St. Peter, We'll Beat'er, Is Slogan for Tomorrow's Game

Roamers Scheduled For Lyceum Program

The Roamers a mixed quartet will present the second University of Minnesota Lyceum program on Tuesday, November 16, at 3:00 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

They will sing songs about the sidewalks of New York and New England, songs which stirred the Michigan lumberjacks of yester-year and an Indian Lullaby which was a favorite of the Chippewa of Wisconsin. There will be songs from the play "Oklahoma" and about Latin-America, rhythmic music and cowboy—ballads of the South and Southwest. The Roamers' finale will be an abbreviated version of George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess."

Dance Climaxes 2-Day Homecoming Celebration

"St. Peter, We'll Beat 'Er" is the slogan as the New Ulm high school students look forward to the 1948 homecoming festivities, October 22 and 23.

The two-day celebration will begin with a pepfest and bonfire at the west side park at 7:30 tonight. The name of homecoming queen will be announced and she will be presented at this time. There will be speeches by team members and by Mr. Lynott, music by the pep band, yells led by our cheering squad, and fireworks.

Beach Luncheon

Following this, students will be transported by bus to the beach for a feed and informal dancing. The feed has been prepared by the boys' home economics class. The menu planned is egg salad sandwiches, ham salad sandwiches, ice cream and pop.

Coronation of the queen will be Saturday night at 7:45 p. m. at Johnson field. Dolores Hulke, 1947 homecoming queen, will preside and Mr. Herrmann will crown the new queen.

Between halves of the New Ulm-St. Peter game the New Ulm high school band, under the direction of Mr. J. F. Strang, will perform.

Following the game, all New Ulm high school students and alumni are invited to the dance at the high school auditorium. Music will be furnished by Blue Gordon and his Modernaires.

Larson Oct. Rotarian

Curtis Larson, N.U.H.S. student body president, has been selected by the New Ulm Rotary Club as Rotarian for October. Senior boys from both New Ulm high school and Trinity high school are picked each month by the Rotary Club for outstanding leadership or participation in a certain activity.

Curt, besides being student body president, plays football, basketball and is a member of the track team. Last year he acted in the junior class play and was junior class vice president.

Dewey Speaks To Local High School Students At Kato

"Roses are Red, Violets are blue, the man we'd vote for is, Thomas E. Dewey," echoed from the lips of nine N.U.H.S. loyal Republicans who went to Mankato Friday, to hear Gov. Dewey make a campaign speech.

Getting there just in time to see Dewey leave the 17-car victory train, high school photog, Flip Schulke, ran up to take a picture. A Dewey staff man stopped him; but after saying he was taking pictures for the New Ulm Daily Journal, Flip proceeded to take a close-up of the candidate.

The boys weren't able to get into the Armory where the speeches were delivered, but heard them through a window from the outside. Many Minnesota notables were seen, including Gov. Youngdahl, Congressman O'Hara and Senator Ball.

Cedric Adams Also Seen

While waiting for Dewey to get back on the train, the boys ran into Cedric Adams who wished the high school football team well and posed for a picture. Rich Niemann got cheated as Cedric, seeing Rich next to him, asked Shirley Kosek and Jackie Osland to stand next to him instead.

When Dewey came to get back on the train, Rich Seifert, Fred Nystrom, Sandy Sanmann and Rich Niemann entertained him with, "Roses are Red, Violets are blue". Dewey laughed and told the boys that they must have thought that one up on the spot. Soon after, the train pulled out of the station with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey waving from the back platform.

Homecoming Constitution

We, the people of New Ulm High, in order to form a more perfect team, establish school spirit, insure a good game, provide for the common enjoyment, do ordain and establish this homecoming for the alumni and students of New Ulm High.

Sadie Hawkins Day On Tap For Nov. 14

Bang! and there they go, is what you'll hear at the annual race at the Sadie Hawkins day dance, Saturday, November 13. The music is to be furnished by the local "Dog-patchers" namely the N.U.H.S. Swing Band.

All dog patchers are requested to come in costume as there'll be a Grand March and prizes awarded for the best and most original costume.

