which is something that many students lack. Many people don't believe in organization because they feel it takes too much time to do the organizing, but actually organizing saves time.

How many of us have done poorly in a test just because we failed to organize our time, work, or thought?

How should a student go about getting organized, though? In order to save time on daily work a student should check on how long his assignments are, how many he has and about how much time he should allow for each assignment. In tests, work in a similar manner. Check on the number of questions given, and the time given. From there a student should decide about how time to give to each question.

Neatness is another important element. A student should realize that working on scratch paper is fine, but not if it's so scratched up that the work can hardly be seen.

These are just a few hints that may help you. How many do you already practice?

Dear Diary: In biology (dear biology) we've been making food charts for the past week. Now Miss Raverty is checking them. I hope that in looking for proper nutrients she doesn't overlook the humor (or should I say idiocy?) to be found in some of them. I mean, Metrecal and a fizzie may be nutritionally proper, but you must admit, it does sound a little bit different. The charts verified the rumor that Jim Isenberg puts two tablespoons of sugar on his grapefruit. He claimed in defense that that's how he gets extra energy. I wonder what he needs extra energy for. Bill Macklin claimed on his chart that he's eaten bear before. This presented quite a problem, for he couldn't decide whether to include it under "food eaten" or "eating habits."

March 24

Dear Diary: In geometry we've been learning how to tell a square when we see one. But today Mr. Anderson revealed his trade secrets on how to take real advantage of state tournaments (no, Patty, not that kind of advantage). By the end of the period we had decided to hire senior starters from Edgerton, Duluth, and Roosevelt and start something like an all-star Demolay team. Upon Randy's suggestion it was established that the team would be called the "Job's Daughter's Trotters."

A gal who never seems to run out of pep is Carol Strate. She is active in G.A.A., tumbling, cheerleading, choir, the senior class play and modern dance. Besides all this, she still finds time for swimming, tennis and softball. Carol has a terrific sense of humor—succeeds in everything she does. (She dislikes Sunday afternoon.) Carol plans to become a physical education teacher.

Jerry Dullege's a guy who's bashful, he doesn't go here, he doesn't go there, but who cares, he's tall, dark, and handsome. Jerry's a police guy who's always willing to lend a helping hand. According to Jerry, he enjoys anything and everything. After graduation he plans to join the service.

Spring mean sbaseball for sportsminded Dennis Sperl. (Crack! Over the fence!) Spider, as his friends call him, also finds time, when not playing baseball, for hunting, and fishing; (wrestling during the winter.) His pet peeve is the senior boys who have it bad over the Trinity girls. After graduation Dennis plans to go on to school.

One of the senior guys who loves the outdoors is Larry Ballard. Hunting, fishing, and swimming are his favorites. He is an active member in band, intramural basketball, and track. You can always tell Larry by his slow-swinging walk. Larry is an easy-going guy—fun to be with. He intends to go to college at the University of Minnesota and then become an aeronautical engineer.

Roger Drill (Bit), as his friends call him, can always be heard singing as he walks down the street. (Not afraid to sing in public.) He especially enjoys swimming, roller skating, fishing, and basketball. Roger dislikes people who are always saying "brown!" (try pink) He intends to work here this summer and then on to the navy which he plans to make his career.

Our pretty Homecoming Queen Kathy Korslund is kept busy with her many activities. Kathy is active in band, choir, Bel Canto, swing band, G.A.A., modern dance, and class play. During her leisure time she enjoys reading, bowling and going out with a certain handsome athlete. Kathy dislikes people who don't eat. She particularly likes the color lavender. After graduation Kathy plans to attend the University of Minnesota.

There is never a dull moment around Janette Maidel, a cute senior gal. Janette is kept busy writing letters (service). She also enjoys sewing—can always find fun in whatever she does. Janette doesn't like certain stuck-up people. She is active in G.A.A., choir, Bel Canto, Glee Club, and mixed octette. After graduation she plans to work in New Ulm as a secretary.

