HARMANITES BOW TO WINTHROP 23-15

DECLAM CONTEST

The various dates for declamatory contests have been determined. On February 23, the Sub-District contest is to be held. On March 1, the District contest will be held. On March 8, the Regional contest is to be held. On March 15, the Inter-Regional contest will be given. The State Declamatory contest has been planned for March 22. The Siegel Trophy contest will be held sometime during the first week of February. According to present plans, local preliminaries will be completed by January 31.

SURPRISE PROGRAM

On Tuesday morning the assembly bell rang unexpectedly; and when we were all in the assembly, a magician appeared on the stage and, with the able assistance of the brave John Johnson, performed some of his magic tricks. John seemed a bit nervous, especially when he was holding the firecracker in his hand. But the worst was yet to come. Imagine how you girls would feel if somebody exposed your "polar bears" to public view. Poor John certainly felt embarrassed as his complexion revealed. However, he was amply rewarded for his hard work and bravery by receiving a complimentary ticket to the show at Turner Hall that evening.

ANNUAL MUSIC CONTEST WILL BE HELD JAN. 25

On January 25, the musical organizations of our school will again give a concert. The proceeds will be used in purchasing necessary musical equipment and in cleaning up the debt. The program should be of interest to all students.

The program is as follows:

I.

High School Band.

1. "Hall of Fame," Concert March by Olivadoti.
2. "The Cowboy Wedding," Overture, by Heyser.
3. "Sabbath Morn," Serenade, by Jewell.
4. "The Village Festival," Overture, by Rosenkraus.
5. Selected.
6. "Lights Out," March, by McCoy.

II.

High School Girls' Glee Club.

1. "Lift Thine Eyes," by Mendelssohn.
2. "Dear Land of Home," by Sibelius.
3. "In These Delightful Pleasant Groves."
4. Selected.

III.

Trombone Solo ..... Selected
Ellsworth Wagner

IV.

Tuba Solo ..... Selected
Donald Rice

The Winthrop High school quint dealt the Harmanites a stiff defeat in last Friday's cage contest. The Winthrop quint proved to be the better team and outplayed the locals in the last three quarters of the game.

The locals held a 6-0 lead at the end of the 1st quarter. In the second quarter the dynamite went off under the Winthrop gang, and New Ulm's lead was soon wiped out.

During the course of the game the local quint stayed with the Winthrop team and by steady fighting and scoring spurts kept their victors from running up a higher score.

Coach Harman sent in five new men during the second half to replace the squad he had started. The second squad held the Winthrop cagers from handing New Ulm a greater defeat.

The box score:

New Ulm.	FG.	FT.	TP.
Mau	1	0	2
Jordan	2	0	4
Besmehn	1	0	2

Co. "A" vs. N. U. H. S.

The High school quintet went down in defeat before the strong Co. "A" team, Tuesday night, by a score of 65-14.

The "Guards" started scoring at the beginning of the game and ran up a score of 32 to 6, at the half. Considering the great odds, the Harmanites did well.

Play Springfield Tonight.

The locals play at Springfield tonight in what is believed will be the most exciting game thus far.

MINIMUM ESSENTIALS

The second State Minimum Essentials test was given on December 21, 1932. The Freshman median was raised from 77 in the October test to 95 in the December test. The state median for the test was 77. The 9th grade scores ranged from 79 to 100. Those having perfect papers were Mabel Kuester, Irene Jones, Ruth Stoltenburg, Delmer Windhorn, and Jimmie Schroeck.

The median for the Sophomore class was 91, thirteen points higher than the state median for 10th grade. The scores ranged from 62 to 100. Irma Miller had a perfect paper.

The Juniors had a median of 91 also, ten points higher than the state median for 11th grade. Virginia Meile had the only perfect paper. Scores ranged from 66 to 100.

The Senior's median was 95, or ten points higher than the state median. Those having perfect papers were Phyllis Altermatt, Violet Zimmerman, Myrtle Grussendorf, and Alice Kaping. Scores ranged from 64 to 100.

In the December test our median for the three upper classes was 92, while the state median was 81.

