NUHS Cafeteria To Have Face Lifted

Remodeling of the N.U.H.S. cafeteria will be done during the summer vacation by the Aslesen Company of Minneapolis, following action by the Board of Education. Plans for the remodeling were made by Miss Anne Westling, home economics instructor, and an architect.

Changes to be made besides the cabinets, cupboards and kettles will include the addition of a hot food table, dishwasher, serving tray, walk-in cooler and a ventilating canopy. These replacements and additions will cost $7,457.55.

Four Students Enter Regional Speech Meet

Four students from N.U.H.S. will compete in the regional speech contest which is being held on March 29 at 1:30 P. M. at Renville.

Kathie Fiemeyer with her selection, "Jean Marie" and JoAnn Windland with "The Least of These" are participating in memorized dramatic readings.

The representative for N. U. in the discussion is Renee Reim. Dave Berg will give "These Three" in the original oration group.

Winners of the regional will advance to the state contest which will be held at Minneapolis.

Trial Proves Candy Bar Wager Fruitless

A court trial was held several weeks ago in Business Law class about the payment of two candy bars by Joe Schobert and James Liebl, defendants to Mr. Olsen, the plaintiff. The case was tried in the Speech room, with "Duke" Galloway presiding as the judge.

The case being tried was about a 5-letter word "agate" which had been given to the law class in a test. None of the students had the answer correct and James Liebl stated, "It isn't even in the lesson". Mr. Olsen said, "I'll bet you a candy bar it is."

Joe Schobert then popped up and agreed with Liebl that it wasn't.

It so happened that the word "agate" was in the lesson; but even so Schobert and Liebl would not pay the candy bar, stating that this was a wagering agreement in a school, which is unlawful in Minnesota.

The plaintiff called his first witness, Isidore Faerber, to the stand

Junior Class Make Important Decisions

On Friday the juniors at their class meeting discussed several problems—the prom and class rings.

The prom theme, according to class president Bob Schmitz, is a secret, but the decision concerning the class rings is not.

Heretofore it was the custom for only one jewelry store in each town to handle the sale of class rings, from Jostens. But beginning this year, rings will be available from the jewelers of the members' choice.

An announcement will be made by Mr. Lynott as to the time when rings can be ordered. Then each junior must first get a statement from the principal's office to the effect that he is a student in good standing and has a reasonable chance of being a senior next year.

The design of the rings the juniors selected differs slightly from the present senior class rings. The torch of learning on the band points to the individual's initials. The date, 1951, is indented on the side of the crown. There is rose, yellow and white gold on each ring.

Superintendent, Principal, Will Attend Short Course

Both Superintendent J. M. Herrmann and Principal M. A. Lynott will attend the University Short Course and Schoolmen's Week from April 3 to the 5.

Mr. Herrmann has signed up for the Minnesota Council of School Executives course while Mr. Lynott has enrolled in the Minnesota Association of Secondary School Principals course. They will both, however, attend the Short Course for Superintendents and Principals.

A few of the speakers for these short courses are Jennie Campbell, director of elementary education of the Utah State Department of Education, Walter D. Cocking, editor of the School Executive Magazine and Ph. D. graduate from Columbia University, Worth McClure, executive secretary at the American Association of School Executives, and Howard X. McClusky, professor of education and assistant to vice-president in charge of university relations in adult education.

There are several luncheon and dinner meetings scheduled for anyone interested in attending.

There are also workshop group meetings planned consisting of Professional Relations in the School-Community, Improving Quality of Teaching Personnel, Preservice Education of the Teacher, etc.

who agreed with Mr. Olsen that he had made a contract. The defendants' attorney, "Zula" Keckeisen, cross-examined the witness as to the competency of the plaintiff.

It went as follows:
Attorney: "Does Mr. Olsen pull his ear?"

Witness: "Yes, he does."

Attorney: "Does he pull his nose?"

Witness: "Yes, he does pull his nose."

Attorney: "Did Mr. Olsen ever hit you on the head with a ruler?"

Witness: "Yes, he did!"

Attorney: "Would any normal human being do this?"

Witness: "No, he's crazy!"

Mr. Olsen then tricked Joe Schobert into saying "Yes" to a minor point which was objected to by the defendants' attorney; but the objection was overruled by the judge, who didn't know what was going

Coach Harman's "Contactor"

The "contactor" invented by Joe Harman is a combination blocking and tackling dummy for football practice.