As a special guest, we have invited Old Man Mose who will be there to give his predictions before the great race. The race will begin at the sound of a gun and from there on, you lucky men, you're on your own. An interesting attraction of the evening will be the race between the she and he schmoos.

The dance will begin at 8 o'clock and the admission is 30 cents per person and 50 cents for couples.

All you gals better be on the lookout for a goodlooking prospect to bring that night.

This dance will be sponsored by the Graphos Staff.

Pictured above are the candidates for Queen of the 1948 homecoming celebration. One of these will be the lucky girl to reign over the festivities. Winner will be announced at the Pepfest tonight.

November Seventh To Thirteenth Set Aside for Education

This year "Strengthening the Foundation of Freedoms—through better schools" has been chosen as the general theme of American Education Week November 7-13, 1948.

The daily topics are:

- Nov. 7. Learning to Live Together;
- Nov. 8. Improving the Education Program;
- Nov. 9. Securing Qualified Teachers;
- Nov. 10. Providing Adequate Finance;
- Nov. 11. Safeguarding Our America;
- Nov. 12. Promoting Health and Safety;
- Nov. 13. Developing Worthy Family Life.

The freedoms, the principles, the rights for which men have fought and died constitute the "Foundations of Liberty." It is our responsibility and duty to guard these.

Freedom will survive in America only if the children learn in schools that the entire story of man reflects his struggle to gain, to protect and to expand his freedom. We are the ones that must learn the obligations and privileges of freedom and accept the responsibility, to keep it and to strengthen it. In this way we can "Strengthen the Foundations of Freedom."

Homecoming Years Ago

Homecoming ten years ago saw us opposing St. Peter, just as we are this year. Homecoming plans for October 7, 1938, were as follows: a parade which started at 3 p. m. was led by the Girls' Drum corps, the band, and all the floats. Floats representing Fri-Le-Ta, the National Forensic League, Latin Club and the F.F.A. were in the parade plus floats from the four classes. A slogan contest was held and "Stampede St. Peter's Gate" was chosen as the winner.

At the game a turkey was given away to the holder of the lucky number. Lavender and white balloons were sold in the grand stand. Between halves the New Ulm Girls' Drum Corps played and several stunts were performed.

Ten years ago at Homecoming time coach Joe Harman stated "Eagles won't" Beat around the Bush," and he was right. They won 17 to 0.

We Seniors by Marianne and Ethel

Captain

This guy's ambition is to become a deep sea diver. He was brought into this world April 30, a natural born football star. He plays center on the first string. His foremost problem is women, although he says, "They're too inconsistent". By this time you all know it's Fred Nystrom.

Vange

Evangeline Mees, one of our candidates for queen, has black natural curly hair and brown eyes. When her name was announced for candidate, Vange's only comment was "Golly". Her ambition is to go to school this fall. The thing that makes her happy now is that she is rid of her brace which she has been wearing for five years. She dislikes the conceited boys.

Sandy

Here's another member of our football team, Eugene Sandmann. His ambition is to become an engineer. In his leisure time you can find him playing records—when he's not sleeping. He likes good looking girls. His pet peeve is, snoopy Graphos reporters who ask him silly questions.

Lulu

This girl's ambition is to become a good stenographer. She is a member of Fri-Le-Ta Club. She also is a candidate for queen, she "couldn't believe it." She thinks boys in N.U.H.S. are okay!! It's Luverne Sauer.

Kenny

This guy just doesn't seem to appreciate the "new look"; he dislikes the higher heels and the longer skirts. His pet peeve is sixth hour study hall. He also plays on the first lineup in football. His ambition is to become a pilot. We all know it's Kenny Bloedel.

Patty

Patricia Hartl's greatest ambition is to become a singer with some big name band. Here's another girl who dislikes the conceited boys we have in school. She also is a candidate for queen. She was both "happy and surprised" when the results were announced. Her hobby is collecting glass slippers.

The "Ag" and "Ar"

Charlie Olstad has great plans for the future. When he's married he's going to have three swimming pools. One with cold water, one with hot water and one with no water. You see, Charlie has a cat!

The last time we saw Richard Niemand "he" was multiplying 0 by itself 75 times. Hm! what did you get, Dick?