NEW ORCHESTRA

MAKES DEBUT

Friday morning we were all having a hard time keeping from dancing up and down the aisles while we listened to our new orchestra. The orchestra, as yet, is nameless. Mr. Wagner said a liberal reward would be offered to whoever suggests the best name. They are advertising for a piano player. Please don't all put in your applications, girls. The orchestra has plans of going to Europe after a few more public appearances have been made in the United States. We hope they won't be disappointed.

The orchestra is composed of the following musicians:

Babe Wagner—Trombone.
Donald Rice—String bass and tuba.
Joseph Schneider—Saxophone.
Jerome Rockvam—Saxophone.
Ralph Vogelpohl—Banjo.
Stanley Windhorn—Cornet.
John Bauer—Cornet.

After the orchestra had been proven as very popular, Willard Raabe gave a very interesting talk about his trip through several European countries.

DEBATE IS HELD

A second practice debate was held in Miss McGee's room, Monday, at 3:30. The visiting team was from Worthington. The debate subject for this year is "Resolved: That at least one-half of all revenue for state and local purposes should be derived from sources other than tangible property." This is a question which is very prominent at the present time and in which everyone is concerned in some way or other. As this was merely a practice debate, no judges were present, and no decision was rendered. The next debate will be held at Sleepy Eye, about a month from now.

PUBLIC SPEAKING?

Silver-tongued orators! Oh, yes, indeed! Meet the Junior class. We are moving, if not progressing on the rocky and thorny road leading to perfection in Public Speaking. A few of us have a good start. Take Marion M., and Lorna F. We could include Dora N., world famous authority on dogs, or is it fleas? Some of us—for example, Reinhold M., the lion-hearted—are fainting by the wayside. Others of us are still doing Sashay dances—ask Edward Schneider—and still others are hobbling along with the aid of oral crutches.

But enough of that! For we have passed the gruesome three-eyed giant, Extemporaneous Speaking, and are now at the mercy of the fire—

Will and Won't.

A darky was struggling with a balky mule when a bystander said: "Mose, where's your will power?"

"Mah will power am right wid me, but you oughta see dis yer animal's won't power!"

EDITORIAL.

Please excuse this issue of the Graphos. Usually we have one week to work on the Graphos before it is published. This time we had only two days, because of the Christmas vacation. We will really try to do better next time.

Editors.

Miss Ritt is weeping and wailing over the loss of a pet Christmas "hankie," blue and white print in a rose pattern. She hopes someone will console her by finding and returning it to her.

STUDENT OPINION.

Sentiment concerning vacations—Why can't they go on, forever, and ever?

Blue.

I don't think that enough Student Opinions are contributed.

A Good Sophomore.

Depression must have hit the Juniors more than any other class. Look at the brilliant Minimum Essentials test scores.

Spiteful Senior.

The teachers seemed so glad to get back, but they haven't anything on the students.

Observer.

We certainly got a break when some of our teachers got the flu.

Flosie.

I wish somebody would please present the typing classes with a few new phonograph records.

Picolo Pete.

Give Us Liberty.

A young colored couple were sitting at the foot of the Statue of Liberty. Henry was holding Mandy's hand.

"Henry," said Mandy, "does yo' all know why dey has such small lights on de Staute o' Liberty?"

"Ah dunno," replied the Ethiopian swain, "unless it's because de less light de mo' liberty."

PRIVATE LIVES.

The Christmas holidays are now only a memory, but I sincerely hope a pleasant memory. The two weeks were spent in skating, hiking, attending parties, and forgetting everything we've learned since September.

The old grads were back in town, visiting school and being seen at the so-called night-spots. The Alumni team also managed to subdue our present team.

New Year's Eve was spent in many different ways. Private (?) parties, dances, and being in bed with the flu, were different ways of ushering in 1933, a year, we hope, a little less depressed than 1932.

Mary Mueller and Ruth Langmack seemed to enjoy skating with D. M. L. C. students and graduates.

Grace S. had such a good time in the Cities that she forgot to come home for the opening of school, Monday.

I have heard that Thaxter Miller has decided that N. U. H. S. girls are the best after all. What do you say, Eleanor?

It seems as though many a romance has had its start on our various ice rinks. Virginia F. and Lloyd Eyrich; Billy Block and Helen Gag; Alex Oppelt and Magdelene B., and Jimmy P. and a certain young Flor girl are spending their spare time skating together.

