Seniors To Hold Hop on Friday

The senior class of NUHS is going to break all tradition by having a hard time party all their own on December 19 in the small gym. This will be the first time in years that the seniors have had this type of entertainment as a class project.

It has been rumored there will be a special attraction which the class officers think will be a grand addition to the party.

Various Committees Named

The committees are as follows: food committee: Lorraine Brueske, Mary Schuck, Elaine Gluth, Barb Kral, Evelyn Lippmann and Joy Hermann, chairman; entertainment: Beverly Bloedel, Joanne Bierbaum, Barbara Keckeisen and Joan Schrimpf, decorations: Al Bugger, Betty Miller, Valgene Alwin, and Jim Kagermeier, chairman; publicity: Janet Schmidt.

Swing Band To Hold Benefit

To keep our Swing Band looking and sounding as good as they have in the past, requires money. Under the direction of John Wolf, the Swing Band will give a benefit dance in the small gym, January 31, 1953. Here they will present to the students for the first time in our school the Bunny Hop.

The proceeds of the dance will be used to pay for their coats and new music.

Admission will be 50 cents a couple and 35 cents for singles. The dance will start promptly at 8:00 and end at 11:00.

Band Concert Being Planned

The annual winter band concert will be presented by the New Ulm High School Music Department under the direction of Mr. Strang on Sunday, January 18, at 3:00 p.m.

Starting the program will be the Junior High band, followed by a cornet solo by George Peterson and a trumpet trio consisting of Lee Beecher, Pat Glasman, and Don Mathiowitz. The Senior High Concert band will then continue the program. A clarinet trio—Loren Lentz, Ann Schwerman, and Paul

Newsy Notes

The faculty will give their pep-fest program on January 16, for the Blue Earth game. They had been posted earlier for the Hutchinson game. G.A.A. will present theirs on January 9, instead.

Next year's first assembly on the first day of school will begin with two films, "Canaries Are Fun" and "Backfire".

Two students from the University of Minnesota will come to practice teaching here in the Home Ec. department. They are Virginia Aplitstoser, who will come Monday, January 12; and Marlene Ludtke, who will arrive Thursday, February 19. Both will work in the foods classes under Miss Westling.

If anyone has noticed the Christmas decorations in the halls, the credit for them can be attributed to the art classes.

A.C.E. Test To Be Given

To give the colleges and universities better service on information concerning incoming freshmen, the Association of Colleges of Education tests and the English Cooperative tests, usually given to seniors only, will this year be given to juniors also. After this year though, tests will be given just to juniors.

These two classes will be taking these tests sometime in January, according to Miss Schmid, guidance director. They are given here for the University Testing Bureau as part of a state-wide testing program.

The reason for giving these tests in the junior year, is so that the results will be available earlier and this will help high schools to do a better job in counseling students about their aptitude for college work.

Each senior will have a consultation with Miss Schmid or Mr. Lynott after the test results have been received here.

The results of these tests are then sent to colleges who in this way can get information on the students before registration.

These results are also compared with thousands of incoming freshmen at the University of Minnesota.

Various New Books Arrive at Library

Are you wondering what kind of book you should read if you are finished with school work? Here are some new books in our school library which you might enjoy reading: The Gown of Glory by Agnes Sligh Turnbull is the story of a family short of cash but rich in most of the other things. The main character is the minister. Wait until you read what he does when his daughter falls in love with a wealthy young man.

Slipper Under Glass by Lee Wyncham is about a girl whose only ambition is to be a ballet

Semester Changes Are Planned

When the second semester begins January 19, some of the teachers are going to exchange classes. Miss Schmid and Mr. Reber exchange their ninth grade afternoon classes. Miss Treadwell and Mr. Reber exchange the first and third period classes, Miss Westling and Miss Hansen's students will be transferred from the cooking to the sewing department and visa versa. Miss Wupio's second period class will change over to geometry. Mr. Achman, Mr. Epp, and Mr. Tyrrell will exchange their shop classes.

