JUNIOR ENTERTAINMENT COURSE IS SUCCESS

CECELIAN SINGERS COMING.

The success which is greeting the Juniors, repays them for their hard work in selling tickets.

"The Mysterious Girl in Green" proved to be a very good advertisement for the course. The splendid crowd at S. Platt Jones' performance was ample evidence of the merit of the entertainments. Mr. Jones proved to be all that he was supposed to be "and then some," as you might say. He kept the audience in peels of hearty laughter during his entire program.

Miss Ritt, a Junior adviser, lent her services to the advertising campaign. Being herself a good character imitator, she performed in all the grade rooms. Two of her sketches were a negro mammy and a monkey. When she inquired as to what she was going to be in her later sketch, she received such answers as a pig, skunk, lion, elephant—in all she might have been a menagerie in one piece.

The marvelous Cecelian Singers, who have enthralled radio listeners, will be the next attraction. They will appear in the high school auditorium, November 19. All people, interested in music, should be there—others too. Season tickets are still available. If you do not wish to buy a season ticket, you can buy a single admission.

Other attractions, which will be presented in the near future, are the Junior class play and Morris, the electrical wizard.

NATURALIST TALKS IN ASSEMBLY

We never realize how many interesting things surround us in every day life. It is only when someone like Mr. Jensen calls our attention to the numerous, beautiful birds around us, that we realize that this world isn't a bad place after all.

Mr. Jensen, who comes from Dassell, Minn., is an expert naturalist. He displayed his collection of birds to the audience much to our delight.

From Mr. Jensen's discourse on birds we decided that birds are a varied species, different in their own family as well as from other families, and possessed of interesting habits.

A Lament.

For her darling Billy's sake,
Billy ate every crumb,
And then he heard the Angel's Drum
Calling softly, "Billy, Come."

NEW AWARD SYSTEM IS INAUGURATED

MEETS APPROVAL OF STUDENTS.

The high school of New Ulm has inaugurated a new system of awarding letters for merit. Before the inauguration of the new system, the winning of letters was restricted to boys' athletics. Other activities as important as these, were left unawarded. The new system does away with old unfairness.

The participation in extra-curricular activities entitles the school to certain numbers of points. Athletics, debate, and glee club work receive five points; journalism offers a way of earning from two to ten points, depending on the positions in the staff. For the Freshmen a total of one hundred points, as a minimum, is required for the gaining of a letter. The Seniors, because of the recent adoption of the system, will be required to get twenty-five for a letter. A number has also been worked out for Juniors and Sophomores.

After the new system is in full swing the Josten award will be given each year to the Senior with the highest number of points to her or his credit.

This system is fair to all students. It will tend to increase interest in extra-curricular activities. Let us hope that in due time it will make our high school the best one in the state.

DAILY JOTS

Why does Percy dodge women?
Isn't Tom a cunning ham?
Joseph's harm an' worry is geometry.

Are Dorothy kearns a new kind of fruit?

Is Renola frank?

Did Alvin roll off?

Did William have a mill key?

Stover: "You don't seem to have studied your lesson for physics."

Herb. R.: "Well, it was like this. I studied nearly two hours last night and then I forgot my book this morning."

Stover: "That reminds me. You left your book on my desk yesterday."

Inez S.: "Do you always stutter like that?"

Howard S.: "Oh, nnn-no, ooonly whwhen I tttalk."

Mr. Harman (in General Science): "Can you name me a star with a tail?"

"Babe" Wagner: "Sure. Rin-Tin-Tin."

COWBOYS TO MEET GLENCOE AND MADELIA

LAST GAMES OF SEASON.

The football team of the New Ulm high school has two football games left to attend to. Friday, Stover's cowboys will meet Glencoe on the latter's field. The following week, they will carry on a rodeo with the Madelia team. Come to the games with your cowbells on, fans, and see them carry off the laurels.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

After the "point system" was formally inaugurated last week, a number of boys raised their voices in a demand for a boys' Glee Club. As a result, Mr. Dirks called for the names of about fifteen who would be interested in this work. Many boys responded because of the desire to earn the five points offered for musical endeavor. We wish the new organization much success.