The Monday school started, you could tell, by looking at the girls—and the boys also—what Santa Claus had left them.

Wednesday night was full moon, and many, it is said, spent their time gazing at it.

There's a long, long trail a winding into the land of final examinations.

DID YOU KNOW?

Miss Blair thinks too much personal news is contributed in the Graphos. By the way, she gained six pounds over vacation.

Miss Ritt can make a public speaker out of you in six easy lessons.

Thaxter Miller has been seen with his ex-girl-friend's sister.

Miss Kearns sticks out her tongue occasionally.

The freshman girls are keeping some terrible scandal to themselves, and no one can even bribe them.

German II class is getting information about German customs, schools, people and celebrations.

A very dear friend of Miss Huber had the flu.

"Wah-Kon-Tah" is a new book in the library, about President Hoover's uncle.

TENNIS HAS BIRTHDAY.

New York, N. Y. (ABS)—Lawn tennis was 50 years old in this country last year, and the United States Lawn Tennis association celebrated the anniversary by publishing a memorial volume, "Fifty Years of Lawn Tennis in the United States." The book deals with tennis history, discusses strokes, footwork, strategy, and outlines the careers of such tennis geniuses as Johnston, Tilden, and Helen Wills. Of a large edition priced originally at $3, a few hundred remaining copies are offered to high school students at $1 plus 25 cents postage. The U. S. L. T. A. address is 120 Broadway, New York City.

CLASS CRIMES

SENIOR SINS.

It seems as if Santa forgot there was a depression. I've been hearing of wrist-watches, dresses, dolls, and electric trains that were left.

All of us ought to be wide awake now. We've been out in the open so much. Or perhaps we are utterly fatigued by now from our exertions.

Florence E. says she stayed home all the time. Do you believe it? I don't.

Gretchen was presented with a doll by big brother. Won't Donna and she have fun, now?

Oh, I give up! What do you expect a person to write when she's had her nose in a book all vacation?

JUNIOR NOTES.

Jimmy H.'s vacation was very dull. His "one and only" spent her vacation elsewhere. But that's O. K., Jimmy—"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

By the looks of our halls, New Ulm High School has become an institution for unemployed Alumni.

Court cases seemed to be the chief interest of high school students during Christmas vacation.

I wish to correct a statement which was published several weeks ago. This statement declared that the Rauschke-Arbes, and Besmehn-Muesing corporations had dissolved partnerships. We were all wrong. These corporations are doing bigger and better business each day.

Making front doorsteps slippery and tearing telephones from walls, seems to have been the novel amusement New Year's Eve.

Teachers seem so pleasant since they returned. One would almost think our vacation had been two months instead of two weeks.

SOPHOMORE SINS.

What tune would you like? "If

This Machine Age.

The farmer's pink-cheeked daughter was coming up the lane. She was clad in a grimy pair of overalls from the pockets of which bulged bunches of waste and sundry wrenches and pliers. In her hand was a dirty satchel of iron tools.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"

"I'm going a-milking, sir," she said.

"But why the tools, my pretty maid?"

"Trouble," she said, "with that blamed milking machine again."

Some Memorial.

Two gentlemen stopped on the street to talk to each other, one wearing a large diamond tie pin. "Isaacs," said the other, "dot is a fine diamond you have. Vare you get it."

"Vell," explained Isaacs, "my brother he died and left $450 for a stone. And dis is de stone."

Choosing His Menu.

Rastus: "Yo' say anything to me,

you were dying, what piece of music would you want to linger in your ears as you drifted into the darkness?"

This question was put before the Sophomore class and here are some of the answers:

Alan Fiers—"Carry Me Back to Old Virginny."

Betsy Larson—"When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

Arnold G.—"Pink Elephants on the Ceiling."

Miss Treadwell—"Isn't it Romantic."

Byrll E.—"My Bonny Lies Over the Ocean."

Kathryn R.—"Mighty Lak' a Rose."

Florence E.—"My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Richard A.—"Prisoners Song."

Miss McGee—"When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain."

Grant Oswald—"The Lord is My Shepherd."

Jean Veeck—"Goodnight, Sweetheart."

Doris Dahl—Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata.

Theo O.—"Smilin' Thru."

