Gary Kohn Receives Star Farmer Award

Gary Kohn, NUHS's FFA president was named District 12 star farmer at the annual meeting held Tuesday, May 1, at Eibner's.

He now advances to the regional star farmer contest. The regional and state winners will be named Sunday through Tuesday at the state convention on the St. Paul Campus of the University of Minnesota.

Greg Bieraugel, NUHS junior, was elected District 12 treasurer, and freshman Dennis Kral received a plaque for winning the FFA Creed Contest. The contest was for freshmen only.

NCTE Nominates Marnie Gislason

Marnie Gislason has been nominated for the annual Achievement Awards program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE).

For the fifth year, the Council is conducting the Awards program throughout the nation to grant recognition to outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English. The writing abilities and literary awareness of each nominee will be judged by local and state committees. NCTE will announce the winners in December, 1962, and will send their names to every U.S. college and university with the recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance. So far the recognition extended to superior students of English has encouraged in them continued effort in the area of English studies. The fine example provided by these talented young people has promoted greater interest among students at all levels.

Marnie will be required to take a series of tests and write a theme by May 15.

Students To Hear Prexy Candidates; Will Vote May 16

Time for elections! Campaign speeches by the candidates for student body president will be given at 8:45 a.m. on May 14. Then on May 16, after having two days to make their decision, the freshman, sophomores, and juniors will cast their votes for their candidate.

Today in ninth, tenth and eleventh grade home rooms the students nominated a list of possible candidates. The screening and final selection will be made by the Student Council.

The student body president should have average scholarship or better evidence ability to lead students desirably, be an effective speaker, be of good character, and have some interest in student activities.

The duties of the president are to preside over all assemblies, pep meetings, etc.; to be the official spokesman for students in expressing their wishes and desires relative to extra-curricular activities, to serve as chairman of all student council meetings; and to make an annual report of work in the student council.

NU Host To Little Ten

New Ulm was host to the Little Ten Conference on Wednesday, April 25. Mr. Lynott and Mr. Olsen attended this meeting at which a representative from Timac Company spoke to the group about teaching machines.

At this meeting, plans for a high school newspaper conference were discussed. As it stands now, the situation is indefinite as to whether to combine the annual high school yearbook conference with the newspaper conference or whether to alternate the two conferences every year.

Senior Girls Present Modern Dance Program

"Manhattan Towers," the modern dance program by the senior girls, was presented in a morning assembly and an evening public performance April 26.

Portraying life and moods in New York City, some of the scenes were "Broadway," "Chinatown," "Harlem," "Street Scene," and "Central Park." All of the dances were originated by the girls themselves.

Solos were performed by Mary Chambard, Pat Nehls, Sandra Mathiowetz, and Gloria Fesenmaier. Miss Mueller and practice teacher Miss Evelyn Bueg supervised this physical education project, while Gloria was the general chairman.

Commercial Student Attends Conference

JoAnn Hegler was selected by the faculty to attend the Economic Youth Conference in Minneapolis. The conference met Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 26, 27, and 28 at the Leamington Hotel in Minneapolis.

Representatives from New Ulm also included Ione Krzmarzick from Trinity and Kathy Raabe from Luther High School.

The conference included 250 students from the Upper Midwest. While at the Leamington Hotel, they heard various speakers speaking on banking, finance, attitude and goals. They also saw West Side Story.

NUHS Swing Band To Play At Olivia

The Twilighters, the NUHS Swing Band, have scheduled several activities during the next few weeks.

On May 12, the band will provide music for the annual Spring Dance at NUHS.

The group will travel to Olivia on May 19 to furnish music for the Olivia High School Prom.

Also, according to Mr. Iverson, plans are being made for the annual swing band party. It will be either a banquet and movie or dancing at the Kato Ballroom in Mankato.

120 Seniors To Graduate On May 31

Commencement exercises for 120 seniors will be held at 8:00 p.m. on May 31 in the school auditorium. Students who have maintained a scholastic record of "B" or above will be the first to receive their diplomas; the others will be presented in alphabetical order.

Guest speaker, Mr. Harry Reynolds, vice-president of Winona Monument Company, will speak on "Today is Tomorrow." Mr. Reynolds was formerly a college teacher and President of the State of Minnesota Parent and Teachers Association.

Mr. Frank Niemann, President of the Board of Education, will distribute the diplomas.