FIRST SUNLIGHT DANCE HELD

As a long delayed surprise, a sunlight dance was held in the high school gymnasium, Monday, after school. The school board is offered the fervent thanks of the student body. The inauguration of this practice as a weekly or bi-weekly occurrence would be an advisable step. Even though there were evidence of restraint among the students present at the first dance, this will wear off, and the gym will be a place of friendly gatherings as often as the school board decides.

N. U. HIGH SCHOOL PURCHASES SCENERY

Probably you have seen Mr. Dirks drawing the stage curtains. You have noticed, then, the verdant fields, the green trees, and the distant hills. Perhaps, you wondered how they grew back of the stage. Here's a secret. This scene is the scenery of "Tulip Time," the operetta to be put on by the Girls' Glee club Friday. There is also a windmill, the meeting place of the Dutch boys and girls. This scenery adds depth to our stage, an essential badly needed.

There are two kinds of courage—reckless and wreckless.

ST. PETER WINS OVER NEW ULM.

The New Ulm high school football team is still battling at a five hundred per cent clip after two weeks of hard battling. The cowboys played the part of victors and the victims in the two engagements with St. Peter and Winnebago.

St. Peter 33, New Ulm 0.

In the St. Peter affair, the locals played quite the part of the victims. They didn't seem to get going at all. The line, if it could have been called that, simply ceased to function. Their run of two victories seemed to have affected them in the most disastrous manner.

St. Peter, on the other hand, played the part of the under-dog. With two previous defeats still fresh in their memory, they were determined to turn the tables at any cost. The result of this was a clean-cut victory for the downriver boys.

Having a noticeable advantage in size and weight, the St. Peter gridgers used off-tackle smashes repeatedly for large gains. These plays worked especially well due to the fact that "Fat" Arndt, husky New Ulm tackle was ineligible. The handicap together with Marti's injury did everything but reduce the score.

Swamp Winnebago Eleven 27-0.

The Winnebago game, which took place last Saturday, found the New Ulm gridgers playing up to par. This contest was a complete success in every sense of the word, except from the financial point of view. Although no accurate figures have as yet been attained, it is estimated that the athletic association lost about fifty dollars.

WORK ON DEBATE IS PROGRESSING

The high school has a debating team. Yes, really. Furthermore, they are determined to show you that they are workers. Active work has been started on the question for this year: "Resolved, that the U. S. should cease to protect by armed force, domestic capital investments in foreign countries, without the formal declaration of war." The fact that points will be awarded for debate work, ought to be incentive to some in going out for forensics.

With whom New Ulm will debate the first time is not as yet known. As you may remember, we have three debates to carry out by the new system introduced last year.

The New Ulm team of last year won one out of three debates. The contests were with Springfield, Redwood Falls and Winthrop.

SCHOOL CHARACTERISTICS.

Every school has an outstanding characteristic. Some schools are known for debate, some for excellence in English, and others for athletics. The characteristic might be an unworthy one. Now, when you consider, what is the outstanding thing in our high school? When a member of the faculty was asked this question, after some thought, that person said that it was the lack of "pep," not only in athletics, but in other activities, as well as in the school itself. By "pep" is not meant noisiness; "pep" does not mean rowdiness; it means whole heartedness; it means zest in endeavor, rejoicing in victory. As you all may see, this is not a treat upon which to pride ourselves. It is something that we must change, and change immediately. The easiest way to rid ourselves of what may be called a habit, is to replace it with a more desirable characteristic. There are many things for which the high school might well be proud to be known. State championship debating or athletic teams, good sportsmanship, and, perhaps, the "peppiest" school in the state. But how can we achieve these things? Through your endeavor, and through the endeavor of every student in our school is the way to make our high school a school of good character.

"GRAPHOS" IMPROVEMENTS.

The staff of this publication is striving to edit a paper, which will appear favorably to outsiders as well as to student critics. To do this we have decided to revise several departments.

