

N. U. RANKS FIRST IN DECLAMATORY CONTEST FIRST IN ORATORICAL AND DRAMATIC—SECOND IN HUMOROUS

At the sub-district declamatory contest, held last night at Springfield, New Ulm scored first place, having winning contestants in oratory and dramatic, and second place in the humorous division. To Jane Mueller, who represented us in the dramatic section with her selection, "Submerged," to Frederick Meile, in the oratorical section, giving "The Cost of War," and to Lorna Frank in the humorous division with "Let Brotherly Love Continue," New Ulm owes its place in this contest.

The schools competing were Springfield, Sleepy Eye, Morton, and New Ulm. Superintendent Wikre, St. James; Miss Ruth Lund, St. James, and Superintendent Wilcox, Mountain Lake, judged the contest which was held at Springfield. The winners of this contest are going to Fairfax where the district contest will be held on March 1.

SCHOOL SONG

IS INTRODUCED

At our last assembly program the new school song made its debut. It was received very favorably and was sung fairly well despite the fact that we had never sung it before. We appreciate the time and effort Mr. Halling spent in composing the song for us. The band furnishes excellent accompaniment and with a few more rehearsals. We should have lots of fun singing it.

JUDGE MATHER SPEAKS TO COMMERCIAL CLASS

Last Friday morning, Judge Mather spoke to the Commercial Law class. He explained certain phases of the law which are not taken up in the regular course of study. He made his short talk very interesting, by telling about humorous experiences of the insane who appear in court.

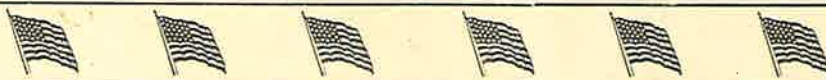

A woman got on a trolley car and finding that she had no change, handed the conductor a $10 bill. "I'm sorry," she said, "but I haven't a nickel."

"Don't worry, lady," said the conductor, "you'll have just 199 of 'em in a minute."

The goat is one of our dumbest animals, but it always knows how to use its head.

ALLOTMENT PLAN IS EXPLAINED

Mr. Joseph Groebner of the Eagle Roller Mill delivered an interesting and instructive talk to the Social Science classes on the Domestic Farm Allotment plan, last Friday morning. Mr. Groebner reviewed the main provisions of the proposed bill. He then gave a thorough discussion of both (Continued on page 4)

REVEREND OLSON ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY

Rev. Olson, chaplain at the St. Cloud Reformatory for boys, came to New Ulm last week and gave an interesting address on the subject of "Red Marks." He showed how red marks lead to more serious things later in life. He did this by taking a boy by the name of "Jim" and pointing (Continued on page 4.)

HONOR STUDENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Mr. Dirks has been busy determining averages. Although the competition is high, the honors were not so keen as in past years. The results are highly complimentary to the recipients. Ora Schleuder having the highest average for the four years of high school, has been selected as valedictorian of the Class of 1933. Marcella Salsman was selected as salutatorian. Margaret Larson, although having the second highest average, could not qualify, due to the two year rule. Students in order to participate in these honors, must have attended N. U. H. S. two years or more. Margaret has made a good record, while in N. U. H. S., and will be given honorable mention at the Graduating exercises. Other high ranking students are:

GEORGE FISHER.
JUNE PETERSON.
STANLEY HELLMANN.
ROLAND BLOSJO.
MYRTLE GRUSSENDORF.
MABEL BRAUN.
MELBA BACH.

SPRINGFIELD AND MOR- TON HERE TONIGHT

SWAMP REDWOOD.—LOSE TO SLEEPY EYE.

The old school spirit went way up when the Harmanites swamped Redwood Falls, Lamberton, and Gaylord, but it seems to have taken a big drop since the defeat that Sleepy Eye dealt the locals last Friday night.

