Local Gridders Remain Undefeated

TEAM DEFEATS

ST. PETER, 7-0

Continuing their tough schedule, Coach Harman's boys combatted with two strong teams during the last two weeks—Hutchinson and St. Peter. Their game with Hutchinson ended in a 7-7 tie. Although both teams fought hard, neither seemed to be able to overcome the other. In spite of the fact that no scoring occurred until the latter part of the third quarter, the fans were kept on their feet, for a very exciting game was being played, and they knew that if either team got a "break," or broke loose, it would mean a sure touchdown. The teams themselves realized this more than anyone else, and as a result, an extremely careful game was played. Both teams deserve credit for their skillful playing, and it is hard to credit either one. New Ulm, however, was playing a heavier team, a fact which meant a harder fight for them.

With the opening of the third quarter the game promised to end in a scoreless tie, but Hutchinson started a slow march down the field, and suddenly shot out a speedy pass. Albrecht, flashy Hutchinson end, received the ball, and carried it across the line for the first touchdown. The extra point was made, and the score stood 7-0 in favor of Hutchinson.

Score Tied in Last Quarter.

With their famous "fourth quarter rally," the Harmanites determined at least to balance up the score, and in a short time they succeeded with Marks carrying the ball across the line. The point after touchdown was made by Reinhart, who bucked the line for his share of the scoring honors. New Ulm kicked off, but soon had possession of the ball again. They advanced towards Hutchinson's goal line, and doubtless would have scored again, had not the whistle interrupted their efforts. The game ended with the score 7-7. The lineup:

Reinhart Hero in St. Peter Game.

Continuing undefeated, the boys journeyed to St. Peter last Friday, where they overcame that team 7-0. The local boys outplayed the Saints throughout the entire game, but were not rewarded until the last quarter. The St. Peter team fought a game fight, but were no match for the Harmanites. Capt. boys threatened to score earlier in the game, but did not seem to have the push to cross the line. The game remained a 0-0 tie until the last quarter, and the fans began to plan on a scoreless game, but again Coach Harman's team lived up to their reputation of fighting until the whistle ends the game, and in this instance as in many previous, they proved that the game is not over until the last minute of play.

The fourth quarter found both teams working and waiting for a chance to score, and it was not until the latter part of this period, with a minute and fifteen seconds of play remaining, that Reinhart, with a brilliant fake, and beautiful interference, (Continued on page 2.)

CONCERT TO BE GIVEN

The Girls' Glee club is practicing for a concert which they will give on December 9th.

There is now a full orchestra of thirty-five pieces. Cornets, saxophones, mellophones, and other instruments have been added to the string instruments.

There has been some delay about the capes and caps for the band, due to the fact that other companies have sent in bids. The uniform fund for the band has been increased $50, a sum which was donated by a bridge club of this city. However, the fund still lacks $175.

TROPHY CASE DONATED BY CLASS OF 1931

A large, new trophy case is now adorning the hall of the second floor of the high school. This trophy case was donated by last year's seniors. It is a large black walnut case and certainly shows off the cups and other trophies to a much greater advantage than our old one did.

We wish to thank the class of 1931 and to tell them we appreciate their donation especially because in giving this gift to the school, they had to do without a senior return dance.

DRAMATIC CLUB REORGANIZES

The Dramatic club, organized when this year's Seniors were Freshmen, is now being reorganized. Any Senior may join whether they were members formerly or not.

Regular meetings are to be held once a month and special meetings when occasion arises. The purpose is to promote an interest in dramatics.

The club plans to give an assembly program sometime in November, and has chosen a play, "The Arrival of Kitty," to be presented in February.

You will recall that the Dramatic club gave an amusing little play, "The Clodhopper," in 1929, which proved a success.

MINIMUM ESSENTIALS TESTS ARE GIVEN

The first Minimum Essentials test was given Wednesday morning. The fact that much of the work in the tests were unfamiliar to the Freshmen and Sophomores, accounts for the fact that the medians in these classes are lower than those of the upper classes.

The following people had perfect papers:

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS ORGANIZED

Three weeks ago the Advanced Stenography class organized a Commercial club for the purpose of becoming more familiar with office problems and procedure. Rosella Theurer was elected president; Myra Witt, vice president, and Edna Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer. The girls have already received their club pins.

HOMECOMING.

For the past three years the New Ulm High School has had Homecoming with an exciting football game, preceded by a pep fest and followed by a big dance in the High School gymnasium. Everyone in the school seemed to enjoy these "get-togethers," and many of the alumni came to join in the entertainment. This added pep to the team and increased school spirit.

This year, however, no Homecoming has been planned. Our game with Sleepy Eye, which was usually our Homecoming game, is to take place at Sleepy Eye. The only day possible then, for a Homecoming game would be October 30, when we play Glencoe.

There have been many remarks circulated around school lately about our not having a Homecoming game.

The Graphos is taking this opportunity to urge the students to express their opinions on this subject.

Willie: "I think baby swallowed that little bell, mother. Shall I shake her and see?"

Elmer H.: "Say, boy, did you see a fox run by here?"

Boy: "Yes, sir."

Elmer: "How long ago?"

Boy: "It'll be a year next Christmas."

Springfield Hero: "How long will it be until your sister makes her appearance?"

Florence's Sister: "She's upstairs making it now."

