JUNIORS GIVE RECEPTION TOMORROW

The vocal festival, which was held at St. Peter three weeks ago, was considered by a number of people as being one of the finest ever given in this part of the state. The individual organizations showed great improvement over the past two years. The massed performance in the evening was really beautiful, and both tone quality and balance were excellent. Several hundred people had to be turned away because of lack of room, but the festival was a decided success. Our own criticism from the critic judge was—good balance, good tone quality, a little softer on parts indicated excellent work in general.

Two weeks from today the St. James festival will take place. Both band and orchestra expect to go, and as this means that transportation has to be found for at least 90 people, and their instruments. Volunteer cars will be greatly appreciated.

The band expects to give two concerts in the German park, very soon. Most probably, they will be held on the evenings of May 21 and 23. The band has been working hard to give these concerts, and special vocal selections are being arranged for each concert, so you may be sure that the concert will be well worth attending.

DEAN BLITZ AND DEAN NICHOLSON WILL SPEAK

Mr. Dirks urges all seniors to come to the high school assembly, Tuesday, May 2, to hear the dean of women, Ann Dudley Blitz and Dean Edmund E. Nicholson, chairman of Student Affairs of the University of Minnesota.

The deans will explain the difference between college and high school life and how it is best to adjust oneself to those conditions. The value of a university education will also be stressed.

It is important that all seniors hear Deans Blitz and Nicholson.

St. Peter: "How did you get here?"
Citizen: "Flu!"

"Papa, are you growing taller all the time?"

"No, my child. Why do you ask?"

"Cause the top of your head is poking up through your hair."

HARMANITES WIN FIRST TRACK MEET

Defeat Winthrop 69 to 46.—District Meet Here Saturday.

The New Ulm Public High School track team won its first track meet last Friday afternoon when they ran away from Winthrop with a lead of 23 points.

The Harmanites placed first in eight events, while their opponents took only five firsts. Oppelt of New Ulm placed first in two events and made 11¼ points for the locals, while Marti made 11½ points, leading Oppelt by ¼ of a point. Oppelt made two firsts and Marti one first place.

New Ulm won in the shot put, high jump, high hurdles, discus, low hurdles, javelin, 440- and 880-yard dashes. Winthrop won the pole vault, broad jump, 100- and 220-yard dashes, relay and tied for first in high jump.

The district track meet will be held in New Ulm at the Athletic Field, Saturday, April 29.

"Where have you been?" inquired the employer.

"Having my hair cut," replied the workman.

"Well, you can't have your hair cut on my time," protested the exasperated employer.

"Why not?" demanded the wage earner sturdily, "It grew on your time."

BASEBALL TEAM TO BE ORGANIZED

The American Legion will sponsor Junior League baseball in New Ulm this summer. Practice will start Monday, May 1. Every boy in New Ulm under 18 years of age is eligible to compete. The practices will continue until the Legion Baseball tournament to be held some time the latter part of July. It is planned to practice every afternoon until school's out, from 4:30 til 5:45, except Saturdays and Sundays. Games will be played with high school and Legion teams from surrounding towns during the season.

All parents and boys between the ages of eight and eighteen, who are interested in this project, are asked to meet in the Public High school assembly, Friday afternoon at 4:30. The only requirement that the boys must meet and adhere to is that they possess a suitable baseball glove and a will to learn something about the national game, baseball.

All persons in the city, who have baseball suits that they will not be using this summer and would like to lend to the Legion for fitting out the players in this project, are asked to phone 297, ask for Mr. Andreen, commander of the Legion in New Ulm, and he will have a boy call with proper credentials for the suit.

JUNIORS GIVE SENIORS RECEPTION

Due to the hard times, it has been decided to do away with all decorations, and also the banquet at the Junior-Senior prom this year. The decorations and banquet having been a tradition for a good many years, the lack of these features at this year's prom does not necessarily mean that they are to be dispensed with in the future. If by next year, conditions have improved, the juniors will probably again entertain in the good old traditional fashion. The Orient orchestra will play for dancing, which will begin at 7 and continue till 12 o'clock. A two-course supper will be served at 9:30.