The 1962-63 high school band will play the Processional entitled "War March of the Priests." The Processional will be "Pomp and Circumstances." The 1961-62 band will play a selection entitled "Cumberland Gap." The various selections will be directed by Mr. Strang.

The select choir will sing "Sanctus" by Bach; "It's All Over Me," a Negro Spiritual; "Glory," by Remsky-Korsakov. The choir will be under the direction of Mrs. Thais Wiechert.

The flower decorated arches will be carried by four junior girls who will lead the seniors as they enter and leave the auditorium.

Local Attorneys Present Program

To show that under our system of government, the rights and liberties of individuals are protected by law, the Brown County Bar Association conducted mock trials at the courthouse on May 1 in observance of National Law Day.

NUHS seniors attended the morning program where Mr. Victor P. Reim acted as moderator and explained the various steps of the trial. Assistant County Attorney Richard Rodenberg and attorney Jack Minium tried the action with Judge Edward Nierengarten presiding over the case in which John F. Corbey acted as the only witness, and Chester Nelson was the court reporter. Mr. Carl Witt swore in the witness and the jurors.

Another program was presented the afternoon of the same day to seniors from DMLC and Holy Trinity Cathedral High School.

Senior Girl Receives Highest Music Rating

Of the 17 NUHS vocal and instrumental entries in the State-Regional Music Contest at Worthington April 27, three earned "A" ratings: Carl Knopke playing tenor sax, Joanne Erickson on the French horn, and Mary Kay Schmid on the bassoon. Joanne has the distinction of receiving the highest rating in the contest—99 out of 100 possible points.

Receiving "B" ratings were Kathy Bierbaum, flute solo; Gloria Epp, oboe and soprano solos; Lee Sather, baritone voice solo; Sharon Wellmann, clarinet solo; Greg Bieraugel, sousaphone solo; John Beecher, trumpet solo; Alan Schmucker, trombone solo; Judy Nickel, French horn solo; Judy Prah, soprano solo; Ronald Leach, trumpet solo; brass sextet; and woodwind quintet.

Steve Bushard received a "C".

EDITORIAL

On Prom

Attention Future Juniors:

Prom has probably received its greatest impetus the past two weeks. Each year the juniors plan and work hard to try to make this the very best Prom ever.

Along with the hard work comes every objection to some phases of the Prom. This year was no exception. Whether it was seating arrangements or entertainment, the juniors, seniors, and faculty just couldn't agree. One major problem this year again was the time. Somehow, we got interested in Prom activities just two weeks before the big event. Obviously, it was just too late to make any major change.

So, future juniors, this plea goes out to you: Next school year, tell your student council representatives your views on Prom in September. Don't feel reluctant to make drastic changes; they may be what we need.

Yes, there will be problems. Enough seating space at the banquet, sufficient dance attendance and suitable entertainment need to be considered.

Future juniors, it's going to be your prom, a successful one or not. Plan NOW to make it an event to remember NEXT year.

Seniors Invest In Popsicles

The end is drawing near. There are many clues pointing to this fact, but they perhaps are viewed with the most sentimentality by seniors. After thinking lightly about school-closing for eleven years, this year's seniors feel that every instance is extra-important.

For instance, during the noon hours everyone is out on the school lawn or enjoying trips downtown. It's only a guess, but probably more ice cream cones are sold during the month of May than any other month. This year high schoolers are even investing in popsicles, especially cherry-flavored!

Teachers certainly have helped to create the typical end-of-year scene. Tests come more frequently and chapters are rapidly breezed over. And even teachers are managing to find excuses for skipping school—taking students to special exams, touring other schools, or attending meetings.

Seniors have planned skip day and are now trying to keep it a secret. Don't underestimate the powers of the class of '62 in making it a success!

It will be strange to have someone take Lee's place, but Student Body President elections are coming up next week.

Soon cheerleading tryouts will be at hand.

The end is also near for school activities. The Student Council has a shindig planned for its finale, and the Swing Band is hoping for a picnic.

It is impossible for seniors to escape the signs that graduation is only three weeks away. Graduation announcements must be sent and parents are becoming nervous wrecks by worrying about receptions. Of course by this time everyone should have paid their three dollars for caps and gowns.

The end of the school year will be met with mixed emotions by everyone, especially seniors; but by noticing all the activities discontinuing for the summers, it seems that the year has really suffered a slow death.

Compliments Cost

"Compliments cost nothing." Yet on senior award night very few parents are present; maybe a handful of seniors, but hardly any underclassmen are there except the ones who have to play in the band concert before the awards are presented.