April 3

Dear Diary: Guess what! For Easter I got a bunny for my very very own. I call him Hare Rudolph. He's really quite darling only he's got a raw-ther sizable appetite. Yesterday he ate our dog, and lately he's been eyeing my brother rather hungrily.

April 11

Dear Dairy: The students of Ding Dong School are becoming quite enthusiastic about our teacher's new ambition (missionary, remember?). Yesterday Schmitt Lloyd brought a package of palm tree seeds to school. I thought that was a rather nice gesture, especially since palm tree-seeds are quite hard to come by. Schmitt says his relatives sent them all the way from the dense interiors of Africa.

Literary efforts have also been donated to the cause. Harriet brought "Dialects of Uhubangbangi, Nomopokoponomopoko, and Other Such" by Jack Kerouac, and Randy (the little intellectual) brought "Native Girl" by Erskine Caldwell.

April 13

Dear Diary: I sure wish someone would tell Morrie that its spring, and he can turn off his heater now. . .

Don't just stand there, PICK UP THOSE STUDY FEET AND GET MARCHING

Seniority

by Rosie, Gail and Sandee

There must be a direct relation between this guy's warm colored hair and his cheerful personality. Known for his vibrant laugh and his humor, Bill Knopke nevertheless takes swimming and water-skiing quite seriously. Also seriously, he plans to attend the University next year.

"Are you nuts or something?" said Charlotte Gillick. If you hear this expression can be sure it came from this senior. Charlotte's favorite time-consumers are singing, dancing, and embroidering. For the future she plans to be occupied in the cities for certain, doing either private work in a household, or as a telephone operator, or a nurse.

A girl with domesticized interests is Avona Altmann, she has specific reasons for them. That is, she will be married soon after graduation. These interests include cooking, baking, collecting pictures and recipes, and serving. She also is attracted to old time music and dancing.

A friendly girl from Courtland is Sharon Hulke. Sherry names rollerskating and swimming as her favorite sports. She also has a fascinating interest in Trinity. This summer she plans to work and then possibly join the WAC's.

Jim Isenberg, more popularly known as "Bear," comes from Lafayette, and he quotes, "not the farm" so he's not one of those 'jacks.' His hobbies are playing cards and baseball. His pet peeve is girls who wear those long, green, ugly, 'nylons.' The Navy is coming up for Jim in the near future.

A cute newcomer to our school who hails from Essig is Helen Andrezcuk. She has a lovely collection of shells, which just about limits her hobbies, but she does like participating in sports. She says there's not much else to say about herself because there's not much to do in that 'big' town of Essig. In the future she plans on working in Milwaukee.

People who are so ignorant they don't even know how many keys there are on a piano is Patty Peterson's unusually interesting pet peeve. She doesn't say much else about herself, except that this summer she will be working in the cities taking 'judo' lessons! Watch out, she's stronger than she looks!

Someone who has a genuine interest in people is Bev Moll, which is proved by her taking psychology and wanting to go into the field of teaching. She is also a loyal fan at all our basketball games. She likes bowling, music, and sincere people, but who still have a sense of humor. After graduation she will go to Westmar College in Iowa.

If you someone with a camera around his neck, 9 chances out of 10 it's Mike Shay. His wide variety of other interests include bowling, dancing, golf, music, and studying psychology, girls, and food. Mike likes to see a person who can think for himself, and who can always stand on his own two feet. In the future he plans on studying at Gustavus Adolphus College.

A good drummer with a jolly personality is Mavis Larson. Interest-wise, it's music, bowling, beating away on the drums in band, participating in GAA and singing. After graduation Mavis plans on going to the U. of M.

Spring Has Sprung

by Karen Stevens

Spring has finally sprung, and I'm sure that most of us are happy about it.

With spring comes many different activities in which most of us participate in. But with spring also comes that horrible disease Spring Fever. Let's face it, no one can escape from it. Our doctors have been trying for years to find a cure for this dreaded disease, but so far they have not succeeded. There is nothing that can be done to halt the terrible epidemic which has already started. In fact, I have seen symptoms of it right here in our school!

