JUNIOR CARNIVAL TO BE CONGRESS OF JOY

The students and alumni of this school, together with the people of the city, are in for a wholesome, joyous evening at the Junior Carnival, to be held sometime in December. The various Junior committees are hard at work thinking out schemes which will provide entertainment.

The gamester will find time to win, and to lose at the various games of chance, the shooting gallery at Bagatelle, at the horse races and all through the veritable Monte Carlo.

There will be a Country Store with fun for all. Many surprises are in store for you. A novelty booth will be a feature. The home-made candy sale will be a real one. Heretofore, candy sales have been unable to satisfy the great demand. This sale will provide all the home-made delicious sweets that the students and outsiders will buy.

Electrical engineers are planning beautiful lighting. The pair of Siamese Twin dogs are being negotiated for through Barnum and Bailey, while the miniature swimming match is being arranged for. Special piping will bring water to the big glass tank to be installed. The Living Pin Cushion is putting on an extra layer of fat. Sober Belinda, the Beautiful, will be there in person. Guess her name, enter the prize contest! Come to the carnival and try to make "old lemon face" laugh—you can't do it.

Remember that a good program has been provided. The program will be held in the assembly and the booths and sideshows will be distributed throughout the gym and the different halls. This carnival, the management promises, will be bigger and better than any ever held here before.

An orchestra will provide jigs, stunts and jazz in a separate side show and will participate in the program. Clowns will liven the occasion. Pancakes, ice cream bars and popcorn will be sold. Sue is reading all the latest jokes so she can't laugh at them a second time. The advertising staff is putting out a stupendous campaign.

The program will probably consist of novelty musical numbers, terpsichorean delights, a burlesque play, a "follies" presentation, tumbling, popular vocal selections and humor.

Let's get ready for a big, glorious night. We're planning to start real early so as to put in the most possible time. This carnival is planned not to be a "dry" affair. Help us put over a whirling round of pleasures. You'll benefit—so will we. There are many surprises in store for you.

—Come to the Carnival—

Numerous baby carriages were seen outside the buildings Wednesday. Some students thought they were going to get a ride home, but upon further investigation, they discovered that the Public Health department was conducting a clinic on the first floor.

NEW ULM PLAYS BLUE EARTH OLD STARS PROMINENT IN LAST GAME

With the first string men, Loeffelmacher, Rieke and Waterston out of the game, unable to play because of vaccinations and Arbes with a swollen arm, New Ulm's line was continually ripped open for big gains and first downs. However, Blue Earth made all their points on three touchdowns in the first half. In the second half New Ulm managed to stem the tide. It was unfortunate that Toot was injured in the first few minutes of play. This together with the fact that three regulars were disabled, crippled the line. Schaefer, Keckeisen, Arbes played well in the backfield. Chambard played left half and "safety."

First Period.

New Ulm kicked off and we nailed the man on the 20-yard line. Blue Earth crashed right on to the 50-yard line. There we held them, but they made the downs again. They hurled around to the 60-yard line with a 7-yard end run, then New Ulm held them for no gain. They made slight gains on plunges and on fourth down with "6 to go" they went through for the first down. Johnson went around end 10 yards, plunged and continued the march down field. Blue Earth smashed 5 yards and slipped through 10 yards, off tackle. On the 10-yard line we held them for yard gain. (Marks in, Toot out). Blue Earth plunged 5 yards to our three-yard line and went right through tackle for touchdown. Newhofen carried the ball across and Netzel kicked goal. Score 7-0. Blue Earth kicked off and Joe returned ball to 25-yard line. Schaefer went around left end 20 yards for first down and we failed to gain through the line. Joe made no gain around end. Newhofen intercepted a pass and it was Blue Earth's ball. Fitch made no gain. Colby fumbled and Fitch recovered from three-yard gain around end. Colby made 5 yards and followed with slight gain. Blue Earth gained three yards, Fitch went through the line. On the 18-yard line the Maroon and Gold made four yards and the quarter was up. Score 7-0.