Senior award night is the climax of three years of hard work, in class work and extra-curricular activities. It is public recognition given to the outstanding seniors.

On this night seniors who have done much work in athletics are awarded letters or chevrons; trophies are presented to members of FFA for special achievements during their senior year; band and choir members receive recognition, and scholarships are presented to students with good scholastic records.

The climax of the evening is the announcement of the American Legion Award winners and the new members of the National Honor Society.

This is a night of great importance to the students honored, and it could be more important if more students, their families, and friends would attend.

Being FFA president keeps Gary Kohn busy, but he'll put all he has learned to use next year in running one of his father's farms. In his spare time Gary likes to bowl, work on his car, and spend time with his favorite gal. The only thing he really doesn't like is school.

Mike Good has really contributed a lot to the reputation of NUHS during his years here. He is consistently on the A honor roll. For two years he has gone to both the state declamation and debate tournaments. Another honor was being named a National Merit Scholarship finalist. Tennis, track, boys' chorus, and class play are among Mike's other activities. Mike will enter the University in the fall and plans to major in some field of science or mathematics.

Sheri Christensen has many favorite pastimes such as modern dance, water skiing, and a certain boy whose name we didn't quite catch. Sheri is really impressed with St. Cloud State Beauty School where she will enroll in the fall.

Drawing and reading are special interests of Jeanette Kraus, but she also likes outdoor sports. She is often on the honor roll, too. Jeanette is really kept busy around school this year with working in the cafeteria and helping in the guidance department. Next year Jeanette hopes to be employed as a secretary.

Morris Petersen is one of the lettermen in the senior class, participating in football, wrestling, track and choir. This year Morrie sang a solo in the district and also was in the class play. Morrie has made up his mind to go to the University and plans to major in business administration.

Petite Bev Brey is one of the NUHS twirlers, and she shares her ability by teaching a junior high class. Also a member of GAA and the "Graphos" staff, Bev enjoys swimming and other sports. Bev has been accepted into the practical nursing class at Union Hospital.

A major in physical education at Mankato State is what Patricia Nehls plans for next year. To prepare for this she has been active in tumbling, modern dance, and GAA. Pat especially dislikes being called "Mouse."

Singing in the state music contest was one of Steve Bushard's big accomplishments this year. He also is in band, track, and gymnastics and enjoys dancing. Steve's pet peeve is cars that won't run—his in particular. Mankato State will be Steve's home next year.

Being vice-president, Robert Knopke is often kept busy with Student Council work. "Tat," often confused with his twin, "Bud" is active in Boys' Chorus, Select Chorus, and sports, especially gymnastics and track. Tat enjoys the outdoors by taking canoe trips and swimming. Next year he will make his home on the University campus.

Versatile Cal Korth is known for never being serious. To prove it, he couldn't think of anything he liked for his pet peeve. Being senior class president, Cal runs all the business affairs. Cal is the outdoor type liking all sports, including boating. Cal, too, plans to attend the University after graduation.

Snooping Around NUHS

Mr. Voves: "Latin isn't hard. Just ask any Roman boy, if you can find one. In fact, I saw a few Roamin' boys around last night."

Sleepy Mr. Greenslit discussing the United States Judicial Department: "Then we try this court in a higher case."

If anyone needs a map of the geometry room, just ask Jim Hostelka. He's very well experienced because he belongs to the National Organization for the Location of Geometry Books.

An active Courtland 4-Her is Janet Schroeder. In addition, Janet enjoys Glee Club, GAA, Graphos work, and church choir. In her spare moments she likes to bowl and sew. People who think they're better than others are Janet's pet peeve. Right after graduation Janet intends to enroll at Mankato Commercial College.

Long dark hair is Marlys Wendinger's trademark. Marlys is often kept busy working on her father's farm. She also enjoys old-time dancing and cooking. Marly's pet peeve is people who talk about others. She plans to attend school in Rochester.

Sue Konakowitz is an avid member of the Polka Town Saddle Club; she also enjoys singing in the Glee Club. Kids who think they're all it—beware, you peeve Sue. Sue hopes to find a job in town after graduation.

Roger Burdorf is the outdoor type, liking hunting, fishing, and baseball. Rog also sings in the Boys' Chorus. The only thing he doesn't like is people who work for "brownie points." Basic training in the National Guard is on schedule for Rog.