Tramp: "I haven't averaged more than one meal a day all this week, lady."

Eileen: "Oh, are you trying to reduce, too?"

Miss Leonard: "How much time did you put on this shorthand?"

Florence R.: "Oh, about half an hour railroad time."

Miss Leonard: "What do you mean by railroad time?"

Florence: "Including all stops and delays."

Ralph Rieke had upset a load of hay in the road, and stood regarding it in a puzzled, uncertain fashion.

"Hadn't you better go and tell your father about it?" asked a motorist, whose progress was blocked by the disaster.

"He knows," replied Ralph.

"He knows? Then where is he?" demanded the motorist.

"He's under the hay," was the answer.

"Was your barn damaged during the cyclone?" asked the stranger.

"Dunno," answered the native resignedly. "Haven't found it yet."

"How gracefully he eats corn on the cob."

"He ought to. He's a piccolo player."

Joe: "I've got a railroad radio."

Jim: "A railroad radio?"

Joe: "Yes, it whistles at every station."

A patient teacher was trying to teach a small boy to read with expression.

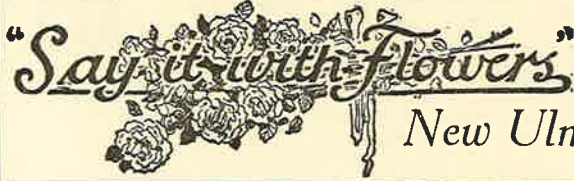

"Where-are-you-going?" read Johnny laboriously and with no accent whatever.

"Try that again," said the teacher. "Read as if you were talking and notice that mark at the end."

Johnny studied the interrogation mark a moment and an idea seemed to dawn upon him. He read triumphantly, "Where are you going, little button hook?"

Miss McGee: "Where was Lincoln assassinated?"

Winnie B.: "In chapter twenty."

Would some of you enlightened Seniors please solve this problem for little Leo Esser?

"If a doctor is sick, does the doctor that is sick call another doctor and does the other doctor doctor the doctor the way the doctor wants to be doctored, or does he doctor the doctor the way he doctors the other people that want to be doctored?"

Quick Change.

The other morning Mr. Harman was talking the usual nonsense to Patricia:

"No, no, 'oo musn't tick 'oo's foot-say—." But when he caught sight of an unexpected visitor watching him:

"No, no; you must not expose your pedal extremities by extending them beyond the protective covering of the blankets, or you will by your system open to attacks of catarrhal affection."

IF.

(With apologies to Kipling)
 For Juniors.

If you can be a Junior and get by with it,
 Doing just as little as you can;
 If you can be a Junior every minute,
 Yet scorn all other classmen at your will;
 If you can hold your tongue while in assembly,
 And pretend unconcern when teachers hover near,
 Or pass unto your neighbor information
 By always telling everything you hear.

If you can dream, yet look as though you're studying,
 If you can chew "grape" gum in English III;
 If you can giggle when it's needful,
 And laugh aloud at would-be clever jokes;
 If you can work the teachers for all that's in you,
 And bluff in every class when there's a chance;
 If nothing less than "D" can be wrung from you,
 Will you be the Junior Mr. Andreen meant you to be?

SOPHOMORE SINS.

It seems as though we aren't going to get a chance to initiate the Freshies this year. The school is getting to be kind-hearted.

We're beginning to wonder if Althea S. and Howard A. have time to study. They have a gabfest every time they're in the assembly.

Jack J. likes the way Kathryn R. smiles at him.

German and Latin classes are getting to be a little too rough for some of us Sophs.

Ralph R. found a new girl friend last Saturday night. Ask him for further information.

Pheasant hunting is occupying most of the time of the most prominent sophomores. Even Darwin P., our president, took time off from his office duties to shoot a few.

FRESHMAN FOLLIES.

We freshmen are studying so hard trying to make good impressions, we haven't time to frolic about like the seniors.

Lady in a Pet Store: "I like this dog, but his legs are too short."

Second Rookie: "No, he didn't make it that strong."

"And now can anyone tell me the difference between 'man' and 'men'?" asked the kindergarten teacher brightly. "Well, Tommy?"

"Man," answered Tommy eagerly, "is one men, and men is lots of mans."

Thaxter Miller was giving a masterly rendering of Beethoven's 'Kreutzer Sonata,' which has several long and impressive rests in it. During one of these pauses a motherly old lady leaned forward, touched the artist kindly on the arm, and said, "Play something you know, dear."

"Guess we must be getting nearer the city," said the gardener on his first trip in with his new truck. "Seems like we're hitting more people right along."

"I'm very much afraid I'll not meet you in heaven, Johnny," said a Sunday school teacher to a mischievous pupil.

"Why," exclaimed the incorrigible youth, "what have you been doing now?"

"Is that marble?" asked a customer, pointing to a small bust of Kentucky's famous statesman.

"No, sir," replied the conscientious dealer, "that's Clay."

Barber: "Haven't I shaved you before, sir?"

Customer: "No. I got these scars in France."

Miss McGee: "In which of his battles was Alexander the Great killed?"

"Oh," she blushed, "I don't want to buy it. The doctor said I'd lost 25 pounds and I wanted to see what it looked like in a lump."

"Your son in college ordered these photos from me."

"Oh, yes; they look very much like him. Has he paid for them?"