Peace Is Found In Christmas Story

by Mary Ann Volinkaty

I needed a story, copy was due. Bits and pieces of everything I knew about Christmas were swimming in my head. First I was an optimist; then, a pessimist, but still one without a story.

I asked my grandmother about Christmas in vaudeville; she said the only warmth and cheer she had at Christmas was the applause of the crowd at the close of the grand finale. After the last show she went to a hamburger shop, then to a cold dreary apartment. The glamour of the stage died.

Not Material Possessions

Grandfather told of his Christmas in New Orleans. He told of the cards, the dancing and the drinking that he called Christmas cheer. The lure of adventure in faraway places died.

My aunt told me of her first doll and how angry she was when the girl next door got a larger one. The glitter of material things died. I thought of these things and

Melrose Groups To Perform At NUHS

Honor Roll

Leading the second six weeks' period with five straight "A" students are the seniors. They are as follows: "A", Robert Asleson, Barbara Kral, Ted Ranheim, Janet Schmidt, and Rudolph Weissmann; "A" Average, Joy Herrmann, Joan Schrimpf, Mary Schuck, and Mary Jane Tauscheck; "B", Joanne Bierbaum, Lorraine Brueske, Alton Buggert, Arlen Enstad, John Heymann, Evelyn Lippmann, George Maha, Jerome Renner, Naomi Schapekahn, and Harold Ulrich; "B" Average, Betty Miller and Barbara Keckeisen.

The sophomores have more boys than girls on the honor roll: "A", Robert Bodine; "A" Average, Robert Dempsey, Brace Hintz, and Helen Hoffman; "B", Marjorie Drexler, William Fritsche, Betty Gleisner, Richard Harris, and Duane Neubauer; "B" Average, Rayleene Hartman and Dale Sauer.

Teen Age Dance Was Labeled Successful

Many students thought the last teen age dance at the Creamery Hall on December 6 was a huge success. The swing band played and Joe Harmon was chaperone.

These dances are usually a bit quieter than this one. This one was quiet until "Jake" Lentz of NUHS and Jimmy Ginkel of Trinity started jazzing things up with some red hot music—Jake playing his clarinet and Jimmy beating it out on the drums. They played so loudly and went so fast that no one made an attempt to dance, but all sat spellbound; and then the boys were clapped into an encore.

Many surprises were given the students. It was revealed that "Hansy" Wolf has a very pleasing voice as he sang, "Somewhere Along the Way."

The swing band played the Bunny Hop and almost everyone joined in.

Three Groups To Present Numbers

A chorus of 85 members from Melrose High School, under the direction of Daniel F. Sullivan, will present a concert here on January 26. Three groups—the mixed chorus, girls' glee club and boys' glee club—will give the program.

The tentative program is as follows: mixed chorus — "Clancy", "Nations Creed", "The Lord's Prayer", "Jingle Bells", "Stout Hearted Men", "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee", "Eve Verum", "Adoremus Te, Christe", "Your Tired, Your Poor", "Faith of Our Fathers", "Great Day", "Caissons go Rolling Along", "The House I Live In", "Russian Cavalry Song", and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot"; boys' glee club—"Halls of Ivy", "Roger Young", and "Ol Grey Robe"; girls' glee club—"Of Thee I Sing", "Where or When", and "Falling in Love with Love".

Mr. Sullivan, the director is a friend of Mr. Strang's having attended the University of Minnesota at Duluth with him. The exact hour of the concert has not been set as yet, but will be sometime during the school day.

Tour To Mexico To Get Underway

Palm trees, full moon and warm tropical nights, stars overhead, and the smell of salt water on the ocean breeze will be enjoyed by all who are going on the "Holiday Tour to Mexico".

The caravan will leave New Ulm, December 20 and reach their destination, Acapulco, December 28. Christmas Day will be spent in Mexico City; because it is a holiday, all factories and stores will be closed. When the manager of a leather factory heard about the trip, he said he would open his business place on Christmas Day so the New Ulm group can tour it. New Year's Eve the caravan will be at Zimipan, their first stop when homeward bound.