Singing is Connie Muller's main objective in life; she's in Bel Canto, Glee Club, Select Chorus, and Girls' Octet. Lately it seems Connie has taken a great interest in letter writing; we haven't heard the receiver's name! 4-H work—sewing and bread baking—are great hobbies of Connie's. Connie will "take her needle in hand and—" at Methodist Kahler Hospital in Rochester come September.

One girl who is in everything is Mary Kay Schmid, better known as Katie. Her biggest accomplishment was getting an A on her bassoon solo at the state; she was also named Betty Crocker Homemaker. In addition to her school activities, Katie is active in church groups, Graphos, GAA, and speech work. She plans to major in homemaking at the University next year.

Dancing and going to the movies are Jolene Grothem's chief interests. Jolene thoroughly dislikes people who talk too much. After graduation Jolene plans to work and then go to beauty school.

It only takes one guess to name the senior girl of this description: tiny and blonde, blonde, blonde! Maxine Geisthardt, of course! She enjoys sports such as swimming, boat riding, roller and ice skating. Participating in modern dance and tumbling kept Max's after-school hours busy this year. Still unsure about the future, Max thinks she'll go to an IBM school in Minneapolis.

Driving around asking bearded men if they want to buy an island seems to keep Clyde Thomas in a good mood. This year he participated in intramural basketball and says that he "starred in Spotlight Playhouse." (That must be a private joke.) On June 3 Clyde will be leaving for the Navy.

Cheers!

These are the times that try men's souls. In the course of our nation's history the juniors of NUHS have rallied bravely whenever the rights of men have threatened. (Often they have rallied for their own rights as well.) Today a new crisis has arisen. The Metropolitan Society of American Mothers Against After-Prom Breakfasts—better known as the MSAM double-APB—is attempting to level a brandishing measure on the population in the form of hot dogs. Citizens, hear me out. THIS could happen to YOU!

to be sung: (ahem):

Let me tell you a story 'bout a gal named Fanny

On a night that was dreadfully dark. Right after the prom she went out to the breakfast

That she thought was at Flandrau Park.

But did she ever get a muffin? No she never got a muffin And her stuffin' is puffin' cause she didn't get a muffin

She may wait forever with her bat and softball—

She's the junior who didn't get a muffin.

Fanny's dog trots down to the Flandrau Beachhouse

Every day at quarter past three And into Fanny's mouth he pours a little Bosco

To make sure she gets her vitamin D. Because she never got a muffin No she never got a muffin And her stuffin' will be nuthin' if she doesn't get a muffin.

She may wait forever with her bat and softball

She's the junior who didn't get a muffin.

Now you juniors and seniors, don't you think it's a scandal—

—About the Breakfast Bare?

Fight the MSAM double-APB Vote for Betty Crocker!

Get some breakfast out to poor ol' Fan.

Or else she'll never get a muffin No, she'll never get a muffin—

She'll be huffin' and a puffin' if she doesn't get a muffin.

She may wait forever with her bat and softball—

She's the junior who didn't get a muffin

.....or even a wiener!

Sophomore Loopholes

by Jo, Jeanie, and Gretch

Hush, don't tell a soul about this. Be sure to keep this under your toupee until I can phone Hollywood. I've got the precious creature locked in room 315 with specially trained men, (window washers), guarding the windows. Mr. Anderson is simply wasting his abilities by trying to enlighten stupefied Sophomores to the mysteries of geometry.

So, you think I'm a little screwy in the head? Well, do allow me to defend myself. Don't you think anyone who can imitate bleary-eyed Juniors and Seniors at 6:15 the morning after Prom, deserves an Oscar?

Frog haters, grab your harpoons and SPCF (Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Frogs), gather your forces. Your beat is the halls of NUHS before Early Bird history. Any frogs seen hopping down the halls are your prey. But, please beware of a large one named "Croak, Croak" Howell, often seen accompanied by its partner in crime, "Chug-a-rug" Arnet. A turtle, though, is off limits to the Haters and the Society because it's Jane Fritsche.

We, the Sophomore students of NUHS, being in our dazed minds, do hereby, bequeath this column to the Minneapolis Star and Tribune.

Golfers Lose First Meet

New Ulm's golf team lost its first meet to Hutchinson April 27 by 14 strokes.

Individual scores for New Ulm were John Beecher-44, Al Schmucker-44, Brian Schmucker-45, Roger Schmid-47, and Bob Kerr-49. Total team points were New Ulm-229, Hutchinson-215.