Larry Person To Be New Practice Teacher

Larry Person, new student teacher for all boys' gym classes, except seniors, will be in N.U.H.S. for one month starting Monday. Larry is a senior at Gustavus and majors in Physical Education and minors in history. He played four years of hockey and was captain one year. He is married and lives in International Falls. Larry was in the ground crew in the army for three and one half years and spent two and one half years overseas in Europe. He says he is having a lot of fun with the boys and that they are a nice group to work with.

Home Ec Classes Buzz With Activity

The boys' class in Home Ec. has been preparing desserts and last week they prepared a complete meal, consisting of meat, potatoes, vegetable salad, and a dessert.

The Junior girls have been baking different variations of cakes by using the conventional method. They have also baked bread and fancy rolls. During the next few weeks they will learn how to make candies.

The senior girls have been baking cakes for the Fri-le-ta play day party and for themselves. They have tried to make angel foods too, but the results were not very good.

Miss Lola Lueck, a practice teacher who was here about a month ago, has been taking Miss Westling's place. She has a bad case of influenza but hopes to be back in a short time.

Miss Barbara Hansen, of the University of Minnesota, will do student teaching in foods under the supervision of Miss Westling, from April 11 through 29.

N.U.H.S. is bound by contract under the Smith-Hughes Act to provide student teaching experiences for a certain number of graduates of the University of Minnesota, in agriculture and home economics.

New Ulm High School is also offering teaching experiences to a few other colleges in the area.

Three Seniors Selected For Scholarship Tests

Claire Liesch, Renee Reim, and Richard Wagner were selected to take the scholarship tests today in the guidance room. These will be sent in to compete with others from Minnesota.

This swung the jury, and they gave the verdict to Mr. Olsen.

The defendants' attorney petitioned to have the case taken to a higher court.

In about three weeks the business law class hopes to put on a court trial in front of assembly, using an actual serious case in its demonstration.

Odds And Ends

Remember: Easter vacation begins March 31 and school resumes on April 11.

Bouquets: To whichever team wins the Girls' G.A.A. Basketball Tournament. The first game was played this Monday.

Joke?? In calling Nubbs' attention to the next piece, Miss Carlson said, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You", Nubbs!" "The Lord bless you and keep you, too," was his reply.

Miss Lola Lueck, student at the University of Minnesota and a former student teacher here, substituted for Miss Westling, four days last week.

The final page of pictures for the annual has been pasted, and all are in the hands of the engravers. Now work on copy is progressing.

Quite a number of N.U.H.S. students attended the state basketball tournament Friday night and Saturday. Many managed to get rides with several teachers after 4:00 on Friday.

Dr. Clifton Gayne, head of the art department, College of Education, at the University of Minnesota, spent Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday in the public schools, observing the work being done in art in both the elementary and high school levels. Mr. Wold, a graduate of that art department, will complete his credit requirements for a Master's degree during the coming summer.

Teachers of New Ulm High School will attend the Brown County Educational Association meeting at Sleepy Eye on April 17.

The afternoon meeting will open at 2:00 o'clock P. M. with a musical program.

At 5:30 P. M., dinner will be served at the Masonic Temple.

"The Ins and Outs" New One Act Play

The one act play, "The Ins and Outs", will be presented on a date following the senior class play. The cast of characters consists of Mack, the good-looking athlete—James Keckeisen; Mickie, the girl with a subtle sense of humor—Alice Hindermann; Betty, the talkative, excitable girl—Irene Ubl; Joe, the sensitive character of the play—Eddie Metzen; Lee, the aggressive outsider of the group—Raja Mansoor. Practice for this play will begin next week, under the direction of Mr. Halligan.

NUHS Honored By Another Edison

A brain storm on a sleepless November night about a new blocking and tackling dummy made Coach Joe Harman New Ulm's latest inventor.

Mr. Harman's invention is called the "Contactor". It is a combination blocking, tackling and leg building dummy for football practice. His invention should be of great help in developing New Ulm's football players into a good blocking and tackling team.

After Mr. Harman had his brain storm, he went to work on the invention. His first step was to make a miniature model of the dummy out of copper wire. It looked good so he had a large model made. The Contactor is made of tubular steel except for the direct contact surface. This surface is made of a layer of canvas over two steel frames which are connected by two seven inch springs to absorb the shock.

The United States patent offices are searching their files for any other machine of this type. If Mr. Harman's invention does not infringe on any other patent, he will probably receive a patent on his Contactor.

The New Ulm Manufacturing Company makes the Contactor for Mr. Harman.