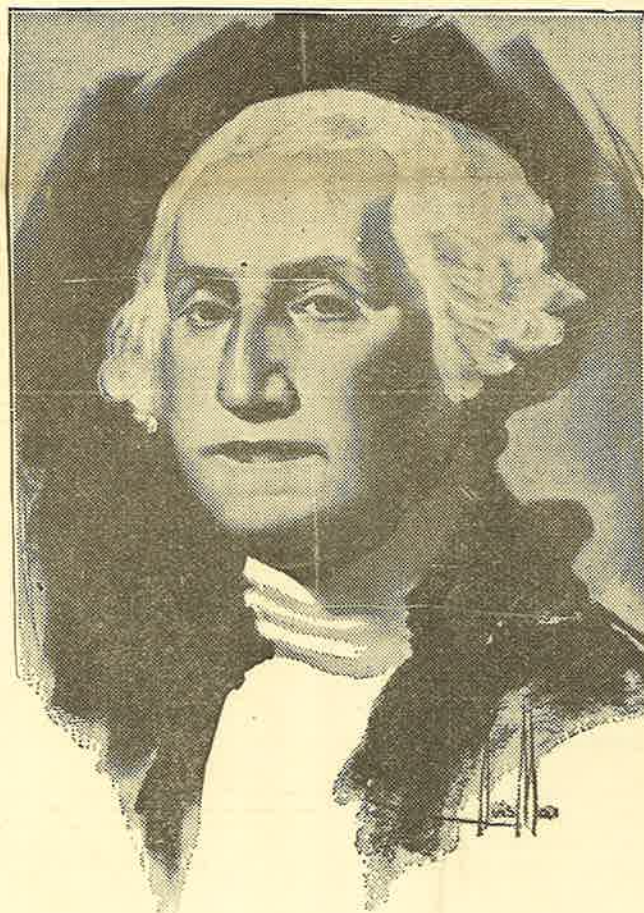

The "old gang" bowed before Sleepy Eye's strong quintet last Friday night when the old New Ulm rivals ran up a score of 15 to 6.

But many's the time we've beat them, and many's the time we'll do it again.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Born: February 22, 1732

Great not alone because he was the first President of a great nation, but most of all because his character, personality, intellect, and leadership played such a vital role in the dramatic early days of the United States when great men were needed to shape order from disorder and to build a lasting and unshakable foundation for the mighty nation we enjoy today. His name will live for all time.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1933.

THOUGHTS WHILE STROLLING.

Gretchen still sighing over the Sleepy Eye game and thoughts of a certain player.—There'll be a sunlight dance after school—going?—The military ball evidently was a huge success judging by all the contented smiles.—Ralph R. is badly in need of a new English book.—Why?—If you are in need of anyone to do your social bowing for you call on Frank or Dumbo.—Frank can also sing Swedish folk songs.—The inspiration evidently failed to inspire last Friday, let's hope she has better luck tonight.—Thaxter M. seems to be concentrating on both the New Ulm and Sleepy Eye high school girls—all right Thaxter, there's safety in numbers.—Dumbo is now also "seen" and not only heard.—Kate R. and Mary M. love to make ice cream.—Grace S. hates to be called Gracie Allen.—Melba Bach seems to need Dorothy Dix's advice. She has a new love affair.

Mr. Halling: "I'm surprised to hear you admit you haven't been practicing your clarinet lessons, Susie. What can you get out of your music if you don't practice?"

Susie A.: "Ten cents an evening from Ghandi B., my roommate."

Mother: "Loyd, did you do anything beside eat at the school picnic?"

Loyd Doe: "Yes, Mummie, we sang a hymn called, 'We can sing, full though we be'."

Inquiries revealed that the title of the hymn was, "Weak and sinful though we be."

"I have nothing but praise for the sermon," said the Scotchman as they passed the collection plate.

GYM NEWS

(By T. P. P.)

"CHATTER."

