

SIXTH KEY IS SUCCESS

The play presented by this year's junior class was The Sixth Key, a story of mystery and horror, having an exciting plot, which kept the audience guessing every minute.

The plot was centered upon a rather mysterious safe with six keyholes, the sixth key unable to be located.

The cast all did very well in their parts, and made the audience feel that they were living the parts they portrayed. They were well made up so as to be quite convincing to the audience. Almost everyone spoke clearly and loudly enough to be heard all over the auditorium. They all appeared natural and very much at ease.

Lila Mae Kemske did an exceptional piece of work in her portrayal of the heroine. Hubert Neuman, who played a dual role, also deserves credit for his good work. In the supporting cast Marjorie Haerberle and Phyllis Shake added the only bits of humor to the otherwise serious plot. Although the love scenes at the end of the third act were a little stiff, it was probably because of the laughs the characters were getting from the high school students.

Musical selections were furnished between the acts by Letha Stoltenburg, a saxophone solo; Burton Parmeter, a violin solo; Mr. Kitzberger and Betty

HOMECOMING FANS CELEBRATE WIN

LYCEUM TO BE MONDAY

Monday, November 22, at 1 P.M. the student body and faculty will be entertained by the Parkinson National Clarinet Ensemble.

Members of the Musical Ensemble have won national recognition as young artists and highest honors at the national high school contest. The program will be both educational and entertaining.

STAFF MEMBERS TELL OF CONVENTION

Tuesday morning, five members of the Graphos staff spoke to the assembly about the convention they attended at the University of Minnesota, November 5 and 6 and how they put out the New Ulm Daily Journal last week. Martha Esser told of the opening of the convention and enrollment; Phyllis Shake spoke on the lectures and discussions attended by the members; Lois Backer told of the banquet and dance; Gareth Hiebert told of his trip to the Tribune and Star, and Marjorie Haerberle explained just how the students put out the Daily Journal last week. Mr. Sutherland stated that students are invited to offer criticisms and contributions to the Graphos.

New Ulm's victory over Sleepy Eye with a score of 19-0 made the homecoming, which by the way, was one of the largest ever staged in New Ulm High School, a complete success.

The homecoming celebration opened Wednesday night with a bonfire and pep fest. The main speakers were Mr. Stewart, Mr. Anderson, Dick Eichten and Dick Spelbrink. Thursday afternoon, a parade was put on by the students which included the band, drum corps, a float from each of the classes, a Fri-Le-Ta float, several from the F.F.A., and one from the N.F.L.

After the game, a dance was held in the high school gymnasium for the alumni as well as the students. Music was furnished by Windhorn's orchestra. Food was sold by the Home Ec. department.

F.F.A. BOYS GO TO MARSHALL

Last evening, Donald Hippert, Leo Maidl, Sherman Zimmerman, and Harold Schaefer, spoke at Marshall, Minnesota at the annual F.F.A. Parent and Son Banquet of the Marshall chapter.

The subject which they spoke about was their recent trip to Kansas City. Each boy related certain parts of the convention program.

Ag. Instructor, E.R. Draheim also spoke to the gathering, being the main speaker of the program.

-IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE-

The Modern American by word, "It Pays to Advertise", was concretely illustrated by last week's homecoming. The Graphos staff's homecoming edition of the New Ulm Daily Journal, the bonfire and pep fest the night before the game, the painted slogans adorning the sidewalks throughout the city, and the parade the day of the game--all these advertised the fact that New Ulm versus Sleepy Eye would be a real homecoming event. And so it was! The crowd which watched New Ulm "can" Sleepy Eye at Johnson Field was the largest one ever to attend a N.U.H.S. football game. Who says we're lacking in school spirit?!

-BOUQUETS-

Pleased and favorable comments were flying left and right during and after the performances of the girls' drum corps and the high school band at the stadium homecoming night.

And well might they be! It's not every school that can boast of two such excellent musical organizations. The two girl drum majors have also earned their due share of praise. It takes diligent work and practice to achieve the degree of perfection that Dorothy and Phyllis have attained. If credit is to be given everywhere it is due, Mr. Dirks and Mr. Kitzberger can claim a large share because where would any organization be without a stabilizing head?

-THE GOLDEN RULE-

Although the overcrowded conditions and inadequate space in our school create an ideal "setup" for dishonest persons, up until recently the record of the student body had been fairly spotless. However, one or two recent cases in which valuable articles have disappeared have brought to the attention of everyone the fact that human nature is never infallible; and there are always a few people in whose makeup is lacking that certain element known as conscience.

"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

STUFF AN' JUNK

To the dismay of the Graphos staff, which was supposedly working hard on their issue of the Daily Journal, Mr. Hurlinger walked into the news-room and found our most worthy city editor sitting on one of the staff member's knee playing cat and mouse. Was her face red?!

Shades of Kindergarten
 Betty Nystrom and Corinne Berg, those two intelligent members of the 'sophisticated' senior class were observed "pumping-up" in the swings at the South Side Park recently.

CAGE PRACTICE BEGINS MON.

4 LETTER MEN

By Sports Editor

New Ulm High School cage practice gets under way for a sixteen game season, Monday afternoon.

A general meeting of all candidates for the squad will be held this afternoon, pending different arrangements.

Judging from the play of returning veterans and last year reserves, Coach Harman need not tear his hair for want of material.

Although losing four of the finest sharp-shooters ever to wear the lavender and white, Dick Eichten returning first string guard and Brad Kusske Dick Spelbrink, Bob Bueger and Charles Korth, second stringer, brighten Harman's hopes considerably.

Leon Ochs, Bryce Woerner and Wallace Christianson, in the way of last year's reserves, should be ready to go places.