Senior Cast Chosen For "The Barretts"

The cast for the senior class play, "The Barretts", has been chosen. Playing the part of a young, pretty, vivacious girl is Elizabeth Furth. Milly, the middle-aged buxom servant is Beryl Siebenbrunner. George Barrett, pompous and in his late twenties, will be portrayed by Richard Wagner. The part of the humorous Octavius Barrett in his late teens has been given to Dave Berg. Claire Liesch is playing Arabella, the sister embittered by Henrietta's greater charm. The eldest daughter of the Barrett family, Elizabeth, who is an invalid and loved by all the members of the family, will be played by Renee Reim. The strikingly handsome, stern father of this family is Norbert Schwartz. Dianne Anglemeyer is Wilson, Elizabeth's devoted maid. The military man, Captain Surtess Cook, will be portrayed by Robert Schmidt. The part of Elizabeth's poet lover, Robert Browning, has been given to Joel Tierney. Miss Mitford, the well-known novelist, is Beverly Kuester.

Practice for the play is beginning immediately and the finished production will be presented April 28 and 29.

FFA Members Attended Minnesota Barrow Show

Attendance at the Minnesota Spring Barrow Show was the latest activity of the New Ulm F.F.A. boys; 25 members and Mr. Fier attended the show.

Arlon Fritsche won a blue ribbon on his pen of 3 hogs. He sold his hogs for 50 cents above Chicago prices. Arlon will receive about $40 in prize money.

A judging team consisting of Verlin Goering, Stanley Schugel and Calvin Rolloff entered judging competition at the Barrow Show. The results of the contest are not known as yet.

That Great "Resurrection Day"

Besides commemorating Christ's resurrection, did you know that the name, Easter, comes from the Angl-Saxon Eostre, meaning a goddess of light or spring whose festival was celebrated in April? It is also interesting to note that the Council of Nice in A. D. 325, fixed the date for Easter as the first Sunday after the full moon which appears on or next after March 21, and we still follow that rule today.

To lots of people, Easter means little more than the time to dye Easter eggs, and get out the fuzzy, little bunnies for the children. It seems strange that they attach only material meanings to a day that was originally intended to be one of solemn rejoicing.

Maybe the reason why Easter has lost much of its religious feeling is that the season of Lent is treated so lightly. Remember what Lent is for? It's the time when many make a few self-denials and do a little penance in preparation for that great "resurrection day." Of course it's hard to give up some pleasures but think back to your religious instruction. Didn't Christ give up a lot more—His life—just for us? Remember that if there wouldn't have been a Good Friday, there wouldn't be any Easter Sunday.

This Easter, don't think of merely your early rejoicing—but of the real significance of the day.

Party-Antics by Liz and Kay

St. Pat parties seem to have been a pretty good excuse to have some real "shindigs" during Lent. And it's not only the "wearers of the green", but others who got the urge to "entertain".

Roger Fixsen gave a different kind of party which sounds like loads of fun. He invited about sixteen to spend a Sunday afternoon tobogganing out at the golf course. Afterwards, everyone went to Fixsen's house, where they had lunch and played bunco and canasta.

Ten junior girls had a get-together at Lois Neuwirth's house on March 14. It seems the party was in honor of JoAnne Windland on her birthday. Lucky JoAnn received a set of ballet books from them. After lunch, they played canasta.

Canasta is really popular! It was played at LaVonne Hesse's house too, on March 16. There were about thirteen kids there. Besides playing cards, they had music supplied by LaVonne and Leon Fritsche.

Ah! t'was a real celebration for the Irish at Barbara Fritsche's house on St. Patrick's Day. Barbara and Dorothy Rinehart gave the party to which about thirty-five came to play games and then have lunch. And everything was decorated green—even the cakes!!

Some of the senior girls gave a belated St. Pat's party at Liz Furth's house on Sunday, March 19. About thirty-two kids played games, including musical hat [which, they soon found out, is kind of hard on the hair-do] and then had lunch.

As you've probably noticed this is a new column and we'd like to have lots to put in it, so if you know of any parties held, how about telling us?

Do you know why the Easter Bunny always has a shiny nose?

If you take a look out the window, you would think this was December. The snow is beautiful but—it certainly disappointed us on March 21, since that date, according to the calendar, is the first day of spring.

It seems as if every teacher and student in New Ulm High is Irish. I have been seeing green ever since St. Patrick's Day. To top everything, we even had a movie, "Wings Over Ireland".

Nose Counting Begins

Does the year, 1950, mean anything to you? It does to the Bureau of the Census—it means time has come again for the decennial census to be taken.