That reminds us of the morning the Trig class spent twenty solid minutes on one problem. The answer? One !!!

Mary Lloyd mailed her letter to Santa Claus yesterday. She wants a winter coat because she's tired of bouncing around in her spring coat.

Kathy Fiemeyer has really taken our Homecoming slogan seriously. She already has three pallbearers.

Question of the day—Did you know that Searles got it's name from the vice president of the railroad that goes through Searles?

Since when do the football players wear garters? For more information consult Jean Kuelbs.

It seems that a seven-hour day isn't long enough for Denny Nelson so he stayed an eighth hour in Physics. Till six, mind you!!

If any of you football fans took notice of the cheerleaders at Redwood you would have noticed that "Minnie" Ubl had her letter sewed on upside down. Lovesick, Minnie?

We wish the team lots of luck in winning the all important game, Homecoming!

Disaster Arrives For Some; Plan To Study Again

In my estimation, the most nerve-racking day in the entire six week's period is report card day.

The night before, nightmares about the vicious yellow pieces of cardboard disturb my otherwise peaceful sleep. I awake bright and early Wednesday morning and hop out of bed. Suddenly, I remember—today is the fatal day! I sink back on my pillow. Alas, this lovely day is ruined. Ah, well, into each life a little rain must fall.

I approach our institution of learning as I imagine a criminal would approach his doom. Time passes extremely slowly, but finally the end of the first hour is at hand. What will it be this time, a "D" or a "C"? As the instructor hands me my card, I wonder if the color of it has anything to do with the way I feel. Well, how did that happen? It's a "B". I'm beginning to feel better already. With renewed hopes I go to the rest of my classes, and by the time sixth hour is over, I have collected quite a variety of grades and comments. These comments are the things that make report cards worth looking at. Some are encouraging, others are laugh provoking, and most are downright disgusting.

The day has come to a close, my report cards have been signed, and I can relax for another six weeks. At this point my conscience and I have a little argument which invariably ends with me saying, "I'll study harder this six weeks, honest I will!"

Sit'n Scream - - - - - With Punka and Jean

Our team has other talents beside playing football, for instance: Chuck Brust, Sandy Sandmann, Richard Niemann, and Richy Wagner have a quartet. [poor Miss Carlson!]

Speaking of music, the sophomores boys do their vocalizing on main street.

Isn't it a little inconvenient riding a bicycle in heels, Miss Mueller? By the way where is "Morning Glory"?

Relations sure have improved between Redwood and New Ulm thanks to Buddy B. and others!! While on the subject of Redwood—Did you know that the cheerleaders publish their school paper? Aren't you lucky you live in New Ulm!!!

Betty Watchke certainly picked a fine time to hurt her hand—just before tests. Bet she had it all planned!!!

Das Tagebuch

Saturday—October 9—The football team really played football last night at Redwood Falls Homecoming game even though we did lose 7-6.

Sunday—Oct. 10—There are only 13 days until homecoming.

Monday—Oct. 11—Patty Hartl is actually counting the hours and minutes left until she is 17. She certainly looks excited.

Tuesday—Oct. 12—The nine senior girls that were chosen for the queen and attendants surely are happy. Luverne Sauer really was nervous down at the lockers after the results were announced.

Wednesday—Oct. 13—After having waited for nearly a year the Fri-Le-Ta pins came today.

Thursday Oct. 14—Tests! Tests! Tests! The end of the six-week period is here and everyone seems to be cramming. Even the study halls are more quiet.

Friday Oct. 15—Today everyong is talking about Homecoming. The balloons we're going to have this year sound very "cute".

Why is "Cuddles" Loeffelmacher always chasing a certain yellow cab around?

Madelia and Kenny Bloedel seem to have taken over the sophomore girls lately.

Overheard in the locker room: Red Miller: "She's the kind of a girl who whispers sweet nothing-doings in your ear. It'll surely seem good seeing all the grads at homecoming.

Features Of The Future

by Herb Schaper

Al Capp and Chick Young don't have anything on New Ulm's major male cartoonists—Otto Pfeiffer and Alexander Sviene.

