NEW ULM COMES BACK TO DEFEAT GAYLORD

OPERETTA TO BE GIVEN FEBRUARY 6

"Up in the Air," a breezy operetta in two acts, is to be given by the mixed Glee clubs of N. U. H. S., on Thursday, Feb. 6, at Turner Hall. It's an operetta that everyone will enjoy—full of pep, youth, aviation, snappy dances, and good singing.

Shirley Kingston, a friend of Betty's
.....Mildred Gulden
Joe Bennett, an aviator with ambition
.....Melvin Schleif
Jim Carter, a young man with good intentions
.....Richard Lindemann
Annie McCullom, daughter of Henry McCullom
.....Grace Schleuder
Fannie McCullom, her twin sister
.....Kathrine Stuebe
Henry McCullom, a moving picture magnate
.....John Mills
Mrs. McCullom, a good wife and mother
.....Grace Koehler
George S. Burbank, a big business man
.....Lloyd Marti
Mrs. Burbank, a nervous timid person
.....Josephine Bianchi
Betty Burbank, their daughter
.....Myrtle Grussendorf
Harold Post, a bashful young man
.....Francis Ahrens
Juniper Johnson, a colored man of all work
.....??

Come and see for yourself who this humorous person is. He will supply you with plenty of laughs, besides having an excellent voice, and playing his part well.

George Burbank, a big business man, tolerates no one but a young fellow of brawn and daring as candidate for the hand of his daughter, Betty, who is already wooed, much to his annoyance by Harold Post, a young man of just the opposite type. Burbank's friend, McCullom, a movie magnate proposes to stage a spectacular flying stunt by a young aviator. Joe Bennett, who has applied for a job in the movies, and offers a prize to any amateur who will make a parachute jump. Jim Carter, Harold's busybody friend, seizes on this as the young man's opportunity to make good, and devises various alibis which will prevent his actually going up, while gaining the credit for bravery. One by one these alibis fail, and Harold gets more and more deeply involved. Finally he is forced to go through with it in spite of himself, and by a comic fluke manages to maintain his reputation as a daredevil, to gain the enthusiastic approval of Burbank, and to win the girl of his choice.

The high school as a body is expected to turn out 100% strong. You'll be sorry if you don't go, and doubly repaid if you do go. It's your duty, each one of you, to patronize the doings of your own school. Buy your tickets early from the Glee club mem-

NEW ULM FIVE DEFEATS GAYLORD VETERANS

GAINS UNEXPECTED VICTORY, 14-7

And our team finally came back! We'll admit things did look rather dark for a time, but our great little five showed its supremacy at last by decisively whipping Gaylord last Friday, 14-7. No one (except perhaps Coach Harman himself) suspected that the boys had it in them to down the famous Gaylord quint. But how they did administer a thorough beating to those rather confident visiting cagers!

"Schnubby" was high scorer and gets first honors for some neat playing. Marks runs a close second, playing center very capably. The original five who started the game finished it easily "Ammy," Herb and "Lina" formed a fine defense and offense that was almost infallible.

Gaylord's veterans include Krueger and Lemberg, the latter winning scoring honors. It remains unquestioned that they were all considerably taken aback at the defeat.

SECONDS BEAT TRINITY SECONDS.

To add to the glory of trimming up Gaylord, our Seconds also played a winning game against those of Trinity High, 18-7. Our little second team, led ably and well by Babe Wagner and Billy Emmerich, continues to show some of the best and fastest playing on the floor.

If these "youngsters" keep on playing as they have been, what a team we will have in another year!

ALUMNI GATHER FOR VACATION

Many of the graduates of the N. U. H. S. came home from their respective schools to spend their vacation with relatives and friends. A large number were out for the basket ball game Friday to see their old "alma mammy" (as Joe Vogel terms it), beat up on Gaylord.

As soon as those from the U. of M. get back they will have to go through a hair-raising siege of rushing. Some of the "rushers," who were home, are: Jack Schoch, Joe Vogel, Harley Schneider, Howard Vogel, all Sigma Chi; Heine Somsen, a Psi Upsilon. Some of the "rushees" are Lenny Mueller, John Pfaender, Earl Schroepel, Leonard Marti, Dorothy Pfefferle, Alice Vercoe. From Carleton, Jim Beecher, Charles Veeck, and Roger Schmid returned. Other familiar grads were Winnie Hummel, Catherine Poynter (Miss Wood's School), Imelda Ochs (St. Catherine's), Virginia Alwin (Hamline).

The alumni are all still for the "dear old high," strong. Now, that's something!