Let's try and control this disease until June 1. After that we can really let loose.

Snooping Around NUHS

Wearin' of the Green

St. Patrick Day saw a leprechaun walking the halls at NUHS. Karen Schiller was attired in a green sweater, black skirt, green tights and black pointed shoes. A real tribute to the Irish!

Don't Take This Literally

Mary Lou Block was overheard saying, "Oh, I left my brains up in my locker!" Incidentally, those "brains" were merely drawings for biology.

Excellent Deduction, Watson

While talking about TV shows, Paul Marquardt quipped, "I just can't see The Invisible Man."

Those Democrats Are Everywhere

In fourth hour oral reports for English, Judy Brey gave a talk on one of President Eisenhower's trips to foreign countries.

During the President's travels through the mountains, the party encountered a donkey, which true to any donkey's stubborn nature, refused to get off the road.

At this timely moment, Jerry Lueck piped up, "Sure he's a Democrat."

Extra Sensory Perception

A few days before the semifinal game between New Ulm and Sanborn, Karl Preuss dreamed that the score was tied with a few seconds to play. Karl was then fouled and awarded two free throws. He missed the first but woke up before he took the second.

A few nights later Karl actually was in the same situation and, as we remember so well, made the free throw that gave NUHS the right to compete in the finals.

Speaking of Dreams

Claudia Konrad, exchange student from Germany, has been thinking in English for quite awhile. Recently she really found what an influence a new language has; she now dreams in English, too.

"Scents" in Common

While substituting for student body president Mike Young, Myron Frisch was showered with pennies.

Myron was heard muttering thoughtfully, "There's only one other animal I know of that throws a scent," (cent) Get it!

Experts on Communism

In first hour world history, Mr. Howell showed a film on Communism. To make it more interesting, he ran the film backward as well as forward.

When the group got back into their classroom, Mr. Howell announced, "Now you all know Communism backward and forward."

A Matter of Spelling

"What is your criticism of the opposite sex?" was the topic of a survey on the seniors taken by the psychology class.

One boy, stating his views bluntly, said, "I think they're just too dum."

One Person's Comment

It's rewarding to know that some of our young people read the editorials of daily newspapers.

In the March 28 edition of the New Ulm Daily Journal, Duane Sperl, junior at N.U. H.S., in a letter to the editor, expressed his views on the anti-Democratic editorials both before and after the campaign.

Trials and Tribulations of Cafeteria Help

Monday, March 6, the day of the blizzard, found Dave Gehrke and Al Alwin helping in the cafeteria.

Some of the smaller kids asked whether Dave and Al had clean hands.

Also— One kid said in mock wonder to Dave, "Where's your hair net?"

Wiesner, Wolf Share City's Outstanding Athlete Award

For the first time, two athletes were chosen to share the honor as the city's outstanding athlete award Saturday night at Turner Hall. Doug Wiesner of New Ulm High and Tom Wolf of Trinity were chosen as the best by the sponsoring New Ulm Club. The two were named by last year's outstanding athlete Gary Dallmann, formerly from Luther High. Allen Just, a mighty mouse at 5-4, was selected as Luther's best.

The presentations preceded Jesse Owens guest talk. The former world olympic star spoke not only to the athletes present, but also informed the parents of the big part they play in the role of the future United States' leaders.

Wiesner Tops in 3 Sports

Doug Wiesner, selected as New Ulm High's best as Wolf was for Trinity, has been a standout the last three years in both basketball and track and the last two years in football.

Among his honors won was being named to the all-district team and all-area team two years in a row for basketball. Last fall he was named to the all-district football team as an end. He played quarterback on offense, but was the right-end on defense.

To show his coordination, during the 1960 track year, Doug threw the shot-put left-hand and placed first when he was bothered by arm trouble. How many good shot-putters could do that? He also was on the relay team that went to state last spring. Among one of his achievements during the 1960 campaign was winning a total of 18 points! The highest possible total one man can win is 20!