Those going on this year's tour are as follows: Edith Kottke, Carla Fritsche, Mary Lou Schmitz, Ann Schwermann, Loren Lentz, Charles Hintz, Beverly Bloedel, Mary Ann Bianchi, Rose Ellen Schwermann, Bobby Schmitz, Rose Pecarina, Martine Bakken, John Brust, Mr. Skeirk, Rose Furst, Rose Zukosky, Dr. and Mrs. Schwermann, Mr. and Mrs. Gestad, Mr. and Mrs. Smilanich, Patricia Goffey, Elizabeth Hooper, Imogene Krahlung, Jeanne Duave, Donald Neubauer, Mr. Pfander, Miss Chapman, Miss Engleson, Miss Starkann, Miss Neuenfeldt, and Miss Roberts.

A Poem Dedicated To All Senior Girls

We always take the best of care Of our clothes, and of our hair; Our skirts are always neatly pressed; Each night we get eight hours rest.

Every time we see a boy We do not jump and shout for joy; We never laugh in Girls' Glee Club; The underclassmen we do not snub.

We are not interested in boys, you see, Because we are too young to be. We stay home almost every night To do our homework well and right.

We don't believe in going steady But we know the boys are ready; The boys are not a thing to us; For us, we know, they make a fuss.

We Seniors

by Lois, Evie,
Jacky and Delores

Eunice Kohls was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on March 24, 1935. Sitting in fifth hour study every day is her pet peeve. "Eunie", which is her nickname, eats any food that's edible. Her pet saying is "Pretty cheezy" and working in the Cities after graduation is her future ambition. Eunice has chosen as her extra-curricular activities, Fri-Le-Ta and G.A.A. Eunice will be remembered for her very pleasing personality.

Joining the Air Force after graduation is Melvin Koenig's ambition. Mel's pet peeve is the New Ulm cops. Wonder why!! Sauerkraut and wieners make up his favorite food while "Bite me" is his favorite expression. Mel's extra-curricular activities consist of F.F.A. He is remembered for being a new student in our sophomore year.

Donald Klossner's pet peeve is reading Shakespeare's selections in College Prep. Donnie, as he is most commonly known, has as his pet saying "Foul play—no doubt". He enjoys eating mashed potatoes. Donnie's extra curricular activity is F.F.A. which will help him in his future ambition, farming.

"I don't believe a word of it" is James Kagermeir's pet expression and he says his hobby is Joy. Jimmy's little sister is his pet peeve and he will eat just about anything. Jimmy enjoys his free taxi service to and from school. Continuing his education is his future ambition. Toot-ball, basketball, and class play, are Jimmy's extra curricular activities.

G.A.A., Graphos, Glee Club and Fri-Le-Ta are Jacquelyn Keckeisen's extra-curricular activities. Her pet peeve is sandals with anklets and "Cryce" is her pet saying. Jackie's hobby is going to parties although she probably isn't served her favorite food which is scalloped potatoes and ham. I think we all know what she is remembered for and that is her short haircut. Jackie's future ambition is work in Minneapolis or college.

Collecting records is Barbara Keckeisen's hobby and it seems Barb isn't fussy about her ideal boy, because she likes them all. "Being Broke" is her pet peeve and "I haven't a thing to wear" is her pet saying. Barb will be well satisfied with a piece of Angel Food cake. College and later travel is her future ambition. Barb participates in G.A.A., Tumbling, Twirling, Chorus, Glee Club, Graphos and Fri-Le-Ta.

When you see a green pick-up speeding around the corner you'll know it's Howard Hoffman's. He is better known to his friends as just plain, "Howie." Howard said that he enjoys most food, except the food they serve in the cafeteria. His pet peeve are women that go nuts over a boy. Howard's pet saying is "You don't say." One of his many hobbies is teasing girls, whereas his deal girl is 5'6" and has light brown hair. I wonder who that could be?

