SENIOR PROGRAM CONCLUDES SERIES

The senior assembly program this afternoon concluded a series of assembly programs put on by the various classes and sponsored by the student council. The program opened with the final session of the senate of seniors. Bills to abolish the faculty and to do away with history dates were proposed. Roberta Ripley (Jr.) "dished out" a class prophecy which didn't seem to jibe with the news of 1940 which appeared later on the program. E. Arndt read the class will. The program was concluded with an amateur hour in which B. Neuwirth appeared as Rizzie Mish, G. Hiebert as Hank Denny, D. Kading as Anony-Mous, V. Milliman and L. Reinhart as Pack and Pit, A. Grussendorf as Sally Swing, and P. Jahnke as Colonel Crow.

SENIORS DECIDE ON SKIP DAY

Wednesday morning, May 4, the seniors held a class meeting in Miss Kearn's room. The purpose of the meeting was to decide the date for senior skip day.

As this is only a senior affair, the date will not be announced to the freshmen, sophomores and juniors. But all of the students will find out (for the day is soon), when they miss the atmosphere of intelligence that the seniors lend to the school.

The following committees have been appointed to take charge of the senior skip day: food committee; K. Higgs, D. Besemer and D. Huelskamp, entertainment committee; D. Merkel E. Maidl and J. Reitter, transportation committee; C. A. Crone, J. Teichrow, and W. Ahrens.

-MOTHER'S DAY-

Sunday is Mother's Day--one day in the year when everyone stops to think just what his mother means to him and tries to show her, through the medium of a gift, that he hasn't forgotten her. But the question is: Is there any material thing in the world that anyone could give his mother that could convey to her a fraction of the feeling he should feel toward her? Of course not. A little less taking our mothers for granted as sort of maids-of-all-work would do a lot more than a carload of flowers toward making them happier. Of course we all mean to do things the right way, but the point of the matter is--do we?

There's one disadvantage in the warmer weather: One can't use the fact that the room temperature is hovering about freezing as an excuse to lie in bed till the last minute.

THE MORAL IS?

How important is a sense of responsibility? Such a question cannot be definitely answered by an established formula. However, it should be considered important enough to be rated as an essential in the makeup of anyone's personality but not so exaggerated that the individual over-estimates his responsibility and becomes self-important. Self-importance, in turn, breeds incompetency; and, consequently what started out as a virtue becomes, in its magnified form, a fault. Any organization is retarded rather than stimulated by the presence of any member who has an exaggerated idea of his importance and an idea that his value to society excuses him from routine tasks. Are you a hindrance or a help?

STUFF AND JUNK

A new little book called Manners for Moderns has arrived in the library...it's for boys exclusively....it's written humorously yet it does make sense.....it even tells how to go about getting a date....don't rush, boys....Did you see how Miss Treadwell crashed the society page of a Mpls. paper last Sunday.. a swell picture of her... seems she's going to speak at a convention... Radke has been bragging his Auburn is so fast it registers 90 on the speedometer when it's parked..well, now really. Have you been on a weiner roast....if not you've missed something...everybody goes...The other day Dattie Higgs yelled at her caddy for not watching the ball....she said, "It came right down the fairway"....the caddy said, "That's the trouble...the other caddies said when you played all I had to do was to keep my eye on the rough"....ho hum.... some fun....Who was it that said a boy may be well oiled and still be noisy...Overheard Dorothy Besemer swearing a blue streak the other day...it went something like this, Navy, aqua, turquoise, Alice, powder, Royal, Copen Timely advice....the secret of keeping friends is...not to give them away...Rumor has it that Mr. Hoefs was notified by the sheriff that there would be a sheriff's sale of his property.Mr. Hoefs forgot there was a personal property taxto pay.

SENIOR-LESS STAFF TO EDIT GRAPHOS

Friday the thirteenth may prove lucky or otherwise for applicants for the Graphos positions to be left vacant by graduating seniors. Those who have indicated their desire to join next year's staff will be put to the test next week when, together with the underclassmen already on the staff, they put out the thirtieth issue of the paper.

This temporary staff will include the following: S. Groebner, editor-in-chief; P. Shake, school editor; D. Schleuder, art editor; Ray Wieland, sport editor; H. Andreen, O. Larson and M. Zupfer, makeup department; B. Wichtel and M. Haerberle, feature column; and T. Streissguth, special reporter. Those who are making their debut next week include: D. O'Malley and H. Vomack, who will assist the sports editor; C. Milliman, S. Ingle, D. Stuebe, E. Griffiths, L. Buggert and A. Schmucker.

Any others who wish to edit the Graphos should get in touch with B. Nyström or Mr. Sutherland immediately.

BREAD BAKING CONTEST

The annual bread baking contest sponsored by the Eagle Roller Mill was held on Wednesday and Thursday. The winners in the beginning class were: A. Bassett, N. Johnson, D. Keckeisen, L. Wellner, and D. Oetting. In the second year class the winners were: M. Evans, T. Broste, C. Friberg and D. Roberts. The loaves of bread were judged by color, volume, texture, weight, and flavor. There are twenty-five dollars in prizes to be distributed.

Con't from P. I. Col. 1 committee; Doril Buenger-chairman, Marjorie Haerberle.

Although not everyone's name is mentioned in the above list, there will be plenty of work for all juniors in the decorating of the gym. The support of every junior will be necessary to make this prom a successful one.

DEDICATION OF THE SCHOOL

During the next several weeks steam shovels will add to the array of noises outside the portals of N. U.H.S., as ground for the new auditorium was broken today amid the shouts of the high school students and the musical atmosphere lended by the fine N.U.H.S. band.

It was an occasion to be happy about, as everyone has been waiting eagerly to see the first shovel of ground turned over which would mean a new school for the student body.

Work is commencing on the auditorium-gymnasium, and as soon as excavation has been completed there, the basement for the class room addition on the north side will be dug.

LARGE DELEGATION TO STATE CONCLAVE

The New Ulm Future Farmers of America chapter plan to send one of the largest delegations ever to represent New Ulm to the State FFA Convention, at the U. of Minn., May 19-21.

Teams will be entered in crops, poultry, general livestock and dairy judging. In addition to that there will be several delegates from New Ulm and four members who have been accepted to play in the State FFA band.

Over fifteen hundred Future Farmers from all over the state are expected to attend.

In addition to the above mentioned facts, the State public speaking contest will also be held.

The best chapter in the state will then be selected in the annual chapter contest. Last year Owatonna won in this division.

The convention will also include the presenting of degrees to eighty State Farmers which is the second highest degree attainable in the FFA.
