Six NU Speakers Win Region Berths

Two hundred seventy-five students from sixteen of the seventeen District 10 schools participated in the district speech contest here on March 16.

As a result of the local elimination contest March 1, sixteen NUHS participants were chosen to compete. Dr. T. D. Wood, former speech instructor here, and now of Mankato State, was the local judge.

The local winners were Sharon Hogfoss and LaDonna Peterson in serious interpretation; Andrea Schmid and Sandra Wood, storytelling; Mary Eyrich and Mike Stewart, humorous interpretation; Randall Kroening and Marni Gislason, original oratory; Sue Anderson and Janeen Onstine, extemporaneous reading; Jane Vogel and Gladys Neiman, non-original oratory; Charles Forsberg and John Schnobrich, extemporaneous speaking.

Six New Ulm High School students won top honors at the District 10 Speech Contest here Saturday, March 16. These six will advance to the regional Thursday, April 4 at Fairfax.

The winners include Randall Kroening in original oratory, Gladys Neiman and Jane Vogel in memorized oratory, Gregory Heille in discussion, Mike Stewart in humorous interpretation, and Janeen Onstine in manuscript reading.

Juniors Working On Coming Prom

This year, like all other years, the juniors are trying to out-do previous classes and put on the best Prom NUHS has ever had. Whether they will succeed or not will depend on their imagination and their ability to work.

The juniors are already knee-deep in work and have had committee meetings, ordered supplies, made patterns, and have drafted floor plans.

One change that has been made is that the banquet will not be held in the grade school as previously stated, but rather in the high school cafeteria.

So, until May 4, if the juniors look haggard, over-worked, and sleepy, don't worry—they're doing it only for the seniors.

Yearbook Salesmen 'Making the Rounds'

"Only one dollar, place your order now!" If you are in homerooms on Wednesday mornings, these are some familiar words spoken by the Eagle salesmen, Pat Knutson, Fathy Karg Alice Parrett, Jim Hensley, Jo Ann Miller, Irene Frank, Pam Schmeising, Myra Paulson, Nancy Reim, Joan Wallow, Selma and Velma Jones.

"Smile you're on Candid Camera."—This year there will be candid shots in the year book.

Mr. Marti remarked that the Eagle was moving along and that he hopes it will be an outstanding year book when completed.

FHA Progressing Slowly

FHA, or future Homemakers of America a new organization at NUHS, is at present a junior high group. It was formed to bring about a better understanding of homemaking.

At this time it is made up of 23 members. The president is Diana Bergstrom; and vice-president, Jane Halvorson.

FHA is a state organization; because this is its first year at NUHS progress has been slow.

The FHA girls, headed by Miss Stoppleman, have aided NUHS in such areas as serving for the FFA banquet and helping Mr. Oien with the District Speech Festival.

'Birdie' Rehearsals Hard But Fun

Rehearsals got under way for the senior class musical, "Bye, Bye Birdie," finding parts still vacant and lots of hard work lying ahead.

Juniors and sophomores have been recruited to help in the musical. They will fill in where extras are needed, mainly the teen chorus and adult parts. This act met with little enthusiasm from the seniors but unfortunately no more cast members could be found in the graduating class.

As in any play rehearsal, there are funny moments. Dave Zahn found the going tough trying to express his part. It came out, amusing to all, like this: "Har - VEY, Har - VEY, what ARE YOU doing?"

During one rehearsal, Diana Walth took her part and at stage directions a little too literally and added quite a humorous and embarrassing line. But due to the contents of this gem, it is impossible to print it because of circumstances beyond our control—mainly censorship.

But with characters like Jim Babel you can't expect too much more than utter chaos. His part, the mayor of Sweetapple, Ohio, turns out funnier every time he says it.

Of course, there are more serious moments. For instance, Mr. Jensen's complaints. One such complaint turned out rather humorous. Mr. Jensen was squacking about taxes when one of the cast members asked him, "Is this the first year you've earned over $600?" He didn't answer but we assume he has—detasseling corn or something.

It isn't as rambunctious as this article makes it seem. In fact, we accomplish quite a bit. I'm sure by performance time, that all kinks in production will be ironed out and it will be enjoyable to all.