First of all, we are trying to revise the humor column. Heretofore, it has been our custom to add to our supply of original jokes by copying other matter. You see, however, that this way does not tend to make it high school humor. After this issue, our humor is going to be original, either from the humor editors or from fact material. The funny incidents, which occur in high school are even more humorous than "joke book" material, because it "smacks" of high school environment. Whenever you have an original, humorous incident, drop it in the brown box on the Senior window ledge.

Our departments of humor, exchange, "Cowbell Tinklings," will appear as usual. The "Student Opinion" column will welcome any favorable or unfavorable criticism of school interests. Remember, that the "Graphos" will also like commendation and criticism of her publication in this column.

Help us put out the best high school paper from our high school that has ever been published. We can do it with your help.

EXCHANGES

This year the Graphos has greatly increased its nation-wide exchange list; it is receiving regularly papers from eighty different high schools. The papers, which it has from schools outside of Minnesota, are: The Purple and Gold, Watertown, S. D.; The Centralian, Grand Forks, N. D.; South Side Times, Fort Wayne, Ind.; The Harbinger, Bryant, S. D.; The Augustan, Augusta, Kans.; The Mountaineer, Grafton, W. Va.; Hi-Times, Corry, Pa.; Signal Butte, Miles City, Mont.; The Spirit, Harris, Iowa.

The Graphos would like to receive exchanges from foreign countries, especially from Hawaii and Alaska. If any schools on the Graphos exchange list get papers from these countries, will they please send to the Graphos, the names and addresses of these foreign schools.

What Other Schools Are Doing.

Noonday dances are a feature recreation for the students of the John A. Johnson high school, St. Paul, Minn. These dances are held twice a week during the noon hour, and they prove to be very popular.

The week of October first to fifth, in the Windom high school, was one of great enjoyment for the upper classmen who initiated the freshmen with real spirit. The Senior class chose a committee to make a set of rules, which each Freshman had to obey for the entire week. The rules follow: 1. Boys wear green hair ribbons. 2. Girls wear green neckties. 3. Must do anything upper classmen command. 4. Girls must not use cosmetics. 5. Safety pin to be worn as a badge in some conspicuous place.

Separate rules were made for each day, and a black list was used to keep track of Freshmen disobeying these rules.

Rules for Tuesday: 1. Boys must use cosmetics, at least two. 2. Boys' curtsey and take off hats; girls bow to upper classmen or teachers out of school. 3. Boys wear pants wrong side out.

Rules for Wednesday: 1. Boys wear shirts backwards. 2. Girls wear dresses backwards. 3. Must not speak to upper classmen.

Rules for Thursday: 1. Boys wear knee trousers. 2. Girls wear twelve articles of clothing which can plainly be seen. 3. Girls wear long dresses which shall reach to within six inches of the floor. 4. Girls shall braid their hair into as many braids as they are years old.

SENIOR NOTES.

Points? Yes, and 25 too! How many will get them? Will you? You bet, every one of the 35 Seniors are going to get a letter!

HCL smells terrible! We all choked! We all know what it is now! It's a gas that can choke a fellow.

We're going to have some swell looking Chaucer, Prioress and wife of Bath dolls—no baby dolls allowed.

English plus a quizz equals misery.

Chemistry plus HCL equals a couple of coughs.

Social minus reference work is all right.

We're seeing heaps and heaps of eye glasses. The owners are now seeing too much and so are we!

Smith! Hoover! No, Smith! Honest, we're all becoming so interested in this campaign, you'd almost think we were running ourselves. I mean for President—not running noses.

JUNIOR NOTES.

Miss Ritt: "When you write your letters, don't copy from a book or your neighbor, be individual, be yourself, and be original!" And Mushie was!

"Dear Bugga," he wrote. "I am in Essig today I heard that you are going to Courtland I would appreciate your company very much. I will be at the N. U. depot tonight at nine o'clock. Drop me a telegraph if you are not coming. yours sincerely, Rollins Emmerich."

Miss Ritt: "Here's a new game we played in English. I know a good German name for Albert Berndt. Can you guess it?"

Fat: "Is it 'Hansworst?'"

Miss Ritt: "No, it is not 'Hansworst.'"