Second Period.

After a smash, the ball on the 8-yard line they made first downs again. Blue Earth went to the 2-yard line and failed the downs when New Ulm line woke up and held them. New Ulm ball behind line, Schaefer punted and punt was blocked. Blue Earth got the ball and clashed through our line for touchdown after several feeble plunges. Score 13-0, after goal kick failed. Blue Earth kicked off and Schaefer returned to 30-yard line. New Ulm gained 5 yards and we were penalized 5 yards for offside. Schaefer punted and Johnson returned 10 yards to 42-yard line. Blue Earth netted 2 yards. Blue Earth fumbled and Esser got the ball for New Ulm. Joe went around end 3 yards. Schaefer made 5 yards; 2 passes were incomplete and Al Niemann caught a pass of 2 yards, but we failed the downs. Blue Earth's captain, Johnson, made 5 yards around end. Johnson made 20 yards around end and Chambard, playing safety, tackled him down. After a pass that failed, Chambers got under a 30-yard throw, Colby scooted around right end 20 yards for a touchdown. Score 19-0. Netzel kicked goal for score of 20-0. Half ended.

Third Period, Second Half.

New Ulm kicked off and ball was returned to 30-yard line. Blue Earth made 5 yards around left end and (Continued on page 4.)

ANNUAL STAFF NAMED FOR 1925.

The following comprise the staff that will put out the annual this year: Editor-in-chiefVerval Mueller Assistant EditorFred Marks Business Manager ...Hilda Steinmetz Asst. Bus. Manager....Alpha Backer Literary EditorMarie Volz Humor EditorMarion Reineke Snapshot Editors. Winnifred Scheweppe Esther Poehler Art EditorRoland Hohn Senior EditorCarl Thies AdvisorsMr. and Mrs. Stewart

Active work for the annual will begin in a few weeks. The Seniors are determined that the annual this year will be one of the best that has ever been produced. One feature of the book is that there will be a great number of pictures, more than there have been heretofore.

Putting out an annual is not by any means an easy undertaking, it requires hard work and a great deal of it. The cost of producing this annual will be close to a thousand dollars, therefore every one should subscribe and do his bit toward helping the cause.

EVENING SESSION OF SCHOOL HELD.

On Wednesday evening, November nineteenth, we had our fourth annual evening session of school. This proved to be the most successful of all the annual evening sessions. Classes began at seven-thirty and the first, second, and third periods were held. Each one of these lasted thirty minutes. A large number of people attended the different classes and thoroughly enjoyed them.

Then at nine o'clock everybody went into the assembly and a program was held. Mr. Stewart acted as chairman. The first number was a group of three songs by the Boys' Glee Club. Miss Marti played the piano accompaniments and Mrs. Olsen directed the singing. The audience seemed much pleased with their songs. Then Mr. Gloor gave a talk on "The Value of a High School Education." The speech was interesting and certainly ought to have influenced some people to send their children to high school. Hazel (Continued on page 4.)

SEVEN NEW MEMBERS INITIATED IN D. O. T.

Last Thursday we, the Daughters of Thespiis, formally received into our society seven new members. Lola Runck, Verna Marie Miller, Lillian Skau, Margaret Schmid, Margaret Eichten, Hazel Erickson and Rose Pfaender were installed as new members, after having applied for membership and been duly considered at a former meeting.

The initiates were called for at seven o'clock and led into the teachers' room, where they were blindfolded and requested to roll their socks. They were left alone in the teachers' room while a few preliminary instructions were given. The girls were then led upstairs to third floor, performing all the way, and finally brought to the assembly where they crawled up to the stage on their hands and knees, with corn scattered on the floor to break the monotony. They enjoyed the pleasant sensation of walking upward into space on a plank placed at the base of the stage. The girls each took a seat on the stage, rather warily to be sure, and a short program was given by the initiates, consisting of songs, fancy dances, highland fling, a debate and a rendition of the a b c's backwards. These selections proved to be very pleasing to the audience. The girls were branded with D. O. T.'s and passed into the chamber of horrors where they shook hands with the ghost, felt down a long line of dead mice, and felt of the dog's liver. They had the dizzying experience of circling downward into space and found themselves sitting on little kindergarten chairs feeding each other molasses and then crumbled crackers. The blinds were removed and everyone set about to wash off a coating of molasses and crackers.