The Census Bureau employs about 150,000 temporary enumerators. They are folks—just like us—who gather the required facts for the bureau. Every bit of information obtained by the enumerators is kept in strictest confidence—the enumerators are under an oath of secrecy. Every enumerator carries with him a number of record blanks and a map of the district he is to cover.

Some of the questions they ask the persons interviewed concern ages, addresses, schooling, citizenship, and housing.

For the 1950 Census, the nation will be divided into 14 areas and about 450 local districts. Then these local districts are subdivided into enumeration districts where the census takers do their fact-collecting.

The reports of the enumerators are examined for their accuracy in Washington and errors and minor misplacements are corrected.

Stories told in Queen Victoria's reign are always interesting. The Mudlark by Theodore Bonnet is one of these stories. This is a story of a little London ragamuffin and the excitement he caused during Victoria's reign. The amusing characters in and about Windsor add humor to this story.

Here's a book for John Kiefer and all science fiction readers. The book, containing two stories, is Waldo and Magis, Inc. Waldo Jones had a muscular deficiency, but nevertheless, he was a rascal who was very smart. When the public-utility company's power failed they turned to the rascal, Waldo. Read the story for further details. The other story is a true fantasy that takes place in the future. In this future age all businessmen use magic in all daily routines. It's a wacky but amusing story.

Baroness Maria Augusta von Trapp tells the impressive tale of a transplantation from the Old World to the New, The Story of the Trapp Family Singers. The Baron, an Austrian widower with seven children and no one to look after them, obtained a young student, Maria, from a convent. He was expected to marry a certain Princess Yvonne, but was so impressed with governess Maria that he proposed to her instead. When the Baron lost his fortune the family turned to music as a profession and received world-wide recognition for their great talent.

Fortune telling, inherited estates, jealousy, murder, and romance. If these words attract your interest you'd better get your hands on Mabel Seeley's latest mystery novel, The Beckoning Door. It is the exciting story of two cousins, their jealousy, the murder of one of them, and how the other, Cathy, is suspected of the murder. Cathy suddenly and terrifyingly realizes that she too is being hunted and must either find the murderer or be the next victim!

Basketball season is once again over. For the seniors it's over forever. We'll never forget the wonderful team we had.

There are a few senior girls who are constantly prying into other people's affairs and causing friction among fellow students. We hope they "get wise" soon because there are many people who won't tolerate it.

Eagles Take District Consolation; Baseball, Track Start

Five See Action For Last Time

New Ulm's Eagles captured third place in District 10 by defeating the Franklin Tigers 48-36. Gaylord dropped the Redwood Cards 44-38 to take the District championship.

New Ulm was in the lead all the way, except for two ties in the first period. After the first quarter the Eagles jumped to a 18-7 lead with Sauer, Sweetman, and Boelter contributing points. The half ended with New Ulm in the lead.

Jerry Wiese and Mike Farenbough had a little scrap in the second quarter, and the referee decided to put them both out of the game.

After intermission Franklin came back to within two points of the Eagles with Jim Corruith and 6'-6" Olson scoring two buckets apiece. But their comeback attempt faded and the Eagles won 48-36.

Scoring honors went to Sauer and Olson who had 18 and 16 respectively. Others scoring for New Ulm were Boelter, 12; Sweetman, 9; Laingen, 4; Hoffman and Metzen each had 2 points and Tierney had 1.

George Sauer's dream came true when he sank a long shot from deep court later in the game.

Gaylord's basketball aces proved too strong for Redwood when they defeated the Cards 44-38 for the district title. Gaylord was ahead by a narrow margin most of the game. After the official time out they took advantage of the Redwood fouls and widened that margin to insure them of the championship trophy.

Nessmen Win Place In Semi-finals

New Ulm won a place in the semi-final playoff by defeating the Morgan Raiders 57-36.

After the first baskets, the Eagles took over the game, keeping Morgan scoring down. Scoring was pretty evenly divided, with Don Boelter on top with ten points. Jim Hoffman, Hugh Sweetman and Mike Pollei tallied nine apiece, while George Sauer hit for eight points, and Jerry Wiese for six.

Don Boelter started the Eagle scoring in the first quarter, then Ronnie Benson dumped a field goal, giving Morgan their lone two points in the first quarter. Two baskets by Hoffman, one apiece for Sauer, Sweetman and Pollei, and a free throw by Boelter gave the Nessmen a 13-2 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The first five each added to the score during the second quarter. Hoffman drilled two baskets, while Boelter added three points. Sweetman, Sauer and Pollei each added two points. The Eagles gained a halftime margin of 30-11.

