

"GRUMPY" MEETS WITH GREAT SUCCESS

INDUSTRIAL ARTS AND H. E. DEPTS. TO EXHIBIT

The Home Economics and Industrial Arts Departments of the high school will hold their annual public exhibit on Friday, May 18, in the high school gymnasium. The purpose of this exhibit is to give the people of New Ulm an opportunity to see what is actually accomplished in these departments by the students during a school year.

In the Home Economics Department there will be on exhibit work of the beginning classes in sewing—undergarments, children's clothes, wash dresses, lamp shades, desk pads and book ends; of the advanced classes—silk and wool dresses, table covers, pillows, etc.; of the seventh grade classes—stuffed animals, etc.

An added attraction to the exhibit this year will be the work of the evening school classes in clothing, and craft work, which will include several types of lamp shades, portfolios, waste paper baskets, and, for the sewing class, one project completed during the series of lessons.

At this time also, will be posted the results of the Bee Hive Garment-Making Contest, and the Eagle Roller Mill Breadbaking Contest. The prize-winning garments will be on exhibit.

This department will also have a food sale that evening for the benefit of the department, and will serve lunch to the public.

All members of the Industrial Arts Department will exhibit various projects carried out during the year, including woodwork, sheet metal, and electricity, under the direction of Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Dodge. This part of the exhibit is conducted to show what is done and what can be done by the students with machinery.

No admission is charged for the exhibit. This year it will be finer than ever before, and the public is urged to attend it to see what is really being done in our high school.

FRIDAY'S ASSEMBLY PROGRAM RENDERED

"Jimmies" five-piece orchestra again made its appearance and they surely did give us a real treat.

Another feature on the program was a dance given by Mae Jule Arbes. It concluded with the Girls' Glee Club last appearance before the musical contest held at Mankato.

We again invite "Jimmie's" orchestra to play for us. Let us hope that we will have another sunlight dance soon, so as to eliminate the moonlight ones.

Jack: "My shirt is just like yours."
Charles: "Nope, mine's clean."

SENIORS REALIZE PROFIT OF $100

The Senior class play, "Grumpy," certainly met with great success, in fact, this play is one of the best put on here in recent years. With a fine cast of characters, a play admirably suited to high school students, excellent coaching, and a large audience, the Seniors could ask for little more in the way of a successful play.

Ticket Team Is Booster.

The ticket selling campaign was headed by James Beecher. James put forth all his efforts to make this play a success by constantly encouraging students to buy tickets. After the campaign ended Friday night, some 425 tickets were sold, amounting to $205. The expense amounted to $100, leaving a profit of over $100.

Practice Nearly Four Weeks.

The characters in this play have practiced nearly four weeks in order to put the "stuff" across; and they certainly are to be congratulated on the way they did it. Many of the roles were unusually difficult to interpret, particularly that of Grumpy himself, and the performance, Friday, showed that there is some excellent dramatic ability in the Senior class.

Miss Ritt, who coached the play, deserves much credit for making the play such a success.

"Bachelor's Dream" Is Presented.

In between the acts of "Grumpy" the "Bachelor's Dream" was presented by other members of the Senior class.

JUNIOR LEAGUE NOW ORGANIZED

Baseball is again drawing attention in this town. This sport is attracting many young people in the city. The first call for the performers was issued last Monday by Mr. Dodge. Over fifty members reported for tryouts. Practices are held every week on Monday and Thursday. The first grinding began last Monday with very favorable weather. The weather usually is the greatest enemy of these fans in this part of the season.

Rules Bar Many Students Interested.

In order to be eligible for membership in this league, one must not be over seventeen years of age. The constitution of the league further states that students sixteen years of age are eligible only if they have their birthday after January first.

To Be Divided in Four Sections.

It is planned to organize four teams to play in this league. Each team will represent a certain section of the city. Further information can be obtained from the American Legion Post here.