Both have been drawing for a number of years. Alexander has been sketching [mostly during school time] since the first grade. Otto started about eight years ago in the third or fourth grade.

Alexander's specialty is faces and cartoons. Bill Mauldin, who drew war cartoons and slogans, is his favorite cartoonist. Sviene has entered two art contests; one was the "Dogpatch" contest where he submitted his own version of "Lena the Hyena". Another was an entry in the Minneapolis Art Association contest. Alex may go to art school, but his main ambition is to travel and to loaf at art.

Otto is Winner in Contest

Otto concentrates on animals and faces; characters fall under the face bracket where he can come very close if the people he draws have distinctive features.

At the age of 12 he drew a collection of all the presidents of the United States. Besides this, he still has the series of Snow White and the Seven dwarfs plus all the supporting characters. He drew the Snow White series from memory after he had seen the movie of the same title.

At the age of 14 he entered the Minneapolis Art Association contest where he submitted an original drawing of a girl. Otto took second place honors that won him ten dollars.

Otto has gone after his hobby in a big way. He has spent about $30 in art courses and intends to go into commercial art.

MacFisher is tops with "Henry" Otto will undertake to draw character sketches of the teachers for the Graphos.

Both boys are deeply interested in their work and should go far in the art field. The Annual should profit by their skills.

Audubon Screen Tours Continue

Yes, we are all lovers of the out-of-doors, of birds, and of wildlife. But aren't we often too neglectful about their protection? Couldn't we all appreciate it more if we were more acquainted with New Ulm's wildlife and birds? To afford us this opportunity, the New Ulm Chapter of the Izaak Walton League is financing and presenting the first series of the five Audubon movies this year. These movies bring the finest natural history lecturers, who personally present the best in all-color motion pictures. All tours are at 8:00 p. m. at the high school auditorium.

One of the tours, "Wildlife in Action", by Dr. Pettingill Jr. from Northfield, Minnesota, has already been presented at the auditorium October 6. It was a reminder that our wildlife must not be neglected but appreciated and conserved more than ever for the future. The four movies to be presented are:

"Our Living Earth" by Alexander Sprunt, Jr. presented on Wednesday, November 10. Mr. Sprunt is a naturalist and conservationist from Charleston. "Our Living Earth" is a story of soil.

"Canada West" will be on December 15. It was filmed by Bert Harwell. Magnificent views of abundant game, birds, and mammals are portrayed in their natural habit.

"Midnight Movies in Animalland" is coming February 9. This was filmed by Howard Cleaves and it reveals the mysterious night happenings in the wilderness.

On May 4, "Sounds of the Sage-land" will be shown. This is a different nature program by Alice and Harold Allen, known as screen and radio artists.

November 5 Set For Posture Week

Heads up! Shoulders back! Chest out! are a few of the things to remember for posture week, ending November 5.

Walking and sitting demonstrations by class groups, a movie, and finally the crowning of the king and queen will all take place at the general assembly on that day.

As last year, there will be a king and queen, chosen from senior high and a prince and princess from junior high.

Each class from seventh grade to senior will choose three representatives. These representatives will go before the assembly November 5, winners to be chosen by the judges.

Last year's king was Kahlil Mansoor; queen, Pat Harman; prince, Raymond Brey; and princess, Lucille Kosek.

Miss Ellen Mueller, girls' physical education teacher, says that the students should start thinking of slogans. All slogans should be placed in the box in the library. The best one will then be the official slogan for posture week.

Wagner, Groebner Represent NUHS

Members of the N.U.H.S. faculty will attend the Minnesota Educational Association in St. Paul, October 28 and 29.

Miss Alida Nieboer represents the Southwestern division on the Executive Board, which is made up of 19 counties. There are eight divisions that make up this board.

Mr. Tom Pfaender is the chairman of the Professional Organization in the Educational Program and this organization will meet Friday afternoon in the Municipal auditorium, St. Paul.

The two main speakers for the first general session Thursday morning at the auditorium will be Leslie B. Hohman, M. D. a neuropsychiatrist at Duke university, who will speak on "Can the School Teach Emotional Health"; and Delbert Oberteuffer, Ph. D. a Professor of Health and Physical Education at Ohio State university, whose topic will be "The Health Responsibilities of All Teachers."