MULVANEY CONCERT PRESENTED MONDAY

Last Monday the Mulvaney Concert Company gave the third number on the Lyceum course. It was enjoyed very much by everyone—especially the college songs. Some other pleasing "hits" were from "My Maryland," "The Desert Song," "The Vagabond King," and "The Chocolate Soldier." These numbers were not only sung but had special costumes, scenery, dance steps, and action.

Geo. E. Mulvaney, tenor director, and producer of this company, had a group of young people with excellent voices, personality and stage experience. Every one of his numbers greatly pleased the audience!

PLAY TO BE GIVEN BY NEW GROUP

The play "Alias the Deacon" is to be given Sunday by the "Minnesota Play Makers, a newly organized group of local talent. They are experimenting with producing plays in the community, and hope for success.

Several members of the High School are taking part in the activities of this striving bunch of locals. The play tends to be quite interesting. If you want to see as good a presentation as is put on in the big cities, see "Alias the Deacon" next Sunday night.

SIEGEL TROPHY CONTEST TO BE HELD THURSDAY

The annual Siegel Trophy contest will be held again under the supervision of Miss Ritt, next Thursday. As usual, the class getting the greatest number of points wins the Siegel Trophy for Declamation. There are the regular three groups, Humorous, Dramatic, and Oratorical. The winners in these respective fields in the local contest will go to the sub-district contest at Gibbon, to be held by February 14. New Ulm is part of sub-district No. 1, which includes Gibbon, Gaylord, and Winthrop. The winner at this contest will go to the district meet, to be held, most likely, at Springfield, by March 1.

Miss Ritt has reported a fairly large number out this year. She had a Freshman elimination Thursday night, among the following Freshies:

- DRAMATIC—
Mabel Braun—"Over the Bannister."
- HUMOROUS—
Ora Schleuder—"Katrina's Visit to New York."
Evelyn Larson—"A Norwegian Woman at the Telephone."
Marjorie Sandmann—"Billie Brad and the Big Lie."
Virginia Frenzel—"Wedding of Miss Bray."
Alice Pufahl—"Lorinda Podmore's Wedding."
- There will be an upper class elimination Monday, to choose among the following:

- Sophomore.
- DRAMATIC—
Laura Loeffler—"The Selfish Giant."
- HUMOROUS—
Marguerite Wakefield—"Tilly and the Twins."
Gretchen Kretsh—"Tommy Sterne Scrubs Up."
- ORATORICAL—
Richard Lindemann—"The Death Penalty."

- Juniors.
- DRAMATIC—
Marion Pfaender—"The Lion and the Mouse."
- HUMOROUS—
Herta Penkert—"Katrina's Visit to New York."
Irene Altmann—"Katrina's Visit to New York."
Lily Larson—"The Busy Piano Teacher."
Gertrude Dubbe—"Her Question 'heir."
Loretta Glaser—"Tommy Sterne Scrubs Up."

- Seniors.
- DRAMATIC—
Marguerite Haynes—"Peg 'O My Heart."
- ORATORICAL—
Edwin Hage—"The Death Penalty."
- We wish Miss Ritt best of luck in the declamatory field for the future!

EDITORIAL EFFORTS

Friends:—

Almost every human being wonders for people like him and is a bit worried for fear they don't. But there generally comes a time when he discovers what a lot of friends he has. It's almost worth suffering some considerable misfortune just to make that fine discovery. It isn't true that friends turn away from anyone in his misfortune. Quite the contrary. Human beings are nicer than we think, and they come out strong when they ought to come out strong. It's a grand world and we're all lucky to believe in it, and we hope we're going to believe that a long time.—American Boy.

We have an overflowing box of Student Opinions. Can it be that the students are waking up? Incidentally, did you see the marvelous turnout Gaylord had at the game, Friday. Why, they had more out than we did, in spite of the fact that Gaylord is a long distance away.

WOULDN'T IT BE WONDERFUL IF—

We all went at our studies with the same enthusiasm and interest with which the basket ball players go at their game? Every subject and every day's assignment would be another game to win (or lose). Sometimes we might fail, but like good sports we could work harder and try to win the next day. Finally, after the season was over or rather the six weeks, we would be awarded with our letters (grades).

But as neither the school nor the students are perfect, this is impossible. However, a little more "pep" and a little more effort may be the turning point between success and failure for a great number of us.

Would you believe it? Inez S. says she can't read anything—unless it's written.

EXCHANGES

This week's exchanges brings us a neat little paper from Hilo Hawaii. We surely are glad to have this paper on our exchange list, and we hope that they enjoy our paper as much as we enjoy theirs.

According to a prominent English professor, no one can get 100 per cent on this list of ten words: innuendo, inoculate, harass, embarrass, vilify, rarify, picknicking, supersede, plague, repellant.—Exchange.