A delightful lunch, consisting of two courses was served, followed by the installation of new members and the making of assignments to the new members. Perhaps you have wondered about Rose's "Good Day" to Mr. Stewart and Lola's bows to Miss Treadwell and Miss Fritsche, but it's as the saying goes, "It all comes out in the wash," for it's D. O. T. initiation time.

The new members then took the final step in their initiation, the dishwashing, and now they have become members in the true sense of the word for they have gone through the same experiences that tradition has created and in order to uphold that same tradition which was created for our own benefit, they thereby become good reliable members.

—Follies, Fun, Carnival—

Mr. Stewart delivered an interesting speech at the Lyric theatre Monday evening. He spoke about our Constitution, because Monday was observed as "Constitution Day."

—Knock Knead Down! at Carnival—

The new D. O. T. members were initiated Thursday evening and were a sorry looking sight at school the following day.

HAVE YOU "GIFT OF GAB?"

In other words, have you the ability to speak in public? Few of the students of this high school really understand what it means to be able to speak in public. When we say "speak in public," we do not necessarily mean the act of speaking on the platform before a vast audience. We mean, rather, the ability to speak before friends, before strangers, before anybody, at any time, and under any circumstances.

A high school education opens for us a treasure house of knowledge. In order to apply this knowledge thus acquired, we must be able to express our thoughts intelligently before others. Others can not read our thought; we must express them.

In modern business, a knowledge of public speaking is absolutely essential; indeed, in an application for a position, the one who can express why he is the best man for the job, generally gets it.

Every one has an equal chance to acquire "the gift of gab." Regular classes are held in Public Speaking for this purpose. Furthermore, there are dramatic and literary clubs, oratory and debate. Start now to acquire the ability to speak in public; it will be invaluable in later life.

LOCALS.

They stopped "The Covered Wagon" at Mankato, but they couldn't do it here.

The Public Speaking students displayed their ability at the last Friday assembly period.

Ruth Marti and Amanda Kraemer spent the week-end at the latter's home in Welcome.

The basket ball season will open in a few weeks and we surely are enthusiastic about it.

Everybody is thankful that our six weeks' exams are over. American surely makes us cram.

Armistice Day was enjoyed, but would have been appreciated more, if we had had the whole day off.

Night school was enjoyed by the students as much as by the visitors, and the program was quite a success.

The Junior dance was quite successful. Moreover, they are also having a number of secret class meetings. We wonder what's up.

A CLEANLINESS CAMPAIGN.

Girls and boys, lets keep our desks, and the aisles clean. As we are judged by the condition in which we keep our house, so are we judged by the appearance of our desks. Is not our desk a home for us, and ought we not keep it in the cleanest and neatest condition? We should be thankful that we each have a separate desk; years ago each pupil did not have a desk for himself. And we must take others into consideration. How wonderful it would be for those who sweep the floors, if they had only dust to sweep, and not little scraps of paper which are so hard to pick up. What would a visitor think if he saw the assembly when there are scraps of paper lying in the aisles and on the desks? As we are having a courtesy campaign, lets have a campaign against those scraps of paper lying on the floor.

CARS.

As I sit by the window and look on the road,

I see all sorts of cars that are bought with good gold,
Cadillacs and Overlands,
Hudsons and Flints,
Paiges and Buicks,
They all make me squint;

Then I see Chevies and all kinds of Fords,

And note that the occupants all look like lords,

And come to the conclusion—'tis not size nor price,

Come things are small and enjoyable
—(like dice!)