Wagner and Groebner in All-State Chorus

The Minnesota All-State high school chorus and orchestra will present a concert for the second general session of the convention Thursday evening. This all state-chorus which will number 1,000 will be represented by high school singers. Don Craig, choral director in the Fred Waring organization, will be guest conductor for the chorus. The best high school instrumentalists in the state will participate in the all-state orchestra and their guest conductor will be Henry Sopkin, director of the Atlanta, Georgia Symphony Orchestra. Ruth Groebner and Iris Wagner will be members of this orchestra.

Other entertainment at this convention will be furnished by a top radio star, Horace Heidt, and his New Musical Knights.

Mankato Armory Packed October 15, For Dewey Rally

by Mary Lee Wilson

The Mankato armory was filled and people were standing outside on the afternoon of Friday, October 15, when Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York spoke at a Republican political rally. Also on the platform to say a few words were Governor Luther W. Youngdahl, Senator Joseph H. Ball, Senator Edward J. Thye, and Representative Joseph O'Hara.

Previous to the arrival of Governor Dewey and the other distinguished guests, the Mankato Teachers' College band entertained the large crowd with marches, novelties, and a display of baton twirling by one of the students.

As Dewey and his party came in, everybody in the auditorium rose and cheered. The band played a march while those on the platform got settled. Ed McLane, county Republican chairman, introduced each of the speakers. After Governor Youngdahl, Senator Ball, and

Home Ec Busy With Fashions, Menus

Girls in the 9th grade Home Ec. class are learning how to plan and prepare breakfasts.

Learning how to cook in the objective of the senior boys and they seem to be doing a good job of making breakfasts. Even if they have to try some things over again for the second and third time, they aren't discouraged.

The tenth grade girls are studying the present day fashions for fall and winter. They are also learning to choose clothes for all occasions and for their personality. Each girl has learned what color is becoming to her and has had a private conference with Miss Olsen to decide what dress they are going to make in class. One day each class went downtown to purchase a pattern and material for their garment.

Last but not least the twelfth grade girls are practicing baking cakes. The first few weren't too successful, but improvements are being made rapidly.

Riding the Bus Proves Exciting

Twice a day, five days a week, four weeks a month, nine months a year for four years! This all adds up to an average of 960 hours of riding the schoolbus during high school.

First comes the trouble of getting to the bus on time. Most of the kids have accomplished this, but there's always one or two, like Shirley Lund on the Lafayette bus, who come rushing down the last minute, all out of breath and wondering why their clocks are never right.

During the ride to school you see many different things going on. Every day someone has a test that he has to "cram" for or an assignment that has to be finished and the bus seems to be the place that it's done. Then there are the book-worms who are absorbed in a story from the time they get on until the bus arrives at school. There are also those that just can't seem to wake up in the morning so they take a little nap on the way to school. And last, but certainly not least, there are those like Eugene Thomas on the Cambria bus who keep the atmosphere lively.

In the winter, riding the bus has its problems, too. When you wake up and see a snowstorm, the first thought to hit your brain is "Maybe the bus won't make it!" But it usually does come, and about halfway to school gets stuck on some small country road. Then the "men" have to get out and push and the bus finally arrives at school, "better late than never."

If you should happen to hear a loud "Ouch" coming from the Lafayette bus it is just someone who can't remember that there is a shelf above him and he crashes his head into it.

Oh well, bus riding has its ups and downs, but what would we do if we didn't have the buses.

NewsUHaveSkipped

The final result in the voting for senior class cap and gown colors was a majority for purple.

The junior girl's home economics sewing class has been selecting colors that are suited to each girl. Now they are ready to begin their work with woolen material.

Helium-filled balloons will be sold at the New Ulm-St. Peter homecoming game October 23 by the girls of the Fri-Le-Ta Club. They will sell for $.25 each.

Speech Activities

This isn't a fugitive from a zoo as you might think, but a speech student giving a pantomime. Bob Schmidt, a member of the 4th hour speech class is demonstrating what not to do when giving a speech. Besides pantomime, students have had introductory speeches, discussions and story-telling. Political speeches will be given on Monday.