Other team members are Jim Stanton, Dave Lohman, Chuck Shay, John Acker, and Perry Hendrichs.

Each week these boys play a round of golf to qualify for the coming meet. Thus the team of five may change from week to week. This makes it much more of a competitive sport than some think.

Those who have labeled the sport "pasture pool" have never played the game. This "pasture pool" demands a good deal of concentration and hard work to develop form and to just play the game.

Of the year's schedule there are nine games as follows:

Eagles Prepare For Season Play; Squad Is Green

The first game of the 1962 SCC baseball season was cancelled because of rain a week ago last Friday.

The cancellation may have been a lucky break for the green Eagles who have but one returning regular, third baseman, Duane Sperl. Rog Ring and John Zimmerman played on the squad last year, but were not starters.

Several spirited practices have led Coach Vern Zarn to believe that "with hard work, desire...and more hard work" the team could develop and become "much stronger, as the season progresses."

This year's pitching staff is made up of Dick Cordes, Chuck Raabe, John Zimmerman, Don Loose, and Ron Wieland.

Other squad members are Jim Babel, Dave Zahn, Richard Breu, Dave Stelljes, Roger Burdorf, Marty Vorwerk, David Janni, Cletus Janni, Wayne Stolt, Duane Leick, Steve Silcox, Jerome Blicke, Alan Fiemeyer, Wayne Jeske, and Steve Koeckeritz.

The schedule this year is as follows:

May 1	Glencoe	There	4:15
May 4	St. James	Here	4:30
May 8	Fairmont	There	4:30
May 11	Blue Earth	There	4:15
May 15	St. Peter	Here	7:30
May 18	Hutchinson	Here	7:30
May 21	Winthrop	Here	4:15

Girls Enjoy Basketball

Basketball is a sport that can be enjoyed by girls, too, and not only a spectator. For the past several weeks the GAA members have been playing basketball. It's been mostly practice so far, but this week the tournaments have actually begun. Now it will be determined which team is the best. Team captains are seniors: Kathy Bierbaum, Donna Hesse, and Karen Carstensen; juniors: Irene Frank, Jane Vogel-pohl, and Nancy Noyes; and sophomores: Dorothy Young, Anita Hesse, and Cathy Cordes.

Lots of luck, girls!!

Jimmies Squelch Eagles

St. James Saints rolled over the New Ulm Eagles here last Friday 8-0, aided by the two hit pitching of Bob Truman.

Scoring six runs in the second inning off lefty Dick Cordes, the Saints had a total of eight stolen bases.

In the fifth the Saints added the remaining two runs on a hit, two walks and an error.

The only two hits by the Eagles were those of Roger Ring in the first and Dave Zahn in the seventh.

Regular Jim Babel was relieved late in the game due to an injury he had received in practice.

FLASH

The Eagle nine won their first game at Fairmont 1-0, thanks to the no-hit pitching of lefty Dick Cordes. The Eagle run came when Rog Ring drove in Dan Loose on a solid base rap.

New Ulm's golf team scored a victory over St. James and Waseca Monday. Individual scores were Roger Schmid 38, John Beecher 39, Al Schmucker 40, and Brian Schmucker 41.

The score stood 3 to 2 with but an inning left to play.

And when Babel died at first and Vorwerk did the same

It was almost certain that our team would lose the game.

"But Cordes is up next!" the crowd began to shout.

"When big Dick gets up, he'll give that ball a clout!"

And then they checked their scorecards and were sure they'd lose this time.

For big Dick, the mighty pitcher, was batting .029.

NUHS Alumnus In South America As Missionary

Chillan, Chile, 260 miles south of Santiago will be the home of Carleton Morrison 1961 graduate of NUHS, as he carries on missionary work for the Church of Latter Day Saints.

He attended Brigham Young University from September to February, had several weeks of intensive training, and then left for South America.

"South America sure is a wonderful place. The climate and people are so different that it really is a thrill to be here," commented Carleton in a letter to Miss Kayser.

He would appreciate hearing from students at NUHS. His address is: Elder Carleton Morrison, Casilla 467, Chillan, Chile.

To demonstrate balance and muscular control to the Latin class, Jane Fritsche had Mr. Voves stand on one leg, put his arms out, and close his eyes. At that opportune moment, Linda Holland whipped out her camera and saved the scene for posterity. However, the class promised to surrender the negative, if they all got A's on the next test.

