GAYLORD WINS DIST. CHAMPIONSHIP

HENDRICKS CAPTURES REGIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Nineteenth District Champs Upset Gaylord 29 to 28 in Opening Round. Defeat Glencoe in Finals 29 to 25.

The Hendricks high school basketball team won the right of representing the sixth region at the state tournament to be held next week, when they ran off with the "lion's share of honors" in the regional tournament held at Redwood Falls last week.

Defeat Gaylord.

Hendricks, a team considered to have but a slim, outside chance, showed its valor in the afternoon performance, when they defeated the strong Gaylord quint 28 to 29. Gaylord held a commanding lead of 17 to 11 at half time, but a spirited rally by the Hendricks crew, soon did away with this handicap, and they emerged victorious.

Glencoe Defeats St. Peter.

Glencoe paved its way into the finals in the other afternoon game, when they defeated St. Peter 26 to 15. Although St. Peter fought gamely, the Glencoe quint held the upper hand throughout.

Hendricks Wins Championship.

The evening session found the Glencoe and Hendricks quints battling for top honors on comparatively even basis. The game progressed in a saw-saw fashion throughout the first three quarters. Glencoe jumped into the lead toward the end of the third quarter, but a last quarter rally, which marked their afternoon victory, placed the Hendricks team in the lead, which it held to the end.

Consolation honors went to the St. Peter team, when they defeated Gaylord, in a preliminary to the main affair.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM HELD AT LAST

A long delayed program was held in the assembly last Friday. The first number was a piano solo by Ruth Witt. Virginia Alwin gave "The Abandoned Elopement." We then were taken to Station WEA, New York, broadcasting by remote control over some unknown Essig station. A fiddler's contest was held, the apt fiddling sounding strangely like that of "Swede" Wagner. The piece "Do Batsch" was very well received by the audience. A vocal duet, which was suspiciously like the singing of Charlotte Miller and "Abie" Bong was next. A piano duet then was heard, and this undoubtedly seemed Championship laurels again rested upon the brow of the victorious Gaylord basketball team, when the Purple and Gold warriors battled their way through all opposition in the district tournament, which was held at Redwood Falls last week.

Defeat Lambertton in Finals.

The Gaylord quint paved its way into the finals by defeating Sleepy Eye 29 to 10 in the opening session, and Springfield the following evening. Neither of these teams forced the Gaylord boys to exert themselves to any degree; and consequently, their path into the finals was not a hony one.

Lamberton, on the other hand, was forced beyond their ability, but through a miraculous exhibition of basket ball, they survived. They passed their first obstacle, which happened to be Morton, 10 to 13, on Thursday evening, and on Friday evening they defeated, to the satisfaction of our hosts, the New Ulm quint 24 to 26, in a hectic battle.

However, their joyous moments were short lived, or rather nervously and impatiently endured with such a capable opponent as Gaylord on the other end of the line.

The morning before the battle was bright and sunny. The contestants, namely, Gaylord and Lambertton, indulged in all activities beneficial to the final plunge. There was to be a victor and a loser for a certainty, but to whom the illfated party would be, remained a question.

Around six-thirty there was a general restlessness amongst the fans. The scene of battle was soon packed by an uneasy audience. Odds seemed even.

Suddenly, amid a wild welcome, the teams entered the floor, Lambertton the dark horse, seeming to have the better of the applause. Both teams went through their customary warming up antics, and in a short while were off.

Gaylord, true to form, played the part of veterans taking the lead shortly after the opening gong. Lambertton, on the other hand, seemed nervous and over-anxious. Their offense faltered before the strong defense of their opponents; naturally they resorted to a long distance attack, which marked their victory upon the previous evening.

Both teams played at a furious pace, with the lead shifting continuously. Time and time again the Gaylord boys worked the ball through for a pretty short shot and took the lead, only to have the Lambertton quint come back by sinking one from the mid-section. The champions, finding difficulty in maintaining a lead in the first half, consequently, were satisfied with the count at 12 all at half time.

Gaylord Wins in Second Half.

The second period started off in a manner similar to that of the first, both teams fighting at a deadlock. However, toward the end of the third quarter, the champs hit their stride and easily displayed their superiority. Every man on the Gaylord team performed in the creditable manner expected of a champion aggregation. Perhaps the outstanding stars were Chambard and Krueger, center and guard, respectively, of the Gaylord team. Their work, both offensively and defensively, was spectacular. Anderson and Beiersdorf were the best performers for the losers.

This victory marked Gaylord's second consecutive district championship.