Senator Thye had spoken, Congressman O'Hara introduced Mrs. Dewey, who was presented with a large bouquet of flowers. O'Hara then introduced Governor Dewey. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dewey were given a rising round of applause, although that for the governor was more prolonged.

Governor Dewey complimented the people of this area on their wonderful farms, and on the weather, which was so favorable that day. The farms made him homesick, he said, for his own farm, Dapplemere.

'48 Homecoming

Music Musings by I. M. W.

Dance band rehearsals are now in full swing. Eighteen new arrangements have been ordered and also new stands which will be decorated by the art department. At the first rehearsal we threw out reams of old music, but, of course, we kept our theme, Moonlight Serenade, and old standbys such as "Blues on Parade".

Saunter down to the music room any time of the day and you will be sure to hear a variety of sounds, some pleasing to the ear, and some—well, just unusual, like Mr. Strang playing the French horn, for instance. You will probably hear Barbara Fritsche and Jenine Anderson practicing a violin duet while Jerry Weise tries to improve his tone on his bass horn. If you're especially lucky you might hear Richard Niemann tooting on his clarinet working on his orchestra music. This occurs very rarely, however. If Marlene Wallner takes up the bass fiddle like she says she's going to, we might even charge admission for spectators. Such a phenomenon is worth paying for!

A pep band will be on hand tonight to help make the pep fest really peppy.

See you tonight!

One of the least used, yet most interesting, of the reference books in our library is American Nicknames, by George E. Shankle, Ph. D. Americans have always liked nicknames. Nearly everybody has one. This book cannot only give you a lot of fun, but it can also show you some surprising information. Did you know that John Adams and not John Paul Jones was the Father of the American Navy? Yes, it's true. Mr. Jones is the founder of the 'American Navy. Who is called "Fly-up-the-Creeks"? What is the "Blonde Beauty of the Lakes"? Next time you visit Fairbault, Minnesota, you are also visiting the "Peony Center of the World". If you'd like to learn more about these nicknames, why not take down this volume from behind the desk next time you have a few minutes in study hall.

Ester Warner has written a fascinating book about places where snakes keep down the rats in houses, and the price of a blonde mermaid is $48.00. "New Song in a Strange Land" tells the adventures of a sculptress who accompanies her husband to a rubber plantation on the west coast of Africa. The story is one that will live on in the reader's memory.

Phantom Backfield is the story of four boys who play football for dear old Central High. These boys are the star backfield players, and with them the students hope to have a championship team. But all is lost when the school board decides to close Central High and the students are split up into different schools. The four boys find themselves playing against each other on rival teams. If you'd like to find out how the spirit of old Central was revived, you'd better read this book as soon as you can.

Departmental Doings

"Posters, posters on the wall, Here and there, and in the hall." Homecoming themes and slogans were put into use when the art classes of N.U.H.S. were assigned the task of making posters for the homecoming game.

The high school class and the eighth grade boys' section were responsible for these posters. The following are in the high school class: Lynn Schmucker, Yvonne Strate, Barb Fesenmaier, Carol Niemann, Mary Backer, Sharon Oswald, Jeanne Keckeisen, and Shirley Wallner. Among the outstanding posters from the boy's class are the ones by the following: Luverne Arndt, John Wolf, James Kagermeier, and Alton Buggert.

Shop News

The boys in shop have really been busy this week Mr. Tyrrell stated.

The Eighth grade boys have been hard at work making metal knives, birdhouses, hammers, ashtrays, scoops, and cigarette holders.

The tenth grade boys have started work on candle holders.

The eleventh boys have been learning how to operate machines. At present they are learning how to operate the milk machines.

Furth and Hamann Represent NUHS

Representing N.U.H.S. at the first annual State Student Council Convention in St. Paul on October 14 and 15 were Liz Furth and Jerome Hamann.

The highlights of the convention were two speeches. One given by Mr. Gerald Van Pool, Director of Student Activities National Association of Secondary School Principals of Washington D. C. and another given by Governor Luther W. Youngdahl.