There was another very serious occurrence. It seems that Mr. Jensen became so involved in his lecture that he broke his promise and delayed the cast until 9:02. However, the cast decided to forgive him if he promised to never let it happen again.

'Intrigue' Assembly Coming from U of M

"Assignment Foreign Intrigue," will be presented by Jack Walters on April 3, in NUHS auditorium, in a U of M assembly.

Walters' journalism career began as a copyboy for the "Philadelphia Inquirer." His career in foreign reporting began during World War II when he was a radio newscaster overseas.

In 1954 Walters traveled to Germany where he was named Bureau Chief and Roving Correspondant for the European Edition for the "Stars and Stripes." These assignments took him to North Africa and the Middle East.

With his many years of experience his University of Minnesota program, "Assignment Foreign Intrigue," should prove to be interesting.

A. Schmucker Selected To Attend Conference

Alan Schmucker, senior, was selected from a group of five finalists to attend the Young Men's Conference sponsored by the Rotary Club in St. Paul April 21, 22, 23. Steve Silcox was named alternate.

Alan will tour St. Paul's industrial plants, receive a vocational interview with a top-notch business or professional man, visit the state capitol, attend one of the regular meetings of the St. Paul Rotary where he will hear a challenging speaker, and be the guest at a dance given by daughters of St. Paul Rotarians, etc. He will stay at the home of a Rotarian.

Previous participants from NUHS were Lee Sather, Karl Preuss, Gerald Steinkopf, John Holland, and Lee Beecher.

Music Finalists Announced

Nine vocalists, twelve instrumental soloists and three groups, winners of the local music elimination contest, will represent NUHS at the district music festival, April 5.

Vocalists were Nancy Noyes, Sylvia Dethmers, and Marcheta Brandel, mezzo-soprano; Linda Haire and Judy Ann Prah, soprano; Jo Ellen Christiansen, contralto; and Henry Frisch, Greg Bieraugel and John Beecher, baritone.

Solo winners in the instrumental group were Carolyn Scheffler, oboe; Sue Anderson, Anita Hesse and Sharon Wellmann, Bb clarinet; Eileen Karl, alto sax; Carol Lindquist and Judy Epp, French horn; Mark Sather, trombone; Alan Lambrecht and James Matteson snare drums; Greg Bieraugel, bass; and Ronald Leach, trumpet.

Group winners were clarinet quintet—Sue Anderson, Sylvia Dethmers, John Aaker, Kathleen Meyer and Mary Eyrich; the brass sextet—Tom Noyes, Greg Heille, Carol Lindquist, Mark Sather, Roger Schmid and Donald Amundson; and clarinet quartet—Sharon Wellmann, Nancy Noyes, Anita Hesse and Penny Olson.

'Everyman' Takes First in District

By Jo Ellen Christiansen

"This play could become a maudlin sermon; in this cast's hands under intelligent and sensitive direction it was 'theatre' drama," was one of the comments of the judge about "Everyman", NUHS entrant in the one-act play contest, as it won first place, March 12 under the direction of Mrs. Carol Ackerson. The cast consisted of Richard Sund-strom, Butch Burnett, Janeen Onstine, Willis Runck, Dennis Kral, Zana Lundeen, Ron Leach, Nancy Noyes, and Janie Fritsche.

The play received an A rating and went to the regional at Hutchinson, Tuesday, March 19. There were seven schools represented at the contest.

At Hutchinson the play competed against three others from around the Region: Balaton, Dawson and Hutchinson. The contest was held in an auditorium specially built for drama and theatre arts. Although New Ulm again received an "A" rating, Hutch got an "A" also and was rated to go to the State contest on March 30. Willis Runck got the best actor award at the contest.

School Shorts

Recruiters Coming

Recruiters from the Army, Navy, and Air Force will visit NUHS on March 27 from 11 until 11:40 a.m.

They will spend a few minutes each, explaining the good points of their particular branch of the service to senior boys.

Teachers to Meet at Sleepy Eye

The spring meeting of the Brown County Education Association will be held at Sleepy Eye on Tuesday, April 16.