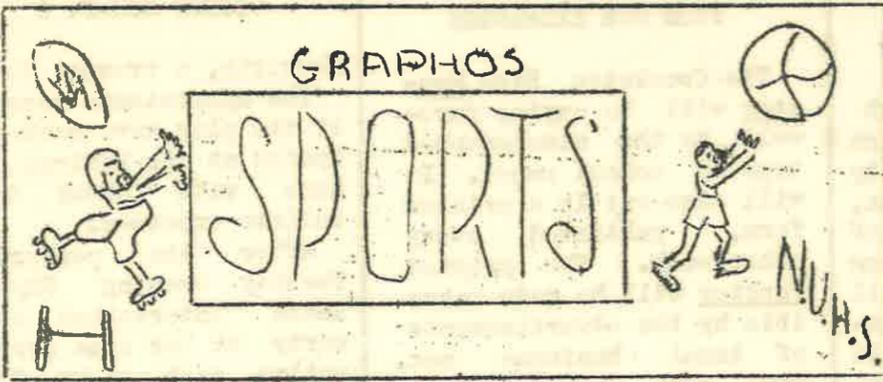

The Harmanites open their '37-'38 cage season against Winthrop, Friday December 10.

The squad of 25 will be carried until Christmas, at which time a slight cut will be made.

COACHES & OFFICIALS HOLD CLINIC HERE LAST NIGHT

Coaches and officials conducted their annual basketball clinic in the H. S. gymnasium yesterday afternoon and evening.

The purpose of the meeting was to explain new basketball rules for the coming '37-'38 cage season.

Oswald Oudal, one of last year's state tournament referees, interpreted the new rules to the group.

A demonstration of the rules was conducted by two N.U.H.S. cage quintets.

Two sessions were held; one at 4 P. M. and the second at 7:30 P. M.

FROSH BASKETBALL

By Ray Wieland

The Freshmen cage squad this year will be one of the strongest in years. The coaches have not announced a definite program for the freshmen as yet, but due to the large amount of material which is expected to turn out, Mr. Snowbeck will probably take charge of them and regular practice periods will be announced in the near future.

CAGE-SQUAD MUST HAVE "C" AVERAGE

By Ray Wieland

In order to insure the basket ball squad against losses from ineligibilities Coach Harman announced that in order to be eligible at the beginning of the season, a player must have a C average or better in his studies. A tough schedule this year has necessitated the inauguration of this system and Harman believes that it will insure the team against losses in the midst of the season. Unless they have a fair mark they will have a tough time with their make-up work. The system, Harman says, is designed expressly for the purpose of developing a better team.

MAGICIAN'S PROPHECY COMES TRUE!

Last Tuesday, the high school and the Junior High School were entertained by a very clever magician, Mr. M. Van Reese. One of the most interesting things he did was to tell us, by means of mind reading, that New Ulm would win their Homecoming football game. He showed us many tricky performances with disappearing balls, sacred Chinese rice, and magic bowls.

FRI-LE-TAS HOLD MEETING

The Fri-Le-Ta Girls' Club held its regular meeting Wednesday, November 17. The main feature of the meeting was a talk by Miss Ester Winderberge of the LaFonda Beauty Shop. She illustrated her talk and gave many helpful hints to the girls. Dorothy Stuebe played a piano solo and Mr. Kitzberger and Betty Neuwirth played a trumpet duet.

SOPHOMORES WILL SPONSOR DANCE

The sophomore class will sponsor a dance this evening in the high school gymnasium from 7:30 to 10:30, with Abe Fletcher furnishing the music. Admission is $.10. The class will sell doughnuts, ice-cream, pop and sweet cider.

EXTRA!

A last minute check-up reveals that there are 10 seniors, 12 juniors, 10 sophomores and 37 freshmen out for declamation. Each class has at least one person in each of the three divisions, oratory, humorous, and dramatic.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES

The Crookston High Pepster will be saying farewell to the mimeographed type of school paper. It will come out in a printed form, published every other week. The printed Pepster will be made possible by the advertisements of local business men. Thus, soon one of Central High School's dreams will come true.

The Mikado, Gilbert and Sullivan's popular light opera, will be presented in Lincoln auditorium, as a lyceum program. Five singers of the Chicago Opera Company will give a fifty minute cutting of the musical comedy, including the best known selections. Special staging and costuming will add to the effect of the music.

Thirty-three freshman boys have become interested in the process of cooking. To solve this problem, a boy's Home Ec. class has been organized in Breckonridge High School. Their work consists only of food preparation which is done in the laboratory with proper equipment furnished them. As yet the boys have not become interested in sewing.

SIXTH KEY-P. 1

Neuwirth, a trumpet duet.

The approximate receipts of the play have been estimated at one hundred dollars with about forty dollars expenses.

After the performance Tuesday evening Phyllis Shake entertained at a party at her home for the entire cast and Mr. Sutherland. Games were played and a lunch was served.

FORENSIC ACTIVITIES

Today is the deadline for choosing declamation pieces by the contestants. Students should begin to memorize pieces as soon as they receive their typewritten copies. Those who have not chosen their pieces will have them assigned to them next week.

The early rehearsals on the selections will be in groups. In this way the rules for interpretation before individual rehearsals begin.

The three school winners, Lyla Mae Kenski, Phyllis Shake and Gareth Giebert, will again be defending their titles, but with more than sixty other students there will no doubt be warm competition.

It is already evident that many more boys are out for declamation this year than in past years. The question arises as to whether they will keep it up or not.

The ranking for the four debate teams is as follows: Ray Wieland and Jack Minium, affirmative, won 5, lost 1; Gertrude Crepeau and Gladys Gulden, negative, won 4, lost 3; Gareth Hiebert and Leon Ochs, affirmative, won 3, lost 3; and Anita Grussendorf, negative, won 1, lost 3.