Officers are Elected

Two business meetings were held at which the constitution was presented and adopted. Election of officers was held and they will be elected from the following schools as follows: President, St. Cloud Tech.; Vice President, St. Paul Washington; Secretary, Roosevelt High; Treasurer, Bemidji and the delegates for the National Convention, from Alexandria and Minneapolis Central.

Liz and Jerry were assigned sleeping quarters at the home of Mary Jo Koutnor of Humboldt High.

Before leaving for home on Friday, Liz and Jerry ate lunch in the Spanish Room at the Lowry Hotel and visited the Ford Plant.

When on their way home, Liz and Jerry both agreed that they were tired but they did have a wonderful time.

Jean's Fashion Basket

Right now the most important "fashion talk" is that homecoming outfit. Both suits and dresses are very popular. Faille and taffeta among the popular fabrics of last year are tops with most of us. Will expect most of the boys in suits of wool and corduroy—corduroy pockets anyway.

Along with homecoming dresses comes that winter coat. Some of us happened to be able to have a new one this year. You that did will notice that if you looked for any color other than wine, green, grey, or black, you had a pretty tough time. It seems these colors along with swagger backs have filled up our coat racks. Fringed scarfs of matching color or plaid is a witty way to welcome winter.

For that school outfit—the skirt and sweater still rates. The short-sleeved sweater is very comfortable—especially for those that wool bothers. Newest in the sweaters-line is the fly-front hide-away closing with short elbow length, and long sleeves. Shoe styles have changed somewhat since last year, too. There is doubt whether there will be as many heels on the floor at our homecoming dance. Flats seem to have become almost as dressy as heels. Ankle straps come with both.

See you at the homecoming dance!

So Long—

Initiation of Sophomores To be Held October 26

Election of the remaining officers was the main business of last week's Fri-Le-Ta meeting conducted by Clara Pivonka president. The officers are as follows: vice-president, Jean Kuelbs; secretary - treasurer, Ruth Groebner; class representatives, Lois Grams, Donna Sandau and Donna Nelson.

On Tuesday, October 26, will be the initiation of the sophomores. The chairman of the entertainment committee is Ginger Tyrrell, and of the food committee, Iris Wagner.

The Fri-Le-Ta pins, which were ordered last year were presented to the girls at this meeting.

Kickoff Set For Eight O'clock Against Saints; N.U. Out To Win Annual Homecoming Encounter

Eagle's Backfield In Bad Shape; St. Peter Fell In 1946 Game

The pepfest was last night, the dance is after the game, but the main thing on the homecoming schedule is the football game with the St. Peter "Saints" when the 1948 Eagle pigskin team will attempt to "St. Peter, We'll Beater" on the Johnson Field gridiron at eight o'clock.

Last year Redwood Falls spoiled New Ulm's homecoming game with a last quarter touchdown by Clyde Slocum to give the Cardinals a 6-0 win. Two seasons prior, St. Peter furnished the homecoming opposition and the Eagles came out on top 19-13. In 1945 St. James fell 20-6 in the annual festivities.

New Ulm's starting lineup isn't definite and the St. James game last week didn't help our already crippled backfield. Changes from that game in the starting lineup may be made for tomorrow's important battle.

New Ulm was expected to have a fair season on the gridiron, but the Eagles have only won one game while losing the last four in a row. Glencoe was tumbled 7-6, Waseca won 20-0, Fairmont routed the purple and white 41-0, Redwood sneaked past 7-6, and St. James was the last victor with a 7-0 win.

It is noticed that New Ulm can't score this year. Only points scored in five games have been made by Harold Wieland. He has scored two touchdowns and an extra point. Wieland was hurt in the St. James game in the first period. Whether he will be able to play along with Sandy Sandmann at their full capacity wasn't known up to this writing.

St. Peter is rated as a strong defensive team by the officials who worked the St. James game here, but they are not too good offensively, although their long passes will be feared.

We	Year	They	Points
31	1933	7	6
6	1934	0	20
20	1935	7	13
32	1936	7	20
14	1937	19	13
17	1938	6	0
7	1939	0	0
6	1940	13	7
0	1941	12	12

New Ulm eight wins; St. Peter seven wins. New Ulm 179 points; St. Peter 142 points.

