REDWOOD FALLS GAME

SECOND DEBATE TO BE HELD ON JANUARY 30

N. U. to Uphold Negative Side of Question.

The N. U. H. S. debating team, composed of Margaret Galloway, Marian Pfaender, and Alvin Rolloff, will go to Springfield on Jan. 30 to debate with that team on the question: "Resolved, That the U. S. should build an All-American Waterway rather than co-operate with Canada in the St. Lawrence project. Our team will defend the negative side of the question by the debate rule that the visiting team should uphold the negative.

This year's question is far from being an easy one to debate, and the members of our team are to be congratulated and honored because of the time and effort they put upon preparation.

In the debate with Redwood Falls, our team, though defeated, showed excellent training. We most certainly hope that they will have better success at Springfield. Whether they come back victorious or not, they will take part in two more debates with the two other teams in our district.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST TO BE HELD

Miss Ritt has met with all those who are interested in declamatory. There are several representatives from each class; and, as a consequence, there will have to be an elimination contest before the final. The date for the contest had not been decided on when this paper went to press. The representatives of the classes are as follows:

Freshmen: Humorous—Loretta Glaser, Audrey Zieske, Ruth Witt, Virginia Hintz, Judith Bieber, Anna Beardsley; dramatic—Marie Eichten, Josephine Bianchi, Marian Pfaender. Sophomores: Humorous—Gertrude Scheman, Marguerite Haynes; dramatic—Florence Krook and Margaret Galloway.

Juniors: Humorous—Viola Kienlen, Hazel Buchholz, Virginia Alwin; oratory—Alvin Rolloff.

P.-T. A. DANCE

The Parent-Teachers Association will give a dance at the Legion hall on the 30th of January. The school needs committee has charge of the business matters and will be assisted by the Provision committee, which will serve the lunch. The proceeds of the dance will be used for sponsoring instrumental music in the high

REDWOOD FALLS TO MEET N. U. FRIDAY AT LOCAL ARMORY

Doped to Be the Best Game So Far This Season

Next Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock the New Ulm High School basket ball team will take part in a game with the fast Redwood five. All their men are veterans, and the game is doped to be fast throughout. Neither team has been defeated so far this season.

LAMBERTON GAME

The New Ulm High School basket ball team is yet undefeated, after a very eventful week. On Friday, the local squad traveled to Lamberton where they met and defeated the Lamberton five, 16-6, on their home floor. The game was mostly defensive, and this combined with the small floor, accounted for the low score. Schoch, star of last year's squad, played a short time during this game. This was his first appearance in basket ball since his injury in football. He scored two free throws. Although the game was hotly contested it was marred by the small count, which accounted for a great deal of holding and stalling. Schroepfel scored ten of the sixteen points furnished by the New Ulm squad, and Arndt and Stelljes each contributed one. The Lamberton boys connected with but two field goals, and at no time did they threaten to take the lead.

Lineup.

Regelin, RF; Arndt, LF; Schroepfel, C; Stelljes, RG; Feller, LG.

Subs.: Beecher for Regelin, Schoch for Stelljes, Marti for Feller.

DEFEAT SPRINGFIELD

B. B. FIVE, 37 TO 14

On Saturday evening the Red Flashes defeated the Springfield five in their new gym 37-14. Shortly after the beginning of the game, Schroepfel caged a field goal from under the basket. Springfield made it two all when Hofmeister netted one from the sidelines. Schroepfel added two more when he scored on a pass from Stelljes. From this stage the game was never in doubt, although the Springfield five put up a game fight and showed vast improvement over last year's squad. Schroepfel seemed to find no difficulty in piercing their defense, and he succeeded in caging almost all short shots. The entire New Ulm team played good ball, although they showed wear from the night be-

The New Ulm team is smaller than last year's team, consequently, they must play a faster game to offset this disadvantage. They have, however, upheld the record of last year's team and hope to score another victory Friday night.

SLEEPY EYE GAME

Saturday evening, Jan. 14, the New Ulm High School basket ball team easily defeated the Sleepy Eye high quint 40-15 in a very one-sided game. With the exception of a few minutes in the opening session, the Sleepy Eye quintet offered very little resistance, and this naturally accounted for the large score.

Sleepy Eye Opens Scoring.

After a few minutes of hard play, which were marked by poor passes and shooting, Sleepy Eye took the lead by making good a gift shot. New Ulm took this scant lead away when Schroepfel looped a field goal on a pass from center. Sleepy Eye came back once more to take the lead by caging a field goal from the side lines. This was the last time that the visitors led, and it was cut short by two baskets by Schroepfel. Arndt, husky forward, widened the margin by sinking another one on a pass from Esser. Stelljes and Schroepfel added three more points via the charity route, and Esser connected with another twin counter on a quick pass

SUNLIGHT DANCE IS

WELL ATTENDED

The second Sunlight dance was held in the High School gymnasium last Tuesday evening, January 17. A good, peppy orchestra, consisting of Harvey Haeberle, Harold Soukup, James Beecher, and Virgil Wagner, furnished the music. There was a very good turnout, and everyone enjoyed the hour. There was noticeable improvement shown by some of the bashful boys, a fact which proves that a few more of these dances would entirely rid them of this characteristic. So far, these dances have been a success, and it is possible to make all the future ones still more successful if everyone attends them. Come on, boys, don't be bashful. Show the girls a good time at the next Sunlight dance.