TRIFLES SOLVE MURDER

Two weeks ago we enjoyed an unusual assembly program. The main feature was a thirty-five minute play, "Trifles." The setting for the play was a rather desolate farm kitchen. The opening incident was the discovery of a murdered man. "Trifles" gets its name from the solution of the murder through small bits of evidence. The assembly program was in charge of Miss Ludwig, and Miss Ritt coached the play. The cast is as follows:

Mr. Hale, neighbor of the murdered man Alfred Bechner
Mrs. Hale Jane Mueller
Mrs. Peters, the sheriff's wife.....
..... Mary Mueller
The County Attorney.....
..... John Richard Higgs
Mr. Peters, the sheriff.....
..... Arthur Fussner
Ellsworth Wagner played two selections on the trombone. He was accompanied by Frederick Meile.

ATHLETE ENTERTAINS STUDENT BODY

Last Thursday at 3 o'clock the assembly bell rang, and when everyone gathered there, a German athlete appeared on the stage and displayed his remarkably well-developed arm and back muscles. After a short time Mr. Sheak reappeared on the stage and spoke briefly about the value of physical education and exhibited and described some of the apparatus he made for only a few cents and which anyone can make for himself. Then the athlete played several numbers on a musical saw and a guitar, being accompanied by Myrtle Grussendorf at the piano. Then to prove the old maxim, "A sound mind in a sound body," Mr. Sheak exhibited his remarkable memory by correctly reciting the population of states, etc., at the request of the students.

PRIVATE LIVES.

Thaxter Miller seems to be making the rounds. He was discovered the other evening at one of the better parking places with Grace S. Alex and Myrtle were backseating it.

Della Pechtel has a hard time distinguishing between Herman and Henry Raabe (of D. M. L. C.), a fact which is very bad for Henry.

The seniors are all prepared for a big time, Saturday night, juniors! The juniors have already informed every one about the lack of decorations, but nevertheless, the seniors are living in high hopes. The sun-light dance this week should get every one in trim, considering the fact that so many of the boys are too bashful? to dance.

It is rumored Miss Blair's new boy friend is a prominent young man about town.

Monday morning eager groups were seen discussing the grand time they had in St. Paul on Turntag. Alys and Ordorra H. were especially enthusiastic.

GYM NEWS

The long awaited, after school quoit tennis tournament was conducted as scheduled, Wednesday afternoon, April 19th. Teams captained by Grace Schleuder, Jeanette Forst, Janet Landrum, Florence Emmerich, Helen Gag, and Virginia Frenzel were entered in the first round. The Schleuders beat the Landrums 5-4, while the Emmerichs beat the Gags, 6-4, and the hard playing Frenzels won from the Forsts, 6-4.

In the semi-final matches the Frenzels beat the Schleuders in a fast, well played set, which ended with a score of 6-4. The Emmerichs drew a bye.

The final match between the Frenzels and the Emmerichs was hotly contested. Virginia, Ruth Riess, Ruth Langmack, and Myrtle Grussendorf proved too much for Florence, Donna Schleuder, Jean Veeck, and Edith Kemski. The Frenzels displayed exceptional skill in handling the quoit, covered their court well, and seemed to have the temperament essential for championship teams.

Boys' Volley Ball Tournament Held.

Carl Lindmeyer's team won first honors in the second annual inter-class volley ball tournament, which was played in the high school gymnasium, Thursday afternoon, April 20th. The victory was due largely to the fact that Carl's team had learned to play regular volley ball during the past term. The team passed the ball well, set it up, and gave their captain excellent opportunities to spike the ball. The Rice aggregation, which had won the right to enter the finals by defeating the fast team, captained by John Bauer, was somewhat disorganized, but put up a good fight and should give the champions a lot of trouble when the two teams meet again in a demonstration game at the Field Day, May 19th.

Third Annual Physical Education Demonstration Is May 19th.

With the knowledge that a goodly number of out-of-town physical education enthusiasts will be on hand to witness the New Ulm public school's third annual physical education demonstration, no efforts should be spared by the student body in helping to make the day's activities a satisfying climax to a year of work well done. May 19th is the date! Let's all help to make it the best demonstration ever!

From the Pens of Great Educators Throughout the Ages.

Socrates (420 B. C.)—"Therefore, as I said before, our education from childhood should be such that their earliest years must take part in all the more lawful forms of play, for if they are not surrounded with such an atmosphere they can never grow up to be well conducted and virtuous citizens."

John Locke (1690)—"How necessary health is to our business and happiness, and how requisite a strong constitution, able to endure hardship and fatigue, is, to one that will make any figure in the world; is too obvious to need any proof."

Schopenhauer (1850)—"The greatest of follies is to sacrifice health for any other advantage."