Going to a basketball game tonight? Well, if you go, you'll most likely see an active senior boy leading the cheers. This boy is no other than Darwin Jones. Darwin's pet saying is "Oh, gads." After graduation he plans on going to Iowa State to study to become an Agriculture teacher. His favorite pastime is driving, "Bess." It isn't a cow either! His favorite food is sauerkraut and wieners. Darwin's favorite girls are those that have blond hair.

When you see a certain senior boy walking down the hall with a great big smile you'll know it's Donnie Hoffmann. Most of the kids at school know him as "Nookie." His hobby is dating out-of-town girls. Donnie's pet saying is "Buddy" and his pet peeve is "not being able to work on his car." After graduation he plans on being a mechanic. In the meantime he eats plenty of sauerkraut so he will be able to build up his muscles for his future job.

John Heyman, better known as "Hammie" or "Jeep," is one of the athletic members of our class. He participates in football, basketball, and track. Girls are his pet peeve and going to the Cities is his hobby. He dedicates his pet saying to Al Buggert, "You're a child."

"The heck with it," is Junior's pet saying and some girls in general are his pet peeve. Lawrence Hippert says his hobby is good driving???? He participates in football, Intramural Basketball, and F.F.A.

Being called Lois Joy is this girl's pet peeve. "Oh, Die!" seems to be the popular pet saying. "Happy," as she is sometimes called, says her favorite food is ice cream. She takes part in band, chorus, G.A.A., Fri-Le-Ta, tumbling, Graphos, girl's sextette, and flute trio. If you haven't guessed by now, it's Joy Herrmann.

What Is Christmas?

By Bob Asleson

Christmas is a Day—the birthday of Jesus—a holy day—and a day of prayer.

Christmas is a Season. It is a time for families to get together, to meet old friends and to sing the happy carols and hymns. It means snow in the air, streets decorated with green boughs, packages hidden away, and spicy cookies in a jar. It is a season of rejoicing—and a season of prayer.

Christmas is a Spirit. It is the spirit of good fellowship full of the feeling of warmth. A person without the Christmas Spirit is like a pilot without a compass, a racer without a finish line; it is a creed.

How far have we come from—the true spirit of Christmas? A look at the retail receipts after the holiday rush will tell you just how many depend on the monetary value of gifts to convey a superficial Christmas spirit.

The true spirit of Christmas is a day of happiness—and a day of prayer.

November 26

There ought to be a law against snow storms. The attendance in school today was a number the sixth of a molecule. I can imagine how disappointed all the snow-bound students were. They can't get their report cards until Monday. ts! ts!

December 1

What's all this about "Out—spot out I say"?

The seniors are really stirred up when they get out of that college prep class.

December 3

It seems Miss Cave is teaching the senior girls how to count to music. It must be difficult 'cause they go through all sorts of body contortions as they count.

December 5

The discussion club may not produce ideal cannibals, but my, their St. James Cheerleaders were certainly unique.

The only trouble with the basketball game tonight was that the Eagles were about four points short [Brilliant deduction, isn't it]

December 8

The Christmas tree in the hall is beautiful; but after seeing the electrical demonstration in assembly I'm afraid to go near it. I'd hate to trip over a string of lights and find myself electrocuted! At least not until the seniors have mastered artificial respiration.

December 9

There was a chorus rehearsal tonight. I didn't recognize any of the Choir members because they were all dressed alike with big black bows under their chins.

December 10

Gad, what a day!

December 13

Heaven help those who lost their voices at the game tonight and have to sing tomorrow.

December 14

The concert this afternoon really filled me with the Christmas spirit. Hmm! I wonder where I could find some mistletoe?

December 15

What's all this talk "open Season"? for seniors. I hope they aren't hunting for mice.

In Music Hall

By Carla and Hansy

The Christmas concert has proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that there is no limit to what can be done in high school activities. The big black bows were introduced by Miss Roberts. The art, music, and speech department are to be congratulated on a good job.