After this game, trophies were presented to the respective winners by Supt. C. D. Gray of Redwood Falls. Gaylord took first, Lambertton second, and Redwood Falls, by virtue of its overwhelming victory over Fairfax, prior to the final game, took the consolation. Besides the awards to the winners, every competing player received a medal for good sportsmanship and conduct.

New Ulm Defeats Redwood Falls.

In what was perhaps the most exciting and thrilling game of the tournament, the New Ulm five defeated the favored Redwood Falls quint 21-19, in a contest which took two overtime periods to decide. This game was the big attraction of the first evening. Redwood Falls, a team of veterans, boasting a string of fifteen straight wins, was perhaps the most-talked-of quint in the region, and their entrance was a sure hint as to who the victor should be. However, the highly spirited New Ulm

WORTHINGTON WINS OVER NEW ULM, 2-1

Worthington Defeats Ortonville.

March fifth was an unlucky day for the New Ulm debaters. In spite of their decided ability, the locals were defeated by the Worthington trio.

The contest was exciting before it was begun. Why? A contest between three boys and three girls proved to be interesting. Although the boys were victorious, the girls will not acknowledge the superiority of men over women.

The debate was held in the junior high school auditorium in Worthington, Minn. The opposite trio consisted of Raymond Mork, Allen Thornton, and Murray Hughes. Margaret Gallo-way, Virginia Alwin, and Marion Pfaender, were on the local team.

Before the contest, the Worthington high school band entertained the audience. The band won state championship last year. After the debate was concluded, the judges wrote their verdict—2 to 1 in favor of Worthington.

The local team, although they were unacquainted with the hall in which they spoke, were worthy representatives of this school. All that can be said of the arguments is that they comprised a real debate. The girls' delivery made the boys wonder if all orators were not women.

The hospitality which the Worthington people extended to the New Ulmites will be remembered by the visitors. The hosts did all they could to make the trip and debate a pleasing memory. Ask any of the debaters what they did at Worthington.

FRESHMEN PRESENT "THE CLODHOPPER"

On March the fourteenth the Freshmen dramatic club presented the play, "The Clodhopper." Practically unaided, this class put on a play, which showed remarkable work for Freshmen.

The class advisors and Miss Ritt aided in the presentation. Florence Krook, with Richard Lindemann helped to coach the play.

The cast was:
Mrs. Chiggerson Boggs, Mildred Gulden.

George Chiggerson, Billy Bockus Charmain Carter, Peggy Swartz. Judy Elliott, Arline Arndt. Septimes Green, Wayne Walrath. Jubitha Bean, Katherine Stuebe. Ocey Gump, Richard Lindemann.

machine threw a different light on the subject. They entered the game without any consideration of their opponents' outstanding record. A swish and a swang of red and white uniforms, and the ardent Redwood fans found their idols faltering and weakening, willingly holding on to an 8-6 advantage at half-time.

Redwood Falls Takes Lead.

Redwood Falls opened up with new vigor in the second half, and in a short while took the lead. New Ulm's chances were greatly hampered during the most critical moments, when "Jim" Emmerich, star defensive man, went out on the personal route. This was a sad blow to New Ulm's cause, and many of the fans lost heart, when the Redwood Falls team took a commanding lead of 17 to 12 with slightly more than two minutes to play. Redwood's supporters were in an uproar; they had their rivals where they had so fervently wished to have them, on the verge of defeat. But the verge never matured. Just when every hope seemed gone, Regelin connected with a beautiful field goal from half the floor. Stelljes and Pfaender came right back with two more, from the same distance, and only through virtue of a free throw did Redwood Falls escape defeat at regulation time.

With the score deadlocked at 18, an overtime session was played. During this period both teams added a free throw to their total to tie again at 19 all. Another overtime period decided the fate of the hosts. Stelljes, on a brilliant piece of teamwork scored a perfect goal, and the final gun found the Redwood fans stupefied, with their team, which but a few minutes prior seemed certain winners, trailing in defeat.

FRANCES LUCIE JORDAN.

Someone once said that it matters not how long, but in what manner one lives. Frances Lucie was fifteen when she died. However, her arts overshadowed the number of years of her life.

Frances Lucie Jordan was born in Kalispell, Montana, Sept. 28, 1913. She has lived in New Ulm for the last seven years, that is, since July of 1922. In the fall of that year she was entered in the New Ulm public schools.

To the high school students, Frances Lucie was a promising freshman. Because of her voice, she was a member of the high school glee club. Further, she was chosen as a member of the high school octette, composed of the best voices in the school.

Frances Lucie was always quiet and unassuming. This only adds to our memory of her.