Wolf gained most of his recognition during the last basketball year. He was chosen to the WCCO radio all-state team, as well as being selected all-conference and all-regional the last three years.

Just was Luther's playmaker in basketball and general leader in baseball and football.

Golf Has Nine Meet Schedule

Golf has a nine meet schedule for the 1961 year lined up. There will also be the South Central Conference meet here and the District 10 and Region III meets at Redwood Falls.

The squad lost two top golfers, but still looks for a pretty good season with some fine potential returning. Coach is James Blackstad.

Of the nine meets schedule for the Eagles putters, three of them involve Redwood Falls and three others are triangulars.

First meet is at Winthrop April 17, next Monday, with New Ulm, Redwood Falls and Winthrop taking part.

Intramural Spring Sports Draw Light Participation

New Ulm witnessed one of the least participated intramural programs in years this spring. The small turnout for wrestling forced the program to carry only junior high wrestling. And handball will not have a tourney as only four signed up. Volleyball was a five-team, single elimination with the Young's winning.

Team members were Mike Young, Jerry Dannheim, Steve Auferheide, Karl Preuss, Doug Wiesner, Chuck Wieland, Myron Frisch. Falk's squad finished second.

Because of only a number of interested boys from the junior high level, wrestling coach Clifton Anderson was forced into having only a junior high wrestling tourney.

The basketball intramural season closed with a total of about 55-60 boys taking part. The final standings had three teams out of the six tying for first with 4-1 marks. The winning teams were the Ballards, Falk's, and Marquardt's.

Table tennis playoffs are in the final stages with the four semi-finalists almost named. A field of 20 boys opened the ping-pong tourney.

Athletic director Thomas Pfaender stated that the tournaments had better finish quick, since almost all the boys will be unable to participate because of spring sports.

Last Minute Entry Wins State Bowling Tourney

A last minute entry in the state high school bowling tourney won this year's event, dethroning defending champ New Ulm. The winners, St. Bernard's of St. Paul, came down the last shift after a slight mix-up. Instead of sending the team all the way home without bowling, New Ulm's B team agreed to drop out and let the St. Paul team bowl in their place. The Eagle B team bowled two days later.

Final count for the winning St. Paul team was 2580. New Ulm's A team rolled a 2518. Both totals broke last year's record set by New Ulm.

Shay Individual Champ

New Ulm did gain the top individual game and series in Mike Shay, though. He rolled a 628, second best in the seven year tourney, with games of 234, 193 and 201. The 234 is also second best. Bussie Wagner of Springfield holds both the series and high single game records, both set in the tournament's first year. Totals were 664 and 255.

For the second straight year, New Ulm's two entrants in the boys division fared well. The B team rolled a 2336 count and finished seventh. There were 19 boys teams entered.

Girls' team champion was Gibbon with a 1890 total, also a new record. New Ulm's girls rolled a 1816 to finish second. Gibbon also had the top individual girl in Elizabeth Olson who hit 443, another record.

There were seven girls' teams entered.

The tourney was in question whether or not legal, after the Roosevelt High School elimination in the state basketball tourney, but sponsoring New Ulm Daily Journal checked again and made certain all was okay.

Credit should go to Don Brand, Journal sports editor, who gave a considerable amount of effort to the success of the tournament.

Tracksters, Baseballers Eye Hopeful Campaigns

A veteran unit of some 28 senior high boys greeted Coach Vern Zahn for baseball tryouts. The group can be labeled "veteran" because only one player was lost through graduation.

The unit of returnees will be gunning for another South Central Conference championship, and defend the co-title they earned last year.

Also, the squad will be out to avenge the opening lost in sub-district play last year.

Coach Zahn was pleased with the turnout, especially the 25 or so number of junior high boys. The total out for baseball excels 50. Also the great number assures Mr. Zahn that there will be a great amount of competition for starting positions.

It seems likely the fate of the Eagles will rest again on the mound staff. The power will be there, but the pitchers will have to come through. The same story was true last year. Mr. Senske assists.