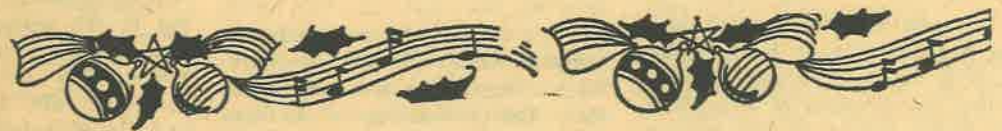

"Little Bop" wrote a letter to Santa. A few days later he received an answer stating that little bop would get nothing for Christmas, because of something he had written in his letter to Santa. The letter stated, "Santa you're a nice guy but I don't dig your dogs with those crazy hat racks."

The Pep Band played for the first Basketball Game on Friday December 5, and did a mighty good job of it, too! People playing instruments other than the trombone could hardly hear themselves think, because of the b-o-o-ming and b-l-a-r-e-ing of the trombones section. The audience couldn't help but hear the band.

On Saturday night, December 6, the Swing Band played for the Teenage dance. For part of the evening they were minus one player, Bob Dempsey. Bob had been at the debate sessions at Macalester College in Saint Paul. He got back to New Ulm around 8:15 P. M. on Saturday. After five frantic telephone calls from Creamery Hall, he arrived tired, disheveled and carrying his prized possession, his saxophone. The moral of the story is "Better late, than never, Bob."

The Christmas Concert had a "New Look" this year. The stage was decorated to represent a church with choir lofts. A narrator told of the real meaning of Christmas, while pictures of traditional Christmas scenes appeared in the background. The flute trio, boy's octet, girl's sextet, girl's glee club, and the chorus sang. Hat's off to Miss Roberts, Mr. Strang, Mr. Wold, and all the others that made the concert such a success!

A Peck of Heck

By Betty and Keck

Now that it's finally snowed the roads are icy and many cars don't start. So was the case with Marcy Schnobrich the night of Fri-Le-La initiation party. She tried and tried but it wouldn't move. Pretty soon the life-saver Val Alwin came along with his car. then everything was okay!

Gripe: "If a girl doesn't go steady, she doesn't go at all." This is the general comment heard in our halls. If money is your problem boys, what's wrong with the free teen-age dances?

Thanks to the Student Council our main hall has the air of Christmas. A large tree, decorated with blue lights, tinsel and bulbs adorn the senior lockers.

Cutting Up?

Mr. Heymann [Talking about basketball]: "Richy, when's the first cut?"

Richy Heymann: "It's Tuseday."
Mr. Heymann: "Good, you can start cutting wood Wednesday."

Familiar Quotation

The seniors reading Macbeth seemed to think they were reading some foreign language until they came to the familiar phrase; "Twas a rough night."

Christmas Cookies

Don't mind the terrific smell in the halls sixth hour. It isn't the chemistry class; it's just the boys making cookies in home economics. [Just kidding of course.] v

Eagles Win First, Drop Second

Sleepy Eye Falls 51-38, But Saints Retaliate 56-52

Sleepy Eye

New Ulm—Sleepy Eye Game
The New Ulm High School Eagles successfully opened their cage season by winning over Sleepy Eye at Sleepy Eye, 51-38. John Heymann was high point man for New Ulm with 24 points.

With Heymann showing the way, the Eagles came out of a first quarter deep freeze and stretched a 7-5 quarter margin in to a 23-13 halftime advantage. Heymann scored 8 of the 17 points made by New Ulm in the quarter, while Ernie Sauer added four.

Sleepy Eye's Kuelbs and Heymann put on a scoring duel in the third quarter as the Sleepy Eye Indians crept up to within eight points of the Eagles.

Midway during the period, coach Morrie Ness started sending his reserves into the game.

In the final quarter the New Ulm Eagles outscored the Sleepy Eye Indians 12-7.

Tom Ubl, Eagle guard and Sleepy Eye's Lyle Rassmussen were also outstanding. Both played consistent, heads-up ball through the whole game.