Easter Vacation Is Less Than A Month Away

A sure sign of spring—Easter vacation—is set for Thursday, April 11, to Tuesday, April 16.

Chances for Intramural Wrestling

Cliff Anderson, NUHS wrestling coach, has announced that intramural wrestling will take place March 20, 21 and 22. All boys in junior and senior high, except the members of the wrestling squads, are eligible to compete.

Classes To Have Student Teachers

Five student teachers will begin their stay at NUHS March 18, two from Gustavus and three from Mankato State.

From Mankato, March 18 to May 30, will be Miss Virginia Epple in art and English; Miss Peggy Reiner, English 10 and German; and Mr. David Ruthenbeck, English and social.

From Gustavus are, Miss Donna Mueller, junior high math; and Miss Carolyn Webster, algebra and geometry. They will be here a shorter time than the other three.

No Intramural Volleyball This Year

Mr. Pfaender has announced that no intramural volleyball will be held this year because the gyms will not be available for play. It is possible, however, that a handball and a ping pong tournament will be held later.

Visiting Band to Present Concert

The 60-piece Morris Band will perform March 26 at 2:30, in the auditorium. The Band is from the new branch of the University of Minnesota located in Morris, Minnesota. The student body will attend.

Outlook NUHS

Patter

Hip, Hip, Hooray!

This may be a first.
Then again it may not.
But whichever it is, we would like to give the Student Council, under the direction of Mr. Olson, a pat on the back.

Oh, before we go on, we would like you to take note of that phrase "under the direction of Mr. Olson." It used to read "under the control of Mr. Olson," and was a thorn in our editorial side. All that, however, is water over (or is it under?) the bridge.

Our first pat concerns the way the council has handled the bus ticket sales. Whether the increase in sales is due to the Council or to improved school spirit, we have not decided, but the Council certainly has played a large part and has done a good job.

The new Constitution also gets an editorial laurel. The Council now has become more of a voice of the student body. It has set down many rules and regulations that have needed setting down; and, although it does have the usual "whereas" and "therefore's" scattered in confusion and profusion throughout, it still speaks more plainly than many similar papers.

The Council's underclass members are about to rewrite, edit and re-illustrate the out-dated NUHS key-books. Until they finish we will make but one comment: it's about time.
J.W.B.

Snooping Around NUHS

The other day in College-Prep English Suzie Hoffmann was saying that she gave up chewing gum for lent. Dave Juni then popped up saying he gave up staying home.

Lonny Luepke asked Miss Kayser one day why he had to get his research theme done for a credit. Someone then asked him what he took college-prep for. Lonny replied, "Ask Mr. Ness, he's the one that stuck me here."

There's rumor going around that the mechanical arts drawing class will have some female members next year. Is that right, Zana and Patsy?

It surely doesn't pay to be absent-minded. If you don't believe me, just ask Tom Brandel. He had drawn up some plans, all measured exactly, for a project in junior metal shop. All of a sudden he couldn't find them. What had happened to them? He had welded them into a pipe. Better luck next time, Tom.

Mr. Epp will soon put out a call for all MEN to come out for track.

Mr. Werner reported one day, to two of his favorite "whipping posts" that his wife had beat him up one morning. "Yes," he said, "she beat me up by a half an hour, and that's unusual."

In art one day several students were looking out the window. Frantically Mr. Marti began screaming, "There's a man lying on the ground out there." Quickly Ed Maidl, Bob Schneider, and Jim Nado went out to rescue him. The man didn't cooperate, though. After much coaxing, he finally got up and walked away.

Question of the month: What did you give up for Lent?

Dorothy Osberg, from Courtland, says she is going to give up her hobby of stealing ash trays. Dorothy is planning to go to Minneapolis after graduation. She likes various sports, steak, brownies and olives.

Kathy "Kutz!" Holm had given up water skiing. Kathy is interested in a "55 Plymouth and ice fishing." Her pet peeve is people who crack their gum. Always smiling, Kutz says, "Don't forget to feed the little animals, Elaine."