Some folks enjoy themselves, others are bored,

But as for me, folks, just give me a Ford!

IF WINTER COMES.

If winter comes,
And we are dreary,
Despondent, sick, and weary,
And without consolation,
Let this be your motto,
'If winter comes,
Spring is sure to follow."

If hardships should befall,
Even if that were not all,
Though your heart be broken,
And of you hard things be spoken,
Let this be your motto,
'If winter comes,
Spring is sure to follow."

Though death from friends you part,
And stab you to the heart,
Leaving a sharp, throbbing pain,
Do not shed tears in vain,
For—Remember this:
'If winter comes,
Spring is sure to follow."

Were the nation embroiled in war;
Poverty knocking at the door;
Think what they are fighting for,
Then fret no more,
But do your sorrows swallow,
For—"If winter comes,
Spring is sure to follow."

Now let this be an example,
For life is all a gamble,
Bringing with it strife and woe,
Bitter rows for you to hoe.
So—Always let this be your motto
'If winter comes,
Spring is sure to follow."

CAMP FIRE MEETING.

The Camp Fire Girls held their Ceremonial meeting, Tuesday evening, Nov. 18, at the home of Mrs. A. W. Bingham. Helen Hage was initiated as "Wood Gatherer" and the rest of the evening was spent in practicing Camp Fire songs. The girls decided to have another Ceremonial meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 2, at 7 o'clock. Scribe, Vesta Muhs.

NORMAL TRAINING.

During the absence of Miss Koch at M. E. A., the Normal Training students spent Thursday, November sixth, visiting various rural schools. Miss Koch brought back the following report: At present there are ninety-seven High School Normal Training departments in the state of Minnesota. These departments, several of which are two-teacher departments, have an enrollment of twelve hundred. These twelve hundred students were elected from a list of three thousand applicants. Mr. H. E. Flynn, the director of H. S. Training departments, says it is a privilege rather than a right to enter a teacher training class. He also says that the Department of Education is working toward the following standard as a basis of admission:

1. Scholarship — three-fourths or five-sixths of an applicant's grades must be above 80 or 85; for every 75-80 mark there must be a 90 mark.
2. Character.
3. Ability to pass a given comprehension test.

Since departments have been put on the graduate basis, the demand for them has increased, many high schools now being on the waiting list.

CLASS NOTES

FRESHMEN PHILOSOPHY.

A number of Freshmen saw the Minnesota football team defeat Illinois, while those that stayed home saw our football team defeat Hutchinson.

Beware, Freshmen, of grabbing each other by the arms, for fear of hurting vaccination sores.

Students ducked low in their seats during the Wednesday evening classes, fearing they would be called upon to recite. Who can blame them?

The Latin class was told that their marks in the six weeks' Latin test ranged from 2½ to 99. We wonder who was the lucky one to draw the 2½?

SOPHOMORE SYMPTOMS.

Some of the absent members of the Sophomore class last week were: Alice Ganske, Myra Gag, and Oradelle Wagner.

Evelyn Schneider has been limping around the building for the last few weeks on account of an inflammation. She was vaccinated, as you have probably heard.

A picture was taken of the Sophomore Class last week for the annual. From the looks of some, it seemed as if sitting on the steps in the cold wasn't very enjoyable.

Some of the Sophomores have grown new frowns. Why? Well, as you know, Mr. Hegstrom doesn't approve of gum, and the unfortunates caught in the act have to do quite a bit of extra work.

JUNIOR DOINGS.

The Juniors had a class meeting on Nov. 17, to discuss the question of whether they should have a class play or a carnival this year, and decided upon the latter.

Miss Ferguson is the new Junior advisor.

Edna Pollei and Margaret Schmid were absent from school a few days on account of illness, as was Ella Martin.

The Juniors gave their orations in Public Speaking last week, and they certainly will be great orators, if they keep on.