Fat: "Then it is 'poppehanus.'"

John Mills: "Ach due lieber!"

If you want to know what this means, ask Miss Steinhauser. She will give you directions for translating the word.

The Junior class thanks Miss Ritt and Mr. Andreen with all their hearts and boots for helping us advertise and sell tickets for the Junior Lyceum course. We appreciate it very much.

To the Juniors! Why not sell tickets for the entertainment course? You can kill two birds with one stone by earning several honor points at the same time.

Christmas is coming and so are report cards. Let's not have any Juniors on the flunk list this six weeks. How about it?

We are glad the point system has been inaugurated. "It's all right," reports John Mills, "as long as you don't sit on one of the points."

SOPHOMORE NOTES.

The new method of awarding credits seems to be approved of by all. We hope the Freshmen don't mind having to earn one hundred points.

Geometry:

Malker has at last solved the mystery of the letters on Mr. Harmon's sweaters. According to him they mean "plane geometry."

We hope Mr. Harmon won't have any more dreams about theorems. As a remedy we suggest, not sleeping.

After Albert explained a difficult problem, Hilary made the clever remark: "I told you that one, didn't I Albert?"

Cicero Class:

Two of Miss Treadwell's favorite expressions which are used every day, are:

"Mae Jule, stop dreaming."

"Marion, stop giggling."

English II:

Miss Kearns, before taking, the marks said that all who did not have the reasons for their corrections should make mention of it. Charles answered, "A, but not reasons for it."

Come on! If you want to have a good time, visit Holland with the Glee Club girls. See "Tulip Time!"

FRESHMAN NOTES.

Eventually, all things turn out as they should be. In other words, the Freshmen are beginning to settle down. The "slang" and mistakes of etiquette of the Seniors are becoming less noticeable. We are beginning to feel at home.

One day Miss Westling sent Gretchen Kretsch to get the sandwich cutter. Gretchen returned with the three by four feet paper cutter. Better luck next time, Gretchen. We learn only through experience.

When the Seniors insist on talking political "dope" all day, life has a rather deary outlook. Rebuffed by their own classmates, the Seniors compel us to listen to their hot air arguments upon why Hoover should be elected and why he shouldn't.

Although one hundred points seems an unsurmountable object, we are one hundred per cent strong for the point system. We always said that the weaker sex is beginning to receive its rights.

We heard some Seniors say that the "wearing of the green" had no effect upon our audacity. Probably some other color might have had more effect, for instance, gray. By the process of osmosis (we're taking general science) the gray might have some effect upon producing gray matter in our craniums. The definition: By osmosis, when two liquids or gases of different degrees of density (oh, my!) are separated by tissue, an interchange is made, the less dense passing quickly. At that rate the dense inner matter might never interchange.

MUSIC.

Have you bought your ticket for the operetta to be given Friday, Nov. 2nd? If not, have you any real good reason? Have you broken your leg, gone out of town for the month, or gone to the hospital? Those are the only legitimate excuses. If you haven't one of them, it is to be considered your duty to buy a ticket for "Tulip Time." Why not have the fun of seeing one of the Glee Club girls faint by asking for a ticket?

The tickets are only twenty-five cents for students, so I'm sure each one could afford one. Only a quarter—but think how much it means to the girls. It means one more empty seat filled—one more quarter to help pay the numerous expenses.

But that is not the only reason you should go. You should go because you know you are going to enjoy it. If you want a comedy—this is it. You boys will surely be able to appreciate the girls taking parts of the boys.

"Tulip Time" has something to "satisfy every human want, need, or desire."

STUDENT OPINION

Why all the prejudice against gum lately? It's getting so a person can't even take a chew without being called upon to join the Shakespearian club. Well—'nuff said.

God gave birds with which to fly. He gives men ideas.—Youth. Be friendly.

Hilary O.: "There's a loud noise in my head."

Albert K.: "Don't worry, that's your eardrum."

Billy M.: "I call my girl 'Excelsior'."

Armin P.: "Why, because she's your ideal?"

Billy M.: "No, because she's quite the stuff."