"Not of dreams, but of blood and of iron shall a nation be molded at last." Are we quoting Bismark or Swinburn? It doesn't really matter—at any rate one can't help think that many of the boys are beginning to feel that way about it. Peek in on the 2nd or 5th hour, Tuesday and Thursday class, some time and see for yourself. You'll find Arthur Fussner, Donald Rice and Gerhard Radke throwing precaution to the winds in their attempts to do hand springs, free flips, and what nots—especially "what nots." Or if you're especially fortunate you may see Donald Pollei, Lloyd Eyrich and "Chuck" O'Malley doing swan dives over the bar at 60 or 65 inches—and have you seen John Richard Higgs walk the width of the gym on his hands? Truly, things in the boy's department are "looking up."

ZIPPER No. 41.

The mystery still remains unsolved—and Zip-Knick No. 41 is still an orphan. How could some one be so heartless as to put a boy's basket number on a girl's zipper and then allow it to remain out in the cold unclaimed?

PEPPER BALL AND BOMBARDMENT.

Two new games were introduced in girls' classes. "Pepper Ball" is a game that can be played with success with participants up to 30 in number. The name is suggestive of the constant alertness and quickness to act, which are vital to the success of the game. The object of the game is to throw a ball across the opponents' goal line at a level not higher than the waist line. Personal contact is avoided and players are allowed to move only sideways, but enough action is possible to make the game fast and interesting.

Bombardment proved to be almost a riot—bean bags, volley balls, soccer balls, basket balls and Indian clubs were used—and was there a bombardment? No use describing the game! Just drop in on the girls' 8 o'clock class and you'll see why all the yells!

Miss McGee: "We borrowed our numerals from the Arabs, our calendar from the Romans, and our banking from the Italians. Can any one think of other examples?"

Charlie E.: "Our lawn mower from the Smiths, our phonograph from the Browns, and a pair of steps from Miss Evans."

A cautious young man took a sporting old uncle to meet the woman to whom the younger man proposed to propose. She proved to be charming but loquacious.

When they were coming away together, the uncle observed thoughtfully to his nephew: "She has nice headlamps and a charming chassis; I like her color scheme; she's lively without being too fast, but, laddie, her silence is totally inadequate."

"I didn't raise my daughter to be fiddled with," said the pussycat as she rescued her offspring from the violin factory.

CLASS CRIMES

SENIOR SCANDAL.

Secrets Exposed by Nicknames!
 "Wimpie"—Howard L. (Funny name, isn't it?).
 "Chucker"—Wilbur M. (Also a polo player?).
 "Susy"—Arnold A. (Susy, little Susy, now what is the news?).
 "Ghandi"—Morton B. (Did somebody see him in gym clothes?).
 "Homer"—Donna S. (Not because of a fondness for Greek classics!).
 "Gurchy"—Florence E. (The shortness of "Kabigurchi").
 "Feidle"—Alfred B. (Maybe, it should be Beetle!).
 "Cuddle"—Carl L. (Does he cuddle, Donna?).
 "Popsey"—Herman F. (Because he always eats his spinach?).
 "Dumbo"—Arthur F. (A family title of the Fussner men).
 "Anna"—Elmer K. (Maid of all work, I suppose).
 "Slick"—Leo E. (Slick in what respects?).
 "Pug"—James A. (Fugilist or —?).
 "Becky"—Mildred L. (Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm).
 "Tilly"—Dorothy F. (Origin unknown).
 "Pansy"—Ruth S. (One of those shy little flowers?).
 "Dynamite"—Ora S. (T. N. T. for such a powerful little person!).
 "Nobo"—Alys P. (Don't ask me how I got it!).
 Donald Rice claims that all that powerful, rippling muscle was from a ninety day Atlas course. (This explanation was gotten when I told him he was getting fat!)
 The latest skating rink romance is Betsy L. versus "Dumbo" Fussner. She must have IT in order to get such a cold, woman-hating person on such a cold location!

FRESHMAN FOLLIES.

Several merchants in town have declared an end to the depression. It was caused, they believe, by the military ball, and the need of so many formals, finger waves, and diamond necklaces.
 I have heard that Ruth E. had quite a thrilling time on a certain sleigh party, but out of kindness' sake, I will refrain from saying with whom. But just ask Eleanor N., she'll tell you.
 The ballads we're having in English don't appeal to many of us, especially some of those "mushy" ones.
 Audrey M. is very happy because her appearance is so much improved by some rouge, which she dug up from somewhere.