Howard B.—"Let's Turn Out the Lights and Go to Bed."

Mr. Dirks—"Sweet and Low."

FRESHMEN NOTES.

Lyla H. thinks she has a boy friend.

Elinor R. surely can cook well.

Jane Du Pere wishes to thank the Freshman class for flowers, etc., while she was sick.

Where has Delores Green been when she comes to school so tired?

Rose B. enjoys dancing in the late morning hours.

Hope Higgs is taking A. Becker away from A. Milliman.

When the new bride makes a mess of a dinner, she puts it on a lettuce leaf and calls it a salad.

big boy, and Ah'll make yo' eat yo' words!"

Sambo: "Chicken dumplin's, hot biscuits, an' watermelon."

Tune in Lowell Thomas.

Little Waldo was much impressed by his first trip through the garden. Coming to the morning-glories he shouted, "Oh, Mother, come and see the vine with the loud-speakers!"

Modest.

Tommy, ten years old, applied for a job as a grocery boy for the summer. The grocer wanted a serious-minded youth, so he put Tommy to a little test.

"Well, my boy, what would you do with a million dollars?" he asked.

"Oh, gee, I don't know—I wasn't expecting so much at the start."

No Cause for Worry.

"Tommy," inquired the teacher, "what is one-fifth of three-sevenths?"

"I don't know exactly," replied Tommy, "but it isn't enough to worry about."

CLASSES WORK AS TEAM.

Los Angeles, Calif. (ABS)—Students in the art class at Abraham Lincoln High school draw cartoons, transfer them to a special board, and carve the board. The board then becomes a mould, and printing class boys pour into it melted lead. Journalism students take the completed cut and run it in the Railsplitter, school paper.

GUILTY AS CHARGED!

Forest Grove, Ore. (ABS)—The speech class at Union High school recently tried and found "guilty" a student accused of first degree murder. It was a mock trial, of course, with half the class seeking to convict and the other half striving to acquit. There was a judge, prosecutor, defense attorney, and plenty of witnesses who gave highly conflicting testimony, says the Monday Morning Moan.

THEY TRAIN IN EARNEST.

Santa Ana, Calif. (ABS)—The high school football team here has a training table in the school cafeteria. The regular bill-of-fare for lunch consists of soup, two vegetables (or meat and one vegetable), a salad of greens, a non-pastry dessert, and a glass of milk or orange juice.

FROM RED INK TO BLACK.

Medford, Ore. (ABS)—Medford High school Associated Students started the year with a $1,000 debt. Now, there's $250 in the treasury. Student body tickets and football receipts did the trick, together with a profit from the cafeteria, formerly in the red. A strictly kept budget is expected to prevent further deficits.

PAGE A FIELD HOSPITAL!

St. Petersburg, Fla. (ABS)—The high school football squad consumed, up to Nov. 21, adhesive tape totaling 1,500 square feet, 103,680 square inches of gauze, 24 pints of rubbing alcohol, and much balm, mercurchrome, and liniment.

FOUR YEARS OF VICTORY.

Hamtramck, Mich. (ABS)—Hamtramck's girl's field hockey team has finished its fourth season without a single defeat.

SEATTLE SCHOOLS TEACH 17,717.

Seattle, Wash. (ABS)—Students in this city's nine public high schools total 17,717. Lincoln has the largest enrollment, 2,547, and Cleveland the smallest, 643.

LEARN TO USE LIBRARY.

Appleton, Wis. (ABS)—Appleton High school requires all students to take a two weeks' course in the use of books and libraries during the first semester as sophomores.

GIRLS MARCH AT GAMES.

Tucson, Ariz. (ABS)—For better school spirit, and for the sake of the spectators, girls at Tucson High school each year form a drill squad to march at football games. A fife and drum corps adds to the spectacle—and helps keep the girls in step.

THEY STUDY ESPERANTO.

Racine, Wis. (ABS)—A club for the study of Esperanto, proposed international language, has been formed at Washington Park High school here. Anyone may join.

Schnitzelbunk

Horse Sense.

Old Mose was pretty sick and after he had groaned and tossed and moaned for two days, Abe asked him if he shouldn't go and get a doctor. Mose agreed that it would be a good thing, but he made one provision—it must be a horse doctor.