Thanks to the new tumbling belt, cheerleader Diane Nord has perfected the back flip. Watch for it the next time she twirls.

Liz Kuester was busy conversing with the neighbor behind her in typing class when Mr. Hopfenspirger took the hot lunch count. To get her attention, he called her name. "Well, I don't want lunch," said Liz.

"We don't force anyone to eat, I guess, but how 'bout pretending you're in class," replied Mr. Hopfenspirger.

School Memorial As Appreciation By Seniors Could Be Annual Event

Charles Copeland once said, "For the common man, the best memorial is some beneficent thing or function that shall bear his name."

We, the seniors of NUHS, too often do not show appreciation for everything offered us here.

Everyday for four years we have attended a clean, well equipped school and have been taught by first rate teachers. We enjoy many conveniences, such as a large library, cafeteria, and numerous social functions. In addition, we have a variety of extra-curricular activities to choose from.

FFA

NUHS's FFA Chapter produced three champions at the DeKalb Agricultural Association's corn production contest.

Gerald Fischer, Kenneth Fluegge, and John Albrecht were the 1st place winners in the contest judged largely on corn yields and not profit.

Albrecht yielded 104 bushels and profited $47 per acre; Fluegge, 102 bushels and $46; and Fischer, with 100 bushels and $42.

The contest was held last summer, with corn plot production records forwarded to the DeKalb, Illinois home office for judging.

New Ulm FFA participation was 20 members, reportedly the largest in the state.

America Represented In Three New Books By Vance Packard

Here is a brief listing of some of the recent additions to the NUHS library:

The three highly popular books by Vance Packard:

The Hidden Persuaders—tells us what makes us buy, believe, and vote the way we do.

The Status Seekers—an explanation of class behavior in America and the hidden barriers that affect all.

The Waste Makers—tells how waste has become a virtue in our lives—how the waste makers undermine our values, how they endanger our future—and what we can do about it.

A novel, Mila 18, by Uris, the author of Exodus, is an account based on the events in the Warsaw ghetto during the German occupation.

The Ugly American—stories of a certain group of Americans in Southeast Asia—their failures and heroism.

'Circus' Edition Brings Varied, Mixed Reaction

Bringing back memories of pleasant or unpleasant Graphos issues, our roving reporter heard the following remarks directed at the multi-colored CIRCUS edition:

Vivian Machau—(confused) I can't find the top!!

Liz Kuester—Oh, I think it's cute. It's something different for a change.

Andy Larson—Boy, you guys must have had a party when you were doing this!

Overheard passerby—(Confusedly turning the Graphos every which way) This is stupid!!!!

Duane Leick—You call this a paper???

Benny Pieser—It was wild!!! (Thank you for your contribution to humanity, Ben).

Connie Mueller—I couldn't figure out what I had just read.

Janet Schroeder—When I first looked at it, I liked it; but then, I TRIED to read it!!!

Anyway, dear readers, it was our way of proclaiming April Fool's Day. Whether it proved its point we've yet to know; it was just an experiment.

New York Setting For Annual Prom

'Top of the Sixes' with its sophisticated New York setting was the theme for the 1962 Junior-Senior Prom May 5.

The evening's activities began with the banquet at 6:30 in the cafeteria. Barbecued pork chops provided the main course of the menu. Table decorations included crepe-paper covered vases of apple blossoms.

Program After Menu

After the banquet John Beecher emceed the program. Speeches were given by Randall Kroening, junior class president; Cal Korth, senior class president; and Mr. Fjelstad, superintendent. Sophomores performing included: Geanie Stone in a pantomime selection from Music Man; Dorothy Young and Julie Pugmire with a Charleston number and Butch Burnett with a humorous monologue.

Dance Has Sophisticated Setting

The dance in the auditorium began with the Grand March led by Cal Korth, senior class president, Randall Kroening, junior class president, and their dates. Guy DeLeo and his orchestra provided the music. The skyline of New York City silhouetted against the evening dusk with foiled suspended stars completed the background effect. The orchestra performed in the left corner and small restaurant tables surrounding the dancing area completed the 'Top of the Sixes' restaurant effect. Plants, a water fountain and billboards contributed to an original and pleasing theme.

During the dance, the Juniors sponsored the movie 'Sergeants Three' at the New Ulm Theatre for those who did not wish to attend the dance. The dance ended at 1:00 a.m. Following this the Junior parents sponsored a party complete with Greenwich Village effects at Turner Hall.