JUNIOR JOTS.

Fifth Period Thoughts and Pastimes.
 Jack Jordan gazing at Ruth F., "Why can't this period go on forever."
 Winfield (thinking of Miss Ritt), "Try a little tenderness."

The three year old had taken his mother's powder puff and was in the act of powdering himself, when his small sister, aged five, snatched it from him.

"Here you musn't do that!" she exclaimed. "Only ladies use powder. Gentlemen wash themselves."

 Rose Pickle, "I'm nobody's sweetheart now."

SOPHOMORE SINS.

And now for the contest—Follow it carefully.

The object of this contest, which is to be held within our class, is for you to find the longest word, that you are able to find, in an American dictionary and use it correctly in an ordinary English sentence. Your word must not be plural or be a compound. Write it neatly on a piece of paper and hand it in to either of the following people before March 3, 1933, or this coming Friday:

1. Theo Olsen.
2. Howard Lindemann.
3. Charlotte Jahnke.

Or anyone on the committee.
 Now for the prizes—There will be two 1st and 2nd prizes, one to the winning girl and one to the winning boy, and who wouldn't want to be one of the winners?

First prize—Winners' names will appear in this column every single issue of the Graphos, the remaining part of this year.

Second prize—Winners' names will appear every other time in this column.

Don't you envy the lucky persons? Don't lose a moment's time. Committee in charge of contest:

1. Betsy Larson.
2. Byrll Edmiston.
3. Doris Dahl.
4. Elsie Olsen.

Judges—Our class advisor, Miss McGee, and committee in charge.

Valentine's day was quite a thrill for some of us, but as for others—we were hardly aware of it. By the way, it was rumored that Katherine R. received two from the opposite sex.

Since the Home Ec. girls have been serving meals to the teachers, certain teachers have been suffering badly from severe cases of dyspepsia. Well, you can hardly blame them.

Ralph Vogelpohl believes in a strict routine of life. He spends every one of his Sundays, by going to communion in morning and courting Loretta Teynor in the evening. Quite a man!

Doctor: "You have a tendency to let things slide."

Norman Schroerer: "I know it. I play a trombone."

Byrll E. saves all her smiles for Wayne Walrath, a high and mighty Senior.

Grant Oswald and Billy B. have fallen hard on the ice, for two Freshmen girls.

Boss: "You ask high wages for a man with no experience."

Winfield B.: "Well, sir, it's much harder work when you don't know anything about it."

DID YOU KNOW?

You are not supposed to study before breakfast. It says so on your report card.

Every time you tell a lie your heart beats faster, at least Mr. Dirks thinks so. Next time you go into his office to get an excuse, he'll listen for the thumping of your heart, if you haven't already lost it.

Mr. Dirks was valedictorian of his class.

Miss Leonard got some very beautiful flowers for Valentine's day.

Someone stole Dorothy Fritsche's PURSE, took out a dollar, then returned the purse with a thank you note pinned in it. I hope the person who did that, will have the decency to blush.

Virgy Schultz can do the hula-hula. She should do it for an assembly program sometime, maybe.

Miss Holzinger doesn't think the book "Careers" which the seniors bought is worth more than $5.

That a few people almost went up in smoke when a shelf with acid bottles fell down, in Chemistry.

Only a fourth of the people who mark down their showers take them.

Miss Huber can't wait until she gets home to find out whether she got any mail, but calls up to find out.

Jack Jordan was not on the best of terms with Myrtle G.

Some people skip school whenever they feel like it.

All Mr. Pfaender's little pupils plan to marry him when they grow up.

Grace Schleuder went to the Military Ball with Stanley Windhorn.

STUDENT OPINION.

I think some of the things we learn in school are absolutely ridiculous. Normal people are certainly not as insane as we learn.

SANE SENIOR.

I don't see why teachers object to gum chewing. They think they're supposed to scold about it, and that's why they do.

DOUBLE MINT.