"A horse doctah!" exclaimed Abe, puzzled. "Why?"

"Well, Ah've had all them other kinda doctahs," explained Mose, "an' they's all right if you knows what's wrong wid yo'sef. Dey asks you what is wrong and yuh tells 'em and dey gives you somethin' fer it. But Ah doan't know what is wrong wid me did time an' I got to have a hoss doctah. Dose fellers kain't ask dere customers what ails dem—dey jus' natchery gotta know!"

Motor Age.

Little Oswald, four years old, was a precocious child of this motor age. He had just returned from Sunday school.

"Hello, my little man," Grandmother greeted him. "Can you tell Gram-muvver the memory verse you learned today?"

"Yes," answer Oswald, brightly; "the Lord is my chauffeur, I shall not walk."

Knew What She Wanted.

A negro woman walked into an insurance office and asked whether they dealt in fire insurance.

"We do," a clerk replied. "What do you want insured?"

"Mah husband."

"Then you don't want fire insurance," smiled the clerk, as he reached for another application form. "What you want is a life insurance policy."

"No, Ah don't," exclaimed the woman. "Ah wants fire insurance. Mah husband's been fired fo' times in de las' two weeks."

Washington's Handicap.

"Children," said a teacher, "be diligent and steadfast, and you will succeed. Take the case of George Washington. Do you remember my telling you of the great difficulty George Washington had to contend with?"

"Yes, ma'am," said a little boy. "He couldn't tell a lie."

Strict Orders.

The Boss: "On your way to Smith and Sons you will pass a football field."

Office Boy (hopefully): "Yes, sir."

The Boss: "Well, pass it."

A Falling Temperature.

Little Girl (rushing into doctor's office): "Please, doctor, come at once to father. Mother's taken 'is temperature an' its' gone down."

Doctor: "That's all right, my dear—that's splendid."

"Tain't all right; it's gone right down. 'E's swallered it."

Verbatim.

"So, your name is George Washington," the old lady mused.

"Yessum," replied the small colored lad.

"I guess you try to be exactly like him, or as nearly as possible?"

"Lak who?"

"Why, like George Washington."

"Ah cain't help bein' lak Jahge Washin'ton, cause dat's who I is."

Absent-Minded.

The mill foreman came upon two darkies walking slowly up the road, single file.

"Ssy, you, why ain't you worthless niggers working?"

"Wes'e working, boss, sho' nuff. Wes'e carrying this plank up to the mill."

"What plank? I don't see any plank."

"Well, fo' de lawd's sake, Abe! Ef we ain't gone an' forgot de plank!"

Out of Tune.

Nervous Musician: "Madam, your cat has kept us awake two nights with its serenade."

Mrs. Nextdoor (tartly): "What do you want me to do, shoot the cat?"

Nervous Musician: "No, madam, but couldn't you have him tuned?"

A Fan.

"Johnny, what are the seasons?"

"You mean in the United States?"

"Yes, of course."

"Baseball and football."

Rastus and Liza visited the Central Park zoo. Everything went well until they came to the zebras.

"What kind of animal is dat?" demanded Liza and for a moment Rastus was stopped dead, for he had never seen one either. But he remembered his Army days and answered after a moment's hesitation, "Why, Liza, dat am a sports model mule."

Admirer: "What a charming necklace."

Film Star: "Yes, isn't it adorable? Made entirely of my wedding rings."

"How is your wife now-a-days, Rufus?"

"Oh, her back done bothah her a great deal."

"Rheumatism, I suppose?"

"No sah, she am worrying 'bout new clothes."

THE OPULENT ICE MAN.

Oh, envy not the ice man

Who gets so much a pound.

It may be he is drifting

Whence ice does not abound.

"What is he writing verses to that cat for?"

"Oh, he's invoking the Muse!"

Getting Hot.

Teacher: "Who can tell me where dew comes from?"

Max: "The earth rotates so rapidly that it perspires."

Weak-Willed.

The strong man, gleaming knife in hand, gazed at the smooth, white body in the water.

"I cannot do it!" he groaned. "It's not a man's work." Tears streamed down his cheeks.

The woman, with a look of utter scorn, seized the knife—and finished peeling the onion!