A committee of Hildegard Amann, Fred Lippmann and Henry Somsen, was appointed to meet with Miss Ludwig and begin work on their carnival which is expected to take place in about two weeks.

SENIOR SUMMARY.

The Home Economics II. girls are re-decorating the dining room. They have painted the walls, made an upholstered window-seat, and have added several other new furnishings. Funds were provided by a candy sale.

The Seniors who were absent this week were Esther Poehler, Hilda Steinmetz and Nona Dorn.

Winnifred Schweppe and Esther Poehler, who are in charge of the snap-shots for the Annual would greatly appreciate some good pictures. Get out your kodak and take some snap-shots of your friends.

On Saturday afternoon a number of Camp Fire girls pleasantly surprised Vervyl Mueller, the president of the organization. Games were played, after which a delicious luncheon was served. The girls returned when the moon was up high enough to light their way.

NEW ULM PLAYS BLUE EARTH.

Colby went 10 yards around right end. Johnson plunged 3 yards and Newholffen punted 30 yards. New Ulm's ball on 28-yard line. Keckeisen skirted right end for a sensational 40-yard gain on first play. New Ulm plunged 3 yards and gained but 3 yards on fake kick, formation after a yard gain and failed to make downs by inches. Blue Earth gained slightly on plunges and made first down with five-yard smash and plunged 2 yards and 5 yards, smashed the line for downs again. Johnson sent the ball through 5 yards and Fitch took 8 yards through on fourth down with 2 to go, Newholffen made 5 yards. Twice they crashed in 4 yards and once a yard. Colby hit low for first down and next gained 3 yards. On 34-yard line we threw them for a loss. They gained a yard; we held Colby, but play was called off for penalty of 5 yards on Blue Earth. They regained 5 yards and a pass to Fitch was blocked by Schaefer. We threw them for a small loss and it became New Ulm's ball on own 38-yard line. Keckeisen made 5 yards. End of period.

Final Period.

New Ulm made the downs, a pass to Arbes was incomplete. Keckeisen got a 15-yard pass and ran 15 yards. On Blue Earth's 15-yard line they intercepted a pass. Fitch made 5 yards and a second smash netted first down. They were penalized 5 yards for off-side after plunge and regained 3 yards on line smash. With fourth down, 5 to go, they punted 40 yards and Chambard returned 5 yards. Zang made 5 yards and Niemann got a pass for a 4-yard gain, and next a pass was incomplete. Blue Earth's line held Schaefer for only a 2-yard gain and another pass was incomplete. We failed to make downs and New Ulm held Newholffen. Colby made 5 yards, Fitch made no gain, then a yard gain. Johnson was thrown for a 2-yard loss. They punted 30 yards, New Ulm's ball on 22-yard line. Schaefer skirted end for 25-yard net gain and a pass of 35 yards to Arbes was incomplete. Another pass was incomplete, and New Ulm plunged for first down. Keckeisen went around end 25 yards, and the game was over. New Ulm's rally in the second half was of no avail. Only twice did we come in sight of their goal, once a pass was intercepted and once the whistle blew too soon.

Netzel's ready boot showed up well, Capt. Johnson was a worthy ground gainer, Fitch doggedly kept on making gains and Newholffen and Colby did well. Baum and Teskey and Chambers worked well on the line. —Komplete Kapacious Kandy Counter—
"Don't touch me!" is a phrase heard all around school. Most students have indulged in the serious operation of being vaccinated. For that reason some students are unable to attend classes.

EVENING SESSION OF SCHOOL HELD.

Erickson, as a representative of the school, then gave a talk on "Illiteracy, A Menace to the Nation." She certainly deserves credit for having done so well. The program closed with several selections sung by the Girls' Glee Club. After this everybody went to the Domestic Science rooms and enjoyed pie and coffee. Let us hope all other evening sessions will be as successful and that we may always be able to present school patrons with as good a record as we have presented heretofore.