Two Games Still Remain On N.U. High's Pigskin Schedule

After tomorrow night's homecoming battle with St. Peter the Eagles wind up their 1948 season schedule with two out of town games.

On Wednesday, October 27 the Eagles meet Blue Earth at Blue Earth. Following is Springfield with a game on November 5. Springfield is the last game of the season. Also on the football schedule is a B team game with Springfield.

New Ulm will be out to win those games as well as the St. Peter homecoming fray to win at least half of their season's games. So far the New Ulm eleven has won only from Glencoe, while losing four in a row to Waseca, Fairmont, Redwood Falls and last week's game with St. James. Three wins would give the team a 4-4 record for the season.

That record would give New Ulm a record of 56 wins, 45 losses, and seven ties since 1933.

St. Peter Trips B Team 14-2

St. Peter's "B" team tripped the New Ulm bomber squad at Johnson Field on October fourth 14-2.

New Ulm led at halftime 2-0 on the strength of a first quarter safety. Last Monday the reserves traveled to Springfield for a game with the junior Tigers. Another game with the Tigers remains on the B team schedule for the season's last game.

by Herb Schaper

Before the football season got under way, the Daily Journal Sports Editor, Roger Plattes, said New Ulm public high has the line; Trinity the backfield. At the time I was thinking he'd have to guess again, because I didn't think our backfield was going to be too bad. Sandy Sandmann was to have the drive, and "Mushy" Wieland the speed. Along with another good back and a smart, good blocking quarterback we could keep our own. Along came the Glencoe game and our line opened up the expected holes and the backs didn't look bad. True, we only won by one point, but we were definitely the better team. Then things started to happen. Our backs started to get pretty banged up and the depth in the backfield was pretty low.

We lost four games in a row, but the injuries have really hurt our starting backs as well as the few good reserves we did have. Sandy Sandmann aggravated his knee injury and can not play the ball he could if he were physically in shape. In the last two games Sandy has had to be carried off the field with that same injury. Harold Wieland could only play less than a quarter in the Fairmont game until he hurt his ankle. In the St. James game he again hurt his ankle and watched the game from the sidelines after the first quarter. Robie Lamecker had a badly bruised thumb. In the reserve department, Jim "Zula" Keckeisen tore ligaments in both ankles. Joel Tierney cracked some ribs and couldn't see action other than two plays the last two games.

Only ones who haven't been affected by some injury in the backfield have been the quarterbacks. [And we're pounding plenty of wood] So now we'll have to go along with Mr. Plattes.

St. James Scores TD In Second Period To Hand Eagles SC Loss Reserves Romp Over Springfield Twenty to Six

New Ulm's reserve squad won their first game of the season last Monday as they defeated Springfield on the Tiger gridiron 20-6.

Richard Wagner, Connie Schmid, and Harry Christian scored touchdowns for the Eagles. Wagner and Christian scored on end sweeps while Schmid blast over the line. Schmid added two extra points on line bucks.

Fullback Brekke Stars for Jimmies; Fumbles Hurt Team

by "Scooper" Sports Editor

Fullback Brekke of St. James powered his way from his own 39 yard line for a second period touchdown to give the Jimmies a 7-0 South Central Conference win last Friday at Johnson Field.

Brekke's drive started on the 39. Six plays later Brekke scored from the one yard line. Another end run added the extra point. Brekke picked up a net gain of 96 yards in 19 carries for the evening and may rate an all-conference berth.

St. James moved to the five yard line on a pass play, but the half ran out before a play could be run.

New Ulm in turn had a chance to score, but St. James' best defence, the Eagle fumble, halted the threat.

The Eagles took a punt on the St. James 29. Sandmann carried down to the six for a first down in four plays. Three plays later the Eagles were on the 20. A backfield in motion penalty and a 10 yard fumble did the damage.

It was New Ulm's fourth straight loss. Three more games are on the schedule, including two South Central affairs.

In the New Ulm line Wally Eckstein, Jim Dittrich, Fred Nystrom and Charles Brust were outstanding.
