

Mr. Harman Dedicates Award, Savings Bond

Mr. Joseph Harman, former coach and teacher at NUHS, announced that two awards, one for a "singing athlete" and the other for a graduating nurse, will be given annually in memory of his late wife, Viola Stroud Harman.

The Harman Award for the "athlete who sings" will be presented at NUHS, Cathedral High School, and Dr. Martin Luther High School. The recipient will receive a medal and his name will be engraved on a plaque which will remain the property of the school.

To receive the award the athlete must be a senior boy who has participated in one of the school's extracurricular vocal groups, he must have played varsity football and either basketball, baseball or track and he must have the highest scholastic rank of the boys meeting the first requirements.

* * *

The Viola Stroud Harman Memorial award consists of a $25 saving bond to be presented annually to a graduating practical nurse who has shown "great professional growth" during her period of training at the New Ulm School for practical nursing.

The awards have been set up for 15 years.

Art Classes Plan For Public Exhibit

Mr. Marti's art classes are again planning an art exhibit for the public, around May. The open-house will consist of puppet plans, drawings, sculptures and pottery.

One of the puppet performances that will be seen in "Bear, Bomb and Billboard" by the 7A puppeteers. The eighth grade art classes may possibly be showing their marionettes in a performance also.

The senior art class is now on "free planning" which deals with their own ideas and plans for one project in the field of art.

Class Play Committees Tentatively Chosen

Three performances bring to a dramatic close the work on the senior play, "Curtain Going Up." The play will be given April 21, 22 and 23; Thursday night will be primarily for the students of NUHS.

"All crews are tentative as of yet," said director Keith Schwager. Members of the announced crews are as follows: business - Therese Hirsch, Lowell Geisthardt, Jo Lowinske, Alan Budahn and Luvern Gulden; publicity - Sally Vogel, Pam Cordes, Pam Weise and Gay Lueck. The costume, stage and usherette crews have not been filled yet.

5 Girls Picked as Top Typists

Marlys Zupfer, Linda Hoffmann, Paulette Teig, Rita Mueller, and Jane Alwin were chosen as finalists in the typing contest held the week of February 23. Out of the 18 students that took part, these five had the best test results on two five-minute timings.

Their test papers have been sent to the Minneapolis School of Business to be judged.

From the hundreds of entries submitted by schools throughout Minnesota, 20 will be selected to participate in the state contest held in Minneapolis, April 23.

State contestants will be provided with an all-expense paid trip to Minneapolis and be guests at a banquet.

Various prizes such as trophies and typewriters will be awarded.

"We hope to make this an annual event," said Mr. Bruels. He would like any underclassmen interested in taking part in a typing contest next year to see him.

Spring Registration Is Busy Time

The Guidance office will have more than its usual flow of work this spring. Registration, which is usually finished by Easter, will start after Easter because of some courses that will be changed at the new high school.

There are plans for a meeting of the parents of juniors who plan on attending college. The meeting would be in May, but plans are tentative.

NUHS, one of the eight-five schools participating in the Study of Guidance Programs in Minnesota, will be visited by representatives sometime next month. Ten to thirty seniors will be selected at random to be tested and asked questions about the guidance system. Some teachers will also be tested.

Hopes are that things will slow down once we get to the new school.

Declam Winners Advance to Region

Two NUHS students earned regional trips in the District 10 declam contest here Saturday. Dave Schwartz and Barbara Reynolds will now compete in the Region 3 meet April 14 at Tracy.

Dave placed in extemporaneous speaking and Barb in original oratory. Other NU winners were Carol Hogfoss, first alternate in serious interpretation; Andy Schmid, second alternate in serious interpretation; and Roger Hippert, first alternate in discussion.

One hundred and seventyfive students participated in eight speaking divisions.

G. Wolf Chosen To Attend St. Paul Rotary Conference

George Wolf, student body vice president, has been selected by the faculty as NUHS representative at the St. Paul Rotary's Young Men's Conference on April 18, 19, 20. This all expense paid trip is given to "an outstanding senior boy with good leadership characteristics."

George will tour St. Paul's industrial plants, have a vocational interview with a business or professional man in any field that he chooses, pay a visit to the State Capitol, attend a dinner dance with the daughters of St. Paul Rotary at a regular St. Paul Club noon luncheon, and stay in the home of a St. Paul Rotarian.