Tumblers Perform During Intermission

The tumbling team gave their second performance at the Fairmont game, December 14. The first being the performance at the pep fest. A new mat arrangement was used and it is hoped that it was as well liked as the old one.

At the following performances new uniforms will be seen. The uniforms are cranberry red corduroy with an insignia of N. U. on the front. They are quite similar to the twirling uniforms. It is not certain as to when the next performance will be held; however, it is known that it will be one more time before the annual spring gym show.

Meet The Boys

By Junior

John "Jeep" Heymann "Jeep" is the big gun on the Eagle basketball team. He is one of the finest centers NUHS has had for quite some time. Jeep has been holding a starting role since a sophomore. "Jeep" stands 6'2". Thomas "Tom" Ubl Tom is one of the smallest men on the basketball team, but he makes up for his smallness in speed and want to win. Tom stands 5'9" and plays guard.

Theodore "Senator" Ranheim "Senator" started the year off very well against Sleepy Eye and St. James and was one of the big point setters in both games. "Senator" stands 6'1" and plays guard for the Nessmen.

Doyle Schneider Doyle who is also one of the smallest men on the team. He is a good rebounder for the Ness men and does a good job at his guard position in every game.

Michael "Mike" Fesenmaier "Mike" is a junior forward for the Eagle five and has proven very capable at holding down a starting role for the Nessmen. Mike stands 6'.

St. James

St. James Game

Red Marsden, St. James forward, set the all-time scoring record for the New Ulm High School Basketball court with 29 points as he helped the Saints down the Eagles, 56 to 52 on December 5.

The game was a see-saw affair right to the buzzer, with each team taking the lead and then dropping back to the short end of the score again. St. James led at the half, 25 to 21, with New Ulm taking over in the third quarter, to lead 40 to 39. High scorer for the Eagles was John Heymann with 18. Tom Ubl was second with 12. Marsden set the court record in the fourth quarter when he potted his last field goal. The previous record was set in 1945 by a New Ulm center. Second high for the Saints was Norm Anderson with 14.

Training Rules Enforced In Intra Program This Year

State High School training rules are now being applied to intramural sports as well as interscholastic athletic activities. This new application is designed to clean up intramural basketball in the state. Previously, boys participating in this activity were not subject to any training rules other than those set by their own team captains.

New Ulm High School has already enforced this ruling to the fullest extent in the sponsoring of ineligible boys who wished to play anyway. The specific teams and captains will be chosen sometime before Christmas vacation, with practice starting shortly after the holidays. Mr. Dahl and Mr. Achman will supervise and referee the games. Eligible players include 21 seniors, 32 juniors, and 15 sophomores.

Darlene Hirschert Leads GAA Loop With 103 Average

Bowling is now underway and the girls are improving very much. Eleven girls were chosen and these girls each picked a team. They are now playing the tournaments and the averages for the Thursday class are as follows: Margie Moe, 94; Darlene Hirschert, 103; Mary Jane Tauscheck, 94; Betty Miller, 95; Janet Schmidt, 84. The Tuesday class averages are Gerry Heck, 84; Edith Kottke, 63; Eunice Kohls, 96; Mary Lou Schmitz, 88; Marlys Ubel, 94; Marlene Freese, 75.

Basketball and volleyball will be played after vacation.

Gymnasts Cop Fairmont Meet

The Eagle Class D team copped first place in a seven team meet at Fairmont on December 10. Harlan Asleson and Tom Christensen scored second and third, respectively, in all-around competition. New Ulm didn't have a complete class C team and therefore could not place in that class.

John Wolf, the Eagles' solo class B competitor, scored 263; but as this paper goes to press, the final results are not tabulated; consequently we don't know if he rated any high placing.

The six teams other than New Ulm who took part in the meet are Fairmont, Worthington, Mankato Teachers College, Ceylon, Wells, and Mankato High School. Individual scoring is as follows:

Radke— will be the only advanced feature performance.