On the long list of "performers" are fourteen students from this high school.

SLEEPY EYE WINS SOUTHERN MEET

At a very exciting track meet, which took place last Saturday at Mankato, Sleepy Eye walked off with first honors, and Mankato ran close second. The outcome was in doubt to the very last event, which was the broad jump, in which Sleepy Eye placed to defeat Mankato by one point, 24-25.

WINNIFRED HUMMEL PLACES 1ST IN CONTEST

Fourteen members of the Girls' Glee club went to Mankato to participate in the music contest held at the Teachers' College.

Winnifred Hummel, the first New Ulm soloist to run the gauntlet, made an excellent start by walking off with first place in the alto solo. The participants from Wells and Waseca, received second and third respectively.

This stroke of luck in the very beginning acted as an inspiration to the girls. Abie played the piano selections as if she were a genius. Phyllis sang like a bird, and Charlotte also was credit to New Ulm. However, fortune decided that one more place was enough, and she gave no more places. Mankato, Fairmont, and Sleepy Eye received the awards in the piano solo; Fairmont, Sherburn, and Mankato, in the soprano section, and Arlington, Mankato, and Fairmont in violin.

The Girls' Glee club also met with defeat. The awards went to Fairmont, St. James, and Mankato.

There was only one judge for the piano section. Professor Frederick L. Lawrence of Carleton college, Northfield. Clara Williams and Professor Wm. McPhail of the McPhail School of Music, Minneapolis, judged the vocal sections.

LEGION AND JOSTEN AWARDS ANNOUNCED

The beautiful silver trophy, presented by the American Legion, has been awarded to Earl Schroepel of the Class of '28," and to Hazel Buchholz of the Class of "29." The cup was awarded to these students by the vote of the faculty. The award is based on scholarship, 20 per cent; citizenship, forty per cent; school activities, forty per cent. The vote was almost unanimous.

This year's Josten awards to the Seniors were given to Alice Bierbaum and Jack Schoch.

The silver trophy and the Josten medals will be presented at graduation time. The winners were announced last week by Mr. Dirks.

DECORATING COMMITTEE IS BUSY

The Junior-Senior prom is coming off this week Saturday. The Juniors are now the busiest folks in the high school. The decorating committee began its work last Wednesday and surely is making the gym look like a "palace." The decorating and other arrangements for the reception are under the auspices of Miss Westling. (Continued on page 4.)

STATE EXAMINATIONS ARE COMING SOON

The state examinations will again be with us two weeks from today. The first exams will be given on May 25. The other exams will be held May 28, 29, and 31. This is the first day's schedule:

English I at 8 a. m.
English II at 8 a. m.
English III at 10:15 a. m.
English IV at 10:15 a. m.
Modern History at 1:30 p. m.
Ancient History at 2:00 p. m.

On May 28 exams in Algebra, Geometry, German, Chemistry, and Physics will be held.

FOOTBALL GRIDDERS END SPRING PRACTICE

The football gridders will end their spring practice tomorrow. With the fine showing the boys have made this spring, New Ulm will have a real team again next year.

Sleepy Eye will, undoubtedly, be one of our greatest games to fight again next year, and we do hope that "Mr. Jinx" will make his home in that city for once, instead of New Ulm.

Several new records were established, that of the hundred-yard dash, by Sommerville of Sleepy Eye, who also shattered the 220-yard dash. Fairmont, Glencoe and Blue Earth also showed up well. Rieke and Feller were New Ulm's only entrants, and although they failed to score, they made a creditable showing. Feller, competing in the high hurdles, would have easily qualified, had he not kicked over one too many hurdles.

EDUCATION.