"Watermelon" was Pauline "Gilly" Glick's reply. Gilly, who is an ardent candy eater, wants to be a telephone operator. Her pet peeve is people who cheat in tests!!! Pauline would like to thank all the kids who have helped her get through school. . . the easy way.

Larry Luepke has resolved to give up falling asleep in College Prep. Larry, whose favorite pastime is laughing at Ole Olson, loves Miss Raverty's French fried ants. After graduation, he'll be protecting us in the National Guard.

"Swimming, eating watermelon, and school," says Steve Lambrecht. Active in FFA and Graphos staff, Steve likes to eat sauerkraut but his pet peeve is "Poetry in Miss Brooks' class." Steve plans on going into the service next fall.

As three girls from the senior class were walking down the halls whistling at the boys in gym class, Mr. Voves accidentally turned the corner and asked if they had any other pastimes! !

Beware of a screaming little girl! One morning Zana Lundeen opened her locker and walked away from it for just a second. All of a sudden a girl went screaming down the steps. What was she screaming about? The wig Zana wore for the pep fest was hanging in her locker and apparently the little girl thought Zana had a body stashed away in her locker.

"Junior Jabber"

The Three Junior "J's"

Certain theories presented by E. W. Anderson in advanced algebra could be quite controversial! Why, the other day, he stated that if a boy and a girl were sitting on opposite ends of a davenport and the boy kept moving over halfway, theoretically he'd never reach his girlfriend. (Shocking!) However, Mr. Anderson hastily added, "Of course, he'd be close enough for all practical purposes!" Algebra can be romantic even!

We hear that one crisp, vigorous morning after an enthusiastic tournament game, Early Bird history was sleep-sitting (like sleep-walking, you know) in class mumbling a cheer that went something like this: WE want our sleep! We WANT our sleep! We want OUR sleep! We want our SLEEP! (done to the tune of John Brown's Body, that took talent!)

Then there's Jim Hensley, who experiments in chemistry to the tune of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Anyway, as soon as he got his hands on a little something-or-other peroxide, off he went, trying to bleach all hair in sight. Could it be maybe the fumes are getting him down?

Overheard: teacher to student: "Cheer up! You're not completely worthless; you can always serve as a bad example!"

"Not a thing," replies Roger Meyer, majoring in track. Rog is also interested in hunting, fishing, and dragging his car. His pet peeve is "people who mock a "good Olds'". After graduation, Rog plans on entering the Navy.

"I gave up nothing," says Velma Jones, a twin coming from Cambria. Velma is active in GAA, Class play, and band. She also likes horseback riding, ice skating, and all outdoor sports. She especially likes pizza but dislikes "people who know everything." After graduation, Velva plans on attending Mankato State.

"Swimming, and eating watermelon," is the answer coming from Jerome Scharbach. Jerry is interested in roller skating, hunting, and working on cars. He likes to eat roadted duck but dislikes "Rubber Jaws." Jerry plans to go to school or go into the service after graduation.

"Nothing," replies Mary Ann Bianchi, commuting to NUHS each day from St. George. Mary Ann likes sewing, cooking, and bowling and likes to eat pizza, spaghetti and meatballs. Her pet peeve is "people who chew with their mouths open." Mary Ann's plans for the future are as yet undecided.

"Lent, what's that?" is Nancy Noyes' startling reply. Nancy is active in the one-act play and all bands. She also likes to knit, but her pet peeve is "My friends" who sincerely believe in the sharing aspect of friendship. After graduation, Nancy plans on "going to the U of M and do fun things."

"Snacks between meals," replies Sharon Wellmann, active in swing band, pep band, marching band, concert band, select choir, Bel Canto, GAA, and German Club. Sharon also likes music, bowling, and sewing and likes to eat chicken. Her pet peeve is "nosey people." After graduation, Sharon plans on attending the University of Minnesota.

"Eating, but for something other than Lent," says Charlene "Charlie" Rolloff. "Charlie" is active in band, swing band, choir, Bel Canto, class play, church stuff, and other stuff. She is especially interested in "other" stuff. She likes to eat apples but had so many pet peeves that she is now raising them for other people. After graduation, Charlene is going to the U of M to see that Nancy doesn't do too many fun things.