Not very long ago Frances Lucie sang for an assembly program. Her selection was "I Have a Little Shadow," by the children's poet, Robert Louis Stevenson. Many of us students will remember her in this program. Her "shadow" will stay with us.

MUSIC NOTES.

At last the day arrived when the N. U. H. S. Drum corps could play for the tournament. The Vercoe, Bieber and Wagner cars took them to Redwood Falls.

In order to put some pep into the crowd and to give Gaylord a little encouragement they played between the halves of the Gaylord vs. Sleepy Eye game. This playing received much applause and added a great deal of pep to the crowd.

Then came the New Ulm vs. Redwood Falls game. Was it due to the fact that the drum corps played that New Ulm won the game? At any rate, it certainly added to the atmosphere and won much applause. Those who weren't present certainly missed a novel exhibition during the halves of the game. The drum corps and the two cheer leaders, Alice Olson and Marion Pfaender formed an N. U. They were then lead in a "Lavender and White by the cheer leaders. Whoopie! Did it go over big? And How!

Hearts are beating just a little bit faster, and voices are getting better as the day for the music, contest draws nearer. The local contest will be held here on April 3. The district contest will be held in Mankato on May 4.

The following are out for soprano solo: Ruth Wicherski, Alice Bong, Alice Vercoe, and Josephine Bianchi. Those out for Alto solo are: Grace Koehler, and Charlotte Miller.

Tenor: Melvin Schleif.
 Quartette: Phyllis Liesch, soprano; Charlotte Miller, Alto; Melvin Schleif, Tenor; Lloyd Marti, Bass.

Trios: A—Alice Vercoe, soprano; Alice Bong, second soprano; Grace Koehler, alto. B—Phyllis Liesch soprano; Helen Krook, second soprano; Charlotte Miller, alto.

The Glee club is also entering the contest. One number is to be sung by all the Glee clubs entered in the district contest. This will certainly be very effective.

SENIOR NOTES.

Only a few more days until Easter vacation. We surely need a vacation for we hardly know what it's like to have one.

The Freshmen are to be congratulated on the play they gave last week. Some of the actors were regular John Gilberts.

There's no doubt that "Bugga" is popular these days. He was chosen on the mythical team at Redwood Falls and last Friday morning Station FUN broadcasted for him over a nation-wide hookup.

Everyone is anxiously awaiting the returns on the old fiddlers' contest broadcast over Station FUN last Friday. Vote for your favorite fiddler now if you haven't done so before, but don't vote twice.

JUNIOR NOTES.

The Juniors in Biology:

Miss Steinhauser: "What is the correct sitting position?"

Marguerite H.: "You should pretend you're being hanged. That will keep your head up and chest out."

Teacher: "How can you put a drowned person's head lower than the rest of his body, when he is lying on the grass?"

Emerson S.: "Dig a hole and put his head in it!"

The Juniors decided not to memorize the names of the bones of our body. If we told the Freshmen that one of our classmates broke his patella, they would naturally turn away and say, "Hm, the stuck up old thing!"

Jean M. knows a lot about Chevrolets and it affected her greatly. The other day she was heard to remark: "Don't Chevrolet your hands on me again."

Phyllis, speaking to Harriet in the hall between 3rd and 4th period:

"We haven't any school on St. Patrick's day. Aren't you glad?"

Harriet: "No school?"

Phyllis: "Of course not, it's on Sunday."

SOPHOMORE NOTES.

Here comes the Minimum Essentials Test. We're all working hard in order that the record made in the last test be as good as or better than that made in the second one. Anyone would study if he had to write a misspelled word one hundred times.

B. B. Notes—Congratulations, Freshies. We hope that all of you get a good look at your trophy.

We are sorry to see the Seniors leave the gym floor. Would that we could have some more good games together.

The Juniors need congratulating, too. However, we hope that next year at the end of the Junior-Senior game the score will be: Juniors, 17; Seniors, 4.

FRESHMEN NOTES.

The other day in Cooking class two of the girls held a conversation, and this is what they said:

1st One: "May I have a piece of bread?"

2nd One: "Certainly, but didn't you get enough to eat at lunch?"

1st One: "Oh, no; the rest were too greedy."

We hope the Seniors will have good success with their play.

The Freshmen Dramatic club wishes to thank everybody that rendered assistance in putting on their play.

Tell us reporters if there's anything wrong with notes. We'll try to improve them.