I may not be patriotic, but I hate the song "America," and I wish we wouldn't have to sing it.

STARS SPANGLED.

I don't think it was very nice of so many of the Seniors to walk out on that speaker from St. Olaf.

Public Speaker: "I'm pleased to see such a dense crowd here tonight."

Voice: "Don't be too pleased. We ain't all dense."

"Hello, Lippert," said Fuzzy, "why ain't you been comin' to the monthly sunlight dances down in the gym?"

"Ho, ho, dances!" said Lippert, "I couldn't learn to dance."

"You could too. It's dead easy," said Fuzzy. "All you got to do is to keep turnin' around and wipin' your feet."

The Vicar: "So you like country life. Are your hens good layers?"

Mabel (fresh from town): "Topping! They haven't laid a bad egg yet."

Schnitzelbunk

"But I thought your daughter was engaged to that promising young man."

"Yes, but he didn't keep his promise."

"Jim will be in the hospital a long time."

"Why, have you seen the doctor?"

"No, the nurse."

It was Billie's first trip to the country. Outside the farm house he saw the farmer's wife plucking a fowl for next day's dinner.

"I say, ma'am," he said, "do you undress 'em every night?"

"It's scandalous to charge us $10 for towing the car only three or four miles," protested the motorist's wife.

"Never mind, dear," replied hubby, "he's earning it; I've got my brakes on."

Dora had just returned from Sunday school, where she had been for the first time.

"What did my little daughter learn this morning?" asked her father.

"That I am a child of Satan," was the beaming reply.

"Broken off your engagement to Sue?"

"She wouldn't have me."

"You told her about your rich uncle?"

"Yes, she's my aunt now."

"So you loved and lost, eh, old chap?"

"On the contrary, I came out a winner."

"How was that?"

"She returned my presents and accidentally put in some of another fellow's."

Teacher: "Tommy, come here and give me what you've got in your mouth!"

Tommy: "I wish I could. It's a toothache!"

Mrs. Newly Rich was recounting to an acquaintance the thrilling events of the night before, when the house had been burglarized.

"As a matter of fact," she said, "we were eating our soup—"

"Then, of course," interrupted the candid friend, "none of you heard anything."

Pat: "Have you christened your new baby yet?"

Mike: "We have."

Pat: "And what did you call it?"

Mike: "Hazel."

Pat: "Sure, now, with 233 saints to name the kid after, ye had to go and name it fer a nut."

Customer: "So this is your last house?"

Estate Agent: "Yes, last if not leased."

Mr. Harman: "To be quite candid, I can't make out this drawing at all."

La Donna S.: "Drawing! That isn't drawing, that's writing."

An Irishman got a job at a railway station. When the first train came in, however, he forgot the name of the station so he called out:

"Here ye are for where ye all going. All in there for here, come out."

A MODERN NIGHTMARE.

I thumbed through a magazine How full of ads it seems!

Impressive slogans, vivid hues, Endless.....

I dozed, I slept, I fitfully dreamed. Camels—

Men were walking miles for them. People—

Four out of every five—were in distress.

Someone reaches for a sweet. Alas! It was a Lucky.

Contented cows grazed in pastures. Carnations were blooming there.

The Gold Dust twins were riding in a Flying Cloud—

With General Motors at the wheel. Dutch Cleanser was removing that unattractive film

A little chick hadn't scratched yet. An Ivory float glided by.

Ribbons of Colgate's flatly adorned it. A carload of coughs passed.

A sign said, "Kodak as you go." A nonchalant man from Murad said it with flowers.

A whale of a difference a few cents made.

A man sat down at the piano and everyone laughed.

I asked the man who owns one. There must be a reason.

I will stop eventually—why not now? (This satire on modern advertising is written by Margaret Swanson, a member of the sophomore class, Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minnesota.)

The Harmanites will play a double-header tonight at the Armory.

Springfield and Morton will be the victims of the Lavender and White squad. Games are called at 7 o'clock.

This will be the first and last double-header this season for the Harmanites and there will only be one more game before the tournament, Sleepy Eye, here, March 3.