Those who have been selected in previous years are Lee Sather - 1962, Alan Schmucker - 1963, Dan Loose - 1964, Henry Frisch - 1965.

Class Ring Style Chosen by Juniors

Today the Junior Class met with a representative of the Josten Company of Owatonna to choose the style for their 1967 class rings. The ring committee, consisting of the junior student council members, had picked out several styles, one of which was chosen by a popular vote. Any junior wishing to purchase a ring will order it at the local jeweler of his choice.

The rings will arrive sometime this summer.

Anderson, Gayla Lueck, Andrea Schmid, Janice Femrite, Myrene Jones, Robert Wieland, Jerry Erickson, and Sharon Albrecht. Their accompanists are Janice Femrite, Barbara Kleene and Judy Walston. The Chansonettes will also be performing that day.

Announcement

The school library is closing May 9. All books, magazines, and pamphlets have to be returned on this date and no more can be taken out. The reason for this request is that a great deal of work is ahead in order to prepare for moving of hundreds of books from this library to the new building. Please cooperate!

FIVE SENIORS and a sophomore girl will participate in the district music festival April 15 at Sleepy Eye. Soloists are, front, Janice Femrite and Gay Lueck; center, Andy Schmid and Sharon Albrecht and back, Myrene Jones and Cathy Anderson.

A number of NUHS Chemistry students have been interviewed as to their reactions to the CHEM Study program that was initiated in chemistry classes this year:

"I love the class, but my opinion hardly counts."

"Some of it's fun, but not all of it."

"Yes, I like it. It's different. It takes a while to know what's going on. I think it's one of the better chemistry courses because it teaches you practical things. Chemistry is always hard. This is a better course because it teaches through experimental evidence which the student collects."

I

"I like the experiments; they're fun."

"I think the class is hard, but the teacher makes up for it. He's just like us, as he proved by experiment 25 in first hour. I think the course is good because you go through life taking everything for granted and the CHEM Study explains why things are the way they are."

"We should have more experiments and less math."

Last summer Mr. Lovell, who teaches the new CHEM Study, went to South Dakota State in Brookings for eight weeks. The class went through the CHEM Study course, did all the experiments and problems and discussed the chapters in the text.

Mr. Lovell gave a description of CHEM Study: "Primarily it is an experimental science and is concerned with providing the basic principles and concepts of chemistry. It does not involve things like practical chemistry - how iron ore is smelted and this sort of thing."

"The experimental approach is to provide the student with the opportunity to discover these basic principles or concepts in the laboratory atmosphere where they were originally discovered. That is the ideal set-up."

"The students have had the most trouble with mathematics. And so the ideal is not fulfilled as well because discovery is involved in some mathematical investigation of the data achieved in the lab."

Mr. Lovell continues, "The difference between this course and the program previously used is in the discovery aspect of the course; traditional chemistry involved presentation of the principles as uncontested facts and the student then reaffirmed these facts in the lab. In other words he knew the outcome of the experiment before he started it."

Old Mold

Roman Rejach and his "Rafter Dusters," of KYSM radio fame have at long last been secured to play for the prom.

As usual this is to be a formal affair. Selection of "A Wild West Rodeo" as the theme was announced this morning. The main attraction will be the floor show between dances featuring "Wild Bill" Hickock and his Thirty-One Dancing Damsels. Gene Autrey has been booked to sing.

All prom-goers are requested to meet at Johnson Park from where they will be escorted to the high school in haywagons. Hook 'em Cowpunchers have been secured to accompany the wagons.

Upon their arrival the guests and hosts will be herded into the corral (formerly the auditorium lobby). The auditorium and gymnasium will be decorated to represent a typical rance at round up time. Improvised stalls are to be built to house the calves donated by South St. Paul Stockyards. One million bales of hay for decorating purposes have been ordered. The Pullman Lumber Company has been contracted for the barbed wire fence to be used to surround the gym. Camp fires will furnish the heat and light.

The following menu has been selected by the banquet committee: Prune Juice, Oxtail Soup, Beans a la Burp with Peppermint Sauce, Pimento Stuffed Sardines, and Surprise Dessert.