The program is as follows: Junior High Band—Night Flight March by King; Hymn of Brotherhood by Beethoven; Victory Overture, Taylor; Cool Water, Nolan-Bennett; and The Little Leader March, Thornton.

Willow Echoes by Frank Simon will be given as the cornet solo by George Peterson; and The Three Trumpeters by Johnson, will be played by the trumpet trio made up of Lee Beecher, Pat Glasmen, and Don Mathiowitz.

The Senior High Band will present the second half of the program, playing the following: The Westerner March by Richards; River Jordan by Whitney; Clarinet Trio, Mozart, Loren Lentz, Ann Schwerman and Paul Radke; Dunlap Commandery March by Hall; On the Trail, Grofe; The Toy Trumpet, Scott; and Brasses to the Fore by Walters.

Speech Notes

"Good experience" and "a lot of fun" were some of the comments from the students who made the trip to Macalester College on December 5 and 6 and participated with 200 other students and competing against 35 schools in the Speech Festival.

"We are quite pleased with the outcome of the Macalester festival. Our debate team won five out of ten contests and the other students gained valuable experience," stated Mr. Reber. New Ulm had entrants in four divisions: debate, humorous and dramatic reading, and orating.

The affirmative which chalked up three wins and two losses, was composed of Bob Asleson and Bob Dempsey; Charles Hauenstein and Bill Fritsche the negative team had two wins and three losses. Entered in humorous, dramatic and oratory reading were Marianne Volinkaty, Helene Fesenmaier and Norma Jean Gehrke, respectively. Verna Waibel, Corrine Hessing and Ruth Bakken joined the group to gain experience.

Certificates were awarded to winning students in debate, oratory, dramatic readings and extemporaneous speaking.

A Christmas tea was given for the students participating in these events.

dancer. She practices dancing in spite of her family's and classmate's laughter. Later she gets a surprising chance and becomes one of the leading ballerinas on the stage.

Another exciting story should be John Appleby's Barbary Hoard, a description of Sarah Brandon and Marten Walshes' treasure hunt in Algiers, Africa.

Captive of the Mountains is a novel of Arthur P. Stapp. Its main character, Chris, wants to try out a smoke signal used by fliers and gets into serious trouble when he really gets lost in the National Park in northwest Washington.

Another interesting book should be The Port of Missing Men by Rene Prud Hommeauc. The story deals with an inheritance and its troubles.

Rogue's Valley by Lynn Bronson is an interesting story of gold mining in Oregon in the 1850's. There are a number of Indian fights involved and also a young man whose friendship with an Indian boy saved him from being killed.

South Sea Adventure is another fascinating novel by Willard Price, who tells the story of Hal and Roger Hunt, who were marooned by a pearl trader on a wild island. Their only weapon was a knife. There are many more things which you wouldn't

Champ To Exhibit Skill In Assembly

Carl Josephs, one of the greatest trick shots in archery ranks, will present the assembly program January 20. He is a real Robin Hood in every sense of the word. He has held Wisconsin State Championships, both indoor and out, Municipal City Championship and is a Badger Archery Club champ.

He does not restrict himself to Championships, however, but uses his skill as an archer to hunt game of all kinds, from pheasants to wolves. Mr. Josephs says, "Bagging deer with the bow and arrow is the greatest thrill of all."

Assistant for Part of Program

Assisting Mr. Josephs in the act will be his wife, Helen. Their act consists of floating balloons, swinging clay birds [single and double] shooting a balloon out of his wife's mouth; and for the grand finale of the show, the long shot from the topmost balcony of the auditorium, traveling the full length of the arena to a target on the back of the stage, a distance close to hundred yards.

Carl Josephs is a happy man when he clicks right off the bat with his triple clay pigeon archery shot—the 100-yard shot from the gallery to the stage—and if he doesn't make that in three shots, he counts the day as lost!

The annual spelling contest will be held in the homerooms on January 12 and 19. The eleven home room winners will then compete in the final contest in the assembly on February 2.