On Tuesday morning, instead of having the regular gym work, Mr. Pfaender had roll call at 8:15 and spent the rest of the period lecturing to the girls in the 8 o'clock gym class. In his talk he mentioned the growth in popularity of physical education and showed the girls a number of magazines devoted exclusively to this subject. The girls were also informed that after this they can sleep fifteen minutes more every Tuesday and Thursday morning as roll call will be taken at 8:15 after this instead of 8:05.

Alys P.: "Listen, Altha, this is what my boy friend says in his letter: 'Darling, I think of you all day—your naturally waved hair, your brownish-gray eyes, your slightly prominent cheek-bones, your twenty-four inch waist—'"

Altha: "Well, that's a queer sort of love letter!"

Alys: "Oh, didn't you know? Bob writes those descriptions of missing people for the police."

CLASS CRIMES

SENIOR SINS.

Spring fever! Mr. Dirks explains it to be a psychological effect of climate on the human being. The following are student opinions:

Lorna Sandhoefner—"These balmy nights when one's time is completely taken up."

Grace Schleuder—"When young men's fancy turns lightly to wrestling."

Roland Blasjo—"Well, now that's hard to explain."

Ordorra Haman—"When you say, 'heeping through the peep-kole' instead of 'peeping through the key-hole' the morning after the night before."

Florence Emmerich—"Don't know exactly, but if it makes me feel like I did the day after St. Paul Turntag, I'm not sure I want it."

With spring fever new romances usually appear; however, I've been too engrossed to see them. Nevertheless I heard that a certain boy Gretchen K. met at the music festival, corresponds with her. Perhaps the prom will bring a few others into the limelight.

I wish a couple of hints would be dropped into the Graphos box or handed to me as to subject matter for the Graphos. This last six weeks makes it difficult to hear, see, and know all that goes on. Help me!

JUNIOR JOTS.

The junior class has just voted Jack Jordan to be the most loved and best dressed MAN in high school (not overlooking his superior athletic ability).

John Johnson and Donald Rice are hoping that the juniors will serve real beer to their guests, the seniors, at the prom on Saturday evening.

Victor Harmening's books or magazines seem to be the chief interest of certain high school girls.

Kris Austad forgot to shave his head before coming to school, Monday morning.

The juniors were almost compelled to change the date of the prom because it interfered with Alex's track meet dates.

SOPHOMORE SINS.

Achievements of Our Youths Today and Yesterday.

At the age of thirteen Beethoven had published a volume of his sonatas, which were pronounced by music critics as among the most beautiful ever written. Today at the same age, Otto Reitter set a book of etiquette to music, which the music critics pronounced below criticism.

At the age of fourteen Mozart was recognized as one of the world's most skillful musicians. Today at the same age, Byrll Edmiston is recognized as among the most skillful cello players in the New Ulm High school orchestra and New Ulm Symphony orchestra.

William Cullen Bryant at eighteen wrote "Thanatopsis," pronounced by critics as one of the most beautiful poems in American literature. Today, at the age of sixteen, Lloyd Eyrich wrote a composition on "My Dreams of.....," pronounced by Miss Kearns as the silliest thing in the literature of New Ulm.

Thomas Edison was only seventeen when he made his first important discovery in telegraphy, which later brought him fame and fortune. Today, at about the same age, Alan Fiers made his first important discovery in the construction of a disintegrator, which in 500 years will undoubtedly bring him fame and fortune, also.

George Washington at the age of sixteen ranked as a major in the army. Today, at the same age, Le Roy Janni ranks as squad leader of twenty boys in the New Ulm gym class.

This week we publish the thumb-tack biography of James Edward Haynes; born, Dec. 29, 1917; died, 19.....

Haynes, James Edward, was born in New Ulm, Minn., on Dec. 29, 1917, of Irish-German parents. One of his Irish ancestors in 1730 started the settlement of Essig, now a thriving village in Southern Minnesota. From these sturdy ancestors he inherited his sterling qualities of fighting, conciseness, honesty, endurance, and his quick sense of humor, which are of great value to him. In 1923 he worked his way through kindergarten by carrying the teacher's lunch pail to and from school. On July 16, 1928, at 3 o'clock p. m., he saved his little friend, Erwin Christiansen, from a terrible death, by pulling him out of the neighbor's cistern. He was awarded a medal of heroism for this deed. At the age of fourteen he entered high school and distinguished himself at present by winning a sophomore contest of finding the longest word in the dictionary.

FRESHMAN FOLLIES.

Hope H. and Joseph G. are still making eyes at each other across the aisle. Hope, he looks very collegiate in his purple shirt and white tie!

Apparently Audrey M. doesn't mind the fact that Grant O. goes walking with Lorraine S.