"HEARTLESS HOUSE" TO BE PRESENTED FEB. 2

Girls' Glee Club to Stage Operetta at High School Auditorium.

"Heartless House," comic opera in 3 acts, will be presented by the Girls' Glee club of the New Ulm High School, Feb. 2, at the High School auditorium. It is even bigger and better than the one last year—tuneful and peppy music and a clever plot. The story of the play is as follows:

Under the name of the New Era Society, a group of women have banded together to prove to themselves and to the world that woman's dependence on man is a thing of the past. In order to facilitate their plan, they have individually pursued their special inclinations in the various arts, particularly in literature and painting and sculpture. But their initial activity and ardor have somewhat waned, and the opening of the opera finds them in a straitened financial condition when a magazine, ridiculing

FROSH-SENIOR GAME

SENIORS DEFEAT FRESHIES IN FIRST INTER-CLASS GAME.

The Senior Class of '28 got away to a running start for the inter-class championship when they defeated the Freshman squad Monday evening after a hard battle. Team play was fast, and the game was thrilling throughout. Veeck started the scoring for the Seniors when he made a short shot from the foul line. Hass came through to even up affairs when he made good a pretty field goal from the sidelines. The lead swayed back and forth during the first quarter; but as the game advanced the Freshies' lack of substitutes soon proved fatal, and the Seniors forged ahead. A series of baskets by Veeck, Feller, and Rieke put the game on "dry land," and although the Frosh fought gamely, they were beaten by the more experienced opponents. Veeck starred for the winners, while Feller came a close second. Hass was high point man for the "Frosh" with Poynter and Marks ranking next.

"SIX DAYS SHALT THOU LABOR."

Five days of labor bring enough misery; six days are nearly past endurance, especially when the thing is tried for the first time under extraordinary circumstances. But why complain when most people work six days a week? That is just the point. They work six days and no more.

Students, on the other hand, are supplied with four, five, and even six assignments to prepare for Monday. Study period omitted and a gym class of December twenty-third made up during another study period are further greetings extended on the day of the big game. Who can work on those assignments with all that excitement going on Saturday night? Another question is who's going to work on those same assignments Sunday, when all other people are "taking life easy?" Not very many, I can assure you.

The teachers, however, were quite human Monday. Some of them did all the talking, and none of them dropped a quiz. Evidently they realized that in this case students were in unanimous favor of an old precept, "Six days shalt thou labor."

FEATURE

ADVICE TO FRESHMEN.

If there are any Freshies who wish to make their high school education a real success, then follow this advice. When you come to school in the morning, go to the principal's office and slap him painfully on his back. Then call him by his first name and say, "Hello there! How's the boy?" Ask him how the world is treating him these days. He will greatly appreciate your interest in his welfare and will always admire you for it. If there are any letters on his desk, don't hesitate, just pick them up and read them. This will show that you take an interest in the affairs of the school.

Next go to the office and cheer up the secretary. Tell her that it's a great life if you don't weaken. You might also mention that you know it's a dull thing to lead a secretary's life, but you will do your worst to make things more interesting for her.

There is one thing I would like to put you wise to. Above all things, this is the most important. Do NOT study while you are here. If you ever carry any books at all, it ought to be for appearance sake. Don't carry them around too much because it wears them out so quickly and you will be unable to sell them next year. You are in school to take life easy, and it is your duty to enjoy yourself to the greatest extent.

Don't be selfish. If you have some gum, offer the teacher a stick. If the teacher has an after school appointment with you, don't by any means go to her, for it takes up her time. She will admire you for being so polite.

Do not attend class meetings of any kind. If you happen to go once in a while for curiosity's sake, then act very bored. Snoot paper wads at the president. It will draw the other Freshies' attention to him so they will know he is there. If you are asked to be on time, come late; it will individualize you. Carve your name everywhere, so that everyone will get to know you.

Memorize these directions and you will eventually graduate if you live long enough.

was awarded third place in the newspaper contest. Keep up your fine work.—Graphos, New Ulm, Minn. Rock-a-bye, Seniors, on the tree top, As long as you study your grades will not drop.

But if you stop digging, Your standing will fall, And down will come Senior, diploma, and all.

SENIOR NOTES.

CAN YOU IMAGINE—

Esther Brudeli weighing 200 pounds?
 Ciarence Prom volunteering to lend some information?
 Walter Epple the size of Henrik Haugen?
 Violet Paulson with jet black hair?
 Ruben Glaesman four feet, three inches tall?
 Fred Rengsdorf with combed hair?
 Earl Schroepfel wearing dirty overalls?
 Lowell Rieke a street cleaner?
 Viola Buchholz with a boyish bob?
 Lester Karl smoking a corn-cob pipe?
 Ruth Petersen as tall as Erwin Hamann?
 Dorothy Pfefferle not bluffing in chemistry?