"School work!" says Dan "Schmitty" Lloyd. Dan is active in football, band, choir and intramural basketball. He is also interested in music and collecting records. He likes to eat pizza and steak but dislikes "people who mock the 'Clydes'." After graduation, Dan plans on attending Mankato State.

When asked the question, Marlin Olson promptly replied, "homework." "Beater," as he is sometimes known, likes anything exciting, which naturally excludes college prep.

From Hanska comes the voice of Dwight Miller roaring out the reply, "studying." Dwight, who is active in various activities around school, says Diana Walth should wear her bumble bee sweater more often. After graduation, Dwight plans to attend college.

Cleo "Jo" Roberts replied, "I gave up [iving with my parents," in answer to the question of the month. You see Cleo has just recently moved to town from the farm but still works at the Cat 'n Fiddle. She is a member of GAA, Graphos staff, and the play committee. She likes all food but dislikes 4th and 5th hour study halls and a "certain group" of senior boys." After graduation, Cleo plans on attending Mankato State College.

Once upon a time there was a beautiful princess who went to school in a teeny weeny cottage at the edge of the forest. One day she was going to graduate, and so she had her picture taken (a natural reaction.) Then she had a whole bunch of little pictures made just like the big colored one she was giving to her prince in the Navy.

"Oh, may I have a picture of you?" cried all her friends. And this is what she wrote on the back:

"To a person who likes to have a good time. I will always remember you as one of my classmates. Stay as sweet as you are in the future. And may God bless you and keep you."

The Little Princess

After she had written about 5000 of these, she decided it was a big waste of time and so she just typed up a stencil and mimeographed 'em off, and no one ever knew the difference. But pretty soon everybody caught on and brought their pictures to the little princess and she changed the name at the bottom and ran off millions and nobody ever knew the difference.

And that's the story of how exchanging graduation pictures began.

Softies Speak

The question we asked certain sophomores was, "If you would be stranded on a desert island, what would you want along?"

Sandy Pfeiffer and Jean Raabe—big green erasers, so they can make fungus.

Lori Schroeck—a bunch of do-hickeys.

Steve Reinhart—his pet turtle Herbie along.

Gayle Schleuder—a box of milk pails.

Sylvia Dethmers replied, "I won't answer that because the last time I did, someone put it in the Graphos."

Penny Parsons—her big roly-poly lamb along.

Sharon Moll—the funny paper.

Linda Lou Haire—ruffles, bows and the like along.

Jane Gaut—a hammer, ladder and a scissors would be helpful.

Dennis Carstensen—a boat with a motor, a life raft and a ham radio. Also Girls! Girls! Girls!

GAA Bowlers End '63 Season

Senior High GAA bowling has concluded and the results are as follows: Top sophomore bowlers are Jane Gaut with a 138.3 average, and Judy Gruber, with 122. Best team average for sophomores in 98.7 for Jane Gaut's team, and 96 for Judy Groebner's team.

Top junior bowlers are Janet Kretsch, 135, and Karen Mack, 121. Jeanie Stone's team had a 109 average and Mary Hulke's, 105. Top senior bowlers are Joni Wallow with 145.5 and Mary Lee Gaut with 141.1. The best team efforts were Connie Wieland's with 124.7 and Mary Lee Gaut's with 121.1. Those girls making the all-star team are Joni Wallow, Mary Lee Gaut, Connie Wieland, Jane Gaut, Janet Kretsch, and Sharon Wellmann.

Now a unit on basketball is in progress. After a few weeks of practice, tournament games will be held.

Eagles Whip Fairmont

The New Ulm Eagles closed out the 1962-63 regular season with a 62-55 victory over the Fairmont Cardinals at Fairmont Friday, February 22.

The game marked the South Central Conference finale for both teams. The Eagles finished with a 6-4 league record and a season mark of nine wins and nine losses. Fairmont ended the season with a 7-3 SCC record and 13 wins and 5 losses for the season.

After a slow first quarter, New Ulm took a 27-20 halftime lead. The Cards kept coming back in the second half but were never able to catch up as the Eagles won 62-55.