One of the girls has given her opinion already. She said that she always reads the "Notes" in bed because they make her sleep.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Verna Marie Miller, a graduate of the class of '26, has the honor of being elected Captain of the Junior class basket ball team of Madison University. Verna Marie is attending the University of Wisconsin, where she is taking a course in physical education.

to us like Imelda Ochs' and "Abie" Bong's playing. A "Blues Singer," "got" us, with a voice that was very familiar to us, as it sounded like Oradel Wagner's. The announcer also sounded like her. We'll have to investigate this.

Did you vote for your favorite fiddler?

Teacher: "What's pasteurized milk?"

Walter Gag: "Milk from cows that have been out to pasture."

"I asked her to kiss me, without avail."

"I don't like kissing through those things either."

A woman went on a professional hunger strike, and twenty Scotchmen proposed to her.

Mr. Dirks: "The trouble with you, Raymond, is that you have a hard time remembering dates."

Gissie: "Oh, no; I never forgot a date with Marion in my life."

Judge: "So you weren't doing anything when arrested?"

Rastus: "No, sah. Ah was jest walking along down de street and singing a little song when dis big Irish policeman come along and started to beat me up."

Judge: "What were you singing?"

Rastus: "Jest a little song called 'Ireland must be heaven cause mah mothah come from theah.'"

VACATION.

Vacation comes too seldom to suit us students. It leaves a sweet and pleasing taste in the mouth. In fact, it tastes like more. President Hoover would receive the heartfelt thanks of all students in the United States if he would launch a campaign for more holidays. Surely, we would aid in the enforcement of any laws enacted for this purpose.

Vacation is a relief for tired minds. To develop our brains we should have more time for rest than for work. The muscles of the brain would have a chance to develop. Oh, that we would have more holidays!

A Tired Student.

I wish to congratulate the basket ball team and their coach for their work this season. You did their best and that's all we could ask. To do your best is just as good as winning.

Keep on going on. You certainly did good work.

Congratulations, debaters; Many thanks for your hard and sincere work. I know the school is proud of you.

I held down one of the seats in the audience for the play given by the Frosh and I want to tell them that it was very good. Good going there, Freshmen. Keep it up.

Wish I could shake hands with all those that went out for declam. Virginia, you're doing wonderful work! Bravo!

The Freshman class thanks the faculty who helped with their play. It certainly was appreciated.

Domestic Difficulties.

"Sorry to keep you waiting, old man, but I've been setting a trap for my wife."

New Ulm Loses to Lamberton.

On Friday evening the New Ulm quint lost to the Lamberton team 24 to 25 in the semi-finals. This game found the New Ulm quint getting off to a very poor start. In fact, they weren't given an opportunity to get started, because of the aggressiveness of their powerful opponents, who, in turn, scored on practically every attempt in the first quarter. Their great rally in this early period gave them a lead of 12 to 1, before the New Ulm quint hit their bearings. However, a spirited rally by the Stovermen, led by Capt. Stelljes, soon placed the New Ulm quint on even footing with their fast-starting opponents, and at half time the score was 12 to 13 in Lamberton's favor. The New Ulm rally was featured by three consecutive baskets made by Capt. Stelljes, from practically the same position from over half the floor. This exhibition was easily the outstanding feature of the tournament.

The second half round both teams battling at even terms. Many of the fans were expecting another overtime period affair, when suddenly the local quint got a bad break. Capt. Stelljes was put out on personals. The New Ulm boys battled gamely to the end, however, and the outcome was doubtful until the final gun. This game again proved that the New Ulm team was one the great fight-to-the-finish teams, and only for a few bad breaks the finals might have had different contestants.

In the first game of the tournament Springfield defeated Morgan 21 to 15. Springfield continued its victorious stride by taking Fairfax into camp, 18-10. Upon the following day, however, their dream of victory was halted by the Gaylord encounter. But, regardless of all scores, Springfield put up a game fight in both victory and defeat.

Second Championship in Row.

Gaylord's victory marked their second consecutive triumph for district honors, and with their calibre of play, plus their fine sportsmanship, it may be truly stated that they will make a formidable opponent for any class of opposition.

WORTHINGTON WINS OVER NEW ULM, 2-1.

This debate was the first regional contest. The New Ulm girls were defeated for the first time. The victory was carried off by worthy opponents.

Worthington Wins Regional.

On March the fifteenth, the Worthington debaters defeated Ortonville in that city by a 3 to 0 victory. This victory made Worthington regional champions. The next debates will be held at the University of Minnesota. The winner of these debates will be state champion.

New Ulm extends her best wishes to the Worthington team for a bigger and better victory—state championship.

Miss McGee deserves the appreciation of the school for her untiring effort in coaching the debaters. This is her second year of coaching in this high school.