A West High concert orchestra is being organized in Minneapolis in order to give the pupils advanced training in orchestral instruments, an opportunity to gain experience in concert work.—Exchange.

A Student to English instructor: "Is the 'Hunchback of Notre Dame' a good football novel?"—Exchange.

Wilohi, Willmar, Minn.—The Juniors of Wilmar high school are to present the play "Macbeth."

The Saints Reporter, St. James, Minn.—A splendid little paper, but it would improve the paper if the name of the school and city were on the front page.

Harbor Beacon, Two Harbors, Minn.—The Junior class is going to sponsor an electrical demonstration, "Demonstrating Wonders of Electricity," to raise funds. The main feature is an electrical storm, a phenomena which will be explained by the wizard.

I HEAR

(This is a gossip column which will appear regularly in the Graphos.)

Alice Olson was seen at intervals with several alumni of the high school. Going in for higher education, wot?

Harvey Haerberle and Marion Pfaender shone in society circles during vacation. Entertainments were in honor of Marjorie Gray, of Minneapolis.

Mae Jule Arbes gave a bridge party for some friends during the holidays. She also entertained for Arnold Mueller and Aubrey Benton, of the University.

Swede spent most of his vacation playing. (He perhaps slept off the balance).

Jeanne Milliman, of course, went "back to the farm" for her rest. She's just one of these pure, simple country maids, don'tcha know?

Someone told us that Santa was rather good to little Kathy Stuebe. Well, well, was it a good-looking Senior by any chance, Kathy?

Virginia Frenzel had a birthday party last month. Some Senior boys were said to have been there.

Erma Dietz has been going around with a soulful look on her face. She must be in love. Is it again or yet, we wonder?

Lerone Zimmerman is aspiring to the legitimate stage in the future. How interesting!

Another match broken up by a lover's quarrel! Eldred and Grace's little affair has been dispelled by

KLASS KRIMES

SENIOR SINS.

Several Seniors report that they saw Santa Claus, and some of them received some appropriate presents, too. Herb Regelin got a new sweater. (He used to play B. B.)

Jeanne M. got a box of stationery to use during Chemistry class.

Alice Olson got a book of tardy excuses, and Harvey H. got a few more neckties to add to his collection.

We all enjoyed the two weeks' vacation, and are happy when we realize that Easter is not very far off.

(Neither are semester exams.)

John Mills (Einstein, the second), is working on a new method to extract carbolic acid from cars. Yes, John does love his Chemistry.

JUNIOR JOTS.

"Vacation is over. Let's get back to work and work harder than ever." That's not a bad idea, especially for some of us if we care to graduate next year.

As we glance around the assembly we see an Easter egg pop up here and there. However, they are all the same color. They are very funny looking eggs. Maybe some of the Freshies are disappointed. Freshies, since you are so bright, when did Easter start to come after Xmas?

Skating is a fine sport if you know how to play the game. Ask some of your Junior friends. They know. Some of them even know what to do when they fall out of an airplane.

Hey! You Lavender and White, congratulations for trimming Gaylord. Did you know that you're getting better?

SOPHOMORE SNICKERS.

Of course we all enjoyed our vacation even though we think it should have been at least a week longer, but one good thing about being back in school again is that we can make up some of our lost sleep.

One day this week we heard one of our classmates say, "Tell me just what your idea of nothing is." After a short pause another bright Sophomore remarked, "Well, I don't know, but I'd say it was a bladeless knife without a handle."

Katherine S.: "Oh, Helen, did you have your hair cut?"

Helen: "No, I just had my ears lowered an inch."

Marks: "I hear you left D. M. L. C. last year with two good marks."

Dannheim: "Yeah—black and blue."

Heard by one of the Sophomores in the library: "Such a beautiful, powerful ending!" breathed the Freshie maiden as she closed the volume with tender reverence. "I wonder what the first of it is like!"

Sophomore: "I thought you were asleep."

Ditto: "Well you see, every time I fall asleep the jar wakes me."

FRESHMAN NOTES.

All the Freshmen enjoyed their vacation. Santa was good to us all. He even brought us a new member.

Semester exams are coming, but we're not worrying. We've all done such good work since school started. I bet the teachers think so.

Arno Bergstrom was actually on time to school one day this week. Let's all chip in and buy him an alarm clock. (This is another case of Santa Claus having forgotten.)

Well, Station F-r-e-s-h-i-e now signing off.

STUDENT OPINION

When you're through with vacation, And leave all your fun;
When you find that your teacher Is a s—;

When you find that you're swearing Cause you can't chew your gum;
And your marks start in wearing Red on the home run;
Still, isn't it thrilling To sit in your seat
And after two long weeks— Catch up on your sleep?
Oh, Boy!

(A Freshman's first attempt at poetry.)