Inez: "I was all upset when Bernard kissed me."

Alice: "Nonsense! You have been kissed before."

Inez: "Yes, but never in a canoe."

NEW ULM GRIDDERS TROUNCE WINNEBAGO.

lars, but the brilliant work of the local team off-set this grievance.

Time and time again Stover's cowboys hit the Winnebago line for large gains. Hintz took the pigskin over for the first counter, on a fake line play, "Dick" Emmerich received a short pass from Regelin to push the count to 13-0 at the end of the first quarter, Arndt making the extra point on the first attempt, missing the second.

The second quarter found the Stovermen making consistent gains again, on off-tackle plays. Regelin carrying it over and Arndt kicked goal. This ended the half, 20-0.

Stelljes pushed the grand total up to 26 when we went over on a clever off-tackle play in the fourth quarter, and Arndt made it 27 to 0, when he made good the kick. No scoring was done in the third quarter, but the generous score gave Coach Stover an opportunity to use his reserves, several of whom were sent in before the half ended.

sire." (Ask Mr. Dirks what that means.) There is comedy, love, singing, playing, scenery, and dancing. Everything, but the eats—and all for one quarter of a dollar—twenty-five cents.

Come on! Let's show 'em we can put it across! If you support us, we'll support you! 50-50!

The football boys said they are going to get back early so they can go. We surely appreciate it, too. It makes us want to get out and cheer for the boys at their games. Now, why don't the rest of you plan to go? WE WANT EVERY ONE OF YOU THERE.

EXCHANGES.

On Friday, a "shoe collection" was taken, after which the Freshies were allowed to search through the piles for their shoes.

This year the Freshmen of the New Ulm High School seemed to be immune from initiation—or are the upper classmen immune from employing the initiation? There are, however, secret whispers going around that next year the new Freshies will get their share.

Marvin K.: "Can I have Saturday night?"

Irma D.: "I won't take it away from you!"

Cop: "How did this accident happen?"

Motorist: "Hic—I saw two bridges—hic—and ran over the wrong one."

Miss Kearns: "Raymond, are you chewing gum in my class?"

Raymond G.: "No, this ain't gum; it's tobacco."

Miss Kearns: "Oh, I beg your pardon."

Stover: "Why don't you play football?"

Irwin H.: "I would, only I'm left-handed."

Frosh: "Will you hold these books for me?"

Mr. Dirks: "Sir, I am principal of this school!"

Frosh: "Oh, that's all right, you look like an honest fellow."

"My operation wasn't serious in any way. It was a very small operation." "Sort of an operetta, eh."

Marian P.: "Say, Peggy, why do they always put straw on fresh concrete?"

Peggy A.: "That's to keep the concrete from blowing away."

Soph. to Freshie: "Say kid, what do you do when you've got a cold?"

Bright Freshie: "Oh, I wipe my nose."

Junior to Freshman: "What's the matter?"

Freshie: "Mr. Dodge hit his finger with the hammer."

Sophie: "Don't cry about that, you should laugh."

Freshman: "I-I-I-I-d-d-did."

Dick: "I hear the girls were lectured on the use of cosmetics."

Herb: "Sort of a chalk talk, eh?"

Things that never happen worry us most.

The foolish "darn" their luck—the wise mend it.

He who can bottle up his temper is a corker.

Mysteries: Love, women, and hash. Some do as they are told, others can't do anything else.

It is easier to keep up than catch up.

Bill M.: "The engine's missing," as the car slowed down.

Mae Jule: "Never mind, it doesn't show."

House-to-House Canvasser: "Can I sell you a vacuum cleaner?"

Harriet F.: "No thank you. We don't keep a vacuum here."

Virgil W. in a music store: "I want a violin string."

Clerk. "Steel one?"

Virgil W.: "No, I'll buy it."

"Fat" Arndt: "Unlucky boy! Say, if I was starving and it was raining soup, I'd be standing there with a fork."

Mr. Harmon was explaining to his pupils the points of a compass: "If you stand facing the North," he said, "what have you on your right hand?" "Babe" Wagner: "Fingers."