New Ulm shot a good 41 per cent to only 29 per cent for Fairmont. Both teams had 20 field goals but the Eagles were really hot from the free throw line as they hit 22 of 25 free throws. Fairmont hit only 15 of 23.

Cagers Edged By Cardinals

Redwood Falls avenged an earlier one point loss as the Cardinals edged New Ulm 60-59 Tuesday, February 19, at Redwood.

The loss gave New Ulm a season record of eight wins and nine losses while Redwood won its fifth game against twelve losses. The Eagles travel to Fairmont Friday to close out the regular season.

The Cardinals went ahead quickly to take a 20-12 first quarter lead. New Ulm cut the deficit to three points at halftime but Redwood bounced back again in the third quarter to lead 51-43 going into the final period. The Eagles staged another rally but it fell short by a point as Redwood won 60-59.

The Eagles hit a fair 38 per cent of their field goal attempts as compared to 45 per cent for the Cardinals. New Ulm's offense was paced by Dave Stelljes with 16 points and Jim Magelssen with 15. The big hero for Redwood was Pat Waugh who scored 28 points and led the Cardinals in rebounds with 13.

New Ulm lost the B game 52-33 as Bruce Wiesner tallied nine for the losers.

Eagles Trounced By Sleepy Eye

The New Ulm Eagles were trounced 60-41 by Sleepy Eye in the consolation round of the District 10 tourney at Gustavus Saturday, March 9.

The loss gave New Ulm a season mark of 11-11 while Sleepy Eye finished with 19 wins and three losses.

New Ulm shot 32 per cent from the field compared to 48 per cent for Sleepy Eye. Harold Zarn scored 17 points for Sleepy Eye while Dean and Don Moll had 14 each. Dan Loose led New Ulm's offense with 12 points. Ron Wieland followed with five.

New Ulm Loses 51-48 to Tigers

The New Ulm Eagles failed to get by Springfield in the semifinals of the District 10 Tournament as they fell to the Tigers 51-48 at Gustavus Thursday, March 7.

Springfield took the opening lead and was ahead 25-21 at halftime. New Ulm had a good chance to catch up in the third quarter when Mike Davison was benched with four fouls and Mike Renner was taken out after injuring his leg. The Tigers boosted their lead however, to 37-30 going into the final period.

New Ulm staged a valiant rally in the fourth quarter and took the lead at 46 to 45 with about two minutes remaining. The Eagles couldn't hold on to their lead however, as the Tigers went ahead again to win 51-48.

Jim Magelssen had 25 points for New Ulm while Springfield's little Ricky Davison had 17.

Dan Devine To Speak At Banquet

University of Missouri's football coach, Dan Devine, will be the guest speaker Saturday, March 30, at the annual athletic banquet sponsored by the New Ulm Club.

Each year an outstanding athlete is picked from each of New Ulm's three high schools. Out of the three selected, one will be chosen as New Ulm's outstanding athlete of the year.

Guests of the New Ulm Club will consist of athletes in all sports from all three New Ulm High Schools.

The announcement of the All-City Athlete will be given by Duane Sperl, last year's winner.

Skipping to Attend Tourney Not Advised

The office is having a problem regarding the sale of tickets for the state basketball tournaments. Twenty-two students have signed up for tickets, whereas only seventeen are available. The office is doing its best to alleviate this situation.

As all know, the school policy is to accept no excuses for absences to attend the tournaments, unless approved by the office.

The senior members of the basketball squad will be allowed to attend the tournaments without penalty from the office, but anyone else caught skipping—WATCH OUT!

Eagle Wrestlers Finish Season with 3-8 Record

The New Ulm wrestling Eagles finished the season with a 3-8 record. They took a third in the district and fifth in the conference and sent one boy, Lester Keute, to the state.

All in all, coach Anderson noted an improvement during the year. The Eagles scored one more victory this year than last season.

Through graduation Mr. Anderson loses five boys: Steve Strate, Lester

New Ulm Tops Morton 44-39

The New Ulm Eagles won a trip to Gustavus as they defeated Morton 44-39 at Redwood Falls Monday, March 4.

The win followed a 78-66 victory over Echo last Thursday. The Eagles advanced with an 11-9 record while Morton ended the season with a 12-7 mark.