New Ulm High School track prospects have already started conditioning for spring track and field competition. Many of the tracksters run a course of several miles every night after school. If the weather is not suitable for outside running, calisthenics are held, as well as running of the auditorium steps.

Coach Epp has 30 senior high prospects plus 26 from the junior high. Mr. Lee Hopfenspirger is the new track assistant, and will concentrate on the weights. Mr. Robert Voves will also assist in the coaching of the team.

Three Eagles All-District Or All-Area Team Members

Five players were unanimous choices for the all-district squad selected by the coaches and the New Ulm Daily Journal sports staff, March 13.

The five were Doug Wiesner of New Ulm; Chuck Lussenhop of Redwood Falls; Bob Gebhard of Lambertton and Miles Pabst and Gary Weedman of Sanborn. These five received the highest possible total ballots.

The second five consisted of Mike Young and Karl Preuss of New Ulm; Jack Stemm of Redwood Falls; Loren Redetzke of Echo and Mike Elwell of Fairfax. All are seniors except Elwell.

Another squad named was the all-area team. This included all teams within the media of the New Ulm Daily Journal. Wiesner was also selected to this squad as were Tom Wolf of N.U. Trinity and Gordon Kruse of N.U. Luther. Others named were Bob Bruggers and Don (Red) Zaske of Danube; Bob Gebhard of Lambertton; Mike Ward of Morgan; Miles Pabst and Gary Weedman of Sanborn; Steve Strommen of St. James; Chuck Lussenhop of Redwood Falls.

The all-area team was selected by the Journal sports staff, while coaches helped pick the all-tourney team for District 10. (The players eligible for the All-District 10 team had to be on one of the eighth quarter-finalists.)

Science Department Given New Portable Laboratory

Something new and different has been added to the Science Department, a portable lab. It is located in Mr. Novak's room and he will use it for science experiments and demonstrations.

The lab contains two tanks in the lower cabinet, one which is filled with water which can be pumped into the sink and the other tank, for drainage. The gas is provided by portable gas jets.

The portable lab has become a necessity because the present lab facilities are not adequate to take care of all the science classes.

The purchase of this lab enables Mr. Novak's class to perform experiments without having to switch rooms with another science class.

Because it is mobile, Mr. Novak will be able to move it around the room, thus enabling all students to watch the experiments. Also, in case of necessity, it may be moved to different rooms.

R. Davis, Cambria, Girl's Stater

Ruth Davis, a junior at NUHS and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davis of Cambria, has been chosen by the American Legion Auxiliary of Cambria as their representative to Girls' State which will be held at the state fairgrounds from June 8 to June 15. Just as all the other girls attending Girls' State, Ruth will participate in various assemblies, panel discussions and several other political activities which will help her to know more about Minnesota State government.

New Students Added To School Enrollment

Even at this late date, changes in the student body continue to take place. Five new junior and senior high students have joined NUHS this six weeks period. Three eighth graders, LeAnn Baack from Franklin Junior High in Mankato; and Cynthia Huber, and Marlys Krueger from Nicollet; one seventh grader, William Costello from Hibbing and one eleventh grader, Claudine Karsten from Mukwonago Union High School in Wisconsin have recently enrolled.

Doreen Hulke, an eighth grader, has gone to St. Paul to live.

Juniors Concentrating on Metal Hammers in Shop

Making metal hammers seems to be quite the rage as Roger Klossner, Melvin Alfred, and several other junior metal shop boys have made several of each. Roger made his metal hammer on the lathe. It was completed in about three weeks. He's now working on a smaller one. Melvin has already made two metal hammers on the lathe, spending about two weeks on each one. One hammer is large, while the other one is small.

Millard Pladsen, junior, removed the front and rear axles from a Model A Ford and brought them to school. He cut each of the axles in two, cut eight inches off of each piece, and welded both axles back together again. This made each axle sixteen inches shorter. These shortened axles he will use on a garden tractor which will also be made in metal shop. The tractor will have two transmissions—one for power and one for speed. These, in turn, will be geared with a nine-horse-power Wisconsin engine.