WAG

Seniors, rejoice - but first, answer this question! What is it you want most out of graduation? Prestige, a feeling of accomplishment, (or, if you're like the rest of us, and sit here longing for more transient, material things) - money, for example. Well, if this is the case (and we don't doubt that it is), then do not, repeat, DO NOT go about asking for presents and gifts in the same archaic manner which has been used for eons. Think young. After all, you're in the "Pepsi Generation." We've developed a new device for our annual commencement beginning. Listen to this:

Two, Four, Six, Eight
I am gonna graduate
Here's a cheery note to say
Here comes Graduation Day
It's now a mere three months away.
Send Money !!!

Now, isn't this much more practical than sending out announcements; hinting around that it might be nice if you received a gift - even though the recipient of the announcement is probably an old relative of the family, someone old and rich and lonely who's been buried in the closet for centuries - someone whom you've never even met. Then, of course, if the individual does decide to send you a gift, you run the risk of getting a set of crocheted dollies - this is a blow, especially if you happen to be a boy.

Well, seniors - one and all - fear no more. Utilize this handy little poem. Enclose it in a card, or paste it on a post card. Then rest (and grow wealthier) in peace.

← Heap of the Month

By JOHN GAREIS

First off, I would like to thank the voters for using a petition this month, rather than individual votes. It's so much easier to clean my locker.

This month's battle for the heap was a close race until a list of over 100 loyal fans gave the "honor(?)" to George Marti's Jeep. George's Jeep is one of the more unique heaps, what with its four-wheel drive and outdoors look. The Jeep has seen duty along various lines, from getting the Marti guys to and from school, to carrying canoes.

A word of encouragement to all those who voted for "Red" Stolt's car; keep up the good work, and we'll see you all next month.

Eagle Feathers

Rog Zahn, virtually the most unappreciated athlete in New Ulm, finally got the recognition he deserved Saturday night at the city athletic banquet at Turner Hall. Rog was named New Ulm Athlete of the Year.

* * *

The heroic deeds of this 5-10 senior were finally recognized after Rog was ignored by local fans and press all year long. Poor support of the basketball team may still have had an effect on Rog, although he led the Eagles with a 17 point average this winter.

It's hard to believe that Rog wasn't among the top area cagers this season. But he wasn't included in any of the players-of-the-week selections of the local paper and he was almost lost in the depths of the second team of the all-area basketball squad.

It's about time that the public gave real recognition to New Ulm's greatest athlete.

Spring Sports Swing Into Action

Baseball ***

"This is a rebuilding year," declared Coach Jim Senske in regard to the '66 baseball season. The opener is tentatively scheduled for Thursday at Sleepy Eye.

Six regulars were lost last year through graduation with four lettermen back this spring - Rog Zahn, pitcher-first baseman; Jerry Pagel, centerfield; Steve Bloedel, catcher - outfielder and Pat Stewart, infielder.

Juniors bidding for starting positions include Mike Leach, Dan Odegard and Rex Stromquist. Sophomore prospects are Doug Spelbrink, Mark Dyre and Craig Shavlik.

As usual, Mr. Senske was reluctant to make any pre-season predictions for his squad, although he expressed hopes for another .500 campaign. The Eagles finished 13-3 last year, bowing to Springfield 3-2 in the district finals in their last game.

Track ***

The tracksters opened their season Monday with an indoor conference meet at Mankato State. The first meet under the sun will be a triangular clash with Morgan and Springfield April 26 at Johnson Field.

Coach Bill Greenslit's squad consists primarily of sophs - although five of the six returning regulars are seniors. Out of a total of 37 team hopefuls, 22 are sophomores, eight are juniors and seven are seniors.

Top team members include high jumping Chuck Strate, pole vaulting George Wolf, "dashing" Bob Bieraugel, low hurdling George Marti, distance running John Gareis and Middle distance running Craig Steenberg, the lone junior.

Mr. Greenslit indicated weaknesses in the weight classes, hurdles and dashes. Middle distance running, high jumping and pole vaulting appear to be well equipped.

Tennis ***

All regulars are back on the tennis team but the netmen have a new coach in Mr. John Hendrickson.