JUNIOR NOTES.

The Juniors certainly turned out for the "Sunlight Dance," and they hope there will be several more.
 Raymond Gislason is a new member of our class, and we are glad he is with us.
 Several Juniors didn't know that Christmas vacation was over and came to school a few days late.
 We can breathe much more easily now that our six weeks' exams are over.

SOPHOMORE NOTES.

The class period in English II, the Saturday that we had school wasn't dull by any means. On Friday we had a spelling match. Each member of the losing side had to act out a nursery rhyme. Marguerite Haynes was rated the best actor. She walked calmly to the front of the room with one hand hidden. With the one hand still behind her she began to chant, looking at Miss Kearns, "Fatty, Fatty, run for your life." At this point she brought a butcher knife into view and started to run toward Miss Kearns, "Skinny's coming with the butcher knife." Rollins Emmerich took this opportunity to announce his actions of the future by reciting a rhyme about his bachelorhood.

Miss Kearns is experienced in feeding animals. A sentence she gave us in English read, "The bear ate the banana and vegetable."

Lee Gaut told Miss McGee that Metternich had a flea (flea) from Vienna.

Day by day in every way, Modern is getting harder and harder.

Kreisler, a noted violinist, was named as the inventor of the Chrysler car by Wesley Bauman, in Modern History.

The class in Modern History decided that Hickman, Will Rogers, and White-man are the most famous Americans.

FRESHMEN NOTES.

The Freshmen wish to extend their belated thanks to the upper classmen for the peanuts given them for Christmas. We enjoyed them very much (although some were rotten).

We wondered what was wrong with the bells last week. We thought they had died a natural death when they revived and were stronger than ever, much to our remorse.

At least our B. B. team made a good showing against the high and mighty Seniors. We think we might have won if Edgar Scheible had played, but as his B. B. pants did not arrive from "Monkey Wards," we were minus that member of our quintet. But we think the team did very well. Of course, the Seniors must have played very, very well, to defeat us.

from Stelljes. The visitors, though they showed fight and gameness, lacked defensive prowess; and their offense was stopped before it arrived at any dangerous position. The combination, Esser, Stelljes, and Schroepfel, seemed to score at will; and at no time did the Sleepy Eye boys solve a defense that withstood the onslaught of the New Ulm quint.

Schroepfel caged three goals in rapid succession on a pretty play, Esser to Stelljes, Stelljes to Esser, Esser to Schroepfel. Esser contributed six more points when he made good two field goals and two free throws. A basket by Sleepy Eye ended the half 25-5.

Landslide Continues.

The second half was a repetition of the first. Schroepfel scored on a pass from Esser, and Esser came through for two more points when he followed up Arndt's long attempt. Sleepy Eye's rally at this stage accounted for two baskets. Schroepfel tossed in three more before he was replaced by a sub. All the recruits were given a chance in the closing minutes, and the final whistle found them battling the Sleepy Eye squad on equal terms, with a lead of 40-15. Every man on the New Ulm team gave a good account of himself, with Esser, Arndt, and Schroepfel outstanding on the offense, while Feller and Stelljes were stalwarts on defense, both playing a great deceptive game. Sommerville played best for the losers. Lineup:

N. U. Seconds Lose in Preliminary, 7-4.

In the preliminary game the N. U. basket ball squad was defeated by the Sleepy Eye second team in a hotly contested game. Although the playing was loose at times, the boys, many of whom are freshmen, showed ability as cagemen, and undoubtedly with more experience, will perform in first-class style. Hass and Marks divided up the scoring honors with Strate leading on the defense. Fischer and Thompson starred for Sleepy Eye.

their endeavors, and characterizing them as a group of disgruntled old maids, brands their residence with the name "Heartless House." They see in this article sufficient slander to warrant taking action in the form of a suit for libel.

At the same time, two extremely wealthy old maids, taking the magazine article for its full face value,
and conceiving the Society as the ideal place for their twin nieces, visit
"Heartless House" and agree upon a generous endowment, provided that at the end of a year, their nieces have achieved what the women promise:
"Two modern girls of cultured taste, Unspoiled, reserved, demure, and chaste!"

However, a year at "Heartless House" produces a pair of vastly different girls, and when the two maiden aunts arrive quite unexpectedly, they are horrified to discover their mistake;
but it is too late to remedy the situation. They immediately cancel all plans for an endowment, and one disaster follows another in quick succession when the long-pending libel suit results in a ridiculously small award.

With all chances for continuing the Society rapidly diminishing, some half-forgotten love notes, and carefully hidden photographs, with reminiscences of love affairs and withheld promises, achieve a greater importance on each woman's horizon, as they declare unanimously:
"Our latest plan is wed the man
Who loves and who obeys!"