Education is the training of the whole man and woman for a complete life. Not the brain alone, nor the body alone, nor the mind alone, but the body and mind, the will, the heart, and the soul are to be prepared for the enjoyment of the most sterling advantages in a life true to the highest ethical and spiritual principles. Physical culture is not education, but a part of it; mere instruction in the languages and in the sciences is not education, but a part of it; even the mental training and the discipline of the will, which are inseparable from the proper study of language and the sciences, are not the whole of education. The powers have not only to be developed, but to be accustomed to aiming at the right goals. There are scoundrels who are scholars, but there are no scoundrels who are educated men in the truest sense. Scholarship and a superiorly disciplined mind are merely forces of immense potentiality. A man can misuse them as he can misuse physical strength or political eminence. The salvation of society lies, not merely in the diffusion of knowledge and the production of shrewd thinkers, but in the production of leaders who lead in the right direction. "Pietas" towards our country and "Pietas" towards God are the lodestars that must guide the educated men and women whom America is preparing.

Young Billie Wurst was much in love, His heart was all awirl;
 He took Miss Wiener in his arms,
 For he never sausage a girl.

An American officer was drilling a Russian regiment. He sneezed and three men answered, "Here."

Dentist (prodding Bugga's gum in search of a fragment of tooth):
 "That's funny, I don't seem to feel it."
 Bugga: "You're lucky."

TRAVELS IN THE FUTURE.

(By Ima Knowler.)

Today, I shall tell you of my short, never-to-be forgotten visit to the town called Jame. There were many notable people in that town, many of whom were my fellow students in high school.

I visited the wellknown Alvin Rolloff, aviator. He was untouched by fame and was as plain and good-natured as he always was. His wonderful voice enables him to give the world eloquent talks of his many hazardous journeys. His triple non-stop trip around the world interested me most. No matter how much I begged, he would not allow me to take a journey with him. He says he does not like girls. He has changed in that way since high school days.

Laura Celle, the idealist, was the object of my second visit. She has achieved fame by writing modern novels. Oh, boy, they are modern!

I enjoyed my brief interview with Harvey Haerberle, the essayist of world renown. He is at present engaged in writing a book, entitled, "Light Taps." His hair has changed color. He is a very dark brunette at present, whether from dye or otherwise, I cannot say. Whatever it may be, it has made him a very distinguished man of the world.

I tore one of my best gowns while attending a ball in honor of the noted actor, Charles Veeck. I was very glad to discover that Renola Frank, the wellknown modiste, who designed the gown, was in town. Her troop of servants soon repaired the damage.

Harriet Fisher, the president of Know-It All university, invited me to visit her school. Her personality has made this a world-known institution. Even her efforts have been of little worth to Virgil Wagner, for he still is taking Algebra, while Quirinus Leonard is taking Modern History.

The leader of society in this town, Olive Harbo, had just returned from Paris, which shocked Emerson's ghost. (Juniors will know what this means.)

Marguerite Haynes has been a disappointment to her mother. She has joined the circus as the world's tallest woman.

Another writer, whom I met, who should be mentioned, is Edwin Hage. He is known for his satirical essays. He gave promise of sarcasm in his high school career. It's a good thing he put some purpose in his slams. It gives them a better name.

The second night I was accompanied by a friend to an opera where I heard the famous canary bird, Phyllis Liesch. After the opera we went to a movie. The vaudeville feature was the Fiemeyer Co., acrobats. Oh, I forgot that the star in the movie was Florence Krook, who portrays life very effectively.

At the zoo I saw John Mills, who has been locked up since he returned from abroad. You know people just won't stand to have some one quote a few French phrases. John used to quote Latin phrases in high school.

I also was honored by meeting Marvin Kusske. He loved essays so much in high school that he started writing essays then. He is still writing them, and other students will suffer. Well, so-long for this time.

Mr. Stover (scratching head): "Is this plain?"

John P.: "No, it's solid."

CLASS CRIMES

SENIOR NOTES.

Have you seen the "Senior Flower Garden?" If not, come on over and see it. There are rare specimens of sweet peas, radishes, and corn. That's Joe's contribution.