The '65 squad finished close to the .500 mark, and this year's prospects look even better. Among returning players are Dave Schwartz, Jim Johnson, Ron Huhn, Tom Romberg and Bob Mangen.

Other squad members include John Mueller, Mike Rolloff, Eric Forsberg, Bill Costello and Scott Nordwall. The outlook for future years appears good with a large number of underclass and junior high members.

Golf

Golf prospects are good this year, according to Coach Dick Werdahl. The linkmen, who finished 8-1 last spring, have three returnees from the '65 district champion squad plus some good prospects in junior high.

Senior high team members include Keith Cunningham, Perry Hendricks, Steve Kramer, Bill Koeckeritz and Bob Burns.

The golfers swing into action April 19 at Redwood Falls. Their schedule this year consists of 10 matches followed by the conference meet at Waseca and the district meet at Springfield.

★ ★ Eagle Eye ★ ★

By Bob

To Jim Schiller, football is the most demanding as well as rewarding sport. "Stump" played last fall on Mr. Varpness' grid squad as an offensive end.

A center on the basketball team, Jim saw only limited action on the courts last winter, but his dedicated attitude provided the Eagles with depth and spirit.

Jim maintains that the cagers should do a lot of winning next season because the Eagles have "good prospects and lots of young talent." He conservatively predicted a regional trip for the roundballers.

Jim, an honor roll student, is active in band and choir in addition to athletics.

Although one of the smallest athletes at NUHS, senior George Wolf measures up well when it comes to ability and versatility in sports. Size (5-4, 120 lbs.) hasn't been a detriment to this all-around athlete, who was a starting halfback on the grid squad last fall.

"Oofie" flies high during the winter months, competing on the high bar and parallel bars in gymnastics. George copped first place at the regional meet last year on the high bar, and swung to second this year to help Mr. Schmidt's boys bring home the regional championship.

George is also a top member of the track team. He placed third at the district and conference meets last spring in the pole vault.

A top college prospect, George hopes to continue participation in gymnastics and track next fall.

Rescheduled Vocal Concert To Feature Chansonettes

Originally planned for April 3, the spring vocal concert has been rescheduled for May 1. The usual groups will be performing, with an added attraction - the newly-formed Chansonettes.

Selections are, tentatively, the following: Select Choir - "Hold My Mule," "Evening Serenade," "Done Caught a Rabbit," and "The Star-Spangled Banner;" Bel Canto - "Waltz of the Flowers," "Steal Away," and "A Maiden by the Sea;" Boys' Chorus - "A-Roving," "Climb Every Mountain," and "Blind Plowman;" Choral

Club - "O Spirit Who From Jesus Came," "This Train," and "Grant Us To Do With Zeal;" Chansonettes - "Bach, By Jove," "Praise Ye the Name of the Lord," and "Air."

From the junior high will be the Freshman Choir singing "Cherubim Song," "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands," and "Charlottetown."

'67 'Graphos' Editor Chosen

Graphos editor for 1966-67 will be Jane Halverson, junior.

Jane, who will be assisted by three or four others in key positions, plans to major in journalism and home economics in college.

The names of the others will be announced within the next few weeks. All are members of the present journalism class.

Jane and others are assisting the present staff in preparation of the Graphos, serving sort of an apprenticeship. The last issue of the year, June 3, will be prepared entirely by next year's staff.

AEC Program Given at NU

Harnessing nuclear energy for electric power, and using radioisotopes to learn about life were just part of the program on "This Atomic World" presented to the NUHS student body on April 5.

Presented by Bruce Getchell of the AEC installation at Oak Ridge, Tenn., the program consisted of a demonstration lecture on the basic principles of nuclear energy, its sources and role in industry, agriculture and medicine.

During the day Mr. Getchell gave a blackboard talk to all the chemistry and physics classes. These discussions dealt specifically with topics such as atomic structure, radioactivity, radiation biology and careers in nuclear science.

The assembly was part of a nationwide exhibits program for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Juniors Toil Over Prom Preparations

"Attention all juniors! There will be a Prom committee meeting this noon at 12:40 in room 101. Please be there."

This has become the battle cry of the junior-senior Prom committee chairman the past few weeks and will be for the weeks to come.