What are the objections to our "few and far between" social activities? We wonder! We do have so few—and of course, when the gang does pep up enough to want to "do things," we meet with objections from all sides. Here's to bigger and better social activities at N. U. H. S. Can't we have a dance soon? Please!

That Makes it Even.

Rush: "You know, you're not a bad looking sort of girl!"

The Blonde: "Oh, you'd say so even if you didn't think so."

Rush: "Well, we are square. You'd think so even if I didn't say so."

Why he was not Promoted—

He watched the clock.

He was always late.

He was forever grumbling and complaining.

He only half did things.

He didn't study up on his job.

He associated with his inferiors.

He did not strive for promotion.

He didn't have to.

He was the president of the company.

They call her electric, because she is so light headed.

Snubby says he likes to play cards because he can always hold hands.

She was only a Timekeeper's daughter, but she surely made all the minutes count.

I HEREBY FIRMLY RESOLVE THAT

I will cease to be a Sophist, and become a snob.—Harvey Haerberle.

I will "let well enough alone" as far as the weaker sex is concerned.—Gene Schmid.

I will only pick on someone my own size.—Erv Hamann.

I will make this my last year in this school.—Swede Wagner.

I will set the school back on its feet.—Hilary Oppliger.

I will "bigger and better" myself.—Schnubby Schnobrich.

I will make the basket ball team finer and stronger.—Herb Regelin.

I will put the Athletic Association on a paying basis.—Alice Olson.

I will take my medicine (or something) like a man.—Mushy Emmerich.

We will make the world safe for lovers.—Kathy Stuebe and Charles Hintz.

I will fall in love only once this year.—Erma Dietz.

I will lick anybody who calls me "Georgie." (Including my sister.)—George Fisher.

I will let the D. M. L. C. go to hang.—Mae Jule Arbes.

I will set a good example to my youthful admirers.—Jeanne Milliman.

Now, how about a New Year's resolution for the whole school? It should go like this:

We will do our best in our studies; We will work hard, and have a good time, too;

We will support our team and our school—always;

And doing all this, we shall prove worthy of the ideals and standards of the N. U. H. S.—All of us.

Mr. Dirks (in Social class): "What is your idea of rigid economy?" Inez: "A dead Scotchman."

Jakey wasn't feeling well and went to see his doctor. The doctor, after examining him asked Jakey how old he was.

"Thirty-five," said Jakey.

"Well, that's bad," said the doctor, "for you have diabetes, and at 35 it's a very dangerous disease."

Jakey went to his office down on Wall street and on the way met his friend, Ikey. Looking pretty dejected, Ikey asked, "What's the matter with you?"

"Oh," said Jakey, "I have diabetes at 35."

"That's nothing," Ikey replied, "I've got General Electric at 400."

Passenger: "Have I time to say goodbye to my wife?"

Conductor: "I don't know, sir. How long have you been married?"

"Got anything snappy in rubber bands?" asked Swede Wagner.

"No," said the salesgirl sweetly, "but we've got something awfully swatty in fly swatters."

John Mills, the high school philosopher, says: "It's the little things that bother us. You can sit on a mountain but not on a tack."

"One man in New York dies every minute."

"Yeah, I'd like to see him."

Gene S., the boy wonder, wants to know if it was Patrick Henry who said, "Give me Liberty or any other magazine." He must be a boy-wonder!

"We are going to have higher education in this house," says Jinx every Friday evening as he puts his school books on the top shelf of the closet.

Gene Schmidt's Soliloquy.

"I've been a good fellow boys, Made all I've spent. Paid all I've borrowed—lost All I've lent.

I once loved a woman— That came to an end— Well, get yourself a good dog, boys, He's always your friend."

Billie E.: "Your girl is somewhat spoiled, isn't she?"

Babe W.: "No, it's just the perfume she uses."

Railroad Doctor (at medical inspection): "Say a-a-ah!"

Tony: "No speka da Ingleesh!"

Herb R.: "How did you break your leg?"

Marvin K.: "I threw cigarette in a man-hole, and then stepped on it."

Ad in a drug store window: "Take home a brick. It's fine when company comes."

Ruth Wicherski: "Did your watch stop when you dropped it on the floor?"

Virginia Hintz: "Of course it did. Did you think it would go through?"

"Dear Miss," wrote Mrs. Fisher to the teacher, "don't whip our Georgie. He isn't used to it. We never hit him at home except in self-defense."

Herb: "Why are you wearing that old sweater to class? Haven't you any shirt?"

Marvin: "Sure, I've got lots of shirts, but they're both in the wash."

Mr. Dirks claims that all he did during vacation was "sleep and eat." We'll grant the latter, and give him the benefit of the doubt about the former.