Several of our classmates have returned to school after having the "flu." We are sorry they were sick, but we are very much happier to see them all back again with bright, smiling faces.

Jimmie had a little cold, It started in his head, And everywhere that Jimmie went, The cold was sure to spread. It followed him to school one day, Which was against the rule, Miss Kearns tried to chase it out, But, cha-choo, she got it too.

—Exchange.

JUNIOR NOTES.

The Juniors have been taking a slight vacation during the absence of our teacher, Miss Steinhauser.

The class is now busy making arrangements for the big reception that is coming off this week, Saturday.

The jinx again has visited our class. First Virginia was unable to go to the state declamatory contest after winning in the district contest, due to illness, then Hazel was unable to go to the state typing contest, due to illness. They say history repeats itself, but let us hope that illness will not hamper these students next year, as it did this year.

SOPHOMORE NOTES.

Miss Kearns: "Marguerite, why is love at first sight so often found in plays?"

Marguerite: "Because they wouldn't have time any other way."

Miss Kearns: "Why?"

Marguerite: "Well, they'd start it in the natural way and then they wouldn't be done by the time the play is over."

As a result of the study of nutrition, the Home Economics girls have planned the following delightful menu for the teachers of the N. U. H. S.:
Soup—Hot air soup, absolutely fresh.
Meat—Frog legs stuffed with pollywog anatomy.

Hot Dish—Chicken feathers gowned and hashed with chocolate sauce.

Vegetable—Cactus, dipped in paint, served with stickers, crisp.

Salad—Stone, gravel and marble salad with whipped cream.

Bread—Mud and sand rolls, stuffed with seaweed.

Dessert—Dog license covered with cream shoe polish.

Beverage—Pure water, taken especially from the gutter.

FRESHMAN.

Flu! Flu! Flu! That's all we heard for a while. We're glad the epidemic is almost over. Many of our bright students were missed because of their ability to recite. Sara Lewis was also missed because we did not have a chance to waken her in class.

The Freshmen are very proud to have two of their girls at the music contest in Mankato.

The tennis players of the Freshman class are anxious to have the high school tennis court made ready for use.

EXCHANGES

"Senior Day," in Marshall high school, which comes during the last six weeks' semester, gives all Seniors the privilege of being their own "boss," for one day. They are entitled to do as they wish, which includes gum chewing, whispering, bossing of lower high school associates, and even helping "teacher" teach, if wished. Think of it. You can leave the assembly without one of those "passes" and, if late, you can go to class without a "permit slip."—Marshall High School.

The Freshman is grassy and grows, The Sophomore is sassy and blows, The Junior is brassy and glows, The Senior is classy and knows. —The Ybnac.

Medford Exhaust, Medford, Minn.—"Flat Tire" was a clever issue. Printed in green colors makes it look very attractive.—Graphos, New Ulm.

According to the exchange column in the Milachi, Miss "Milachi" is giving a party. Only ten of their exchanges are invited. Each of the guests and their merits was listed in the last issue of the Milachi. They're a fine bunch and I think they'll all have a dandy time.

Stranger: "What are you fishing for son?"

Dick H.: "Whales."

Stranger: "You should know that there are no whales in this place."

Dick: "Nor fish, so I might as well fish for whales."

Soph: "I got zero in geometry today."

Frosh: "That's nothing."

Soph: "What's nothing?"

Frosh: "Zero."

Doctor: "You've been at death's door and only your strong constitution saved you."

Patient: "Kindly remember that when you send in your bill, doctor."

Prof: "Why don't you answer me?"

Fresh: "I did, I shook my head."

Prof.: "Well, do you expect me to hear the rattle way up here?"

A dame I would like To put out of biz: The one who phones "Guess who this is?"

Mr. Stover: "You missed my class yesterday, didn't you?"

Joe V.: "Not in the least, sir; not in the least."

Jim: "Where will we eat today, John?"

John: "Let's eat up the street."

Jim: "No, I don't like asphalt."