Now that the theme has been chosen, the decoration committee is planning and working to carry out the theme to its fullest. As of now the juniors refuse to divulge the theme to outsiders - seniors.

The program and invitation committees are in the process of ordering the materials they will use.

The food committee has been in touch with the Tropicana supper club and a smorgasbord is planned.

There is a lot of work yet to be done, but the juniors plan to be finished by May 7, Prom night.

4 MSC Students To Practice Teach

The NUHS faculty has been increased by four new student teachers. The teachers, hailing from Mankato State College, came Thursday, March 31, to set up their schedules. The teachers are Sonja Johnson, home economics; Robert Schmitt, art and geography; Douglas Fagerhaugh, seventh and eighth grade music; and Claudia Pierce, English and Speech.

They are returning to begin their work.

Lost and Found Up For Grabs As Journalism Sponsors Auction

Mr. Epp's famous State Tournament Contest was won by Bill Koeckeritz. Bill guessed right on each game and won 50 cents, to be spent on a hamburger and shake. However, Bill came through again and got a 50 cent parking ticket while eating. Better luck next year.

One day in band, Mr. Strang said a certain phrase should be played with gusto. From the back of the room you could hear a familiar chant, "Real gusto in a great, light —!" Hairy Teeth by Mr. Trapp going to sue Mr. Trapp for endorsing their product as tooth paste. He used their product twice in one morning - by mistake, we hope.

During a swing band rehearsal Betty Christianson claimed she couldn't sing sexy. Somone suggested giving her free lessons.

The men's lounge received a CARE package containing 6 candy bars, from Miss Rubis's seventh hour study hall.

It is reported that Mr. Voves's room was newly decorated in shades of off-white for April Fool's Day.

Seniors Rollick Into Play Last Weeks of Rehearsal

As the Senior Class Play, "Curtain Going Up," moves into its last three weeks of rehearsal, the cast believes that there is just as much excitement off stage as on.

Even though having rehearsal every day of Easter vacation seemed disheartening at first, John Gareis added a bit of humor to the situation; for example, there are John's magnificent entrances. Being late for a cue, John gallops in and slips on a pencil. He was a little disgruntled over his bruised derriere.

Three of the cast members - Tom Romberg, Loren Jones, and Cathy Anderson - find it necessary to do a few warming-up exercises before rehearsal. Some of their favorites are jumping jacks, push-ups, and "gut busters." The latter is a local term for "tummy trimmers."

Mr. Schwager got in on some of the excitement when the cast inquired if they should hire someone to hold idiot cards in the front row. He answered, "What do you mean, cards?"

If it's true that fun makes one work harder, the Senior Class Play is headed in the right direction.

Home Ec. Blooms Into Spring Fashion

The gay colors of spring will be present as the girls of Mrs. Lund's home ec. classes once again bring forth their fashions in the Spring Fashion Show.

The fashion show is set for May 4, when 115 girls from grades 7, 9, and 12 will participate.

The seventh grade will model summer skirts; the ninth grade, cotton dresses; and the seniors, suits, formals and party dresses. Mrs. Lund is expecting original things in the way of accessories, head bands, suspenders, and covered bottoms from the 7th grade.

Tea, prepared by Miss Westling's home ec. classes, will be served at 3:30 p.m., and the style show will begin at 4:00 p.m.

Class of '66 Dedicates Books To Mrs. Harman

Four books have been given to the NUHS library by the class of 1966 as a memorial to Mrs. Joseph A. Harman.

These are A Primer of Money and Banking, by Bernstein; Wit and Humor of Adlai Stevenson, by Stevenson; A Ship Called Hope, by Walsh; and The Making of the President, 1964, by White.

Congratulations to ROG ZAHN on being named New Ulm's top senior athlete.

Miss Mueller To Attend Sports Clinic

Miss Mueller has been chosen as one of a hundred key instructors to participate in the Lifetime Sports Education Project, on April 16 and 17 in Minneapolis. The purpose is to present procedures for organization and teachings of golf and tennis to larger classes.

Attending along with Miss Mueller will be Mr. Anderson and Mr. Zahn. They will not be active members, however.

This clinic is sponsored by the State Department of Education and the Minnesota Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.