New Ulm led all the way and took a 12-8 first quarter lead. The Eagles turned back a second period rally by Morton to stay in front 22-15 at halftime. By the end of the third quarter Morton had cut the deficit to only two points but the Eagles surged ahead again to win 44-39.

New Ulm connected on a good 43 per cent of its field goal attempts while Morton hit only 27 per cent. Morton's scoring ace, John Hellie, scored 17 points, well below his average.

Top scorer for New Ulm was Al Schmucker with 12 points. The Eagles had excellent balance with Dave Stelljes scoring 11 and Dick Cordes and Jim Magelssen 10 each.

At an editorial conference the other day, the editors (who else is at an editorial conference?) were having an argument (they were throwing chairs) when we walked in. Words were being shot back and forth like a volley ball.

"Ah, yer fulla beans! A 'trounce' is worse than a trample."

"If you were any more fulla beans, they'd call you Campbell. A 'Trample' is four times as bad as a 'trounce.'"

"'Trample' is not worse; 'trounce' is."

"Trample."

"Trounce."

"Trample."

And at this they fell to blows. When the air had cleared and both editors had exhausted themselves, we decided to find out what was and had been going on. In our own perceptive way, we asked, "What are you idiots screaming about?"

We then got our answer. It seems that people reading the newspaper (especially the sports page) are confused as to what the headlines mean. For instance, one might read:

Eagles Trample Echo In Scoring Outburst

or
Eagles Trounce Comfrey Tech. and no one could tell what the rather indefinite words "trample" and "trounce" really mean. So to clear up this doubt and as a public service the Benchwarmer proudly presents

Headline Reading Can Be Fun

- Instructions on use of chart
- Note word in headline (the verb)
 - Check chart for probable score for that word.
 - Don't worry if you don't find it; the list is only a partial one.

Verb	Score	Notes
Skunk	47—0	(football and wrestling)
Overwhelm	39—2	(basketball but rarely)
Rout	38—10	(football and wrestling)
Roll Over	56—21	(basketball)
Trample	84—50	(basketball)
Trounce	85—51	(basketball)
Defeat	38—27	(general purpose headline)
Edge	38—35	(a real wild game)
Nose Out	36—34	(in horse races)
Squeak Past	21—20	(hand ball or ping pong)
Tie	96—96	(the wildest)

So the next time you see a headline on the sports page, try this little chart out. It's got a money-back guarantee.

The Book Nook

By Linda Haire

To Kill A Mockingbird is the book most people have read and everyone has an opinion about. This story, written by Harper Lee, won the Pulitzer Prize in 1961 and has been made into a much-talked about book. These are some of the comments made by students and teachers about this novel.

Marni Gislason—"I thought the story was really tremendous. Of course the style, with Scout telling the story, was very good. The big message in the book was segregation, and that was really something for a plot when that Negro was killed when he was really innocent."

After thinking a long time, Mr. Werner came out with, "A fantastically rich study of greed, jealousy, love, and hate." (Under pressure Mr. Werner admitted that he plagiarized book jacket blurbs sometimes.)

Miss Kayser enjoyed the characterizations of the father and daughter (Atticus and Scout) and Pike Atticus' philosophy.

Mr. Marti—"I enjoyed the book a great deal. It's written in a very personal manner; the writer has an intimate relationship with the reader. You get the feeling of being right with the woman who wrote it."

Sylvia Dethmers—"It was a good story and I liked it, but I don't think it had as much in it as everyone seemed to think. I mean, it was about segregation and all that but what did it really say about it? It just pointed up what we already know."

Jo Ellen Christiansen—"I didn't especially like the beginning of the book but the rest of it was very inspiring. The author did a very good job on description."

If you want to form your own opinion, the book is available at either of the libraries.

Concert Coming Band to Present 'The King and I'

"The King and I" by Rogers and Hammerstein will be one of the big numbers presented at the annual Spring Band Concert on March 31 at 8:00 p.m. in the New Ulm High School auditorium.