Morgan rallied slightly in the third quarter, outscoring the Eagles by one point. New Ulm scored nineteen points in the fourth quarter, making the final score a 57-35 victory for the Nessmen. High point honors of the game went to Bob Bradley, who meshed thirteen points.

New Ulm Receives Consolation Trophy

Co-captains Don Boelter and George Sauer hold the trophy New Ulm received after their victory over Franklin.

"Eagles End Successful Basketball Season," Coach Ness Comments

Another season of basketball was recorded as the New Ulm Eagles finished the 1949-50 season. The consolation game at Gustavus Fieldhouse saw five seniors in action for the last time. Playing their final game were George Sauer, Don Boelter, Eddie Metzen, Jerry Wiese, and Joel Tierney.

The Eagles, although getting a slow start, kept improving and winning, especially after the Christmas season. They lost two games to Redwood Falls and the playoff game to Gaylord. In the victory margin the Eagles took nine games. The season's record is ten wins, and seven losses, including tournament play.

New Ulm won the first game of the season from Sleepy Eye, 50-46, but then hit a four game losing streak. St. James, Southwest Minneapolis, Fairmont and Waseca downed the Eagles, before they could make a comeback and take St. Peter.

The Hutchinson game, as last year, proved to be a close one, the Eagles winning on a last minute bucket by Sauer. The game was close all the way, with a 21-20 point margin at the half. Blue Earth was the next team to give way to an improving Eagle quint. Close Games Add Excitement

Redwood Falls proved to be the team that could overpower New Ulm, winning both games by scores of 50-48 and 38-33. After the Redwood games, New Ulm had a five win score in the victory margin. The fourth quarter told the tale in the games against St. James, Springfield and Glencoe. St. James made a fifteen point rally in the fourth, but the Eagles managed to come out on top 47-44. The Nessmen rallied to take Springfield 50-46, but played against time to keep a two point margin over Glencoe.

In the final games of the season, New Ulm had no trouble taking Springfield and Sleepy Eye. The Eagles took a 44-28 victory from Springfield and ended the season as it began, with a win over Sleepy Eye.

Tournament Time

New Ulm moved into the semi-finals of District Ten play by winning over Lambertton and Morgan. The Eagles really kept the ball rolling in the Lambertton game. Paced by George Sauer's eighteen points, the Eagles took a 53-36 game from the Hawks.

In the Morgan game, the scoring was very evenly divided between the first five players, defeating Morgan by a score of 57-35.

In a topsy-turvy, unpredictable game, Gaylord nosed out the Eagles in semi-final tournament play with a score of 42-41. The Nessmen staged a sixteen point rally in the fourth quarter, but time ran out and gave the victory to Gaylord.

The season was summed up by Coach Ness, who said, "I think we had a very successful season. I was satisfied with team play, especially the improvement made after Christmas. Even if we lost out in the finals, the club was successful, and one we can be proud of."

Eagles Lose Place In District Finals

A furious last quarter rally fell short as the Eagles lost to Gaylord in the semi-final pairings of District Ten play.

The Eagles, holding Gaylord to five points in the final quarter, went on a sixteen point scoring spree in an effort to overcome the Gaylord quint. Boelter, with eight points, and Sauer with five led the attack.

The first quarter was nip-and-tuck as Gannow of Gaylord made five of their six points in the first quarter. Sweetman drilled two buckets, while Boelter added a field goal and two free throws to give the Nessmen a 8-6 first quarter lead.

New Ulm hit their lowest shooting average of the season, making only 15 field goals in 79 tries for a 19% average. The score was tied twice, while the lead changed hands eight times.

Gaylord went ahead in the second quarter on a tip in by Gannow. A free throw by Jerry Wiese tied the score at fourteen all. At the halftime the Nessmen held an 18-17 point margin.

The third quarter told the story for the Gaylord team as they outscored New Ulm 20-7. Led by Monthe with eleven points, Gaylord jumped into a 37-25 lead in the third quarter.

Gaylord went into a stall during the fourth and with six minutes left, held a 40-29 advantage. Boelter broke up the stall and made the gift tosses, while a long shot by Hoffman and a tip in by Sauer brought the score to 42-40. A one shot free throw by Jerry Wiese dropped out, but the Eagles stayed in the game with only three seconds remaining as George Sauer banked a shot for the Nessmen. The officials called him for traveling and Gaylord won, 42-41.