Arloine M.'s latest is Popeye (and not the one in the funnies either).

Do you know that you don't know her? Irene S. is quite a shy and demure little thing.

"Could you imagine Betty B. and Leo Esser feeding pigs?" asks Willis S.

GOING TO BEACON CITY?

Some of the boys who are going to the World's Fair and Beacon City this June are beginning to wonder who the girls are that will be going at the same time. The groups will stay in separate sections of the city in frame cottages, but there will be plenty of chances for social activities at the club house. Mr. Pfaender tells the boys, "Sure, bring along your golf clubs," though they will probably be too busy to use them.

STUDENT OPINION.

We surely are being gypped this year. We had $2 class dues last year, when there was almost as big a depression as this year. I should think the juniors could give us a better prom than they are planning.

Cheated.

I don't think those state examination booklets are of much use in review.

Tight.

I think it's a very good idea having a prom such as we will have this year. Who feels like dancing anyway after eating a big meal?

Satisfied.

Teachers always say that gum is of no use to anyone. It's quite good for halitosis.

Double Mint.

I hope that all the junior and senior boys learn to dance soon. The girls don't want to dance with each other all night the 29th.

I think we seniors should wear caps and gowns for graduation. We'll feel less conspicuous.

Shy.

Why don't the different classes have picnics. A lot of us who don't dance would enjoy ourselves out in the open much more than walking around in a stuffy old gym.

Lunch.

Virginia Frenzel has a new beau, (bow).

Miss Huber writes poetry in Latin, German, and English.

Seniors are just beginning to like school a lot.

Florence S. wears her green dress most of the time because Donald Rice thinks she looks nice in it.

The reason why so many girls look tired some mornings is that Armory dances have begun again. For that matter, the boys that attend look just as bad.

question 'occupied the chair of applied electricity at one of our public institutions.'

Miss Blair was giving a written examination in geography. One question was:

"Why does the sun never set on the British flag?"

Fuzzy wrote for the answer: "Because they take it in at night."

Alice Larson says that one advantage of being six years old is that when your sweetie gives you the air, you can soothe your broken heart by throwing rocks at him.

"I was bidding farewell to an old lady in one charge I was relinquishing," said a clergyman, "and answered her regrets by saying I was sure my successor would be a better man."

"I don't know, I don't know," burst out the old lady, "they seem to be getting worse and worse every time."

"So Hilda's broken it off with Bobby. I wonder if she still keeps his lovely letters?"

"No. As a matter of fact, they're keeping her now."

"Who got the prize in the beauty contest last night?"

"The judge. He dated her."

"But," protested the new arrival, as St. Peter handed him a golden trumpet, "I can't play this instrument; I never practiced while on earth."

"Of course you didn't," chuckled the Saint. "That's why you are here."

Governess: "Methusalem was nine hundred years old."

Bobby: "What became of all his birthday and Christmas presents?"

Teacher: "Really, Johnny, your handwriting is terrible. You must learn to write better."

Johnny: "Well, if I did, you'd be finding fault with my spelling."

Sambo was hired on a railway gang. At the close of the first shift he was all tired out and sought out the boss.

"Mister, yo' sho' yo' all got me down on the pay roll?"

"Sure," said the boss. "Here's your name—Sambo Simpson, that right?"

"Yes, suh," replied Sambo. "Ah just thought you might have me down as Samson."

"Now, girls," said the restaurant manager. "I want you all to look your best today. Add a little extra dab of powder to your cheeks and take a bit more care with your hair."

"Why, what's the matter?" asked the head waitress, "Butter bad again?"

"No," said the manager, "the beef's tough."

ORGANIZE BASEBALL TEAM.

These clothes will be numbered and catalogued for identification and returned at the end of the season.

The project is being put on for the beneficial use of the leisure time of the boys in our city during the coming summer. Mr. Harman of the Public High school will act as instructor.

Further details of the plan will be discussed Friday afternoon, and all who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

Wayne: "Shall we have a friendly game of cards?"

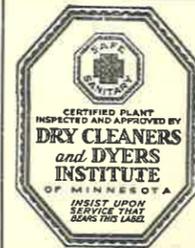

Howie: "No, let's play bridge." "And this beautiful jar," said Jones, proudly exhibiting his treasures. "It cost me $50."

"Well, well, $50!" said his friend. "I suppose they threw in the marmalade."

Farmer: "Hi there! What are you doing up in my cherry tree?"

Youngster: "Dere's a notice down dere to keep off de grass."