Other numbers the senior high band will play include the following: "Emblem of Unity" by Richards; "Il Signor Bruschino Overture" by Rossini; "Cha, Cha, Cha Band" by Osser; and "King Cotton" by Sousa. The senior high band is directed by Mr. Strang.

Under the direction of Mr. Iverson, the junior high band will present the following program: "Washington Park" by Laas; "Lectonia Overture" by Walters; "Toy Symphony" by Mozart; "Grand March" by Grundman; "Mexican Overture" by Issac; and "The Yankee Doodle Boy" by Erickson.

Everyone is invited to attend the concert.

The World Turns Green

Who Gobbled All The Shamrocks?

By Linda Haire

"Shamrocks, washerwomen, potatoes, kelly green. . ."

Nothing very inspiring there.

"In view of NUHS' Irish heritage. . ."

No - that would hardly fit.

Just how DO you begin a St. Patrick's Day feature? Furthermore, what in the blue-eyed world do you write it about?

At first, it seemed like such an easy assignment. We sat down to write with confidence that the words would flow effortlessly out the green tip of our little ball point pen.

Words flowed, but they were concerned exclusively with a bunny rabbit named Pat who had found a whole field of shamrocks and had joyously invited all his brothers and sisters, crying:

"Gobble all the shamrocks!
Yum yum! Smock smock!"

Somehow this seemed to lack something. In fact, the more we wrote about Pat Rabbit the more embarrassingly clear it became that we did not know what St. Patrick's

Style Show Planned Says Instructor

By Jo Ellen Christiansen

"Sewing" was the answer given when Miss Stoppleman was asked what the classes would be doing for the next four weeks, "and that's all."

A style show has been planned for May 6, after school, in the Little Theatre, with lunch being served by the cooking classes.

The seventh graders are sewing skirts; eighth graders, sports outfits and pajamas; and ninth graders are sewing cotton dresses.

In the foods classes the sophomores are on the unit of meat cookery and are working with a variety of meats. Next they will be on the poultry unit.

The juniors are on the salad unit. The seniors are working with foreign foods right now. Eight recipes were given for the girls to choose from. Each chose one and prepared it. Some of the foods being prepared are, Linzer Tort from Germany or Austria; Golden Braid of Benni (Bread) from Germany or Switzerland; and Apple Kuchen from Germany.

GREETINGS
to students of N.U.H.S. from the
Oswald Studio

Day was about.

With sweaty, inky hands and scrunched-up brow we strode to the library. One thing we could recall: St. Patrick had chased all the snakes out of Ireland. (Considering what Miss Raverty had told us in biology, this seemed rather unkind, but then St. Patrick had perhaps enjoyed quantities of rats and mice and things).

The encyclopedia was not really too much help. It went on about how St. Patrick had maybe come to Ireland in 442 (give or take 10 years) or possibly 100 years later. Then it went on to prove that St. Patrick had either been two people or, like Homer and Shakespeare, had probably not existed at all. It did not mention March 17.

After several sleepless nights, 78 pep pills, and 108 tranquilizers, we decided to leave it up to you. Two kettles of shamrock stew and a Blarney Stone kiss to the first one who tells us just what St. Patrick's Day is all about!

Twenty-one Girls Assisting Guidance Department, Office

Twenty-one girls from the business department took part in actual office experience helping out in the Guidance Department and the Principal's Office. Each girl was expected to schedule her work so as to give two hours a week to assist in the clerical duties of the office. So far most of the work has consisted of typing cards, transcribing letters, addressing envelopes, and a variety of duplicating assignments. One novel experience was contacting season ticket holders for the tournaments.

This work was a follow-up to the nature of work done in office machines and secretarial practice. As a special assignment these girls typed up about one hundred letters for the FFA.

Several girls—Irene Frank, Joan Brey, Kathy Karg, Elaine Alfred, and Mary Lee Gaut—have passed their 100 wpm dictation test for five minutes. Now they will work for their 120 wpm.

The beginning shorthand class has completed theory and is now working on skill-building through new-matter dictation.

The typing classes are using the contract system for job production. They're also trying to put their typing speeds ahead. Some experience on the electric typewriter will be given to students who first achieve a net typing speed of forty words a minute.