Miss Idste in Gen. Science: "Can you give me a definition of salt?"

Edgar S.: "Sure, it's the stuff that makes the potatoes taste bad when you don't put any on."

"At least once in my life I was glad to be down and out."

"When was that?"

"After my first trip in an airplane."

Little Boy: "Look, mama, the circus has come to town; there's one of the clowns."

Mama: "Hush, darling, that's not a clown, that's a college man."

Student, having failed in an exam in all five subjects he took, telegraphed his brother, saying, "Failed in all five. Prepare papa."

The brother telegraphed back, "Papa prepared, prepare yourself."

Joe: "Please, angel, won't you marry me?"

Loretta: "Yes if you can tell me one thing we have in common."

Joe: "Well, I think you're beautiful."

Mr. Stover: "How many seasons in the year are there?"

Jimmy B.: "There are three—football, basketball and baseball."

Inez: "What's Gilda Gray's dress made of?"

Fat: "Hey, hey!"

Joe V.: "I graduate in June."

Visitor: "Allow me to congratulate the school."

Jack: "What key of music is useful in the army?"

Joe: "What is it?"

Jack: "A sharp major."

"Why are there no great Jewish baseball players?"

"Well?"

"Because you can't get a Jew to step on a diamond."

Alice A.: "What's an operetta?"

Bugga: "Don't be dumb; it's a girl who works for the telephone company."

First Mother: "Did your boy win many prizes at college?"

Second Mother (proudly): "He was presented with bath towels by forty different hotels."

Jack: "Will you kiss me?"

Lavena: "Isn't that just like a man, always trying to shift the responsibility?"

The Freshman entered the general store and said, "I want some nails and a hammer and some paint remover and a screw driver and something that will make holes in tin. Dad gave me a new Ford and I want to make it collegiate."

"Jack sure does know his onions."

"Well, he must have eaten them just before he had that date with me last night."

The fire bell rang. A student leaning out of a seventeen-story window to see the fire engine, fell out. The heavy machine passed over his prostrate body.

"I'm a football player," he said, as he rose and brushed the dust from his suit with his handkerchief.

The student body will now join in singing that stirring football song, "He didn't know how to run so the coach gave him the gait."

Winnie: "Do you believe in Santa Claus?"

Dodo: "Gee, no, I'm a thoroughbred atheist."

and Miss McGee, while "Lenny" Marti is the chairman of the reception committee.

Other arrangements for the big reception are now well under way. After the banquet the Orient Orchestra will make its appearance, and the Juniors and the Seniors will do some "swinging."

COLORED SUGAR LATEST.

Cleopatra's pearl liquor is modernized in the drinking of "jewels" with the after dinner coffee in Europe. The "jewels" are tiny crystals of sugar colored like amethysts, topaz, sapphires and other gems. The sugar is said to be healthful and palatable as well as attractive.

Short and Sweet.

Time: None at all for the girl.

Scene: Divan.

He (disgustedly glancing at her wrist watch): "I guess I'll go now. It's eleven by your watch."

She: "Oh, my watch is fast."

He: "Well, that's something."

Then there's the absent-minded flapper who shined her nose and powdered her shoes."

Stude One: "Say, you going to class to-day?"

Stude Two: "Say, what's the matter with you? I went yesterday."

She: "I spent ten dollars on a canary last week."

He: "That's nothing, I spent fifty dollars on a lark."

Loretta E.: "You are perfectly normal?"

Joe: "Yes."

Loretta: "You light your cigarette with your right hand?"

Joe: "Yes."

Loretta: "That's not normal. Most people use a match."

A recent investigation of how twenty-five movie stars got their jobs reveals the following:

- 4 swam the English channel.
- 11 had killed their husbands.
- 1 had hit 99 home runs.
- 2 had been heavyweight champions.
- 2 knew something about the producer's past.
- 4 had won beauty contests.
- 1 could act.