The first and second place winners will receive pins with NUHS guard attached. The other nine contestants will also receive pins, but without the guard.

The pins are gold finish with purple and white lettering.

Home Ec. News

by La Nay

Sewing machines and needles will take a long rest again. The juniors and sophomores are finishing their garments. June Wellner made a gored skirt which isn't too easy to make. Shirlene Ulrich made a skirt out of maroon corduroy. She has made a beautiful straight hem on her skirt. Mary Ann Volinkaty used wool jersey. Jersey is a hard fabric to sew on because it stretches very easily. Carolyn Schmidt made a checked skirt and weskit. It looks very neat on Carolyn. Caroline Weismann was the only girl to use rayon faille. She did a nice job on her project for her first year of Home Ec.

Jerry Juhnke must like to bind seams. She has been binding all her seams in the weskit she is making.

After all girls have finished their specific projects they will start something different. The juniors will be making Christmas gifts and studying household textiles. The machine attachments will be studied by the sophomores.

Fri-Le-Ta Jottings

BY JOAN HESSING

Slaves? That's what the sophomore girls were to the seniors and juniors for a week from December 3 to 10. The week opened with the initiation party on December 3. Here the girls were made to suffer all sorts of indignities at the hands of the upper classmen.

Here are some of the interesting things that happened: Helen Fesenmaier came in last in the onion race, in which she, Janice Neumann and Helen Hoffmann had to roll an onion across the floor with their noses. Milk? Patty Crone and Shirlene Ulrich had to lick up milk from a cafeteria tray. Patty licked up the most, so she got a glass of milk as a prize. Meanwhile Margret Niehoff and Joan Hessing could be seen scrubbing the stairs with a tooth-brush. Because they finished too soon, Joan had to pay the penalty, which was not talking all the rest of the evening. Carol Farchmin and Betty Terhofer were blindfolded and had to feed each other noodles. The very last penalty was to carry the senior and junior girls; books to their first and fourth hour classes throughout the week.

In all there were 24 sophomores and 10 juniors who were initiated.

Senior Girls

We never sleep in Mr. Harmon's room;

We never, never laugh like a loon;
Our fingernails are neat and nice;
[In Miss Kayser's class we clean them twice].

We never chew gum in school;
Nor also candy, as a rule;
We never talk or are rude;
We're never in a bad mood.

We're all so happy and gay
That people look at us and say,
"What Senior girl is like this?"
"Tell us, so we can salute that miss."

FFA Folly

The F.F.A. boys have been very busy getting the Parent-Son Banquet in order. They served about 300 people on last Wednesday evening.

Last week I was not in school as I went to the 4-H National Congress in Chicago. I was at this Congress from November 29 to December 5.

At this Congress we had meetings about important things which should or should not be done to make this Congress more successful. The Minnesota delegation stayed together most of the time. Our headquarters were at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. We toured the city of Chicago, went to the International Livestock Show and went on three tours to a museum, a coal mine, and along the Lake Shore Drive of Lake Michigan. I saw where the World's Fair was held in 1930.

We had two to three banquets every day at this Congress. After each meal we had entertainment for several hours. Wayne King played at one of our banquets. I got to meet Alie Reynolds, the New York Yankee's pitcher. Every night we had dancing or parties. I got to know many different boys and girls from all over the United States. These are only some of the things I did at this National Congress.

We traveled to and from Chicago on the Dakota 400. I slept all the way home. I found it is very expensive eating on the train.

This trip can't be explained in only words. I wish every boy and girl could attend this National Congress in Chicago.

Two Teenage Dance Planned

Like to dance? Well, kids, here is your chance to let off all your holiday energy. Two teen-age dances are scheduled during the Christmas vacation.

On December 20, the Swing Band will play at the Creamery Hall for all the teen-age music lovers in this area. Admission is free and the dance will last from 8:30 to 11:15.

There are also tentative plans for a teen-age dance to be held at George's Ballroom after Christmas, possibly on December 29.
